Stockton topples Pecatonica

By Chris Johnson
Reporter

STOCKTON — Following a 59-24 win over the Pecatonica Indians on Friday night, Sept. 25, the Stockton Blackhawks barely had time to celebrate before they already started thinking about getting their possible “at-large” bid, and a shot at a fifth win this Friday night.

A relentless offensive attack and a running game that showed no let up allowed the Blackhawks to work their way through the NUIC’s fourth-best defense, as week five unfurled.

The Blackhawks improved to 4-1 on the season as Pecatonica dropped to 1-4 for the year.

Pecatonica’s fourth loss of the season mirrored the reality of regular season play in the NUIC in 2015. Those losses have come to three State-ranked teams that carry an overall record of 15-5.

Yet to go this season, the Indians will face one 2014 final four member and two State-ranked opponents carrying combined 11-4 marks.

It wasn’t an easy, win or a walk in the park for the Blackhawks, as the Pecatonica offense found its greatest groove of the season.

In Stockton on Friday night, Pecatonica, known to have a familiarity with the ground game, found a new way to move against the Stockton Defense, according to Indians Head Coach Eric Bergin.

“We were able to throw the ball, eventually. They were filling the box and it finally paid dividends for us. We were able to get the run game going just enough to begin opening the passing lanes.”

Indians quarterback Ben Kimes had a solid night, as he found ways to work around the Blackhawks’ defense and make the best of the situation that continued to be impressed upon them.

The Pecatonica Head Coach said Stockton did a good job filling the middle and sending a lot

2016 Bald Eagle Bus Tours

APPLE RIVER — The Eagle Nature Foundation is proud to be able to once again offer 4-hour Bald Eagle Bus Tours to the public in 2016. In 2016 the tours will be conducted on Feb. 13 and 27. The tours will leave from the Stoney Creek Motel on Hwy. 20, the west side of Galena, sharply at 8 a.m. on each day and return after 12.

The tour guide for each of these tours will be the naturalist, researcher, author and speaker, Terrence N. Ingram, who has been conducting tours for people to see bald eagles for over 50 years. He personally has discovered more winter bald eagle roosts than any other person. Many different times he has sited more than 1500 bald eagles in a single day. He has conducted bald eagle research studies for many different industries and government agencies.

He will lead the bus to 5 different historic wintering communities to see how many eagles may still be found in each one. Last year, for the first time in 50 years, he discovered that 4 out of 5 of these communities had no eagles at all. Because of this he is not promising how many eagles will be seen during the tours in 2016. This decrease in bald eagles seen is just an indication of how the bald eagle population in the Midwest is having problems surviving as has been documented in the over 50 years of ENF's Annual Midwest Bald Eagle Count.

For a brochure for these two tours, please call 815-594-2306, or look at our website, eaglenature.com, under events. Reservations for the tours may be made on the website, using PayPal, but it is recommended that a person call the office first, to make sure there is still room on the bus for a particular day. Only after payment for a seat has been received is it reserved.

Lions Club District 1D Governor chooses Special Olympics to be 2016 Governor's Project

LENA — Gary Meyers, of Lena, was recently installed as the Lions Club District 1D Governor for the 2015-2016 year. The formal installation took place in Hawaii this past July at the International Lions Club Convention. During his year as Governor, Gary will be visiting all the clubs in the district, attending events and working with clubs to increase membership and visibility in their communities. Governor Meyers has been an active member of the Lena Lions Club since 1998.

As his Governor's Project this year Gary chose Special Olympics. Throughout the year there will be special events, opportunities to volunteer and an increase awareness of the Special Olympics organization and the athletes involved in the program. This past March, Governor Meyers and two of his daughters participated in the Polar Plunge, along with hundreds of other brave souls! A major fund raiser will be for the Polar Plunge in March 2016.

Governor Gary, and First Lady Marcia, reside in Lena. They have 4 adult children and 5 grandchildren. They are active in Martintown Community Church and have served on 3 medical mission trips to Honduras. It was during these trips that they have seen what the Lions Club International Eye Glass collection can do for those needing glasses in 3rd world countries. Lions Club International is the largest service organization in the world with 1.4 million members in 210 countries. The motto is "We Serve".

MOVIES at MAME'S

looks at Let The Right One In – Tomas Alfredson, 2008

STOCKHOLM, SE — Set in Stockholm in 1988, Let The Right One In tells the story of Oskar, a young boy whose parents have recently divorced. His father is disinterested with him and his mother is exhausted with working to support herself and Oskar and trying to get back into the dating world. Oskar is lonely and bullied at school. He harbors thoughts of revenge toward his bullies, and sometimes, towards his mother. One night, he sees activity in the courtyard of the apartment building where he lives. New tenants are moving in, a middle-aged man and a young girl around Oskar's age, but they have very little furniture with them. And the little girl appears to be barefoot. In the snow. Oskar is intrigued and seeks the little girl, Eli, out to befriend her, only for her to tell him that they can't be friends because she is "bad". Oskar is hurt, but persistent and convinces Eli that they could become close, as they're both alone. Eli relents a little and Oskar tells her that he's having a hard time with bullies at school. She convinces Oskar to stand up for himself, but the bullies come up with new ways to torment Oskar. When Eli finds out, she becomes enraged, revealing her secret; the man living with her is not her father, he is her caretaker, a familiar. Eli is a vampire. However, she is too small and "young" to find prey for herself without leading authorities to her doorstep, so her caretaker finds victims for her and drains them dry so that Eli never needs to hunt. Oskar is appalled at first, but eventually sees that Eli could help him solve his bullying problem, a conclusion that

Eli readily agrees to. What had started as a tentative friendship between the two children develops into a lasting bond, as they swear to always protect one another.

Let The Right One In is a tender look at the life of a young boy trying his hardest to be the man his absent father would be proud of and the innocent first love he finds in an unusual girl.

This movie was remade by an American production company in 2010, starring Kodi Smit McPhee, Chloe Grace Moretz and Richard Jenkins as Eli's caretaker. Both versions are touching, as well as frightening, but the American version (and I almost never say this about American remakes of horror films) might be my favorite of the two. The relationship between the two children (named Owen and Abby in this version) is more believable. There is also more development of the caretaker character, and Richard Jenkins' performance is heartbreaking, revealing that he began to care for Abby when he was still a young boy. We also see more gore and special effects showcasing Abby's ferocity when she is in attack form. As horror movies go, this one is more heartfelt than the typical slasher/gore films, but that only serves to make it a more rounded, enjoyable movie.

VIEWPOINT

SENATE WEEK IN REVIEW

September 21-25

STATELINE — Almost three months past the new fiscal year and the budget stalemate continues. Though the state has continued to function without a budget in place, I am concerned that operating without a balanced budget will have long-term consequences.

With no end to the impasse in sight, the courts have been asked to intervene. The result is court-ordered state spending of almost $14 billion to various state programs. Added to the $18.4 billion being paid out for continuing, statutory, or enacted appropriations, Illinois has been placed on a spending path that will exceed revenues by more than $5 billion when considering the services that are not receiving state funds.

Years of overspending and refusing to enact commonsense reform have come at a hefty cost for Illinois, with both taxpayers and the state's business climate feeling the strain. Recent figures from the Illinois Department of Employment Security and the federal government show Illinois' economy continuing to struggle.

Courts driving state funding

As the state continues to operate despite the ongoing budget stalemate, a number of services and programs have turned to the court system to enforce state payment. As a result, the courts have become increasingly involved in dictating state expenditures, with many programs and services being funded through court orders and consent decrees.

As it currently stands, it's estimated that the state will spend $13.7 billion to fund payments appropriated or upheld through these court orders and consent decrees. This includes funding for statewide Medicaid payments, DCFS and Department of Juvenile Justice programs, Early Intervention funding, and state employee salaries.

When adding the court-ordered spending to the predicted $18.4 billion the state is paying due to continuing, statutory, or enacted appropriations, it's estimated the state is on track to have spent just over the anticipated revenue intake of $32 billion for the coming fiscal year—though more than $5 billion in state services and programs remain unfunded. Examples of programs yet to be funded include the entire higher education system, the state's Group Health Insurance Program, non-federally funded public health programs, the Monetary Award Program, and Autism grants.

I believe that continuing down a spending path that exceeds revenue intake will only cause more issues in the long run, burdening taxpayers and leaving programs underfunded.

Rather than allowing the courts to appropriate funds without reforms, we should continue to push for a balanced budget that aligns spending with state revenue, while providing for the state's most vulnerable.

Uncertainty continues for Illinois economy

While Speaker Madigan and

President Cullerton resist pro-jobs reforms in Springfield, Illinois' economy continues to struggle statewide

The latest figures from the Illinois Department of Employment Security (IDES) gives the economy a mixed review at best. Illinois' jobless rate dropped for the third straight month, to 5.6 percent, but the state lost a net of 900 jobs compared to the previous month. Employment in Illinois has grown slightly so far this year, but at a rate of only 0.3 percent -- half the average growth rate of the rest of the Midwest and worse than each of our neighboring states. If Illinois had simply kept pace, according to IDES, employers would have added an additional 34,000 jobs since the start of this year. The overall number of jobs in Illinois is still about 75,000 below our pre-recession peak.

Without the pro-jobs reforms that my Republican colleagues and I push for in the Capitol, Illinois can expect more of the same results and more families and businesses looking for an escape.

Blue-collar jobs struggling in Illinois

A deeper dive into the latest jobs figures reveals a troubling picture for a backbone of Illinois' economy: blue-collar jobs. Illinois lost 2,200 manufacturing jobs in August alone; 10,000 since the start of the year; and more than 300,000 since the turn of the century.

But that drop is highlighted by a much rosier picture in neighboring states. According to data from the federal Bureau of Labor Statistics, Illinois is the only Great Lakes state to lose factory jobs over the past three years. As Illinois dropped 13,800 manufacturing jobs, neighboring state Wisconsin gained 15,500, Indiana gained 35,000, and Michigan gained nearly 60,000.

Additionally, Illinois has added only 13,400 payroll jobs in 2015, while Indiana has added 44,900 jobs since January. Job growth figures from surrounding states show an additionally 26,600 jobs were added in Wisconsin, 26,700 jobs in Missouri, and 16,800 jobs were created in Iowa.

The difference in job growth for the region is especially concerning when considering the population differences between the neighboring states. While Iowa only has a reported job growth number of 16,800 for the year, Illinois has more than four times the population size of Iowa and twice as many residents when compared to Wisconsin or Missouri.

Legislative Republicans and the Governor continue to push for business reforms that would help manufacturing jobs, including workers' compensation and lawsuit reform, as well as property tax reforms that would help businesses considering relocation because of Illinois' high costs.

Harvest now at full speed

Most Illinois farmers are now in the thick of their 2015 harvest as the majority of both corn and soybeans have matured and are drying down. According to the United States Department of Agriculture, 78% of corn is mature, up from 61% during the previous week. Statewide 80% of soybeans are now dropping leaves, compared to 62% last week. Once soybean plants are mature, they change color from green to grayish brown and eventually drop their leaves as they dry.

So far 13% of all Illinois corn acres have been harvested, more than double the previous week of 6%, but well behind the 5-year average of 22%. 3% of soybeans have been harvested, just slightly behind the average of 4%.

Winter wheat, which is planted or sown in the fall, often times after soybeans have been harvested from the same field, is now at 3% planted. And the third cutting of hay is now nearly complete, with 93% of acres baled.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Jim Sacia

STATELINE — Every one of us should ask, "Why am I so blessed to live in this great country?"

It really hit me watching the many families fleeing Syria and other war torn regions in the past several weeks. The number of refugees is in the millions as the world attempts to cope with the crisis. Over 200,000 Syrians have been killed since 2011. We as a people must demand more from those in positions of trust and power, namely our political leaders.

Anyone who knows me is aware that I have never been a Barack Obama fan from his days as a State Senator and I was serving in the Chamber across the Rotunda.

We had a member of the House that voted no on nearly every bill of any significance. The Senate had Senator Obama who voted present so often that both of their positions became laughable. You cannot argue with success as Senator Obama went on to become a United States Senator and ultimately our President.

On August 20, 2012 President Obama responding to a question, could he ever "envision using United States Military" force in Syria, he stated that using chemical weapons "would be a red line for us". My response at the time was I would be very shocked if he had any follow through.

Syria's Dictator Bashir al-Assad tested our President and as conclusive proof evolved that Syria did use them, President Obama "slided and glided" his way right out of the issue. He denied drawing any red line and claimed it was the responsibility of Congress.

The travesty is that many in our great American news media allow him to get away with it. Many in the media covered for his numerous "present" votes in the State Senate by stating oh that's what they do in Illinois. Huh? Show me one other legislator with that kind of record.

No I don't blame him for the evils in the world but ever since he was first elected he has been apologizing to the world for America's Ways.

The dictators in the world have quickly seen through him as an "empty suit" that will not stand up to them as they run rough shod over their neighbors. Yes the isolationists in this country love that. For my part I am deeply saddened.

I know, as our adversaries do, that he had no "red line". I can be humbly frustrated - the crazies of the world will gladly capitalize on America's weakness during his last year in office. They will not sit by humbly frustrated as I am, evidenced by Russian President Vladimir Putin literally walking all over Ukraine.

Oh I forgot, President Obama warned him in 2014 that if he continued to ignore Ukraine's territorial integrity "there will be consequences". God help us all.

FROM LENA'S KITCHEN

The not so skinny cook

What a beautiful weekend we just had. The sun was shining, and the weather was very mild. There was no rain for the Friday night football game—I'm sure it was a plus for everyone because they were not wet and cold. The tomatoes are going wild—it seems everyone has beautiful tomatoes. Remember when we were all worried we wouldn't have any? Patience is a virtue in gardening too! This week there are several recipes for some fall recipes. The squash and Brussels sprouts are the vegetables of the week. We also have a great main course that it is easy to make, an appetizer that will use some tomatoes, and a salad.

If you planted one cherry or grape tomato plant, you could be in overload. This recipe makes a great appetizer to use those little gems. They are cute little appetizers on a plate, and it looks as if you slaved for hours instead of just a few minutes. Enjoy the sweet little tomatoes a different way.

BLT Bites

16-20 cherry or grape tomatoes
1 lb. sliced bacon, cooked and crumbled
½ C. mayonnaise
2 t. sour cream
1/3 C. chopped green onions
3 T. grated Parmesan cheese
2 T. snipped fresh parsley
Cut a thin slice off of each tomato top (if using grape tomatoes cut a thin slice off the bottom in order for tomato to sit up). Scoop out and discard pulp. Invert the tomatoes on a paper towel to drain. In a small bowl, combine the rest of the ingredients. Spoon mixture into tomatoes and refrigerate for at least two hours before serving.

This next salad uses Boston or butter lettuce as its main ingredient. If you don't like Boston lettuce or can't find it, red leaf lettuce makes a pretty substitute. The dressing has just the right combination of honey and Dijon along with the white wine vinegar to give it a fresh taste.

Napoleon Salads

Dressing:

- ¼ C. white wine vinegar
- 1 T. minced fresh parsley
- 1 T. minced fresh chives
- 1 T. honey
- 1 T. Dijon mustard
- Salt and pepper to taste
- ¼ C. extra-virgin olive oil
- 1 head of Boston or leaf lettuce separated into leaves
- ½ C. seeded and diced tomatoes
- ½ C. crumbled feta or blue cheese

Whisk together vinegar, parsley, chives, honey, and Dijon in a bowl; season with salt and pepper. Drizzle in oil, whisking constantly until vinaigrette is well blended. Toss lettuce leaves with some of the vinaigrette. Arrange a few leaves on a plate, and sprinkle with tomato and cheese; top with more leaves. Continue layering until half the ingredients are used. Prepare a second salad with the remaining ingredients.

Brussels sprouts are also plentiful this year. This recipe combines the great taste of bacon with a little zip of red pepper flakes to make plain old Brussels sprouts really unique. Enjoy this tasty vegetable recipe.

Roasted Brussels Sprouts

- 2 slices bacon, thinly sliced crosswise
- 1/8 t. crushed red pepper
- 2 lbs. Brussels sprouts, trimmed and halved lengthwise
- ½ C. thin wedges red onion
- 2 t. fresh thyme leaves
- ½ t. salt

In a very large cast-iron or heavy oven going skillet, cook the bacon over medium heat until browned and crisp. Remove the bacon with a slotted spoon; drain on paper towels. Add the crushed red pepper to the drippings in the skillet; cook and stir for 1 minute. Add the Brussels sprouts, onion, thyme, and salt to skillet. Stir to coat. Transfer to a 400 oven and roast, uncovered, for 20-25 minutes or until just tender and browned, stirring once. Sprinkle with reserved bacon.

The next recipe is for a great way to make butternut squash. It has some cheese, bacon, and pasta. This can be a great vegetarian main meal or a side. The hardest part of the recipe is cutting and cubing the squash. The microwave is a great help in preparing squash. I wonder what we did without microwaves.

Cheesy Butternut Squash Pasta Bake

- 3 C. cubed, peeled butternut squash
- 8 oz. elbow macaroni
- 1 T. butter
- 1 C. mushrooms, sliced
- 3 green onions, thinly sliced
- 2 T. flour
- 1 C. milk
- 1½ C. provolone or Munster cheese
- 2 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled

Coat a 2-quart rectangular baking dish with cooking spray and set aside. In a microwave-safe bowl, combine the squash and 2 tablespoons water; cover with vented plastic wrap. Microwave on high for 4 minutes and stir. Cover and microwave the squash about 4 minutes more or until the squash is tender. Carefully remove the plastic wrap. Mash the squash and set aside.

Cook pasta according to package directions and drain. In a medium saucepan, heat the butter over medium-high heat. Add the mushrooms and green onions and cook 5 minutes or until tender. Sprinkle flour over the mushroom mixture. Cook and stir for 1 minute. Add milk and ¼ teaspoon of salt and ¼ teaspoon of pepper. Cook and stir over medium heat until thickened and bubbly. Remove from the heat and gently stir in the squash and the pasta.

Transfer half the pasta mixture to the prepared baking dish. Sprinkle with half the cheese. Add remaining pasta mixture and cheese. Top with bacon.

Bake, uncovered, in a 375

oven to 20-25 minutes or until heated through and cheese is melted. Garnish with additional sliced green onions.

I love beef stroganoff, so when I run across an easy recipe, I immediately try it. You can make this inexpensively or a little richer by changing the meat. If you want an economic version, use ground beef. If you want to make this for a nice meal for company, use the sirloin steak—look for a special and freeze it until you are ready. Serve this with a green salad and some great bread, and you have the makings of an expensive meal at home.

Easy Beef Stroganoff

- 1 pkg. (12 oz.) package egg noodles
- ½ stick of butter
- 2 ¼ C. mushrooms, sliced
- 1 C. onion, finely chopped
- 1 ¼ t. salt
- 2 lbs. ground beef or sirloin steak, cut across the grain into 1/8 inch slices
- ¼ C. flour
- 2 C. beef broth
- 1 C. sour cream
- ½ t. black pepper
- Chopped parsley for garnish

Bring a large pot of salted water to a boil. Cook noodles, stirring occasionally, until done, about 8 minutes. Drain well. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a large skillet over medium heat. Cook mushrooms, onion, and ¼ teaspoon salt, stirring occasionally until vegetables are tender and excess liquid evaporates. Transfer to a bowl.

Cook the meat in reaming butter and salt in the skillet until browned. Add the flour and cook, stirring, 2 minutes. Add mushroom mixture and broth and simmer, stirring, until thickened, 2=3 minutes. Serve over noodles and garnish with parsley. If the noodles have cooled and become sticky, rinse in a colander under hot water and toss with about 2 tablespoons of butter or oil in a serving bowl.

Are you ready for a great fall dessert? This recipe uses a cake mix as its base. You will notice the baking temperature is 325 and the cooking time is much longer than normal. The lower temperature and longer time makes for a moist and tender cake. This cheesecake (actually I think they probably could be called bars too) is melt in your mouth good. Try this yummy cake that isn't hat all too hard to make.

German Chocolate Cheesecake

- 1 pkg. German Chocolate cake mix
- 2 pkgs. (8 oz. each) cream cheese, softened
- 1½ C. sugar
- 4 eggs, lightly beaten
- Frosting
- 1 C. sugar
- 1 C. evaporated milk
- ½ C. butter, cubed
- 3 egg yolks, lightly beaten
- 1 t. vanilla
- 1½ C. flaked coconut
- 1 C. chopped pecans

Frost cooled cake. Refrigerate leftovers.

Football senior night was held this past weekend. Where has the fall gone? October will be here by the time some of you get your papers. I love October because the leaves begin to turn and the weather is generally pretty milk. I know I shouldn’t be waiting for a frost, but I am sick and tired of allergies and bees. They both make my life challenging. I said goodbye to my Farmer’s Market buddies this week. Thank you for all you have done for us this summer—giving us great produce at a reasonable price. I hope you have a great rest of the fall on Saturdays! We are in for another beautiful week of weather. Remember that we are on the hunt for some good squash, apple, pumpkin, and pork recipes for fall. If you have some recipes to share, you can contact us in person, by mail, or email us at From Lena’s Kitchens, Shopper’s Guide at 213 S. Center St. or email scoopshopper@rvpublishing.com.

Search for a balanced state budget continues as congress heads back to work

STATELINE — all officials arrived this past week and farmers have begun harvesting the fields. As I made my way to Springfield for another day of session, I began to think about all our region has to offer during this time of the year.

Take some time to ask your neighbor or get online to find a new festival or parade you have not attended in the area. There are so many to name I would hate to leave anyone out. I would like to note that it's important that we take time to interact with our community and surrounding areas, which many do. These events and the people that attend, is what makes living in Northwest Illinois the greatest!

Brian Stewart

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Going back to session in Springfield this past Thursday, I have nothing new to report in regards to the budget impasse other than we still do not have one. Instead of staying in Springfield and getting the job done that we were elected to do, we adjourned until October 20th.

Delaying to negotiate a solution or agreeing to a compromise is going to cost taxpayers more and more money. We are far past the $4 billion gap that was originally stated during budget negotiations in May. Some statistics show the gap has doubled up to $8 billion. A tax increase by itself cannot fix that big of a gap.

We have to reform current practices to help save taxpayer money for the future. Letting the courts make decisions for elected officials is absolutely outrageous and is not helping solve this budget disaster. We need a balanced budget, structural reforms and to make sure we take care of the people who cannot speak for themselves.

I have said on multiple occasions, but I will say it again, we are in a fight for the future of Illinois. I will not falter in taking our message of reform from the citizens of Northwest Illinois to leaders in Springfield.

I put faith in the words of former President Ronald Reagan, "In this present crisis, government is not the solution to our problem; government is the problem. From time to time we've been tempted to believe that society has become too complex to be managed by self-rule, that government by an elite group is superior to government for, by, and of the people. Well, if no one among us is capable of governing himself, then who among us has the capacity to govern someone else? All of us together, in and out of government, must bear the burden." Stand strong, be brave and know that we are all in this together for the future of Illinois.

As always, you can reach me or Sally at 815/232-0774 or email us at repstewart@gmail.com. You can also visit my website at www.repbristanstewart.com or follow me on Facebook, Twitter, and Google Plus.

Protect yourself and your family with a flu shot!

Influenza ("flu") isn't anything to mess around with - it can be serious or even deadly for elderly people, newborn babies, and people who have certain chronic illnesses.

Help your body fight off the flu this year by getting a flu shot at one of FHN's flu shot clinics, open to the public at convenient locations across northwest Illinois.

If you are an adult under 65 years of age, you will get a quadrivalent vaccine that protects against 4 strains of influenza for $40.

If you're over 65, you will receive a high-dose version of the vaccine ($52). There will be no out-of-pocket expense if you are covered by Medicare Part B (please present Medicare card) or a Medicare HMO accepted by FHN (there's a list available at each location; covered persons MUST present the Medicare HMO card instead of the Medicare card for the billing process).

All immunizations not covered by Medicare or a Medicare HMO must be paid for by cash or check payable to FHN. The prices shown here are only available at these flu shot clinics; other rates may apply in FHN offices. No other insurance coverage can be accepted at these flu shot clinics, and per government regulations, no Medicaid cards can be accepted at these locations.

Because of federal guidelines to prevent identity theft, everyone must present a photo ID to receive an immunization. Children can only be immunized if a written prescription from a physician indicating dosage is presented.

You should NOT receive a flu shot at any of these clinics if you:

- Are allergic to eggs or the flu vaccine
- Are ill or have a fever
- Have a depressed immune system

Please contact your healthcare provider or call FHN toll-free at 1-877-6000-FHN (1-877-600-0346) ext. 945 for assistance in finding a provider if you can't receive a vaccination due to the above restrictions.

GOOD LUCK On your Homecoming - Zephyrs!

Swinging into October-NUIC Golf Championship

By Chris Johnson
Reporter

STOCKTON — It's time for the 2015 regular season to come to a close, with NUIC golfers lining up their final shots, before the playoffs begin.

Athletes from Stockton, River Ridge, Lena-Winslow and Warren along with Galena and others, across the NUIC, are preparing for the annual Conference Tournament, this Thursday, Oct. 1, beginning at 9 a.m., in Galena.

The regular season "wrap-ups" concluded last week and the Stockton Blackhawks along with the Lena-Winslow Panthers got their last chance to compete against each other, as they prepare for the start of the post season.

The regular season has been viewed, by many, as a dress rehearsal for the Tournament Championship and beyond, as pressure builds each week, with students experiencing, first hand, how one small mistake can mean a title.

A single stroke can cost a team a title, or an individual player, a chance to move forward into the Sectional and beyond.

On Wednesday, Sept. 23, the Panthers, Blackhawks and Pecatonica Indians all battled at Wolf Hollow Golf Course in Lena, with Stockton coming out on top, winning by 25 strokes over Pecatonica.

Zach Lacher shot a 39 for Stockton and won Medalist Honors. Teammate Alex Staver shot a 41, good enough to claim Runner Up.

Peyton Keeffer shot a 43, fourth best on the day. Megan Gille rounded out Stockton's scoring with a 47.

The Pecatonica Indians were led by Erik Durand who shot a 42. Cameron Hottman finished his day with a 45.

Thomas Kennedy shot a 49 and Taylor Schulz had a 59 for the Indians.

Lena-Winslow's low shooter was Jake Fox, who had a 58. Logan Klente shot a 66 and Boone Durham had a 70. Due to only three Panthers finishing their rounds, Lena-Winslow was a third-place finisher with a forfeit on the final card in the team category.

The match between Stockton and Pecatonica was calculated as a non-conference affair with Lena-Winslow forced to forfeit both conference matches.

In a golf meet at Pearl City on Tuesday, Sept. 22, Stockton's 164 was 30 strokes better than their hosts, the Wolves, at Coach's Golf Course.

Alex Staver and Zach Lacher shot 40's splitting Medalist Honors. Megan Gille shot a 41 and Peyton Keeffer finished with a 43.

Pearl City was led by Jaryd Breece, with a 45. Zach Brinkmeier shot a 49 and Nathan Lott finished with a 52. Garrett Handsacker shot 53 for the Wolves.

Stockton joined with teams from Eastland, Prophetstown, Fulton, West Carroll and Morrison in a 15 team Invitational played at Byron Hills Golf Course in Port Byron, on Saturday, Sept. 19.

Stockton shot a 342, in the 18-hole tournament, finishing sixth.

Peyton Keeffer topped the Blackhawks' list with a 79, tenth best overall. Alex Staver finished with an 82, Zach Lacher shot an 87 and Megan Gille shot a 94.

Macomb won the four-man tournament with a 312, followed by Riverdale and a 314.

West Carroll finished in eighth place with a 351.

Prophetstown ended in tenth with Eastland in eleventh, courtesy of their final score of 375.

Following this Thursday's NUIC Golf Championship in Galena, area golfers will be preparing for the start of the 2015 post season on Tuesday, Oct. 6, as the Boys' Regional begins.

On Wednesday, Oct. 7, the Girls' Regional starts.

by collecting canned vegetables and canned cream of mushroom or cream of chicken soups.

"Golden Meals" provides 450 meals a day at their meal site and delivered to senior citizens and disabled individuals in both Stephenson and Jo Daviess counties who depend on these meals for their nutritional needs.

When you are in the grocery store and fill your cart, please remember those who depend on the services of "Golden Meals" and put a few cans of vegetables or cream soup in your cart. Drop them off at St. Joseph Center and Adult Day Center, the Senior Resource Center or Heritage Woods of Freeport. In Lena please drop off you items at Lena Living Center. Democrats to host monthly meeting

HANOVER — The Jo Daviess County Democrats will meet at 6 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 6, at the Hanover Park District Building, 800 Fillmore St. (old Hanover High School), Hanover. Following the business part of the meeting, Village President Don Schaible will talk about "Where does Hanover go from here?" In a city of only 844 residents, 113 people lost their jobs when the Robertshaw plant recently closed. This action affected the entire county, and there are lessons about economic development to be learned from Hanover's experience.

The group meets regularly at 6 p.m., on the first Tuesday of each month at different locations throughout the county. For more information, go to www.facebook.com/groups/JoDems/, or phone 815-777-0533.
