Apple Canyon Lake to host its first annual Trail Trekker 5K Color Run/Walk

By Tony Carton
EDITOR

The Color Run concept was founded to promote healthiness, happiness and community togetherness, and in that spirit, Apple Canyon Lake is hosting its first annual Trail Trekker 5K Color Run/Walk Saturday, July 30. The event is a fun run, not timed, and participants can register on the day of the trekker from 7:30 to 8:20 a.m. The starter's horn blasts at 8:30 a.m. and with nearly 200 pre-registered trekkers ready to go, you will want to join in the fun.

"We are inviting the public to Apple Canyon Lake which is a private lake community, so typically you would have to have an amenity tag to enter these areas, but we want to show off some of our finest amenities and one of those gems is our 14-mile trail system," said Apple Canyon Lake Communications and Recreation Director Cindy Donth-Carton. "The trekker will be staged across one of our most scenic areas. It winds along the Marina Bay to the Harold Batham Nature Trail and runs along the Hells Branch Creek, which is a very scenic segment of the Batham trail, before retuning along the same path."

The participants will be running or walking on sealcoat surfaces, gravel, dirt, grassy areas and even a wooden walking bridge.

"This is not your average color run," said Carton. "These are nature trails with hills and dales, pastures and prairies, hiking paths and roadways, some uneven surfaces that will offer a mild challenge to even our most experienced contestants."

The track is a loop with a total distance of 3.1 miles or 5 kilometers and there will be trail volunteers in ATVs or golf carts along the route, so if a participant feels they cannot continue there will be accommodations to take them to the finish line.

The Marina Trail provides an unusually panoramic view of Apple Canyon Lake with views of Marina Bay, Nixon Beach, and The Cove Restaurant, which features the only public lakeside dining area in Jo Daviess County, and the trekker is designed to bring the Hells Branch Watershed to the forefront.

"We are working on a watershed plan with our neighbors to create an area in which we are all invested because the water that runs into the lake from surrounding areas needs to be properly managed and the water that runs beyond the lake travels to the Apple River touching any number of area communities, so it requires management as well," Carton said.

She said the Trail Trekker is a fun family activity with something for everyone.

"Some of our property owners are grandparents and they have weekend get-togethers that are clearly family reunion gatherings," said Carton. "The color run will allow grandma and grandpa to traverse the course with their kids and grandkids and their visiting friends. It is all inclusive."

As younger families buy into Apple Canyon Lake the community is trying to reach that wider demographic and provide entertaining activities for the newcomers as well as for its current membership.

"There will be four color stations along the 5K loop," she said. "There will be volunteers with applicators containing colorized cornstarch and as the participants move through those stations they will be colorized."

Folks not wanting color can either signal the volunteers or navigate around the color stations.

The registration fees are $25 for ages 13 and over and $15 for ages 12 and under. Each participant will receive a 2016 Color Run T-shirt, a Trail Trekker 5K swag bag containing a celebratory color pak and coupons from the event's sponsors along with a pair of Apple Canyon Lake sunglasses. Each registrant will be entered in prize drawings. Registration is open until 10 minutes before the starting gun.

Event sponsors include Apple River State Bank/First Community Bank of Galena, The Cove Bar and Grill, Tri-State Port-a-Potty, Illinois Bank and Trust, Jo Carroll Energy, The Galena-Jo Daviess County Convention and Visitors Bureau, Citizens State Bank, FS Propane, Road ID, Strictly Shingles LLC and Apple Canyon Lake POA.

There will be emcees at the start and finish lines with music, and extra color paks available for spectators wishing to leave their mark on a favorite trekker. There will also be commemorative T's on sale the day of the trek.

"Our Marina Manager Terri Stiefel and her staff will be slaving over a hot grill at the marina serving up those special Pecatonica Bratwursts with choice of chips on the side," Carton said. "There will be a tasting of Pecatonica Beers with local cheeses and other beverages available as well."

She said volunteers are the lifeblood of any big community project and the Apple Canyon Lake Trail Trekker Color Run/Walk is no exception.

"We could not do this without our volunteers," said Carton. "Our volunteers range in age from 12 to 75 for this event and while most of them are property owners, we do have some visitors and some folks from Stockton coming out to help as well. This is looking to be a fun event and our volunteers will be working to make it even more so."

After the Trail Trekker, The Cove and Apple Canyon Lake will co-host their free Sizzling Summer Concert featuring Lost Karma, a blues and rock band out of Winnebago, IL at the old firehouse on Canyon Club Drive from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. Bring your own lawn chairs for the show. The Cove will be offering sandwiches, cheese curds, beer, wine and water.

There are a number of properties for sale at Apple Canyon Lake," said Carton. "We do want to show that Apple Canyon Lake is a really nice community to consider if you live locally or even if you are within a few hours. We have the lake, a marina, the beach, a beautiful swimming pool, a golf course, great fishing, a restaurant, walking and ATV/UTV trails, tennis courts and one of the most beautiful waterfalls in Illinois. It's a good place to buy into; whether you intend to build or not, lots with full amenity accessibility are very affordable. If you're looking for a leisurely lake lifestyle, Apple Canyon Lake is a good place to consider."

Our hearts are full of gratitude when we say so many thanks to family members, special friends and neighbors for all acts of kindness and sympathy: food, flowers, cards, visits and kind words spoken to our family regarding the recent passing of a wonderful mother, grandmother and friend to all, Sheryl Hoy.

We want to express special appreciation to FHN Hospital, Star Ambulance, everyone at Good Sam, Pastor Susan and family for their visits, Pastor Megan, Christ Lutheran Church, FHN Hospice, Leamons Funeral Home and Devoe Floral for their professional arrangements and caring service.

Sheryl will always be remembered for her positive attitude, contagious smile and laughter, and twinkle in her eye.

And a final quote, maybe only known by close friends and family. Remember this and take the meaning however you wish. For us - the memory is with a chuckle. "Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition!"

Senate Week in Review

July 18-22

A new law signed during the week will help the families of crime victims by extending the statute of limitations on violent crimes and strengthening Illinois' Freedom of Information Act laws.

Also signed into law by Gov. Bruce Rauner was a bill I cosponsored to expand insurance coverage in Illinois to include cutting-edge breast cancer screenings, and other measures targeting the retail sales of synthetic drugs and reinforcing the state's commitment to early childhood education.

Governor signs Molly's Law

The legislative package known as Molly's Law will strengthen the state's Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) and extend the period of time in which a victim's family can file a wrongful death lawsuit when the act is intentional and violent in nature.

House Bill 6083 allows a lawsuit in a wrongful death case to be brought within five years after the date of a death, or within one year after the criminal case against the perpetrator concludes.

Additionally, House Bill 4715 provides for fines—up to $1,000 per day—in cases where a public body fails to comply with a court order resulting from a FOIA action. It also incentivizes public bodies to act in a timely manner in response to binding opinions from the Attorney General in FOIA cases.

The new laws were sought by the family of Molly Young, a 21-year-old victim of a gunshot wound who died under questionable circumstances in 2012. The Young family faced an uphill battle in the pursuit of justice for Molly, hindered by the state's statute of limitations for wrongful death cases and burdensome FOIA compliance issues.

As a result, in May 2015 a judge dismissed a wrongful death lawsuit filed by Larry Young, ruling Young failed to file the lawsuit within two years of Molly's death.

House Bill 6083 and House Bill 4715 will go into effect on Jan. 1, 2017.

Illinois continues to lead in early childhood education

A new law signed July 21 reinforces Illinois' leading role in early childhood education. As the first state in the country to make sure an allocation of early childhood education funding was directed to programs for infants and toddlers up to age three, Senate Bill 238 clarifies the original intent of the law to ensure that 25 percent of the early childhood block grant will be spent on programs that focus on children younger than three. It has been demonstrated that early childhood is critical to intellectual, physical and behavioral development—particularly in the very early years after birth. Senate Bill 238 prioritizes state support to ensure children in Illinois begin their lives with a strong academic foundation and age-appropriate support and resources.

Expanded coverage to include 3D breast cancer screenings

Insurance plans in Illinois, including Medicaid, will now cover breast tomosynthesis, or 3D mammography, following the Governor's recent approval of Senate Bill 466.

The legislation, which I cosponsored, was unanimously supported by Illinois lawmakers, and praised as a critical tool to help with early detection of breast cancer.

Breast tomosynthesis is a form of breast cancer screening that is newer and more effective than low-dose mammography. It works by creating an image of the breast through a series of X-rays from different angles. This enables doctors to have a clear, three-dimensional image, making it easier to see through dense tissue and detect breast cancers.

According to the Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH), breast cancer is the most commonly diagnosed cancer among Illinois women, accounting for 29.7 percent of 796,602 invasive cancer diagnoses in women during 1986-2013. In 2013 alone, 9,859 women were diagnosed with, and 1,761 women died from, breast cancer.

IDPH projects that 10,290 women will be diagnosed with breast cancer in 2016, and that the number will increase to 10,440 women in 2017.

Senate Bill 466 took effect immediately.

Banning sale of addictive bath salts

Gov. Rauner also signed Senate Bill 210, giving law enforcement another tool to curb the growing number of retailers selling synthetic drugs popularly known as "bath salts."

The new law targets the sale of these synthetic drugs by prohibiting retailers from selling, or offering for sale, any material that contains the "cathinone" chemical structure found in bath salts. Once the law takes effect on Jan. 1, 2017, it will be a Class 3 felony if the Act is violated, which could result in a potential fine up to $150,000. In addition, units of local government may revoke a violator's license.

Use of bath salts has been on the rise across the country for the last decade. It has been difficult for law enforcement to crack down on the bath salt epidemic, because in order to get around state and federal laws, manufacturers of synthetic drugs continue to modify their formulas.

Bath salts are chemically similar to amphetamines, cocaine, and MDMA, and they produce effects such as paranoia, hallucinations, increased sociability, panic attacks and excited delirium. So named because these substances are often sold disguised as common bath salts, they are frequently available in convenience stores, smoke shops and adult stores. Bath salts are known to be extremely addictive, and even deadly.

Durbin calls for a forceful response to heroin and opioid epidemic

U.S. Senator Dick Durbin (D-IL) spoke on the Senate floor calling out Republicans for failing to provide immediate funding for new efforts to combat opioid addiction in the Comprehensive Addiction and Recovery Act. Durbin noted that the CARA bill freezes funding for addiction treatment at a time when the number of deaths from opioid and heroin overdoses continues to grow.

"When only 12% of the people in Illinois are able to receive care for their addiction and there is a 12-week wait at facilities for vulnerable patients to get into drug treatment, authorizing new programs, which this bill does, is good but not good enough. We need to make an investment. We need to put taxpayers' dollars behind this commitment to end this epidemic, and it's needed now," said Durbin. "Failing to provide the dollars today is not going to help those who are currently suffering. It's not going to help that mother who was awake all last night worrying about a son or a daughter who is facing an addiction, praying they can get that child they love into treatment in time to break that addiction and save their lives."

Last month, Senator Durbin introduced comprehensive legislation to prevent prescription opioid addiction, as four out of five heroin users started by misusing prescription opioids. The Addiction Prevention and Responsible Opioid Practices Act (A-PROP Act) would curb the number of opioids flooding the market, increase accountability to ensure responsible prescribing practices, and support prevention efforts to reduce drug diversion and addiction.

Governor signs bill to allow alcohol sales at college football and basketball games

By Anita Bedell,
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR ILLINOIS CHURCH ACTION ON ALCOHOL AND ADDICTION PROBLEMS

Governor Rauner signed a bill to allow the board of trustees of public universities and community colleges to decide whether to allow the sale of alcohol at public events. Did politicians and university officials consider the high costs of alcohol? The economic cost of alcohol is $807 per person per year, whether you drink or not. The cost is $249 billion annually, according to Center for Disease Control.

Underage drinking and alcohol abuse by college students are a major concern both for individuals and the campus community. Virtually ALL students experience the effects of college drinking, whether they drink or not.

One fourth of college students experience academic consequences due to drinking and 20 percent met the criteria for alcohol abuse/dependence, according to the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism. Colleges students are injured, assaulted, attempt suicide, experience sexual abuse, health problems and die each year as a result of alcohol.

Alcohol related problems tend to go up when alcohol is more readily accessible to young adults. Allowing the sale of alcohol at sporting and public events at colleges could lead to an increase in underage drinking, alcohol abuse, and drinking and driving.

The Board of Trustees at Illinois universities and community colleges will develop their alcohol policies within the next six months.

If you are alumni or have children or grandchildren attending there, please contact the Board of Trustees. Ask the Trustees not to allow the sale of alcohol at sporting events, concerts, or public events in the stadiums/arenas.

Master Gardeners present Therapeutic Horticulture Program

The University of Illinois Extension Master Gardeners of Stephenson County have initiated a program entitled "Therapeutic Horticulture". Therapeutic horticulture is a process that uses plants and plant-related activities through which participants strive to improve their well-being through active or passive involvement. Therapeutic horticulture is proven to have a positive impact on various populations such as the elderly and people with chronic health issues, including those with dementia.

Master Gardener volunteers fulfill a valuable role to facilitate and promote the restorative benefits of therapeutic horticulture in our communities.

Each program consists of both an educational component and a topic related activity. Every effort is made to target one or more of the five human senses; sight, hearing, taste, smell or touch into the program. In addition to stimulating the senses, the sensory component adds interest and encourages participation.

Recently, the Master Gardeners presented a Therapeutic Horticulture program at Liberty Village of Freeport. The topic of the program was Perennial Gardens. Several residents of Manor Court at Liberty Village participated in the program. A brief overview of perennials was given. The Master Gardeners then passed around a variety of plant specimens for the participants to see, touch and smell. There was an array of beautiful flowers, various leaves and herbs. The residents enjoyed reminiscing and sharing memories of their own gardens and favorite flowers, as well as learning about some new ones.

The "My Dream Garden" activity followed the perennial presentation. Participants chose pictures of flowers and plants, cut and pasted them on cardboard sheets to create their very own "Dream Garden". Many unique and beautiful gardens were created.

The program was well received by the residents. All those in attendance were delighted to participate in the program and enjoyed the time spent together. The feedback from the Liberty Village staff members was also very positive. After the presentation, it was decided to offer a Therapeutic Horticulture program on a monthly basis. Additionally, it was decided to expand the program to include the residents of Garden Court.

The next program is scheduled for the end of July.

For more information, about the Master Gardener program or therapeutic horticulture call the University of Illinois Extension at (815) 235-4125.

Pearl City author spends 70 years researching book

Non-fiction author, Bob Kaminski will be holding a book signing at the Freeport Public Library on Saturday, July 30 from 3-5 p.m. He will be located in the Main Hall near the entrance.

Kaminski's newly-released book, "Free the Captives" has been a long time in the making. He spent seventy years seeking unbiased answers and truthful documentation pertaining to the life and teachings of the real Jeshua (Jesus). The last two years were spent retrieving and sorting out evidence supplied by scholars of every discipline, and penning his original manuscript.

Kaminski was born in Chicago during the great depression, where he feels exposure to ethnic cultures and religions was commonplace. Christened a Catholic, but confirmed a Lutheran, religion was instilled in him early on. Enrolled in catechism and Bible study at an early age, the priesthood seemed a noble profession to pursue. He was inspired and awed by biblical scripture, but struggled to accept the unnatural improbabilities, and multiple questions arose as to the validity of the Gospels.

"To Free the Captives is a treatise," he said, "evidenced by scholars of every discipline, exposing Christianity as a continuation of religious mythology. The Gospel stories are for the most part fables, and all four Gospels of the New Testament are forgeries." He goes on to say that Christianity, since its organized acceptance, is infused with pagan ritual and pageantry.

"To Free the Captives is a must-read for all Christians," he said, "whether novice or bible scholar."

Kaminski will be personally signing his books on July 30 and will be happy to discuss his work with interested readers. Copies of his book will be available for purchase that day, or by calling (815) 443-2247. The book was published by McIver Publishing.

The Freeport Public Library is located at 100 E. Douglas Street in Freeport, a block off Galena Avenue.

FROM LENA'S KITCHEN

The not so skinny cook

We have had our share of hot and humid weather; July is with us in full force. I feel bad about anyone who had to be out working in this weather. I am lucky enough to have air conditioning and when I work, I work in air also. I found out just how great it was on Thursday night when we had the storm that caused an electrical outage. My little brick house got plenty warm before the power came on. Some friends and I were at Timberlake Playhouse; the second act was about to begin, and we lost electricity. After waiting for a while, they helped us get out of the theater and to our vehicles. On the way home, we ran into horrible rain, limbs down, and fire trucks racing. My heart goes out to the congregation of Zion Church as they mourn the loss of their building. It is tough to lose a place that has so many memories for so many.

This week's recipes continue to use the fruits and vegetables of the season. The farmer's market had great fruits and vegetables this week. One of this week's recipes is for eggplant; Barb had beautiful egg plants. She also had black raspberries that can be used in the dessert recipe at the end of the column. Enjoy these summer vegetable and fruit eats as we battle the heat.

It wouldn't be summer if we didn't continue with pickle recipes. This bread and butter recipe uses both white and brown sugar. There are still Vidalia onions around, so they would be great as the sweet onions. The red pepper flakes give it just a little kick. Enjoy these crunchy pickles as your favorite condiment.

Bread and Butter Pickles

- 1 lb. cucumbers, thinly sliced
- 1 C. thinly sliced sweet onions
- 3 T. kosher salt
- 1/2 C. cider vinegar
- 1 C. white sugar
- 1/2 C. packed brown sugar
- 1 T. mustard seeds
- 1 t. celery seeds
- 1 t. red pepper flakes

Combine the cucumbers, onions and salt in a bowl; cover with ice and let sit for one hour. Rinse and drain cucumbers and onions. Boil the vinegar, sugars (white and brown), mustard seeds, celery seeds, and pepper flakes in a pan over medium heat until the sugar dissolves.

Pour the vinegar mixture over the cucumbers and onions in a large bowl or container, submerging them; chill for at least 4 hours.

We are so lucky to have so many local sweet corn stands around. This recipe is an easy one because you grill the peppers and the corn, and the Kraft dressing adds just the correct zip.

Red Pepper and Corn Salsa

- 2 ears of corn
- 2 small red peppers
- 2 T. Kraft Zesty Lime Vinaigrette Dressing

1 T. chopped fresh cilantro
Remove husks and silk from corn. Grill with red peppers about 7-8 minutes or until charred on all sides, turning occasionally. Place peppers in a bowl and cover with plastic wrap. Let stand 20 minutes. Remove and discard skins and seeds from the peppers. Finely chop the peppers and cut the corn from the cobs. Place in a medium bowl and add lime vinaigrette dressing. Add chopped cilantro and mix lightly.

The baby spinach is really tender this time of year. This salad has the great taste of raspberry vinegar and the dried cranberries and almonds add just the right crunch.

Spinach Salad

- 3 t. extra virgin olive oil
- 3 T. raspberry vinegar
- 1 T. minced green onions
- 1/4 t. salt
- 1/4 t. pepper
- 6 oz. fresh baby spinach
- 1/4 C. dried cranberries
- 1/4 C. crumbled feta or blue cheese
- 3 T. slivered almonds

Whisk together the oil, vinegar, onions, salt and pepper. Toss spinach, cranberries, cheese and almonds with vinaigrette just before serving.

Eggplant is one of those vegetables that takes on the flavor of whatever is in the dish. The panko bread crumbs make for a crunchy taste to the eggplant. The cream cheese and Parmesan cheese makes for a creamy sauce. Enjoy this unique way to use eggplant.

Creamy Eggplant Parmesan Casserole

- 1/2 C. panko bread crumbs
- 1 C. shredded Parmesan cheese, divided
- 1 eggplant (about 1 1/2 lb.) cut into 1/4 inch thick slices
- 4 oz. cream cheese
- 3/4 C. milk
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- 6 T. chopped fresh basil, divided
- 16 Mozzarella Cheese slices
- 1 large tomato, thinly sliced

Preheat the oven to 400. Cover 2 baking sheets with parchment paper. Combine the bread crumbs and 1/4 cup of the Parmesan in a shallow dish. Reserve 2 tablespoons of the crumb mixture for later use. Spray both sides of 1 eggplant slice with cooking spray; dip in remaining bread crumb mixture, turning to evenly coat both sides of the eggplant slice. Place on the prepared baking sheet. Repeat with remaining eggplant slices.

Bake 20 minutes or until eggplant is tender and golden brown, turning after 15 minutes. In a microwave safe bowl, microwave the cream cheese on High for 40 seconds. Gradually whisk in milk until blended. Stir in garlic and 1/4 cup of the basil

Spread 1/4 cup cream cheese mixture on the bottom of a 9-inch pie plate sprayed with cooking spray. Top with layers of 1/3 of the eggplant, 4 cheese slices, and 1/4 cup of the remaining Parmesan; repeat the layers twice. Top with tomatoes, remaining cheese and reserved panko mixture. Bake for 25 minutes or until heated through. Sprinkle with remaining basil.

This berry shortcake uses the great taste of raspberries, blackberries and blueberries. The shortcake is moist because of the buttermilk. Enjoy this great dessert with the season's berry fruits.

Buttermilk Berry Shortcake

- 3 C. raspberries
- 2 C. blackberries
- 3 C. blueberries
- 1/4 C. plus 1/3 C. white sugar
- 1 T. lemon juice
- 3 C. flour
- 4 t. baking powder
- 1 t. baking soda
- 1 1/2 t. salt
- 1 1/2 sticks chilled unsalted butter, cut into small pieces
- 1 C. buttermilk
- 2 T. whipping cream
- 1/4 C. light brown sugar
- 3/4 C. whipped cream

Toss together the berries, 1/4 cup white sugar, and lemon juice in a bowl. Let stand until mixture is juicy, about 30 minutes

Preheat the oven to 425. Line a baking sheet with parchment paper. Whisk together flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, and remaining 1/3 cup of white sugar in a large bowl. Cut in butter with a knife or pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir in buttermilk just until flour mixture is moistened.

Drop 1/3 cup scoops of dough about 2 inches apart onto the baking sheet. Brush biscuits with cream and sprinkle with sugar. Bake until golden brown, 15-20 minutes. For each serving, spoon 3/4 cup berries with juice over a biscuit. Top with whipped cream

I finally have my home improvements finished. I had a great carpenter, masonry man, and bricklayer as well as a carpet layer. The two projects took three months, but it is great now. If you need any of the above craftsmen, contact me because I will give them great recommendations. It wasn't anyone's fault that it took so long only a series of unfortunate events. Now all I have to do is clean up the garage. I have to make a salsa dip for tomorrow, and that is the only cooking besides making fresh vegetables

U of I Extension to host Late Summer Field Days

Join University of Illinois Extension Local Foods and Small Farms Educator, Grant McCarty, at area field days this summer.

Our Late Summer Field Days will offer growers, whether new or experienced, as well as the general public, the opportunity to visit farms, learn about new techniques, and find out more about niche crops and how to grow them. Additionally, these farms will give participants a greater understanding of the diversity of operations within the local food system of Jo Daviess, Stephenson, and Winnebago counties, and also the challenges and opportunities that all three counties are facing. The field days are open to the public and there is no cost to attend.

The first Late Summer Field Day will be at Freeport High School Student Vegetable Farm on Tuesday, August 16 from 4:30 to 6 p.m. The Freeport High School Vegetable Farm is located south east of the Freeport Middle School building just off of Locust Avenue and is run by Monica Pierce, the Freeport High School Ag teacher. "Last summer, Monica and her students hosted us to show how they operate their CSA and what they grow. This summer, we are pleased to join them again with a special focus on harvest. Many times homeowners are unsure when to pick certain crops and this field day will be spent focusing on when to pick, how to pick, and how to store your summer harvest," states Grant McCarty. Students will also give a tour of their operation and share what they've been doing this summer on the farm.

For more information or to register for this Late Summer Field Day, visit us online at <http://web.extension.illinois.edu/jsw> or contact the University of Illinois Extension at (815)235-4125. There is no cost to attend this program but pre-registration is required so that an accurate count of participants can be made.

Elizabeth Community Fair parade

The popular annual Elizabeth Community Fair parade was very well attended in spite of unusually high heat index numbers and the threat of thunderstorms.

DOMINIC CARTON PHOTOS The Scoop Today

These young ladies rode in Saturday's Elizabeth Community Fair parade representing The Three Elizabeth's Guest House. Spoiler Alert: none of them are named Elizabeth.

WE KEEP THEM UP HERE FOR A REASON.

STAY CLEAR OF DOWNED POWER LINES.

Helping members use electricity safely, that's the power of your co-op membership. Learn more from the experts themselves at TogetherWeSave.com.

Residents of the Elizabeth Nursing Home joined with their family members and nursing home staff in the glass-walled showroom of Graves Garage to watch Saturday's parade, have a picnic lunch and celebrate family farming.
