Helping from Head2Toe

Lena company's T-shirt sales will go to help other area small businesses

Head2Toe Custom Apparel & Design has taken an idea from a screen printing company in Rockford and implementing it in Lena to help area small businesses.

"We wanted to find a way to help other small businesses during the time of COVID-19," Tamie Bardell said in an email. "We are making T-shirts with the small business logo on them and taking pre-orders online for $20. We are getting prior approval from the companies before advertising their business. We will donate $10 from each T-shirt sale back to the small local business."

As of press time, Head2Toe was working with 34 businesses from communities such as Stockton, Warren, Lena, Winslow, Pearl City, Freeport, Forreston, Dakota and Monroe.

"We are hoping to be as successful as the company in Rockford but need help in getting the word out to everyone," said Bardell, who runs the company with her husband, Todd.

Pantries, ambulance services receive COVID-19 support

Last week, seven food pantries and five ambulance service organizations collectively received cash donations totaling $15,500 from the nonprofit Jo Daviess County Country Fair Charities Inc.

Donations were funded from proceeds raised by the annual Galena Country Fair event held annually on Columbus Day weekend at Grant Park in Galena.

"Like others in our communities, we were looking for ways to support the important services offered by our local food pantries and ambulance organizations during the COVID-19 pandemic," JDCCFC President

"We are taking pre-orders for the shirts and will print them once the shelter in place is lifted," Bardell said.

The Lena company also is giving away a 55-inch Roku 4K television during this fundraiser.

"We are planning on keeping the online fundraiser open through the end of April," Bardell said. "We currently have sold approximately 160 shirts, so we will be giving at least $1,600 back to these local small businesses."

Those interested can order at www.head2toedesign.com and click on "fundraisers."

Businesses that would like to be included should call 815-291-9083, email to head2toedesign@yahoo.com or visit its Facebook page.

In spite of COVID-19 pandemic, 4-H is in full swing this spring

Alumni, families, members, volunteers and University of Illinois Extension staff have been putting the 4-H pledge into action and embracing the opportunity to give back to their communities during the past few weeks.

Clubs have continued to meet during the COVID-19 pandemic in Jo Daviess, Stephenson and Winnebago counties using technology.

On April 6, Stephenson County 4-H hosted a virtual countywide meeting via Zoom, with 45 families logging in, many with multiple members on one device.

• Stephenson County 4-H ambassadors Magen and Rachel Busker led a tour of their family dairy farm.

"It was wonderful to connect with so many of our families and touch base with everyone," Stephenson County 4-H program coordinator Becky Gocken said in a news release.

Participants concluded the meeting by sharing a YouTube montage of Extension staff and 4-H families smiling and waving hello.

• 4-H clubs in Jo Daviess County have met digitally as well and continue to offer educational activities.

The Scales Mound 4-H Club took a virtual tour of Aunt Beez Greenhouse during its April meeting.

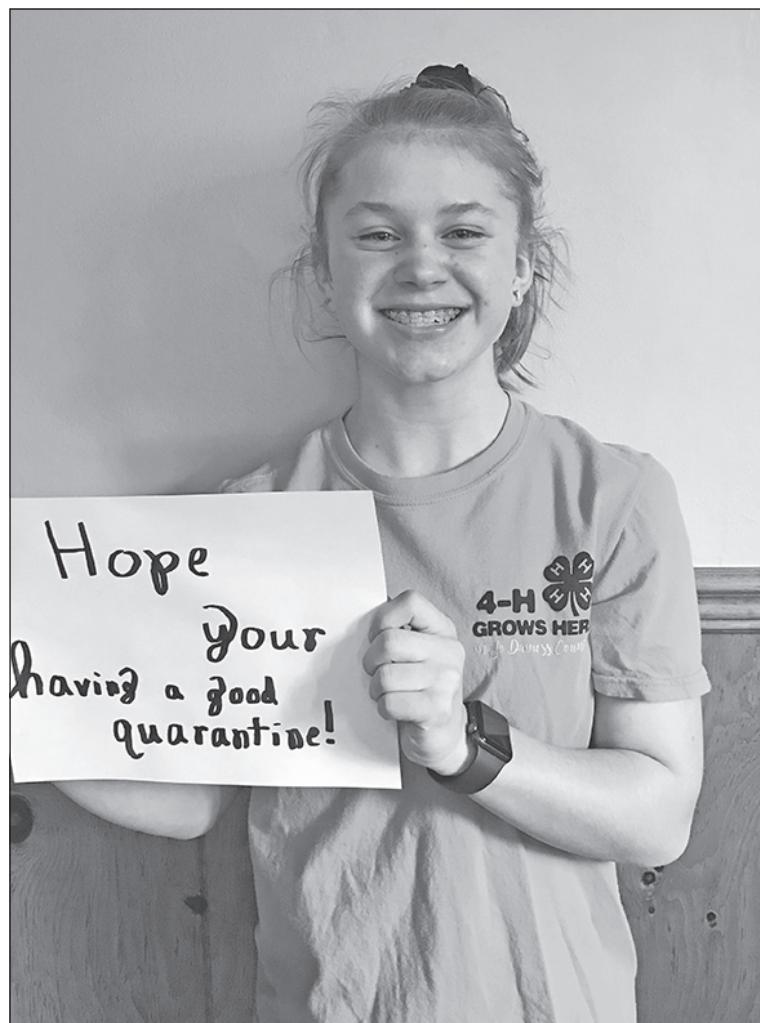

Bridget Zurcher, the owner of Aunt Beez, gave the tour and then led members through a demonstration about horticulture.

On April 6, Jo Daviess County 4-H Federation members met and held their monthly meeting.

Members participated in virtual team building activities, gave committee reports and brainstormed about possible summer activities.

"What I love the most about working with youth is their creativity, adaptability and flexibility to new things," Jo Daviess County 4-H program coordinator Angela Miller said in the news release. "Each of our members has exhibited a willingness to embrace change, step up their leadership and be a role model for our younger members. And to be honest, a role model to those of us that are not tech-savvy."

4-H clubs and members also shared what community service projects they have been involved in, many of them making cards for hospitals and local nursing homes.

"As I participated in the county-wide 4-H meetings, I was impressed with the eagerness of our members to participate and share," said Margaret Larson, Extension director serving Jo Daviess, Stephenson and Winnebago counties.

Hearing about the club's efforts to continue their community service activities, in support of area care centers and first responders, was a sign that 4-H continues to be active in communities despite our recent challenges," Larson added.

Illinois' recommended testing criteria will now include "all those who are experiencing COVID-like symptoms," according to the governor's office. The new guidance will apply to state-run drive-thru testing centers and will be offered to medical providers across Illinois, although those with mild symptoms are still encouraged to call a medical provider before seeking a COVID-19 test.

Finally, Pritzker said the state has also managed to purchase enough personal protective equipment to keep hospitals and first responders in supply for at least the next few weeks.

Pritzker said the administration has 28 million N95 and KN95 masks, which protect workers from inhaling the virus, along with nearly 30 million surgical and disposable masks, gowns and coveralls, 27 million gloves and 7.6 million face shields.

Currently, the statewide 10-day "burn rate" for those items—the number used in an average 10-day period—is roughly 1.5 million N95 masks, 25 million gloves, 4.4 million gowns and 700,000 surgical masks for hospitals and long-term care facilities.

FROM LENA'S KITCHEN

The not so skinny cook

I guess we are in Week 3 if you started with April 1. Things are getting a little boring and slightly nutty at my house.

I really wanted to be outside, but winter weather set in, so I couldn't do my daily sitting in the sun without a ton of clothes on. I heard that maybe by the time this column comes out, we could be a little warmer.

I guess I should be putting more soup recipes in, but not this week's recipes. Enjoy the different lineup I have this week.

Creamy Artichoke Dip

I love hot artichoke dip. This one is fairly easy to make in the slow cooker, so it is great to have for an appetizer when we finally can entertain.

If you want to cut down on the heat, just use half a pepper. I think the yogurt really makes for a creamy dip.

2 cans (14 oz. each) water-packed artichoke hearts, rinsed, drained and coarsely chopped

2 C. shredded mozzarella cheese

1 pkg. (8 oz) cream cheese

½ C. mayonnaise

½ C. shredded Swiss cheese

2 T. lemon juice

2 T. plain yogurt

1 T. seasoned salt

1 T. chopped seeded jalapeno pepper

1 t. garlic powder

Tortilla chips

In a 3-quart slow cooker, combine the first 11 ingredients. Cover and cook on low for 1 hour or until heated through. Serve with tortilla chips (multigrain Tostitos are my favorite).

Fruit Salad with Poppy Seed Dressing

This creamy fruit salad can be made with melons that are available or you can save it for later when the melons are in season.

½ C. sour cream

3 T. milk

1 pkg. Equal sugar substitute

½ t. poppy seed

½ t. vanilla

4 C. cantaloupe
4 C. watermelon
1 C. blueberries
1/3 C. pecans
2 T. fresh mint leaves

Ham and Swiss Strata

This recipe is for those of you who still have some ham leftovers from Easter. I have made strata several times for a gathering of friends. It is great because it goes a long way to feed a group of people.

You can substitute 8 oz. Brie cheese, rind removed, and chopped into pieces for Swiss cheese if you are a Brie lover. It gives the dish a sharper cheese taste.

1 T. canola oil

8 oz. fresh mushrooms

½ C. chopped onion

2 C. fresh baby spinach

2 garlic cloves, minced

12 C. cubed day-old French bread

2 C. cubed deli ham

8 oz. Swiss cheese, chopped

8 large eggs

3 C. milk

2 T. Dijon mustard

1/8 t. salt

1/8 t. pepper

Preheat oven to 375. In a large skillet, heat oil over medium-high heat. Add mushrooms and onion; cook and stir 5 to 7 minutes or until the mushrooms are golden brown and onion is tender. Add spinach and garlic; cook 1 to 2 minutes or until spinach is wilted.

Transfer the mushroom mixture to a greased 9-by-13 glass baking dish. Add bread, ham and cheese.

In a large bowl, whisk the eggs, milk, mustard, salt and pepper. Pour over bread. Bake, uncovered, until a knife inserted in center comes out clean, 35-40 minutes. Let stand 5 to 10 minutes before serving.

Make-ahead strata: Refrigerate unbaked strata, covered, several hours or overnight. To use: Preheat oven to 375. Remove strata from refrigerator while oven heats. Bake 35 to 40 minutes and let stand 5 to 10 minutes before serving.

Chicken Bacon Ranch Casserole

I have had this casserole a long time, but I found the recipe when I was digging into some things during this forced solitary confinement.

You use a package of ranch dressing mix; I substituted paprika for the ground red pepper. I think you could use some red pepper flakes if you don't have ground red pepper. The rotisserie chicken makes prep easy.

1 bag (32 oz.) frozen, diced hash browns, unthawed

6 slices bacon, chopped

3 cloves garlic, minced

2 C. heavy whipping cream

1½ C. shredded Mexican cheese blend, divided

1 pkg. (1 oz.) ranch dressing mix

1 t. salt

½ t. pepper

¼ t. ground red pepper

3 C. shredded rotisserie chicken

½ C. chopped fresh parsley, plus more for garnish

Preheat the oven to 375. Spray a 9-by-13 inch baking dish with cooking spray. Place hash browns in prepared pan. Bake for 15 minutes. In a large skillet, cook bacon over medium heat until crisp, 6 to 8 minutes. Remove bacon using a slotted spoon and let drain on paper towels, reserving 1 T. drippings in skillet.

Add garlic to drippings; cook for 30 seconds. Gradually whisk in cream and bring to a low boil; cook until slightly thickened, about 3 minutes. Whisk in ½ cup cheese, ranch seasoning, salt and peppers until cheese is melted.

Stir cream sauce, chicken, parsley and half of the bacon into the potatoes until well combined. Sprinkle with remaining 1 cup of cheese and bacon. Bake until golden brown and bubbly, about 25 minutes. Let stand for 5 minutes before serving. Garnish with parsley.

Pull Apart Spring Bundt Cake

This is an easy dessert that uses refrigerated cinnamon rolls in a Bundt pan. You really can't get much easier than this. The drizzled frosting makes it look really special.

2 cans (17.5 oz. each jumbo refrigerated cinnamon rolls

¼ C. butter, sliced

2½ C. powdered sugar

3½ T. milk

1 t. vanilla

¼ C. almonds, chopped

Preheat oven to 350. Cut each uncooked cinnamon roll into quarters. Layer pieces in a 12-cup Bundt pan cooked with cooking spray. Scatter butter on top of cinnamon roll pieces. Bake 40 minutes. Remove pan from oven and let cool 15 minutes. Turn out onto a serving plate and let cool an additional 10 minutes.

Stir together powdered sugar, milk, vanilla and 1 drop of blue food coloring and 1 drop of red food coloring (this combo will make lavender). Drizzle icing onto cake and top with nuts.

Apricot Mud Hen Cake Bars

When I saw this recipe, the name intrigued me. I had a college roommate from the South whose favorite expression was "uglier than a mud hen." There is a really ugly bird that hangs out in Southern marshes and swamps.

When I further studied the recipe, I saw that it is topped with a meringue, which is one of the "hot" food items on the circuit. So, it isn't ugly in taste; in fact it is a little gooey and the apricot preserves are really good. Enjoy this different bar cookie.

¼ C. butter, softened

1/3 C. sugar

2 egg yolks, room temperature

1 t. vanilla extract

1½ C. flour

1/8 t. salt

Meringue

2 egg whites, room temperature

1/8 t. cream of tartar

1/3 C. sugar

¾ C. finely chopped pecans

1 C. apricot preserves

Preheat the oven to 350. In a bowl, cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy, about 5 minutes. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating after

ARLEEN SIEVERS

When someone as special and beloved as Arleen Sievers passes on to heaven, we all realize that she lives forever in our hearts and minds. We remember and celebrate her warmth, humor and genuine affection for those lucky enough to have known her. The lives she touched, created and influenced is hard to measure, as a wife, mother, sister, grandmother, daughter and friend. But you can easily feel the love that surrounds her family... eternal, strong and real. Selfless, generous, caring and thoughtful, Arleen was always quick to accept and forgive and rare to judge. She is woven into the fabric of our lives as we all add our own patches to the family quilt. A quilt that is comforting to those who are sad at her passing. But that sadness disappears when you remember that sweet smile of hers. You can see it still down here on her children's and grandchildren's faces. Her passing the day before her birthday holds a wonderful truth. Because what better way to celebrate a person's life than by being reborn in heaven. Sweet dreams Arleen. Thank you for the love, laughter and joy you gave us. We all love you very much.

Arleen Diana Sievers, age 75, of Lake Carroll, IL, passed away Tuesday, April 14, 2020, at FHN Memorial Hospital. She was born in Chicago, IL, on April 15, 1944, the daughter of the late John and Martha (Spinka) Michalak. Arleen married Richard Sievers on June 25, 1966, in Chicago.

He was a John Deere salesman for many years. Jerry sold the business in 1972 and farmed outside of Apple River until 1976. At that time, Jerry continued selling John Deere equipment for Foster Implement. Jerry purchased Foster Four Seasons, which later became Burmeister Farm Equipment. Jerry also sold John Deere equipment for Stateline Equipment in Janesville and Evergreen Equipment in Monroe.

Jerry and Carol enjoyed snowmobiling, playing euchre with friends. They moved to Monroe in 1997 where they made many new friends and enjoyed coffee time at the Red Apple. In 2017, Jerry moved to Aster Assisted Living. Jerry was an avid Green Bay Packers fan as well as a NASCAR fan. After moving to Aster, Jerry became a Milwaukee Brewers fan, as well as enjoying the music and outings that Aster provided.

DIANNE STONE

Dianne M. Stone, 79, passed away the morning of April 11, 2020, at her home in Shannon.

Dianne was born on May 5, 1940, in Freeport, the daughter of Clarence and Evelyn (Heuerman) Snavely. She married Robert F. Stone on July 1, 1960, in Shannon. He precessed her in death on Nov. 30, 1992.

Surviving are her children, Brenda (Tony) Ferrara, Normal; Todd (Susan) Stone, Warren; Terri (Randy) Knapp, Bloomington; and Debbie (Scott) Olberding, Lena. Her eight grandchildren were her pride and joy. They are Alexandra Ferrara, Portland, OR, and Peyton Ferrara, Chicago; Doug Stone, Lena, and Nate Stone, Sun Prairie, WI; Dallas Knapp, Chicago, and Dalton Knapp, Bloomington; Jake Olberding and Brooke Olberding, Lena. She is also survived by her brother, Nelson (Linda) Snavely, Shannon. Also surviving is her longtime companion, Lester Roberts, Shannon, as well as her sisters-in-law: Jean (Roger) Finifrock, Ruby Warfield and Linda Lawson. Her parents also preceded her in death.

Dianne graduated from Shannon High School in 1958. While raising her family, she worked at Tee Lee Popcorn in Shannon, where she was known as the Popcorn Lady. Dianne also took great pride in earning her CDL and driving many years as a team cross country for Asche Transfer. She later worked for Bocker Grain in Polo, hauling grain from area farms until her retirement. She loved visiting with the farmers.

In retirement, Dianne enjoyed spending time with her grandkids and attending their various school activities and sporting events while they were growing up. Recently, her "job" was collecting newspapers to recycle from Sullivan's in Lena, Casey's in Shannon and from many people around Shannon. She spent numerous hours collecting and bundling the papers, which were then picked up by volunteers from the Carroll County Senior Center. The newspapers are then sold with the proceeds going to support the everyday needs of the center. This recycling mission was very important to her.

Dianne had an infectious laugh and was happiest when all her family was together and she could spend time with them. She also enjoyed spending time with her beloved pets.

A private graveside service was held at Shannon Brethren Cemetery on April 20. A celebration of life will be held at a later time. In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made to the Carroll County Senior Center, 306 N. Main St., Mt. Carroll, IL, 61053, or the Friends Forever Humane Society, 966 W. Rudy Road, Freeport, IL, 61032. Condolences may be shared with Diane's family at hermannfuneralhome.com.

The refund is part of the company's ongoing efforts to assist clients during the COVID-19 pandemic.

"Our clients are doing their part during COVID-19 and staying home. That means fewer accidents and lower claims costs," Country CEO Jim Jacobs says. "We always work hard to provide the protection our clients need. When we can do that for less cost, we believe returning money to our clients is the right thing to do, especially during challenging times."

challenges, you are not alone. Reach out and ask for help. Your mental health and wellness are important to us. We are stronger together.

- Let's take a moment and talk about safety. No, I'm not going to talk about safely distancing during COVID-19, but that is important. Let's talk about safety on the farm.

Did you know that the Jo Daviess County Farm Bureau offers $250 toward the purchase of a R.O.P.S. for your tractor?

ROPS help protect farmers and family members from being crushed in the event of a tractor turnover or rollover.

"Safety is a priority of the farm bureau, and we would like to encourage our members to install ROPS on their tractors," Safety Chairman Dan Robbe said.

Jo Daviess County Farm Bureau members who purchase a ROPS could receive a reimbursement of $250 toward the purchase of a ROPS.

To receive the $250, members should send their paid invoice to the farm bureau office in Elizabeth.

Customers would be responsible for the cost, freight and installation, which are available through the dealer. If you have been thinking about putting a ROPS on one of your tractors, now is the time.

For more information about this program or to become a member of our organization, contact the Jo Daviess County Farm Bureau office at 815-858-2235 or email jdcfbmgr@gmail.com.

Libertarian, Green parties sue over election rules

Petitioning 'practically impossible' during stay-at-home orders, they claim

By Rebecca Anzel
CAPITOL NEWS ILLINOIS

Social distancing and stay-at-home orders, instituted to combat the novel coronavirus pandemic, are in direct conflict with Illinois' ballot eligibility requirements, the Libertarian and Green parties of Illinois allege in a recent lawsuit.

Both are considered "new" parties under state election rules, meaning a candidate running for office under those banners must receive a greater number of in-person petition signatures than those with "established" parties — typically, the Democrats and Republicans.

Libertarians and Greens have until June 22 to gather enough signatures —

Warren Women's Club cancels April meeting

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Warren Women's Club will not be meeting in April and there may not be a meeting in May.

Club President Sandra Wolfram made the decision. Call her at 815-594-2200 or 815-541-2219 for more information.

in person with a canvasser watching — to qualify for inclusion on the Nov. 3 general election ballot.

But party officials allege meeting that threshold will be "practically impossible" given Gov. JB Pritzker's social distancing and stay-at-home orders.

"Even assuming that the governor's emergency orders were lifted on May 1, 2020, (the Libertarian and Green parties) and their candidates will have lost over five weeks of petitioning time, or more than one-third of the time allotted to them to collect signatures in person by Illinois law," according to the lawsuit.

The parties are asking that Illinois' signature collection mandates be waived or suspended this general election cycle so their candidates may be on the ballot and that the state reimburse their attorney's fees.

Pritzker's office did not respond to separate letters sent from the two parties in mid-March, nor did a spokesperson return a request for comment from Capitol News Illinois.

The Illinois State Board of Elections, in a letter, said it is unable to assist.

"We appreciate the unique dilemma you present in your letter and understand that you are tasked with the difficult and unprecedented duty of balancing obligations under the Elections

Code with safety concerns for candidates, circulators and petition signers alike," the elections board said in court documents. "However, the State Board of Elections does not have the authority to grant you the relief you request."

It would take a court order or the General Assembly amending current law to address this concern, an elections board spokesperson said.

Rich Whitney and Bennett Morris, chairs of the Green and Libertarian parties, respectively, each said this lawsuit is a matter of upholding democracy.

Candidates running as Democrats or Republicans already have a guaranteed spot on the general election ballot. Under statute, the parties were allowed to petition in autumn and candidates were chosen in the March primary election. Those running under the banner of a "new" party or independent must collect petition signatures in the spring.

"It's normal for us to be on the ballot — we're good at it despite the obstacles that are put in place," Morris said. "I think if there aren't Libertarians, Greens or any independents allowed on the ballot in November, we do not have a democratic process and we do not have a legitimate election."

An "established" party candidate for president, for example, needs at least 3,000 signatures or more if someone challenges their validity. That same person would need 5,000 signatures to run for U.S. Senate.

Independents or those in a "new" party, including Libertarians and Greens, need at least 25,000 signatures for both positions. Whitney said candidates in his party often collect at least 40,000 signatures.

He added it is "ridiculous" that in both cases, candidates have 90 days to gather the required number.

"What this means is that the minority parties — the new parties trying to break through and become established — are unfairly burdened and their campaigns are unfairly burdened. They have fewer resources because of all the time spent petitioning," Whitney said.

Illinois' signature requirements were established in 1891 and were not, according to the lawsuit, "substantially updated or improved ... despite the availability of less burdensome alternatives enabled by modern technology."

The Libertarian and Green parties point to action taken by other states as examples of what Illinois' government should consider. Voters in Arizona and New Jersey can sign candidates' petitions electronically and those in Denver, Colorado, and the District of Columbia can use an application called E-Sign, which validates signatures against voter rolls.

Those initiatives would be in line with executive orders issued by Pritzker, allowing public notaries to work through a two-way video, according to the lawsuit.

A spokesperson for Attorney General Kwame Raoul did not return a request for comment. His office would represent Pritzker and members of the Illinois State Board of Elections.
