Lena Living Center celebrates Independence Day with a traditional family picnic

By Tony Carton
EDITOR

Tricking out a bike with flag-inspired frills is a long-standing Fourth of July tradition, but this year the Lena Living Center put a new spin on that practice and the residents started their holiday celebrations with a wheelchair parade.

"We are celebrating the Fourth of July with our residents," said Lena Living Center Activity Director Patti Earnst. "We've decorated all our parade participants' chairs and we are having a Wheelchair Parade. We are also going to have a cookout for lunch with brats and all the usual goodies that folks traditionally share at a family Fourth of July picnic."

In addition, there was a full afternoon schedule of employee games and lots of ice cream.

"The Fourth of July was always big to our residents," said Earnst. "They had big picnics and family reunions and get-togethers because you didn't go out so much like now days where we go out and spend money and this and that. They didn't do all that. They had family picnics and so today's return to picnicking and celebrating on the Fourth is important for all of us."

And, she noted, there is always the true meaning behind the Fourth of July celebrations.

"Independence Day and what it stands for is important to our residents," Earnst said.

The Lena Living Center is a licensed Medicare, Medicaid, Skilled Care, Long Term Care facility providing 24-hour professional nursing services.

Living Center Director of Business Development Dee Kuhlemeier said the residents spend the majority of their time inside, but for the celebration, the staff took them outside, staged a parade with them, and hosted a family picnic.

"They've all celebrated Independence Day for years and it's important for their families to come together and continue their traditions of celebration," Kuhlemeier said.

She said family togetherness was the focus of the day's celebrations.

"We feel like giving back to our residents and their families because with all the changes and faces under way at the Living Center," Kuhlemeier said. "We want them to feel we are continuing a family atmosphere that is so important to the whole care process. Back in the day, families sat around and celebrated the Fourth with a big picnic and had ice cream as an extra treat. We want our residents and their families to feel that sense of togetherness here today."

EZ Sell USA announces plan for Galena relocation

We are pleased to announce that EZ Sell USA, after over 10 years in Dubuque, Iowa, has moved to 201 North Commerce Street, in Galena, Illinois. EZ Sell USA was started in the back room of Choo Choo Charlie's in 1975, and after 2 moves, is making what we hope will be our last move to Downtown Galena. Owner, Linda Connor, and her Husband Paul, celebrated a quiet opening on June 6th, just in time to be Linda's birthday present. A ribbon cutting and grand opening are planned for July 7. The move has been 40 years in the making, and one that had many twists and turns along the way.

The journey started in 1976 when having served a short time as a Police Officer for the City of Dubuque, Paul resigned to open a retail store at 130 South Main Street, in Galena, Illinois. Opening a second hand store under the name of "Days of Yore", the store specialized in Garage Sale and Auction finds from the Tri-State area. The store shared a common archway with a newly opened Jewelry store that was managed by Linda. Spending many hours working retail led to a relationship that became permanent October 27, 1978. The day after sharing vows with family and friends on a Friday evening, Linda and Paul, along with other downtown merchants, held the first "Halloween Parade" on Saturday evening an event that continues to this day.

1980 found Paul and Linda busy with family, Linda was working at the Galena Territory and Paul was in training to be part of the opening team for Target T-86 in Dubuque. Having combined the Galena stores from two into one "Days of Yore" moved to 121 South Main Street. As the years marched on Paul spent a season selling Jewelry at the Target store and as he prepared to spend his first Christmas in the Toy Department at Target he left to accept the job of General Manager for the Happy Joe's in Galena that was built in 1982. Linda progressed in her career with the Galena Territory becoming part of the team helping to open the original Inn in the heart of the Territory.

The Main Street store was closed in the early 80's so both Linda and Paul could devote full attention to their new careers. Paul was active with the Galena Chamber of Commerce helping to celebrate the Sesquicentennial of the organization in 1988. Paul served as a member of the Zoning Board of Appeals and City Council for Galena. Linda kept busy with 4 children and a full-time job as she continued to serve the property owners and guests at Eagle Ridge Inn and Resort.

The 1980's quickly become the 1990's, and January of 1992 Linda was called at home while the fire sirens sounded in Galena, with news that the Inn at Eagle Ridge was on fire. The fire destroyed the Inn and the Restaurant and took the resources of 27 local volunteer fire Departments to contain. The Inn was rebuilt, and Linda along the management team at Eagle Ridge, helped opened the Inn as it is today. In the early morning hours of May 4, 1999 Paul was called by a team member at Happy Joe's (whose husband had just been called to a fight a fire at the restaurant). The fire destroyed the restaurant but with a great team it was rebuilt in just 5 months. Having worked through the devastation caused by fires, Linda and Paul moved forward with family in a community they both called home.

Linda's career took a turn in 1994, having worked with new owners at Eagle Ridge through the fire and the rebuild, corporate changes found her unemployed and looking for a new challenge. In 1994 Linda and a partner opened a vacation rental home service that later became Amber Creek Vacation Home Rentals. Becoming a property owner along with helping 100's of owners and 1000's of guest she found a new challenge in being an entrepreneur and partner in a startup business.

In 2012, looking for a less stressful life, and having 8 grandbabies to love on, Linda left Amber Creek and became the Administrative Assistant for Crossroads Community Church, Galena Campus and is loving being a church lady, and spending time with those grandbabies..

Paul tried to purchase ownership in Happy Joe's that he had spent 20 years of his life working at but the owners chose not to relinquish any ownership. In July of 2001 Paul left Happy Joe's and started to work on Choo Choo Charlie's which opened August 31, 2001 at 1895 JFK Road in Dubuque. The first few months started out well, but the world changed on September 11, 2001 and things have not been the same since. Four years into the life of Choo Choo Charlie's Paul had a backroom full of used restaurant equipment, and being a lover of eBay and a regular buyer, he listed and sold the contents of that back room for over $3,000. Finding selling online a fun and profitable opportunity EZ Sell USA was started in the back room at of the restaurant in 2005. With a restaurant that was not making enough money to meet its obligations Choo Choo Charlie celebrated his fifth birthday in 2006 by closing the restaurant.

In 2007 EZ Sell USA moved to 2613 Dodge Street in Dubuque and after seven years of growing the business moved again to 2560 Dodge Street in front of K-Mart. The move to Galena allows for a one of the area's largest Resale Consignment Stores. With everything from antiques, estate finds and treasures of all kinds, shopping at EZ Sell USA, you will always find something new, and priced to sell. EZ Sell USA continues to sell actively on eBay as well as Craigslist which currently has over 75 items from our current inventory show-cased; just search for ezsellusa on Craigslist to see all of the items. EZ Sell USA will also offer assistance in selling partial or entire contents of Estates, in the Tri-State area. Look for a large Living Estate Tag sale at the Galena Territory in mid-July.

Forty years back home in Galena selling anything and everything, as long as it is moral and legal. Linda and Paul invite you to stop in and visit the new store. They are here to make selling things E-Z, and love helping people downsize, and others to discover new things they can use and enjoy in their lives.

Madigan warns consumers to recalled products

Attorney General Lisa Madigan joined with Kids in Danger today to urge Illinois consumers shopping on second-hand markets to be aware of recalled products that may be sold without warning.

Madigan and Nancy Cowles, executive director of KID, a non-profit organization dedicated to protecting children by improving children's product safety, urged any consumers who may be shopping on sites like Craigslist, eBay or other second-hand markets to check if the product or item may have been recalled. Consumers can view information about recalls on the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission website and KID's website.

This week IKEA voluntarily recalled 29 million dressers and chests after the deaths of six toddlers from tip-over accidents. Consumers – especially consumers with young children – who own the dressers that are not anchored to the wall should stop using the dressers until they can be anchored. IKEA has advised consumers that they can receive a refund or store credit for their dresser or received a free repair kit to anchor the dresser to the wall to prevent a tip-over accident. For more information about the IKEA recall, contact its customer service at (866) 856-4532 or visit its website.

"Consumers shopping for used products should know that recalled products may be sold online without warning," Madigan said. "It's critical to check if an item has been recalled before making any second-hand purchase and learn what information or repairs may need to be made in order to ensure the item is safe in your home. Consumers can also contact my Recall Hotline for information on recalled products."

"While it's illegal to sell recalled products, online sellers may be unaware their product has been recalled," Cowles said. "Online sites should do what they can to keep recalled products off their sites, and buyers should check as well at CPSC.gov or by searching at kidsindanger.org on a mobile device."

Madigan and KID also warned families and caregivers to the risk of tip-over accidents for unsecured furniture that has led to increased reports of injury and deaths across the country. Madigan and KID urged families to follow CPSC guidelines to secure furniture in their homes:

Anchor furniture to the wall or floor;

Place televisions on sturdy, low-base stands or furniture, or anchor the furniture and the television on its base, and push the television as far back to the wall as possible;

Keep remote controls, toys and other items of interest to children off of television stands or furniture;

Keep television and cable cords out of reach; and Ensure that freestanding kitchen ranges and stoves are installed with anti-tip brackets.

For more information, including information about the IKEA recall, contact Madigan's Recall Hotline at 1- (888) 414-7678.

Congresswoman Bustos urges families to share gun violence videos

As Americans across our country mark a National Day of Action to reduce gun violence, Congresswoman Cheri Bustos is asking her constituents to share their stories online using the hashtag #17Stories. As a former journalist, Bustos interviewed more than 70 members of Congress during last week's sit-in protest to find out what is motivating them to take action to prevent gun violence. Included in these interviews was one with Congresswoman Jackie Speier who told a very personal story about how she was shot five times at Jonestown and how surviving gun violence has shaped her life.

So now, Congresswoman Bustos is asking families from the 17th district to tell their stories about why this is so important to them.

In a short web video posted to Facebook and Twitter, Bustos urged her constituents to record a short video about how gun violence has impacted them or their communities – then share it on Facebook or Twitter using the hashtag #17Stories.

"I can't imagine the pain of losing a child or loved one in a senseless act of gun violence, but that's what happened 35 times in my district last year," said Congresswoman Cheri Bustos. "These stories must be told so I'm asking my constituents to make short videos on Facebook and Twitter using #17Stories to share how gun violence has affected their lives, the lives of their loved ones or their communities. As the wife of a sheriff and owner of a gun myself, I know that we can strike the right balance to defend the rights of law abiding gun owners while making it harder for suspected terrorists or violent criminals to get their hands on deadly weapons."

"Just one week after the historic sit-in on the House floor, leaders in Congress are holding yet another historic event to urge our elected officials in the U.S. House of Representatives to hold a vote on bipartisan legislation that protects the rights of law-abiding Americans, keeps guns out of the wrong hands, and saves lives," said former Congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords, Co-Founder of the gun violence prevention organization Americans for Responsible Solutions. "I want to thank Congresswoman Bustos for helping lead the fight against our nation's gun violence crisis. Speaking is difficult for me. But I haven't been silenced. And neither should the American people. Their Representatives must vote to make our communities safer."

Durbin announces more than $107 million for emergency preparedness in Illinois during FY2016

U.S. Senator Dick Durbin (D-IL) announced more than $107 million in federal funding to improve emergency preparedness across Illinois. In fiscal year 2016, the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) has awarded state and local authorities, transportation agencies, and port facility operators in Illinois preparedness grants totaling $107,952,308 to prevent and respond to acts of terrorism and other hazards.

"The recent string of horrific terror attacks around the world has underscored a grim reality—we must ensure that Illinois is prepared to address emergency events, including preventing and responding to acts of terrorism," said Durbin. "This funding will help provide state and local agencies as well as transportation authorities with the necessary tools to keep Illinois residents, visitors, and businesses safe."

Lena-Winslow Education Foundation announces grant awards

The Lena-Winslow Education Foundation is preparing for the 2016-2017 school year by its annual grant funding. The Lena-Winslow Education Foundation, whose mission is to provide funds to enhance instruction for students, to enrich learning experiences for both students and faculty, and to offer scholarships to Le-Win graduates for higher education, provided the fourth of what we hope will be many years of awarding grants for students and teachers in the Le-Win District. Money for the grants comes from fund raising, private donations, and investment interest.

The following grants were awarded for the 2016-2017 school year: Science and Math supplies for the kindergarten classroom; Listening station improvement for third grade; Differentiated Reading Materials for 3-5 grades; Abraham Lincoln presentation for 3-5 grades; Christmas Carol Field Trip for sixth graders; Cave of the Mounds Field Trip for eighth graders; Verneir LabQuest Data Collection for junior high and high school science; Jelly Fish for Science Department grades 9-12; Life Skills materials for cooking in the Special Education Classroom; Library Books nonfiction grades 2-12. A contribution by the Lena State Bank for materials to use to teach checking account skills helped the foundation to also provide the business department grant for these checking booklets. The total grant monies awarded for the 2016-2017 school year was $6,718.

Anyone who is interested in helping to provide grants for teachers and students may make a tax deductible donation. Donations may be sent to the Lena-Winslow District 202 Office of the Superintendent at 401 Lena St., Lena, IL 61048. For any further information about the Foundation and its activities, you can contact Dr. Thomas Chiles at the District Office. Further information is also available on the District 202 Website.

Tom Huber to retire as Union Savings Bank CEO

By Tony Carton
 EDITOR

By pressing forward in trust services, business and personal banking, UNION Savings BANK is moving fast and thinking big for Freeport.

"UNION Savings BANK is an independent, full service community bank that has branches in Freeport, Rockford, Belvidere and Mount Morris. We offer a broad range of banking products from personal, business, investment, trust and mortgage services," said UNION Savings Bank Chairman of the Board and CEO Thomas Huber.

Mr Huber is retiring this month and it was genuinely entertaining to sit and discuss his years of service to the community and his experiences. He said over the years technology has dramatically changed banking

"When I was first hired the bank was looking for someone to start their computer department," said Huber. "Most of the record keeping was done by an aging staff that was not interested in learning about these "new computers," so they asked me if I would be willing to take that project on and I agreed."

When the bank got its first computer they didn't even have programs for it and Huber made the decision to return to Highland College and take a program writing class so he could write programs for the bank.

They brought me in to start the computer department and I needed help, but I had to learn how to do all the functions," he said. "Our first computer was probably bigger than your home refrigerator and could do one function at a time. You can imagine our excitement when we got more memory and made some improvements to it so we could actually do two things at a time; we could update the general ledger and we could update the savings at the same time."

With time and due in no small part to Huber's forward thinking and dedication the department grew and gradually took over many of the bank's most time and labor consuming projects until today, almost everything in banking is digital.

"The bank is all about computers and digital banking now," said Huber. We have mobile banking and our web site, that's where banking is going. Someday, down the road I think banks are going to be all digital and you might have one person running the bank and everything will be digital."

A growing number of banks are strictly digital with ATM machines and teller assisted machines and have no tellers.

"The process of taking loan applications can be done online and there are programs that do the underwriting, it will be interesting in ten or fifteen years to see how many people a bank our size actually needs to run the bank," Huber said.

Regardless of the advances, the personal touch will always be the rule at Union Savings Bank.

"The personal touch will always be very important at Union Savings Bank," said Huber. "Being able to get up and go talk to a customer or have a customer come in the office and sit down so we can try to help them resolve whatever issue they have is very important."

He said there appears to be a generational gap with some of the younger folks feeling they may not need the personal touch as much as people used to need.

"Banks will probably always have people in that capacity to help you with your problems, but personal communication is still huge today," said Huber. "Banking is all about relationships because you can get pretty much the same products anywhere, but the service is what differentiates a bank."

Huber spoke highly of the staff at Union Savings Bank and the service they provide.

"I think we really shine with the customer service we provide," he said.

"I've had numerous community members come up to me and comment that they will always remember when Tom gave them their first mortgage," said Union Savings Bank Marketing Manager Jody Cox, "He was with the loan department here for about 25 years and it had to have been a particularly enjoyable time."

Huber recalled his time in loans and said he was always working to help someone buy a new house or a new car and it was fun.

"Of course, back then it was a lot easier than it is today, but that was the most enjoyable 25 years I've put in," he said.

Huber said his wife hasn't yet told him what he would be doing with all his new found spare time, but he expects they will do some traveling and he will be staying with Union Savings Bank as board chair, so he will be in the office at least a couple times a month for meetings and other activities.

"Luckily our children are close by so we won't have to do a lot of traveling to see them and the grandkids, but there are projects around the house that I've put off for years. I would like to do some golfing and fishing and I might even start hunting again."

Huber says he is retiring with mixed feelings.

"When I told the board about my decision to retire, I didn't really realize how emotionally mixed it was going to be," said Huber. "There are days when I ask myself what I'm going to do. There are going to be people I've seen every day for years I won't be seeing as often and that's the bad part of it. There are customers that stop by the office just to say hi and I'm hoping I will still be seeing them outside the bank around town. It is an emotionally mixed event, but I'm ready."

With Mr. Huber retiring it is safe to say, "The more things change, the more they stay the same," and that adage certainly applies to the day to day operations at Union Savings Bank. You can expect the same prompt courteous service, the same knowledgeable assistance as always and as Mr. Huber said, "The best is always yet to come."

Edler home receives Yard of the Month recognition in Lena

The Lena Beautification Committee has chosen Pat Edler's home, at 309 Butternut, as "The Yard of the Month" for June. Pat's planted her gardens in memory of her husband and other family members. It features a variety of perennials, flowering shrubs and lawn ornaments. Gazing balls have been decorated with sparkling stones to catch the reflection of the sun. Her "Missouri Girl" statue is a favorite for hers since it was a special gift from Missouri. The yard is a refuge for Jenny Wrens, bunnies and many other birds. Pat loves working in her yard and refers to it as "her little garden that she tends for God and lost loved ones"

Some thirty wheelchair parade participants continued their Independence Day celebrations by having a picnic lunch in the gardens at the Lena Living Center.

Many of the Lena Living Center residents gathered in the facility's lobby for the recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance before beginning their Independence Day celebration.

Many of the vehicles and passengers participating in the Lena Living Center Wheelchair Parade were decorated in red, white and blue in honor of our flag.

threshold and is speeding toward the BIG-101.

"We come visit mom every Independence Day, but this is the first time they've had a parade at the Living Center," said Staub. "She enjoys all the holidays and we are here for most of them. She's just delightful and she loves a parade."

"Bert" smiled as always, through the whole event and as it wound to a close she pulled up close to the table and started to work on a sandwich and a beverage, all the while never taking her eyes off a certain bowl of ice cream.

"Our family always celebrated the Fourth and we always went to the Stockton fireworks," said "Bert. "They always have the good fireworks and we've had a lot of fun over the years attending their day in the park."

Myron Woessner always celebrated the Fourth when he was younger and 2016 was no exception.

"Our family always got together and it was a lot of fun," said Woessner. "We always went to a parade and this year I am actually in a parade myself."

When asked how he intended to spend the rest of the day, his answer was quick and simple, "I'm going back to bed," Woessner said, with his ever-present irrepressible grin. "I'm not as young as I used to be, but I'm feeling pretty good today."

Thank you for all the cards, gifts, phone calls and greeting for our 50th anniversary
To our children & grandchildren, you are the BEST!

FROM LENA'S KITCHEN

The not so skinny cook

I hope everyone had a great Fourth of July celebration. The weather this past weekend has been great. The air conditioner is getting a break, although the weather people say we are in for a massive heat wave. I guess it is just in time for the fair. This week the column is deep into summer recipes. There is an easy appetizer, a cool summer salad, a tasty vegetable casserole, an interesting main dish, and two great desserts.

Need an easy appetizer? This recipe is an easy one to make and take to any get together. It is great on toasted bread—even toasted cocktail rye is great way to serve this summer time dip.

Layered BLT Dip

- 1 pkg. (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened
- ½ C. mayonnaise
- ¼ C. grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 C. finely chopped lettuce
- 8 bacon strips, cooked and crumbled
- 4 plum tomatoes, chopped
- 4 green onions, chopped
- 1 ½ C. shredded cheddar cheese
- Toasted French baguette slices.

In a bowl, beat the cream cheese, mayo and Parmesan until blended; spread into a shallow dish. Layer with lettuce, bacon, tomatoes, onions, and cheddar. Refrigerate until serving. Serve with bread slices.

This salad recipe is very refreshing. The combination of the melons and the blackberries which are tossed with the honey dressing is great for a hot day. The pinch of cayenne in the dressing is a little surprise!

Melon and Blackberry Salad

- 2 T. honey
- 4 t. fresh lemon juice
- Pinch of cayenne pepper

- ½ t. lemon zest
- 1 C. cubed honeydew melon
- 1 C. cubed cantaloupe
- 1 C. fresh blackberries
- ¼ C. chopped pecans, toasted
- 1 T. minced fresh tarragon

Combine honey, lemon juice, and cayenne for the dressing; heat in the microwave until honey dissolves, 20 seconds. Stir in the zest; cool slightly.

Toss the honeydew, cantaloupe, blackberries, pecans, and tarragon with the dressing; season with salt and pepper.

We are beginning the summer squash recipes; there are always plenty of squash from gardens. In fact, there is usually a bumper crop of them. This casserole is a cheesy way to eat the plentiful summer squash and zucchini. You can substitute sharp cheddar for the cheddar/jack cheese. You could also substitute regular bread crumbs for the Panko crumbs. The Panko will make for a crispier topping.

Summer Squash Casserole

- 2 lbs. yellow squash, sliced
- 2 lbs. zucchini, sliced
- ¾ C. butter, divided
- 1 ½ C. diced onion
- 2 t. minced garlic
- ½ C. sour cream
- ½ C. mayonnaise
- 2 large eggs
- 2 C. shredded Cheddar cheese
- 2 C. shredded Cheddar/Jack cheese

Preheat the oven to 350. Spray a 9 x 13 baking dish with cooking spray. Fill a Dutch oven or large cooking pot with water enough to cover the squash and zucchini. Bring the squash and zucchini to a boil. Cook until just tender, about 5 minutes. Drain well.

In a medium skillet, melt ¼ cup of the butter over medium-high heat. Add the onion and garlic and cook, stirring frequently, until tender, about 10 minutes. In a large bowl, whisk together the sour cream, mayo, and eggs. Stir in squashes and onion mixture, all the cheese, bread crumbs, salt and pepper. Pour into the prepared pan.

In a microwave-safe bowl, melt the remaining ¼ cup of butter on medium heat. Stir in the cracker crumbs until well combined. Sprinkle the crumbs onto the casserole and cover with foil. Bake for 20 minutes. Uncover and bake until golden brown, 25-30 minutes more. Let stand for 10 minutes before serving.

One of my friends made this casserole after reading about it in a local paper. The corn muffin mix makes for an easy base. You can use rotisserie chicken for an easy way to get this casserole on the table very quickly. Enjoy this easy casserole that doesn't take much time or effort.

Chicken Cornbread Bake

- 1 pkg. (8½ oz.) Jiffy Corn Muffin Mix
- 1 egg
- 1/3 C. milk
- 2 T. butter
- 1 red pepper, sliced
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 2 C. chopped or shredded chicken
- 1 C. Barbeque Sauce
- ½ C. corn
- 1 C. shredded cheddar
- Sliced green onions for garnish

Preheat the oven to 400. Grease an 8-inch square baking dish. In a medium bowl, combine the cornbread mix with the egg and milk. Pour into prepared pan and bake 20 minutes or until the top is lightly browned.

While the cornbread is baking, melt the butter in a skillet over medium heat. Add the pepper and onion and cook until softened, about 5 minutes. Reduce the heat to low and add the chicken, corn and barbeque sauce. Stir until heated through. Pour the chicken mixture over the baked cornbread. Top with cheese. Preheat the broiler and place the dish in the oven for 2 minutes or until cheese is bubbling. Top with green onions if desired.

A reader sent me this rhubarb cream pie recipe—she didn't leave her name, but the pie sounds yummy. If you have fresh rhubarb, and Barb Wire had some at the Farmer's Market, this pie is for you. Enjoy this rhubarb recipe which the reader told me was good and pretty.

Rhubarb

- 4 C. cut up rhubarb
- 1 C. cream
- 1¼ C. sugar
- 2 heaping Tablespoons of tapioca
- 1 pkg. of a 3 oz. strawberry Jello-Pastry for a 9 inch pie

Preheat the oven to 350. In a large bowl, mix all the ingredients together and let stand while making the crust or are putting pre-made crust in a pie pan. Pour the rhubarb mixture into the pie pan. Bake at 350 for one hour.

I don't often have recipes for cakes that take a lot of time, but this strawberry jam cake is the exception. You must use cake flour for this recipe. You could substitute regular spray and flour dust with your own flour if you don't have the spray with flour. This layered cake on a cake stand is one of the prettiest and best tasting ones I have had in a long time. I think it is the cream cheese frosting that makes it special.

Strawberry Jam Cake

- ¾ C. unsalted butter, softened
- 1½ C. sugar
- ¾ C. strawberry preserves
- 1 t. strawberry extract
- 4 large eggs
- 2½ C. cake flour
- 1¼ t. baking powder
- ¾ t. salt
- ½ t. baking soda
- ½ C. whole buttermilk
- ¼ t. red food coloring
- Strawberry Cream Cheese Frosting
- 2 C. unsalted butter, softened
- 2 pkgs. (8 oz. each) cream cheese, softened
- 8 C. powdered sugar
- ½ C. chopped fresh strawberries
- 2 t. strawberry extract

Preheat the oven to 350. Spray 3 nine-inch round cake pans with baking spray with flour. Line the bottom of pans with parchment paper; spray paper with baking spray.

In a large bowl, beat the butter and sugar with a mixer at medium speed until fluffy, 3-4 minutes, stopping occasionally to scrape the sides of the bowl. Beat in reserves and extract until well combined. Add the eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition.

In a medium bowl, sift together the cake flour, baking powder, salt, and baking soda. Gradually add the flour mixture to the butter mixture alternately with the buttermilk, beginning and ending with flour mixture, beating just until combined after each addition. Beat in food coloring until well combined. Divide the batter among the prepared pans.

Bake until a wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean, about 25 minutes. Remove from pans, gently remove the parchment, and let cool completely on wire racks.

Frosting: in a large bowl, beat the butter and cream cheese with a mixer at medium speed until creamy. Gradually add the powdered sugar, beating until smooth. Beat in the strawberries and extract until combined.

Spread the frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake. Garnish with strawberries, if desired. Cover and refrigerate for up to 3 days.

I got a call about the strawberry farm near Monroe. They are letting people pick, but it is the end of the season. A reader and her husband surprised me with a box of strawberries they picked. I was in strawberry heaven. There is nothing like the taste of homegrown strawberries. Another friend finished picking cherries; he is using the cherries to make wine. (I am a pie lover, so I would have made a cherry pie!) We continue looking for some strawberry, cherry, or raspberry recipes, so let us know how you are fixing them. We are also looking for some garden vegetable recipes. As I said earlier in the column, zucchini are everywhere once they start coming in!

If you have any recipes to share, you can contact us in person, by mail, or email us at From Lena's Kitchens, Shopper's Guide at 213 S. Center St. or email scoopshopper@rvpublishing.com.

Long family celebrates 10 years of KOA ownership

Diane Long grew up going RVing with her family, and Joe Long was a scout who did a lot of camping. After they married in 1980, the couple bought a popup trailer and loved it especially after their two daughters were born. As our kids started to get older, we started to explore the idea of owning a campground, says Joe. I wanted to spend more time outside and doing things with my family. This was the perfect business for that."

The couple looked for the right campground to purchase for several years. They were almost ready to give up when they learned about an option that had just come available. We found out this one came up for sale, Joe recalls. We were customers at this park for a few years and loved it here. We were fortunate to get someplace we already knew and liked." In 2006, the couple became the owners of the Lena KOA, drawn to its location and natural beauty. It had been a KOA since it was built in 1971, but had undergone extensive renovations throughout its 45-year history. The Longs, along with their two daughters, continued those renovation efforts, remodeling the store and taking on extensive beautification efforts.

The Lena KOA offers spacious pull-through and back-in RV Sites with either full or partial hookups and up to 50-amp service. Guests are also drawn to the Deluxe Cabins with private bathrooms and kitchenettes, as well as the more rustic Camping Cabins. Tent Sites and Teepees are also available. Amenities include a swimming pool, jumping pillow, ice cream socials, themed weekends, and a Kamp K9 dog park.

We've got a lot of funny stories about running a campground stories we probably shouldn't share, chuckles Joe. "But our favorite memories over the last 10 years have been when parents come to us and say that their kids choose to come here over the summer. It's good fun watching people have a great time. People come back year after year, and we get to watch their kids grow up. That's what it's all about." Open April 1 to November 1, the Lena

KOA is located at 10982 US Highway 20 West. It is one of 490 open-to-the-public KOA campgrounds in the Kampgrounds of America system in the U.S. and Canada. It received the 2016 KOA Founder's Award for world-class customer service and the 2016 KOA President's Award for meeting exceptional quality standards.

Adkins Energy continues support of area education programs

For the third year in a row, Adkins Energy has teamed with CoBank, their finance partner, to donate $10,000 to several area education programs.

This year Highland Community College and Lena-Winslow School District are recipients of the donation, which is part of CoBank's "Sharing Success" Program that contributes to nonprofit organizations in rural America. They matched a $5,000 Adkins payment to increase the impact of the donation made locally.

The Agriculture Program at Highland Community College was given $7,000 to use toward updating its crop science plant lab. New plant testing equipment including microscopes, slides, chemicals and plant materials will help ensure that college students have resources available to understand current agricultural trends.

Lena-Winslow School District is constructing a new greenhouse and the $3,000 it received will be used toward completion of the new facility. When finished, it will be used for educational hands-on projects so that students can learn about various topics such as nutrition and plant growth, along with gaining other skills and concepts.

"Adkins is pleased to support students in our area, especially for these two ag-related programs," said Adkins Energy General Manager Ray Baker. "Agriculture is one of the region's key economic drivers, and our employees, owners and board are proud that these donations will strengthen education for the students at those schools."

Noted landscape designer to talk about landscapes for native plants and pollinators

The Jo Daviess Conservation Foundation (JDCF) invites the public to a presentation by Minneapolis-based landscape designer Heather Holm, featuring beautifully photographed plants and insects from her 2014 book, "Pollinators of Native Plants." Heather will present on Friday, July 22, at the Galena Territory Owner's Club, 2000 Territory Drive, Galena. The event begins with a potluck at 5:30 p.m. If attending the potluck, please bring a dish to pass and your own table service. Her presentation will begin at 7 p.m. for those wishing to attend just the talk.

Heather is a horticulturist and environmental educator who specializes in native plant landscapes and landscape restorations in the Midwest and Northeast. She is also a popular contributor for Houzz, a social media website, writing about pollinators and beneficial insects.

Heather's talk will take us through the native plants that inhabit our local prairies, woodlands and wetlands, showcasing the life cycle and behavior of insects - bees, butterflies, moths, wasps, beetles and flies - that evolved alongside and are critical for these native plants. "Incorporating more native plants into the home garden, agricultural or large natural landscape can have an extremely positive impact on pollinators and all wildlife," she says.

In addition, Heather will have available comprehensive native plant lists for different habitats as well as identification posters. Her presentation will emphasize ways to "keep our landscapes healthy and help feed all organisms in the food web."

Emily Lubcke, Natural Resources Manager for the Galena Territory Association (GTA), will host a Q&A with Heather to address audience questions.

This event is free and open to the public. RSVP's are not required. The event is co-sponsored by Apple River State Bank/First Community Bank of Galena and the Galena Territory Association.

For more information on JDCF events and activities, visit www.jdcf.org. For more information on GTA events and activities, visit www.thegalenaterritory.com.

NWIL Art Festival - Come Celebrate the Arts!

It's that time of year again for the annual Northwest Illinois Art Festival! This fine art event is held in the Stockton Memorial Park located on Hwy 20, just 30 miles east of Galena on Saturday, July 16, 10 a.m.

to 7 p.m. and on Sunday, July 17, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. with free admission to the public. It's a beautiful setting for the public to, Come Celebrate the Arts!

Building on the success of 37 vendors in last year's event, it has now expanded to include our returning artists as well as some new vendors from beyond the tri-state area to fill the park with arts of all kinds from ceramics, clay/porcelain, jewelry, photography, drawing, glass, metal, acrylic, oil, wood, printmaking, fiber/textiles, leather, mixed media, lawn art, paper, and graphics. A highlight to this event is the live mural painting of a building in downtown Stockton by Clinton Artist, Chris Shannon. He will begin Saturday morning and end Sunday afternoon.

Three different studio tents where you become the artist will be offered to highlight the creation of art for the soul by artists, Jan Ketzka, Diane Maus, and Kim Bauer. There will also be the opportunity to share your art of music in our open mic style music in the park on Sunday, July 17 from 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. As any festival needs food and drink we have the art of wine-making, brewing, and distilling. Several area businesses including, Massbach Ridge Winery, Squeeze Beverage, Pecatonica Brewery, and Galena Brewing Company will be serving up their art for the price of a bracelet. There will also be food vendors cooking up their savory art for the festival goers' taste buds. They include, but are not limited to, Stella's Cafe and Catering, Woodbine Bend, and Cafe 217.

The NWIL Art Festival wants you to Come Celebrate the Arts! at the Stockton Memorial Park Saturday, July 16, 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Sunday, July 17, 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Please follow us at www.facebook.com/NWILArtFest and www.facebook.com/NWILJazzFest to get new details. *Applications for this event will be taken up until the date of the event at www.nwilartfest.com.

Warm weather and swimming go hand in hand

Information compiled

by Tony Carton

EDITOR

Swimming is a great recreational sport that can be enjoyed by people of all ages, but it's important to know how to be safe while you're in the water. The American Red Cross offers these important swimming safety tips you should be aware of before you head out to the pool or beach:

Swim in designated areas supervised by lifeguards.

Always swim with a buddy; do not allow anyone to swim alone.

Never leave a young child unattended near water and do not trust a child's life to another child; teach children to always ask permission to go near water.

Have young children or inexperienced swimmers wear U.S. Coast Guard-approved life jackets around water, but do not rely on life jackets alone.

Maintain constant supervision.

Make sure everyone in your family learns to swim well. Enroll in age-appropriate Red Cross water orientation and learn-to-swim courses.

If you have a pool, secure it with appropriate barriers. Many children who drown in home pools were out of sight for less than five minutes and in the care of one or both parents at the time.

Avoid distractions when supervising children around water.

If a child is missing, check the water first. Seconds count in preventing death or disability.

Have appropriate equipment, such as reaching or throwing equipment, a cell phone, life jackets and a first aid kit.

Know how and when to call 9-1-1 or the local emergency number.

Enroll in Red Cross home pool safety, water safety, first aid and CPR/AED courses to learn how to prevent and respond to emergencies.

Protect your skin. Limit the amount of direct sunlight you receive between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. and wear sunscreen with a protection factor of at least 15.

Drink plenty of water regularly, even if you're not thirsty. Avoid drinks with alcohol or caffeine in them.

FSA County Committee nomination period began June 15

Jo Daviess County USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) Executive Director CED Cory C. Cassens announced that the nomination period for local FSA county committees began on Wednesday, June 15, 2016. "County Committees are unique to FSA and allow producers to have a voice on federal farm program implementation at the local level," said CED Cassens.
 To be eligible to serve on a FSA county committee, a person must participate or cooperate in an FSA administered program, be eligible to vote in a county committee election and reside in the local administrative area (LAA) where they are nominated.
 This year, nominations and elections will be held in LAA 2, which includes Apple River, Warren, Thompson, Rush, Nora, Stockton and Wards Grove townships.
 John Curtiss of Stockton has served on the County Committee for 2 terms of 3 years per term and is eligible for consideration as a County Committee nominee and member based on the 3 term 9 year limitation.
 Farmers and livestock producers may nominate themselves or others. Organizations representing minorities and women also may nominate candidates. To become a candidate, an eligible individual must sign an FSA-669A nomination form. The form and other information about FSA county committee elections are available at www.fsa.usda.gov/elections. 2016 nomination forms must be postmarked or received in the Jo Daviess County FSA Office by close of business on Aug. 1, 2016.
 Elected county committee members serve a three-year term and are responsible for making decisions on FSA disaster, conservation, commodity and price support programs, as well as other important federal farm program issues. County committees consist of three to 11 members

 "It is important that county committees are comprised of members who fairly represent the diverse demographics of production agriculture for their community," said CED Cassens. "All producers, including women, minority and beginning farmers and ranchers are encouraged to participate in the nomination and election process."
 FSA will mail election ballots to eligible voters beginning Nov. 7. Ballots must be returned to the Jo Daviess county FSA office via mail or in person by Dec. 5. Newly-elected committee members and alternates will take office on Jan. 1, 2017.
 For more information about county committees, please contact the Jo Daviess County FSA office at (815) 858-3418 Extension 102 or visit www.fsa.usda.gov/elections.

This old Ford will still pull that planter all day in the field, but farming has changed and now it is retired and on display for tractor shows.

(Right) This old Allis may be fully reconditioned and ready to work, but it's day is passed and now they only crank start it for show at events like the 8 Miles of Ag-Tiques held over the weekend on Hwy 26 between Orangeville and Monroe, WI.

This Massey can still condition the soil with the best of them, but times have changed and with overhead costs reaching the sky these dinosaurs are retired to show.

Heritage Days

The racers really started to dig in as they rounded the bend and headed for home during Sunday evening's canoe races on the Apple River in Hanover.

Somebody's eyes may have been bigger than her stomach at the cotton candy booth over the weekend at Hanover Days.

The starter called the racers to their marks as the tension built during the Hanover Days canoe race Saturday evening on the Apple River.

These two canoe race contestants were completely exhausted when they crossed the finish line Sunday evening at the Hanover Days celebration.
