The Jo Daviess Conservation Foundation will host family day programs focused on insects on July 23 and July 30 at the foundation's Casper Bluff Land & Water Reserve.

Family nature program explores insects

"Insectopia" family day events are set for 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. Fridays, July 23 and July 30, at the Jo Daviess Conservation Foundation's Casper Bluff Land & Water Reserve near Galena.

"Every tiny buzzing, crawling and hovering insect has an important job in our ecosystem," according to a foundation news release. "Pollinators, decomposers, soil movers and us all rely on each other for survival."

The insect program will include a make-and-take prairie seed bomb (to encourage insect diversity in your yard), a "Web of Life" activity to explore reliance on insects and a visit to no-kill insect traps to get a close-up look at the insect population at Casper Bluff, the release said.

The programs are open to public with a maximum of 15 children per event. An RSVP is required by going online to jdcf.org/events.

Casper Bluff Land & Water Reserve, located at 870 S. Pilot Knob Road, Galena, is open daily dawn to dusk for free. For more information, go online to jdcf.org.

Stephenson County Fair opens July 27

By Katelyn Black CORRESPONDENT

The Stephenson County Fair is back in town Tuesday, July 27, through Saturday, July 31.

Due to the pandemic, the Stephenson County Fair Association canceled the 2020 fair.

This year's revived event includes Saturday lawn mower races, a Thursday calf-scramble for the kids, truck and tractor pulls, a carnival complete with 22 rides, food vendors, pageants, live entertainment, a livestock show every night, 4-H competitions and face painting.

Organizers ask that people social distance and sanitize their hands regularly at the hand-washing stations on the grounds. Masks are not required to attend the fair, but there will be a free vaccination clinic from noon to 9 p.m. all week, according to Lori Tessendorf, executive manager of the Stephenson County Fair Association.

Beyond the vaccination clinic, Tessendorf said there's a lot of things different about the fair this year — including a new carnival company, an axe-throwing event, an escape room and a lumberjack show.

The C.D.A.C. carnival opens at 5 p.m. July 27 through July 30 and at 1 p.m. July 31.

The axe-throwing and escape room will be open from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. July 27 through July 30 and from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. July 31.

The free lumberjack shows are set for 4 p.m., 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. July 27 through July 30 and for 3 p.m., 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. July 31.

With things slowly getting back to normal, Tessendorf said she has high hopes for the 2021 fair.

"We are expecting a great turnout. We have lots of registrations for livestock and non-livestock exhibitors, a full commercial vendor building and a plethora of food stands to satisfy everyone's fair-food cravings," she said. "We are just excited to be able to have the fair this year."

"People are anxious to get out and participate in activities and events again, and we are thrilled to be able to welcome everyone to the Stephenson County Fairgrounds."

The grandstand lineup includes:

• 6 p.m. July 27, Midwest Summer Nationals Tractor &

Truck Pull

• 7 p.m. July 28, Midwest Summer Nationals Tractor & Truck Pull

• 6 p.m. July 29, Youth Night, including celebrity showmanship, chicken scramble, mutton busting and more

• 6 p.m. July 30, Demo Derby

• 6 p.m. July 31, Lawn Mower Races and Tough Truck Challenge

For details about the fair schedule and prices, go online to stephensoncountyfair.org.

Lucky potluck dish proves too popular

The term "potluck" was coined over 500 years ago, putting a label on the concept of a communal meal where each guest brings a dish to share. The idea was that if everyone brought a little something, there'd be a little something for everyone. The practice caught on and has been flourishing in church basements ever since.

The feast known as potluck conjures up images of casseroles, slow cookers, pans of brownies, peanut butter krispie bars and, of course, jello. Lots and lots of jello.

Although I am able to make jello, I don't often offer it up at potlucks. I prefer getting creative with savory dishes and therein lies my downfall. I am a potluck failure.

I start with the best intentions. I fully plan to make a dish that fits in amidst the chicken and rice casseroles and baked bean hot dishes. Then I start cooking.

When I'm in the kitchen, I get caught up in the moment. I find it impossible to follow a recipe and instead practice the "little bit of this, little bit of that" system of cooking. I call it the energizer method, because I tend to keep going and going.

My youngest son summed up my culinary technique best when he said, "I wish you'd just make us food. Your problem is you always have to add ingredients."

He's right. I can't help myself. I like to push the flavor envelope. This is suitable for an exotic spread, but probably not as appropriate for your typical potluck.

So, when I attend one of these communal meals, I fill my plate; I fill my stomach; and I leave with a casserole dish that is (regrettably) also full.

This has gone on for years. I was beginning to think when it came to potlucks I had none of the second syllable. Until, quite unexpectedly, I discovered a potluck triumph in a tomato salad called bruschetta. I made the dish for a family reunion earlier this summer and the bowl not only emptied, but people requested the recipe. Of course, these people were my relatives; their taste buds may be genetically similar to mine. Still, it felt good.

I was empowered.

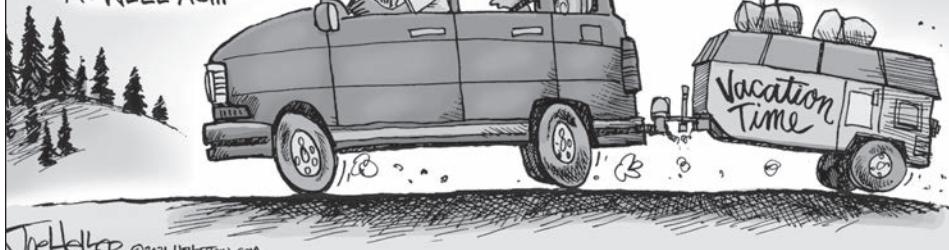

It was logical for me to want to share the joy of my bruschetta at a second potluck with friends last week. The night before the event, I chopped the tomatoes, added the ingredients, both secret (green olive juice) and not-so-secret (garlic). I put the bowl in the fridge to allow the flavors to mingle — sort of like guests do at a potluck.

The next day, I prepared to dazzle with my dish. Slices of chewy, crusty bread went on a platter to act as a base for the tomato-licious salad. When I opened the fridge, however, there wasn't a tomato chunk in sight. My bruschetta had gone missing. Not missing as in pushed to the back of the shelf behind the milk; missing as in vanished. Disappeared. Nowhere to be found.

Certainly I was mistaken. I looked again. I opened the freezer. I checked the sink. Even searched the dishwasher. There was no bruschetta — or evidence of bruschetta — anywhere.

THE WAY THE VACCINATION RATE IS GOING, WE WON'T REACH HERD IMMUNITY SOON. BUT OUR FAMILY DOESN'T NEED MASKS 'CAUSE WE FINISHED OUR SHOTS! THE COUNTRY IS CLOSE, BUT WE'RE NOT QUITE THERE YET. SO, LET'S KEEP GOING WITH SOCIAL DISTANCING AND HAND SANITIZER, AS WELL AS...

In my opinion

Illinois food supply remains strong

By Richard Guebert Jr.
CONTRIBUTOR

The summer of 2021 includes a long to-do list as restrictions have been lifted and people take to the roads for summer vacations and family reunions.

While we missed many events in 2020, we also learned a lot in our 15 months of being cooped up.

Now is a good time to reflect. What did you learn throughout the pandemic? What did you miss, and what could you live without?

Had it not been for the pandemic, would families have rediscovered time to prepare a home-cooked dinner, sit together at the kitchen table and make conversation over a delicious meal?

Or open up family cookbooks and actually learn how to make grandma's famous cinnamon rolls and realize that it takes time to let the dough rise?

The common denominator of each of these scenarios: Food.

And it all starts with a farmer.

In the United States, we never ran out of food. We may have tightened supplies on certain items, but by no means are we doing without. Farmers have continued to grow and restock the food supply chain.

A complex food supply chain worked day and night to keep the flow of goods moving as quickly as possible.

We continued to farm, keep people fed and clothed and helped those who couldn't feed themselves.

Some people needed assistance accessing food because they lost their job or couldn't work, but we never experienced a food shortage.

People stepped up to make sure food banks and pantries were stocked. And we developed a way to distribute food in a way that didn't involve contact.

You don't know what you've got until it is not accessible. We, as a society, have become accustomed to "if you want it, go get it and buy it." Almost 16 months later, there are some instances of car lots that don't have the inventory we expect. As consumers stocked up on meat, deep freezers became hard to come by.

Every week another story about inflation concerns or rising prices makes headlines. Beef and bacon prices, for instance, have reached new record retail highs.

The good news? Just as farmers grew and restocked the food supply chain during the pandemic, they will continue those efforts in the future.

Richard Guebert Jr. is president of the Illinois Farm Bureau. This op-ed was distributed through a cooperative project between the Illinois Farm Bureau and the Illinois Press Association.

Walk with a Doc focuses on education, exercise

FHN is participating in the nationwide Walk with a Doc program, which gives people a chance to take a walk and learn about their health from a local health care professional.

The first FHN Walk with a Doc will begin at 8 a.m. Saturday, July 24, by the concession stand at Krape Park, 1799 S. Park Blvd. in Freeport.

"This free 45- to 60-minute walk is a safe, fun, family- and pet-friendly way to get some steps, learn about health and meet new friends," according to an FHN news release.

Admire the prairie while learning more about it

The volunteer Friends of Wapello group will host An Afternoon on the Prairie: The Story of Wapello at 4 p.m. Thursday, July 22. Attendees should meet at the pavilion next to the parking lot at the Wapello Land & Water Reserve, 8642 Illinois Route 84 south, Hanover. After brief introductions, attendees will head out to various stations along the trails, where experts will discuss topics such as prairie ecology and diversity, the role of fire in land management, bumblebee and insect surveys and more. In addition to the educational offerings, participants will get to enjoy the prairie in full bloom, "a sight not to be missed," according to a news release. The event is free and no RSVP is required. The 170-plus-acre reserve, managed by the Jo Daviess Conservation Foundation, is open daily dawn to dusk and is free to visit. For more information, go online to www.jdcf.org.

Governor signs 53 bills into law

By Peter Hancock

CAPITOL NEWS ILLINOIS

Public high schools in Illinois will soon be required to teach students how to access and evaluate various kinds of news and social media they see online and elsewhere as part of their regular curriculum.

That was among the 53 bills that Gov. JB Pritzker signed July 9, bringing the total number of bills signed from the current General Assembly so far this year to 97.

Media literacy

House Bill 234 provides that starting in the 2022-'23 school year, all public high schools will provide a unit of instruction on media literacy that will include instruction on how to access information and evaluate the trustworthiness of its source; analyzing and evaluating media messages; creating media messages; assessing how media messages trigger emotions and behavior; and social responsibility.

The State Board of Education is tasked with preparing and distributing instructional resources and making professional learning opportunities available for educators.

The bill was sponsored by Rep. Elizabeth Hernandez, D-Cicero, and Sen. Karina Villa, D-West Chicago. It passed both chambers largely along party lines: 68-44 in the House, and 42-15 in the Senate.

Animal products

Another new law makes it illegal to import into Illinois, with the intent of selling, any body parts or products made from a long list of endangered and exotic species.

Illinois, like many states, has long banned the importation of ivory and rhinoceros horns. Under House Bill 395, the list of animals whose parts or products are banned from being imported is expanded to include cheetahs, elephants, giraffes, great apes, hippopotami, jaguars, leopards, lions, monk seals, narwhals, pangolins, rays or sharks, rhinos, sea turtles, tigers, walruses, whales or any other species listed in the Convention on International Trade or listed as threatened or endangered under the U.S. Endangered Species Act.

The bill was sponsored by Rep. Martin Moylan, D-Des Plaines, and Sen. Linda Holmes, D-Aurora. It passed the House, 113-1, and the Senate, 57-0.

Test scores

Illinois residents applying for admission to public colleges and universities in the state will no longer be required to submit SAT or ACT scores as part of their application starting in January 2022.

House Bill 226, known as the Higher Education Fair Admissions Act, requires

LENA-WINSLOW ALL SCHOOL REGISTRATION

ONLINE OR IN-PERSON THIS YEAR!

ALL FAMILIES WILL NEED TO PROVIDE PROOF OF RESIDENCY TO REGISTER

Online Registration for all students in the Lena-Winslow District will start on August 1 and must be completed by August 11 at midnight.

Registration will be online through the Parent Portal or IN-PERSON August 4 from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and August 5 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Please remember:

1. All families must provide PROOF OF RESIDENCY (3 documents in total) which includes but is not limited to recent property tax bill, mortgage papers, driver's license, vehicle registration, voter registration, etc. Two documents will be required if a Category II document. A more complete list can be found on the le-win.net webpage.

2. All students entering Pre-K, JK or Kindergarten, Sixth, and Ninth grades, and any student entering from out-of-state must present a completed physical examination form by the first day of school. Completed dental exams for JK or Kindergarten, Second and Sixth grades are also required. Local doctors and dentists have these forms in their offices or they can be found under the registration tab at le-win.net.

Fees and lunch money: Fees and lunch money can be paid online through the portal or in-person at any of the building offices. You may also send a check to the District Office, 401 Fremont St., Lena, IL, 61048. Please call Darcy Schierloh at 815-668-0800 if you have any questions.

The first day of school will be Wednesday, August 18, 2021. Dismissal time will be 1 p.m. for the first day.

Obituary

BERNARD 'BERNIE' SCHRECK

Bernard "Bernie" Schreck left his earthly body behind on July 13, 2021, when his spirit joined family and friends in heaven.

He eventually settled in Chehalis, Washington, where he resided until his death. He attended Centralia College, earning an associates of arts degree in forestry.

Bernie was born July 17, 1949, in Elizabeth, Illinois, to Doug and Hazel Schreck. He attended schools in Elizabeth, Stockton and Warren, Illinois. He graduated from Elizabeth High School in 1967 and enlisted in the Navy that same year. He served as a bosun's mate aboard the destroyer USS St. Paul. After his discharge from the Navy, he returned to Illinois but spent a few years going between Illinois and Washington state. Until his cancer diagnosis, he was custodian at St. John's Lutheran Church, where he was also a member.

Bernie was known for his silly sense of humor and always seemed to have a quick comeback or funny quip. He loved to tease his nieces and nephews and they loved him all the more for it. We were all hit with one of his punch lines at one time or another. He was also known as being incredibly kind, especially toward children.

In his early years, he played baseball and softball, playing Little League baseball and softball when he was in the Navy aboard the USS St. Paul. He did a lot of hunting (squirrels, some deer) and fishing (all kinds).

He loved watching football and was a fan of the San Francisco 49ers growing up, then switched to Chicago Bears. We all knew him as a dedicated Seahawks fan (Go Hawks!).

He volunteered as a cabin leader at Camp Bethel in Hoquiam, and worked and volunteered as a cook, maintenance worker and whatever was asked of him. During his first year of being a cabin leader, he noticed that during mail call, there were a lot of sad faces on kids who didn't receive mail. He took it upon himself to hand-write a note to every kid in camp just so they could have mail too.

That's the kind of thing Bernie would do!

Bernie was preceded in death by his parents, Douglas and Hazel Schreck; and niece, Kelly Schreck. He is survived by his brother, Bob (Dorothy) Schreck of Stockton, Illinois; sisters, Diane Foley and Linda Lowery of Chehalis, Washington; nephews and nieces, Rob (Caryn) Foley, Rhonda (Mike) Morgan, Ryan Foley and Renell (Joe) Norquist of Chehalis, Mike (Jamie) Schreck of Colorado Springs, Colorado, Cammie (Dave) Ringoen of Madison, Wisconsin, Mike (Lori) Lowery of Leesport, Pennsylvania, Shawn (Miriam) Lowery of Portersville, Pennsylvania, and Erin (Nick) Nelson of Wenatchee, Washington; 15 great nieces and nephews; one great-great niece and one great-great nephew. Bernie also leaves behind a rich list of friends!

A memorial service will be held at St. John's Lutheran Church, in Chehalis at 11 a.m. Aug. 7, 2021, with a reception to follow. You are encouraged to wear your favorite Sea-hawk gear.

Internment will be at Tacoma National Cemetery at 2 p.m. Monday, Aug. 9. Funeral arrangements are under the direction of Newell-Hoerling's Mortuary, Centralia, Washington.

Memorials may be made to St. John's Lutheran Church, 2190 Jackson Highway, Chehalis, WA 98532.

Bernie would want you to know, "I'm so glad you all got to see me!"

food — and friendly people.

I never did find my bruschetta. In a house filled with hungry teenagers, I guess a prudent mom might want to think about labeling sacred potluck items as "Do not touch," so as to avoid midnight snack raids. Live and learn.

I used to believe I was a potluck failure. Now I know better. I also know there are far worse things in life, not the least of which might be losing your bruschetta.

My potluck was imminent and I didn't have time (or ingredients) to make another batch. Meanwhile, my stomach was as empty as my salad bowl.

The situation forced me into an abyss far worse than attending a potluck with a dish that doesn't get tasted — attending a potluck with no dish at all. Did I dare even go?

To potluck or not potluck, that was the question.

My stomach won out in the end. I attended the party ready and willing to consume a piece of humble pie. Turns out there was no need. The good thing about potlucks is there is always an overabundance of food — and friendly people. I never did find my bruschetta. In a house filled with hungry teenagers, I guess a prudent mom might want to think about labeling sacred potluck items as "Do not touch," so as to avoid midnight snack raids. Live and learn.

all public higher education institutions to adopt a "test optional" policy for admissions, meaning they may not require students to submit standardized test scores, but may allow students to do so if they choose.

The bill was sponsored by Rep. LaToya Greenwood, D-East St. Louis, and Sen. Christopher Belt, D-Cahokia Heights. It passed the House, 109-8, and the Senate, 45-9.

School zones

Drivers passing through school zones will have to slow down a little earlier on school days under another bill Pritzker signed into law.

House Bill 343, by Rep. Mark Batinick, R-Plainfield, and Sen. Meg Loughran Cappel, D-Shorewood, provides that special speed limits around schools will begin at 6:30 a.m. instead of 7 a.m. The new law takes effect immediately.

The bill passed both chambers unanimously.

Federal judge panel to decide whether state redistricting plan is constitutional

By Peter Hancock
CAPITOL NEWS ILLINOIS

Lawyers for plaintiffs and the state told a panel of federal judges last week the issues involved in two lawsuits challenging the state's legislative redistricting plan are "straightforward" and ought to be resolved in short order.

But the three-judge panel hearing the case appeared uncertain about how much time they actually have, given the deadlines that are spelled out in the Illinois Constitution and the fact that lawmakers this year pushed back the 2022 primary by three months, to June instead of March.

The two lawsuits — one by Republican legislative leaders and another by the Mexican American Legal Defense and Education Fund, or MALDEF — both argue that the new state House and Senate district maps violate the U.S. Constitution because they were drawn using survey data rather than official U.S. Census numbers, which have been delayed this year due to the pandemic and other factors.

Both suits name the Illinois State Board of Elections and its individual members as well as Illinois House Speaker Emanuel "Chris" Welch and Senate President Don Harmon as defendants.

Those two cases have since been consolidated and assigned to a three-judge panel, as is required under federal law whenever a suit challenges the constitutionality of a redistricting plan. Those include Judge Robert Dow Jr., of the Northern District of Illinois; Judge Jon E. DeGuilio, of the Northern District of Indiana, and Judge Michael B. Brennan of the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

During a remote status conference July 14, Charles Harris, an attorney representing the Republican leaders, called it a "straightforward and simple case" that violates the "one person, one vote" principle under the equal protection clause of the U.S. Constitution.

He said courts have previously held that legislative districts must be "substantially equal" in population and that the data from the Census Bureau's American Community Survey, which is what Democratic leaders used to draw the new maps, should not be used for redistricting.

If the case goes to trial, which is yet to be determined, Harris said his team plans to call expert witnesses, including a former Census Bureau official who would testify about why ACS data is inappropriate, as well as a data expert who would demonstrate how the use of ACS data results in maps that are far outside the margins of what courts consider allowable deviations in population.

MALDEF attorney Francisco Fernandez-del Castillo said his team plans to present substantially similar arguments. But he said they will also argue that the standard for determining whether the maps meet constitutional requirements is to analyze them using data that the Census Bureau provides states for redistricting purposes.

That data from the 2020 census will not be available until mid-August. The only data currently available, he said, is from the 2010 census, and if that were used to analyze the new maps, they would not meet constitutional muster.

But attorney Michael Kasper, who represents Welch and Harmon, said he doesn't believe the case should go to trial because the plaintiffs lack standing to sue and because the case is not yet "ripe" for consideration.

He said that under previous U.S. Supreme Court decisions, plaintiffs can sue only if they can demonstrate that they live in a district where their vote has been diluted. He also argued that the question of whether district populations vary too widely can be answered only after the official census numbers are released in August.

Under the Illinois Constitution, lawmakers are given until June 30 in the year after a decennial census to approve new legislative maps. After that, the job is handed to an eight-member legislative commission, evenly divided between Republicans and Democrats.

If that panel cannot produce maps by Aug. 10, a ninth member, who could come from either party, is randomly drawn and added to the commission to give one party a single-vote advantage. That commission then has until Oct. 5 to approve new maps.

The suit by Republican leaders asks the court to invoke that section of the constitution by ordering Welch and Harmon to appoint a bipartisan commission. In the alternative, they ask the court to appoint a special master to draft valid maps.

Kasper, however, argued that such an order would be an extreme remedy and that the question of whether to appoint a bipartisan commission is a matter of state law and the state constitution.

After the hearing, the panel issued an order directing all parties to begin lining up their expert witnesses and setting a schedule of deadlines for filing briefs. The case is tentatively set for trial Sept. 27 through Sept. 29.

Pritzker has 'no plans' for added mitigations

By Jerry Nowicki
CAPITOL NEWS ILLINOIS

The wide availability of COVID-19 vaccines has changed the state's approach for mitigating the virus' spread statewide and in schools.

For school districts, that means suggested rather than required guidance, with an emphasis on local control in imposing mitigations.

For the governor's office, that means there are "no plans" to reinstate some of the mitigation measures and economic shutdowns that were commonplace earlier in the pandemic.

"Restore Illinois" mitigations that were enacted during the height of the pandemic allowed for safe and proven infection prevention measures since no vaccine was available," a spokesperson for the governor's office said in a July 16 email. "Currently there is no plan to implement any additional mitigations now that there is an abundance of vaccine available and accessible across Illinois. We encourage all Illinoisans ages 12+ to get vaccinated as soon as possible."

Previously, if a region had a positivity rate of 8 percent or higher for three days, the governor's office and Illinois Department of Public Health had a menu of mitigations they could put in place, such as closure of indoor dining and capacity restrictions at businesses. But, because of the vaccine's availability, those options aren't currently on the table, even as positivity rates rise in some areas and a more contagious variant of the virus spreads.

The state's guidance currently "recommends" face coverings in public indoor places for those who are unvaccinated, while masks are required on public transportation and in medical facilities.

The "recommended" masking guidance will be the same for schools after the state fully adopted U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention guidance recently. Schools are also encouraged to maintain 3 feet of distance between each student.

"Pursuant to CDC guidance, Illinois school districts have local control over how they should work with local public health officials to determine the prevention strategies needed in their area by monitoring levels of community transmission and local vaccine coverage, and using screening testing to detect cases in K-12 schools," an Illinois State Board of Education spokesperson said in an email.

In accordance with other CDC guidelines, masks will still be required for all passengers on school buses, regardless of the school's mask policies.

Students who are getting started on their academic careers, coming back from a gap semester or who have not registered for the fall semester can attend the Highland Community College express registration from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday, July 21, or Thursday, July 29, in the Student Conference Center (Building H), 2998 W. Pearl City Road, Freeport.

Highland offers a full-time education pathway with Western Illinois University and has a full-time welding instructor, part-time nursing program and more than 40 certificate programs, according to a news release.

Highland classes start Monday, Aug. 16. For a complete listing of fall semester classes, go online to highland.edu/schedule. For general college information or more details about registration, call 815-599-3573.

Sigafus family sets July 25 reunion

The Sigafus family is planning a reunion at Apple Canyon Lake on Sunday, July 25. The event, held at the clubhouse, 14A157 Canyon Club Drive, Apple River, will begin with an 11:30 a.m. worship service.

Lunch will follow at noon and families are asked to bring a dish or two to pass.

Glenn and Marcia Sigafus are also inviting family to their home, 7652 E. Upmann Road, Stockton, anytime after 6 p.m. Saturday, July 24. Food and drinks will be furnished, but attendees are welcome to bring something. Attendees should also bring lawn chairs if possible.

Brudi family notes 96th annual reunion

The 96th annual Brudi Reunion will be held Sunday, July 25, at the Stockton Park House.

A potluck meal is planned at 12:30 p.m. Attendees should bring a dish to pass and their own table service. Beverages will be provided.

Stockton student earns business degree

Quinn Eshleman of Stockton graduated from the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater in May with a bachelor of business administration degree in marketing.

The university offered a hybrid ceremony for its more than 1,500 graduates. The graduates were recorded crossing the stage in cap and gown as their names were read May 14. On May 15, the recorded ceremony was shared online at www.edu.

Area students garner academic honors

Several area students earned dean's list honors this spring at the University of Wisconsin-Platteville:

- Molly Barczak of Elizabeth, an elementary education major
- Nicholas Girot of Elizabeth, a criminal justice major. Girot also was named to the chancellor's list for having a perfect 4.0 GPA.
- Haylie Ford of Stockton, a social science major
- Aspyn Stewart of Stockton, a criminal justice major
- Bradley Bell of Hanover, a fine arts major
- Wyatt Potter of Hanover, a construction management major
- Kylie Smith of Hanover, an elementary education major. Smith also was named to the chancellor's list.

Otherwise, districts are encouraged to take a "layered" mitigation approach, accompanying masking and distancing with "screening testing, cohorting, improved ventilation, handwashing and covering coughs and sneezes, staying home when sick with symptoms of infectious illness including COVID-19, and regular cleaning," according to the CDC.

The guidance also recommends that if school administrators remove any prevention strategies based on local conditions, they should do so "one at a time and monitor closely (with adequate testing through the school and/or community) for any increases in COVID-19 cases."

Free testing programs are available to Illinois schools through IDPH, while districts can also use federal Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief funding for screening testing as well, according to ISBE.

Operationally, ISBE has regulatory authority to reduce the recognition status of any school district exhibiting "deficiencies that present a health hazard or a danger to students or staff," pursuant to state law, according to the spokesperson. But the state board is not invoking that authority.

"ISBE is not currently taking any recognition action against any school districts. We will continue to support school districts in aligning with the new CDC guidance," the spokesperson said.

State Superintendent of Education Dr. Carmen Ayala issued a declaration requiring resumption of in-person learning this school year, provided remote instruction is made available for students under quarantine.

"All our students deserve to return safely in-person to schools this fall," Ayala said in a news release. "With vaccination rates continually rising and unprecedented federal funding to support safe in-person learning, and mitigations such as contact tracing and increased ventilation in place in schools, we are fully confident in the safety of in-person learning this fall."

Districts should also promote vaccination, which is "currently the leading public health prevention strategy to end the COVID-19 pandemic," according to the guidance.

Currently, only one of three vaccines being administered in the U.S. is approved for use in children — the two-dose Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine, which has been approved for those 12 and older.

FROM LENA'S KITCHEN

Inside Out Vegetable Dip

These bite-sized veggie snacks are fun to eat — even kids like them. You can change the dip flavor by adding herbs that your family really likes.

2 large cucumbers
16 cherry or grape tomatoes
1 pkg. (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened

1/4 C. chopped green onion
2 T. finely chopped celery
1 T. finely chopped carrot
1 t. garlic powder

1/2 t. salt
1 t. dill weed

Peel strips from cucumbers to create decorative edges if desired; cut into 1/2-inch slices. Finely chop 2 slices; set aside. With a small spoon, scoop some of the seeds from the remaining slices.

Cut a thin slice from the bottoms of tomatoes to allow them to rest flat. Cut a thin slice from the tops of the tomatoes; scoop out pulp, leaving a 1/4-inch shell. Invert tomatoes on a paper towel to drain.

In a large bowl, combine the cream cheese, vegetables, seasonings and chopped cucumber. Fill tomatoes and cucumber slices with cream cheese mixture, about 1 t. in each. Refrigerate at least an hour before serving.

Chicken Strawberry Spinach Salad

This salad is a great luncheon salad. You can omit the chicken, and just serve the salad as a side. A.J.'s has frozen chicken strips that are perfect for this salad. You can get any number of poppy seed dressings. Enjoy this refreshing summer salad.

3/4 lb. boneless skinless chicken breasts cut into strips
1/4 C. chicken broth

1/4 C. poppy seed salad dressing, divided
2 C. baby spinach
1 C. torn romaine
1 C. sliced strawberries
1/4 C. sliced almonds, toasted

Place chicken in double thickness of heavy duty foil. Combine broth and 1 T. poppy seed dressing; spoon over chicken. Fold edges of foil around chicken mixture leaving the center open. Bake in a 350-oven for 30 minutes or until chicken is no longer pink. Remove from oven and cool completely.

In a large salad bowl, combine the spinach, romaine and strawberries. Add chicken and the remaining poppy seed dressing; toss to coat. Sprinkle with almonds.

Pork Chops with Tomatoes and Peaches

I have had peaches and a cheese sauce with ham, but this dish has pork chops with a roasted side of peaches and tomatoes. Sometimes when you have cooked something for a long time, you want something really different. This dish will do just that to pork chops. Try this barbecue (my favorite is Sweet Baby Ray's Honey) edition of pork chops.

1/2 C. barbecue sauce
1/2 C. firmly packed brown sugar

1 T. fresh minced oregano or 1 t. dried oregano
2 garlic cloves, minced
4 bone-in center-cut pork chops (3/4 to 1 inch thick)

2 T. olive oil
2 T. fresh lime juice
1 T. honey
1 t. salt, divided

2 fresh peaches, halved, pitted and cut into 6 wedges each
2 green tomatoes, cut into 12 wedges each (you can substitute red tomatoes)

1/2 small red onion, cut into wedges

2 T. chopped fresh chives or green onions

In a large resealable plastic bag, combine barbecue sauce, brown sugar, oregano and garlic; add pork chops. Seal bag, turning to coat chops. Refrigerate for two hours.

In a medium bowl, whisk together oil, lime juice, honey and 1/2 t. salt; stir in peaches, tomatoes and onion. Let stand while chops are marinating. Preheat the oven to 425. Line a large rimmed baking sheet with parchment paper. Remove pork chops from bag and discard the marinade. Place pork on one side of prepared pan; sprinkle with remaining teaspoon of salt. Drain liquid from peach mixture, and reserve. Place peach mixture on other side of pan. Bake until meat thermometer inserted in thickest portion of the pork registers 145, about 20 minutes. Add chives to reserved peach liquid. Drizzle onto peaches and tomatoes before serving.

Stir-Fried Chicken with Asparagus

Sometimes you want a quick, light supper. This chicken dish will be that main dish you are looking for. I mentioned in the salad recipe that A.J.'s Lena Maid Meats has wonderful chicken tenders. They are in the frozen case. I use them for a lot of things, and this recipe will showcase both chicken and asparagus.

6 T. soy sauce
 $\frac{3}{4}$  C. chicken broth
 2 T. dry sherry
 1 T. cornstarch
 2 t. packed brown sugar
 2 t. canola oil
 3 garlic cloves, minced
 2 T. canola oil
 1½ bunches (about 1½ lbs.) asparagus, trimmed and cut into 1-inch pieces

Kosher salt
 1½ lbs. skinless, boneless chicken breasts, cut into 1-inch cubes

2 C. cooked brown rice

Whisk the soy sauce, chicken broth, sherry, cornstarch, brown sugar, 2 t. canola oil and garlic in a small bowl.

Heat a large skillet or wok over medium-high heat. Add 1 T. canola oil to the skillet and heat until simmering. Add the asparagus; season with ½ t. salt and cook, stirring occasionally, until lightly browned and crisp tender, about four minutes. Remove the asparagus to a large plate.

Heat the remaining canola oil in the skillet until simmering. Add the chicken and cook, stirring halfway through, until browned, five to six minutes. Stir in the soy sauce mixture and simmer until thickened slightly, 30 seconds to one minute. Add the asparagus and toss to coat in the sauce; season with salt. Serve with the brown rice.

Strawberry Oat Pecan Cookies

I think I was on a blueberry kick last week; this week I am on strawberries. Try this unique way to get some oatmeal cookies with a lot of flavor.

2/3 C. unsalted butter, softened

1 C. sugar
 1 t. vanilla
 1 egg
 3/4 C. flour
 1 t. baking powder
 1/2 t. salt
 1/2 C. old-fashioned oats
 1/2 C. chopped pecans
 1/4 C. chopped fresh strawberries

2 T. powdered sugar
 Preheat oven to 400. Line baking sheets with parchment paper. In a large bowl, beat butter, sugar and vanilla with a mixer at medium speed until fluffy, three to four minutes, stopping to scrape sides of bowl. Beat in eggs.

In a medium bowl, whisk together flour on low speed; gradually add flour mixture to butter mixture, beating until combined. Beat in oats and pecans. Pat strawberries dry with a paper towel; stir into dough just until combined.

Do not over beat. Using a 1½-inch scoop, scoop dough and place 1 inch apart on prepared pans. Bake until lightly browned, 10 to 12 minutes. Let cool on pans for five minutes. Remove from pans, and let cool completely on wire racks. Sift with powdered sugar before serving.

Berries and Crème Cake

This great little cake is easy to make because the base is a cake mix. You could substitute blueberries or blackberries for the strawberries. You would need to change out the preserves also. I think you could use a regular yellow cake mix and double the ingredients for two layers. It might be great to make a strawberry and a blueberry one.

1 baked yellow cake layer (Jiffy yellow cake mix makes one layer)

1 pkg. (5.1 oz.) instant vanilla pudding mix

1½ C. milk

½ t. grated orange zest

1½ C. thawed frozen whipped topping from 8 oz. container

1/3 C. strawberry preserves, melted

Make cake according to package directions. If necessary, trim top of cake layer to level. Place layer in bottom of springform pan. In bowl, whisk together pudding mix and milk for two minutes; stir in grated orange zest. Fold in whipped topping; spread over cake.

Cover pan; chill until firm, about four hours. Remove side of pan; transfer cake to serving plate. In bowl, combine strawberries and strawberry preserves. Spoon over cake.

Final thoughts

We were able to get in both of our aqua size classes this past week. The pool water was terrific, and if you have arthritis, water exercise is wonderful.

Music in the park is on both Saturday and Sunday evenings. The Saturday concerts are the Christian concerts that are usually held at the lake. The Sunday concerts are sponsored by the park district and feature different kinds of music. Last week the music was from the 1960s and the '70s. I went down memory lane because it was my high school and college music. Check the website for the week's offerings. I mentioned before that we have great music for free. (You can also get a soft serve ice cream cone before 7 p.m.)

Happy cooking! If you have any summer recipes, contact us in person, by mail at From Lena's Kitchens, Shopper's Guide, 240 W. Main St., Lena, IL 61048 or email us at scoopshopper@rvpublishing.com.

The estate will be administered without Court supervision unless, under Section 28-4 of the Probate Act (755 ILCS 5/28-4), any interested person terminates independent administration at any time by mailing or delivering a petition to terminate to the clerk.

Claims against the estate may be filed with the clerk or with the representative, or both, on or before January 14, 2022, or, if mailing or delivery of a notice from the representative is required by section 5/18-3 of the Probate Act, the date stated in that notice. Any claim not filed on or before that date is barred. Copies of a claim filed with the clerk must be mailed or delivered by the claimant to the representative and to the attorney within 10 days after it has been filed.

Claims against the estate may be filed in the office of the Clerk of the Court at the Stephenson County Courthouse, 15 N. Galena Avenue, Freeport, Illinois 61032, or with the representative, or both, on or before January 29, 2022, and any claim not filed on or before said date is barred. Copies of a claim filed with the Clerk must be mailed or delivered to the representative and to the attorney within ten (10) days after it has been filed.

Dedicated to You – The FHN Jo Daviess Family Healthcare Center

600 North Rush Street, Stockton

Conveniently located off U.S. Route 20, the new facility brings the latest technology and compassionate healthcare to the residents of Jo Daviess County and surrounding communities.

"This facility was built with patients in mind," said FHN Chief Medical Officer Keith Martin, MD, FACOG. "It allows us to offer our patients team-based care, which is a relationship-based approach to healthcare. It's more personal, and there's room to involve both primary care providers and specialists in each patient's team."

Visit www.fhn.org/jodaviess to take a video tour of the new center.

To schedule an appointment with Michael McFadden, MD or Terri Groezinger, PA-C, please call 815-947-3211.
