Panthers climb to 3-0 on the gridiron

Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

After moving to 3-0 on the young season, the Lena-Winslow Panthers are one of the hottest teams in the Northwest Upstate Illini Conference. Following blowout victories in both week one and two, the Panthers looked to keep the high-octane offense rolling in week three.

Le-Win was back on their home field for the week three matchup as they played host to the Galena Pirates who were 1-1 ahead of the matchup. As the clear favorites, the Panthers and their head coach Ric Arand wasted zero time in this one.

The first quarter was the Gage Dunker show. The junior fullback bruised his way into the endzone on an eight-yard run to give the Panthers the first score of the day less than five minutes into the game. Later in the first quarter, Dunker tallied his second score of the day as he scampered into the endzone from six yards out. Jake Zeal scored the two-point conversion, giving Le-Win a 14-0 lead.

Just a few moments later, the Panther defense decided to join the scoring party. After forcing a fumble, Jace Flynn picked up the loose ball and returned it 36 yards for the touchdown. Gunar Lobdell tallied the two-point conversion as the Panthers held a 22-0 lead after just one quarter of play.

Early in the second, it was Lobdell who broke the plane again. Only this time, it counted for six points as the senior running back scored on a seven-yard touchdown run. Just like the first quarter was the Dunker show, it was Lobdell who stole the show in the second. With around 30 seconds left in the first half, Lobdell broke free for an 85 yard touchdown run, the longest of the 2022 season for the Panthers. Nick Inden would score the two-point conversion as Le-Win found themselves holding a 38-0 lead at the halftime break.

The second half featured a running clock as Arand was able to coast his team towards their third victory. Once again, it was a strong rushing attack that helped the Panthers dominate as they put up over 400 yards on the ground. Lobdell led the way, rushing for 166 yards and a pair of scores on just nine carries. Averaging over 18 yards-per-carry, Lobdell had the big play working against Galena.

Dunker also had a triple digit night in yards as he rushed for 104 yards and three scores, giving him the hat trick. The power-speed combo of Dunker and Lobdell proved lethal for the Pirates as the duo combined for 270 yards and five scores on the night.

To the Electors of the State of Illinois:

The Illinois Constitution establishes a structure of government and laws for the State of Illinois. There are three ways to initiate change to the Illinois Constitution: (1) a constitutional convention may propose changes to any part; (2) the General Assembly may propose changes to any part; or (3) a petition initiative may propose amendments limited to structural and procedural subjects contained in the Legislative Article. The people of Illinois must approve any changes to the Illinois Constitution before they become effective. The purpose of this document is to inform you of proposed changes to the Illinois Constitution and to provide you with a brief explanation and a summary of the arguments in favor of and in opposition to the proposed amendment.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO ADD SECTION 25 TO ARTICLE I OF THE ILLINOIS CONSTITUTION
ARTICLE I — BILL OF RIGHTS

SECTION 25. WORKERS' RIGHTS

(a) Employees shall have the fundamental right to organize and to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing for the purpose of negotiating wages, hours, and working conditions, and to protect their economic welfare and safety at work. No law shall be passed that interferes with, negates, or diminishes the right of employees to organize and bargain collectively over their wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment and work place safety, including any law or ordinance that prohibits the execution or application of agreements between employers and labor organizations that represent employees requiring membership in an organization as a condition of employment.

(b) The provisions of this Section are controlling over those of Section 6 of Article VII.

EXPLANATION

The proposed amendment, which takes effect upon approval by the voters, adds Section 25 to the Bill of Rights Article of the Illinois Constitution. The new section will guarantee workers the fundamental right to organize and to bargain collectively and to negotiate safety conditions, wages, hours, working conditions, and economic welfare. The amendment prohibits the passage of any new law within the State that restricts or prohibits workers from engaging in collective bargaining with their employer over wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment, like safety protocols or training.

Arguments In Favor of the Proposed Amendment

This amendment will protect workers' and others' safety. That includes guaranteeing nurses' right to put patient care ahead of profit and making sure construction workers can speak up when there's a safety issue. It will protect workers from being silenced when they call attention to food safety threats, shoddy construction, and other problems that could harm Illinoisans. This amendment protects firefighters and EMTs who put their lives on the line to protect Illinoisans. It means they get the training and safety equipment they need to do their jobs, and can speak out when they see a problem without fear of retaliation. This amendment will help our economy by putting more money in workers' pockets who join together and get raises. That will mean more money going into our communities and small businesses as people join the middle class with good-paying jobs.

Arguments Against the Proposed Amendment

A fundamental right provided to all citizens under the First Amendment of the United States Constitution is the right to free speech and freedom of association. This amendment prohibits any law or ordinance that allows union workers to choose whether they wish to be a member of the union or not. Under the 2018 United States Supreme Court decision Janus v. Illinois AFSCME, non-union government workers cannot be required to pay union dues as a condition of working in the public sector. Approval of this constitutional amendment will deny that protection to private sector workers. The amendment also states that lawmakers could never "interfere with, negate, or diminish" certain rights. These terms are broad and undefined and leave lawmakers without the ability to clarify through legislation. Our Illinois Constitution provides such protection to public employees. The result of that protection has been to squash efforts by state lawmakers and voters to address Illinois' pension fund deficits.

FORM OF BALLOT

Proposed Amendment to the 1970 Illinois Constitution

Explanation of Amendment

The proposed amendment would add a new section to the Bill of Rights Article of the Illinois Constitution that would guarantee workers the fundamental right to organize and to bargain collectively and to negotiate wages, hours, and working conditions, and to promote their economic welfare and safety at work. The new amendment would also prohibit from being passed any new law that interferes with, negates, or diminishes the right of employees to organize and bargain collectively over their wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment and workplace safety. At the general election to be held on November 8, 2022, you will be called upon to decide whether the proposed amendment should become part of the Illinois Constitution.

Texas begins sending migrants to Illinois

CAPITOL NEWS ILLINOIS

At least 60 migrants arrived in Chicago Aug. 31 on buses from Texas as part of Republican Gov. Greg Abbott's ongoing policy to send undocumented immigrants to so-called "sanctuary cities."

But Gov. JB Pritzker and Chicago Mayor Lori Lightfoot, both Democrats, say the new arrivals are welcome in Illinois, and they are vowing to make sure the new arrivals receive essential services.

"Illinois welcomes refugees, asylum seekers and immigrants and we are working with federal and city officials to ensure that these individuals are treated with respect and safety as they look to connect with their family and friends," Pritzker said in a statement.

Abbott launched the program in April when he issued a memo directing the state's Department of Emergency Management "to begin coordinating the voluntary transportation" of immigrants who had been released from federal custody.

Abbott began by busing immigrants to Washington, D.C., and later to New York City. Chicago is the third city he has targeted to receive immigrants.

The Chicago Sun-Times reported that most of those arriving Aug. 31 originated from Venezuela, a country in the grips of a yearslong economic crisis that has reportedly forced some 6.8 million inhabitants to leave their homeland.

The move was part of Abbott's protest of President Joe Biden's decision in April to end what are known as Title 42 expulsions—a practice used during the Trump administration to immediately expel immigrants, including asylum seekers, arriving at the U.S.-Mexico border based on public health concerns related to COVID-19.

"President Biden's inaction at our southern border continues putting the lives of Texans—and Americans—at risk and is overwhelming our communities," he said in a statement. "To continue providing much-needed relief to our small, overrun border towns, Chicago will join fellow sanctuary cities Washington, D.C. and New York City as an additional drop-off location."

"Mayor Lightfoot loves to tout the responsibility of her city to welcome all regardless of legal status," he continued, "and I look forward to seeing this responsibility in action as these migrants receive resources from a sanctuary city with the capacity to serve them."

A spokesperson for the mayor quickly fired back, posting a statement on Twitter around 8:30 p.m. saying: "We know that racism, discrimination, and human cruelty have played a pivotal role in how immigrants are received within our borders, and we are still working to recover from the previous presidential administration, which encouraged this behavior. This is such an important moment for Chicago as a city has been a sanctuary for thousands of newcomers. We are welcoming them and we will not turn our backs on those who need our help the most."

EV rebates

A state rebate program for the purchase of an electric vehicle remains open through Sept. 30, and the state announced this week a new rebate application window will open on Nov. 1.

The current round of funding opened on July 1, offering a $4,000 rebate for individuals purchasing an all-electric vehicle and a $1,500 rebate for an all-electric motorcycle. Applications for the first round of funding must be postmarked by Sept. 30 and submitted within 90 days of the vehicle's purchase.

The next round will open on Nov. 1 and run through January 2023.

The rebates don't apply to hybrids or vehicles not licensed for Illinois roads. It also doesn't apply to rented or leased vehicles.

The purchaser must reside in Illinois on the date of the vehicle purchase and it must be purchased at a state-licenses dealer. Documentation requirements include a copy of purchase invoice, proof of purchase, vehicle registration, and IRS W-9 or W-8 forms. The purchaser must also own the vehicle for 12 months.

As of July 1, the fund paying out the rebates had a balance of $17.9 million, and rebates were subject to funding availability.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, which administers the rebates, gives priority to low-income applicants whose income doesn't exceed 80 percent of the state median income and expedites grants to those individuals. Thus far, as of Aug. 25, according to IEPA, the state has received 72 low-income applications and approved 22 of them. It had received 898 that didn't meet the low-income threshold.

More information can be found here https://www2.illinois.gov/epa/topics/ceja/Pages/Electric-Vehicle-Rebates.aspx.

Ethanol production

The state announced this week that it and surrounding states have been granted a federal emergency waiver by the U.S. EPA that allows for high volatility gasoline to be sold through Sept. 15.

The governor's office said it will reduce fuel disruptions following an Aug. 24 fire which broke out at a BP facility in Whiting, Ind., which produces 430,000 barrels of oil per day.

Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin also requested and were granted the waiver which, the Pritzker administration noted, would boost the use of ethanol produced by Illinois corn farmers.

"After learning of the electrical fire at the BP facility in Whiting, our administration has taken proactive steps to increase gas supply and reduce barriers so all Illinoisans have access to the fuel they need," Pritzker said in a news release. "This coordinated effort with our neighboring states will reduce the chance of disruptions and keep the people and businesses of Illinois moving."

Energy assistance

As of Sept. 1, low-income families in Illinois can begin applying for state assistance on their natural gas, propane and electricity bills.

The Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program, or LIHEAP, has $300 million available. Families can apply by visiting helpillinois-families.com or by calling 1-833-711-0374. Information on other state assistance programs can be found on that website as well.

LIHEAP provides one-time payments directly to energy service providers on behalf of recipients.

Families who earn up to two times the federal poverty level are eligible for LIHEAP. That works out to a 30-day gross income below $2,265 for a one-person household, $3,052 for a 2-person home, $3,838 for a three-person home, $4,625 for four people, $5,412 for five people and $6,198 for six people.

The level of assistance received is needs-based, and last year's LIHEAP recipients received an average of $1,330 per household, according to the governor's office.

Individuals now eligible for new Bivalent COVID-19 vaccination

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) endorsed the CDC's Advisory Committee on Immunization Practice's (ACIP) recommendation for use of the Pfizer-BioNTech and Moderna COVID-19 vaccine, bivalent, for use as a single booster dose at least two months after completing primary or booster vaccination.

The Moderna COVID-19 vaccine Bivalent is authorized for use as a single booster dose in individuals 12 years of age and older.

This follows the U.S Food and Drug Administration's (FDA) authorization of the emergency use of Moderna and Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 Bivalent vaccines, for the prevention of COVID-19, especially the BA.4 and BA.5 Omicron subvariants.

Individuals seeking an appointment can visit www.vaccines.gov to identify a pharmacy that is administering a bivalent COVID-19 vaccine or should contact their primary healthcare provider. It is expected some healthcare providers will begin offering the boosters shortly.

State announces first REV Act tax credit to Decatur manufacturer

Law passed last year provides payroll tax credits for manufacturers of EVs, parts

By Jerry Nowicki
CAPITOL NEWS ILLINOIS

The state last week announced the award of the first electric vehicle manufacturing-targeted tax incentives made possible by a law signed by Gov. JB Pritzker last year.

The incentives come from the Reimagining Electric Vehicles Act, which passed nearly unanimously and became law in November, and will provide an estimated $2.2 million in value to T/CCI Manufacturing in Decatur.

The REV Act passed two months after the Climate and Equitable Jobs Act, which incentivizes EV adoption, driving Pritzker's vision to make Illinois "the best place in North America to drive and manufacture an electric vehicle."

T/CCI's Decatur plant currently manufactures compressors for gasoline-powered cars. The company plans to retool the Decatur facility to produce compressors for EVs with an estimated $20 million investment. Currently, T/CCI makes EV compressors, a part which cools batteries and powers car air conditioning systems, in China and India.

Pritzker and local lawmakers said the manufacturing of EV parts domestically is necessary to work around supply chain issues.

"Thanks to the REV Act, Illinois beat out international competition to bring this deal home," Pritzker said. "That means new jobs and jobs that would have gone overseas are staying right here."

T/CCI's transition will create 50 new jobs, while 103 existing jobs are expected to be retained.

The REV Act's incentives are targeted to the manufacturers of EVs and their parts, such as compressors. The companies receiving the breaks can receive a state income tax credit of 75 percent or 100 percent of payroll taxes withheld from each new employee and 25 percent or 50 percent for current employees. The law also provides a 10 percent credit for training expenses.

The governor's office tied the Tuesday announcement to a previously announced plan to provide $15.3 million in state infrastructure funding to Richland Community College and $6 million to the city of Decatur to create an "EV cluster" that includes a training, research and innovation facility in partnership with T/CCI.

"We know that when companies are looking where to locate, talent is what's most important and we want to make sure that when electric vehicle companies are looking to Illinois to either expand or locate a new venture, they should know you won't find a harder working more qualified workforce," Department of Commerce and Economic Opportunity director Sylvia Garcia said at a news conference Tuesday.

The infrastructure money would go toward a climatic simulation center on T/CCI's Decatur campus, which will allow the testing of new EV-related technologies in extreme environments.

"T/CCI is recognized in the industry as a leader in compressor technology, already having developed a largest range of EV compressors in the market," Richard Demirjian, TCCI's president, said in a news release. "We're excited to use our expertise in innovation and component manufacturing to advance Illinois' position and create a successful partnership that drives long-lasting economic growth."

Richland and T/CCI are also working in partnership with the University of Illinois Grainger College of Engineering and Northern Illinois University on a training academy that will focus on EV advanced engineering, software technology and accredited apprenticeship programs.

A public-private partnership model, the climatic center will be open to businesses and researchers looking to expedite adoption of new EV technologies, according to the governor's office.

"Together we are establishing a new model for Illinois that sets the stage for how education, research and industry work together to cohesively advance us faster, invest in our people and grow our economy," Richland Community College President Cris Valdez said. "This state-of-the-art facility will provide world class training in electrification, a registered apprenticeship program, along with immersive industry partnerships and testing available to the electric vehicle industry."

Pritzker said the community college partnership is one he would like to emulate in communities across the state, pointing to a partnership between the EV manufacturer Rivian and Heartland Community College in Normal.

Aggravated robbery arrest

On Sept. 7, 2022, at approximately 3:22 a.m., officers of the Freeport Police Department responded to the 600 Block of N Waddell Avenue for an aggravated robbery. Upon arrival, officers learned that a male subject had entered an apartment holding what appeared to be a silver handgun and demanded money from the victim. The suspect left the apartment after the victim turned over money and a cell phone.

Officers located the suspect identified as Drean Mcgee, aged 30 of Freeport, shortly after the incident near the intersection of W Galena Ave and N Warren Ave. Drean McGee was placed under arrest and charged with Aggravated Robbery, Residential Burglary and Theft with a prior.

Drean McGee is being held at the Stephenson County Jail on $150,000 bond. The public is reminded that the defendant is presumed innocent and is entitled to a fair trial, at which the government has the burden of proving guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

Gun rights group sues Highland Park

Challenges ban on assault weapons, high-capacity magazines

By Peter Hancock
CAPITOL NEWS ILLINOIS

A gun rights group is challenging the city of Highland Park's ban on assault weapons and high-capacity magazines like the ones used in a mass shooting there on July 4.

The National Association for Gun Rights, based in Loveland, Colorado, filed the lawsuit Sept. 7 in federal district court in Chicago at the same time it filed lawsuits challenging a similar ordinance in Naperville as well as state laws in Massachusetts, Connecticut and Hawaii.

The cases were filed in district courts that are part of five different federal appellate circuits. Illinois is part of the 7th Circuit. In a statement Sept. 8, the group said it is pushing for a national precedent to end all similar bans across the country.

"Our mission has always been to expand pro-gun precedents and defend gun owners," Hannah Hill, research and policy director for the National Foundation for Gun Rights, the association's legal defense fund, said in the statement. "The brilliant decision from (U.S. Supreme Court) Justice (Clarence) Thomas this summer has provided us with the ammo to free millions of law-abiding Americans who are being unjustly denied their gun rights."

In the lawsuits, the gun rights group rejects the use of the term "assault weapon," calling it a "charged political term meant to stir the emotions of the public" and instead uses the term "banned firearm."

The lawsuits allege that the bans violate the Second Amendment of the U.S. Constitution. They cite recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions, including a 2008 decision overturning Washington D.C.'s ban on handguns, a 2010 decision overturning similar handgun bans in Chicago and Oak Park, and a decision from June of this year overturning the state of New York's law requiring people to show "proper cause" for obtaining a firearm license.

On July 4, Robert Crimo III, 21, allegedly took an assault-style weapon and three large-capacity magazines onto a rooftop in downtown Highland Park and fired into an Independence Day parade, killing seven people and wounding dozens of others. He is being held without bond on multiple counts of first-degree murder.

Prior to that shooting, Highland Park had an ordinance dating back to 2013 banning the sale or rental of assault weapons or "assault ammunition feeding devices," definitions of which are spelled out in the law. The city of Naperville adopted a substantially similar ordinance in August, specifically in response to the mass shooting in Highland Park and an earlier shooting at an elementary school in Uvalde, Texas.

Highland Park's ordinance, however, was previously challenged in federal court, and in 2015 a three-judge panel of the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals unanimously upheld the ordinance.

In their opinion, the judges specifically cited the 2010 Supreme Court case from Washington, D.C., in which Justice Antonin Scalia, writing for the majority, said the Second Amendment does not guarantee a right "to keep and carry any weapon whatsoever in any manner whatsoever and for whatever purpose," and noted that the court cautioned against interpreting the decision too broadly.

"We remain confident that the assault weapon ban that the city of Highland Park adopted in 2013 is lawful and constitutional, and that the affirmation of constitutionality by the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals remains controlling precedent in our jurisdiction," the city's attorney, Steven M. Elrod, said in an email statement.

A spokesperson for the city of Naperville did not immediately respond to a request for comment.

Since the Highland Park shooting, Democratic Gov. JB Pritzker has called for both a state and national ban on assault weapons. A bill pending in the Illinois House by Rep. Maura Hirschauer, D-Batavia, that would impose a statewide ban has 56 cosponsors.

Slices of life

Finding purpose in the moment

By
JILL PERTLER
Columnist

As we traverse through life, I think most of us ponder and wonder about our purpose—the reason for our experience on the planet at this particular time. What is the meaning of life? What is the meaning of me? (Gulp.)

I've pondered this question quite a bit, feeling a little inept in my answers. I long for a grand and important purpose—to change the world for the better. But the honest answer is I'm just a normal human living life in abject anonymity—and quite liking it that way, thank you very much.

On one level, I believe I should aspire to have a grand and world-changing purpose. On another, maybe being average and obscure has a purpose in it as well.

Maybe not everyone is supposed to rise to the level of Mother Theresa or Mahatma Gandhi. Maybe doing the best in the everyday can and does make the world a better place—even if it is only a little bit at a time.

So, instead of going for the grandiose purpose, maybe we take it to a smaller scale. Instead of life-altering, perhaps appreciating and maximizing on each moment is a purpose in and of itself.

Maybe miracles are all around us—every day, in every moment—if only we open our eyes, our senses and our souls.

Our moments combine to make weeks, months, years, decades. Lifetimes. They are ours to discover. Moment by moment by moment.

Take them all in. Take each of them in. Notice. See. Breathe. Appreciate. The reality, the magic, the miracles—they are all there in front of you, yours for the taking.

A bull fight gone wrong

By SCOTT CERNEK
Columnist

When I was a kid on the dairy farm, we only raised a bull calf every few years for breeding, but one year we decided to raise twin bulls from one of our best dairy cows.

We named them Big Daddy and Big Blackie. We genuinely had a great time raising those two calves. It is pretty amazing how much bigger and stronger yearling bull calves are compared to the other males bovines who become steers.

These two Holstein bull brothers grew strong and their muscles just rippled and bulged as the months went by.

I remember giving them a few extra slaps on the shoulders and rubs on the head every day as they grew. They were pretty special animals.

When they were about 1,500 pounds each and about three years of age, we moved these two boys into two pens at the end of the dairy barn.

They got to run with the cows on an every other day rotation. One day Big Daddy spent the day with the herd while Big Blackie stayed in his pen in the barn, and the next day it was Big Blackies' day to be let out with the cows.

Thus, they enjoyed a good year or two of working our 100 cow herd.

It all came to a screeching halt one cold winter morning in about 1977. It was over Christmas vacation, and we were all home from school that day.

We knew we had the day off school, so we all stayed in the barn after the morning milking to wash the pipeline and clean out the mangers.

We decided it was a good morning to pitch out the bull pens too, so we decided to turn both bulls out together. After all, they were friendly brothers, right? What could possibly go wrong?

At first the two brothers sort of sniffed and grunted and bumped each other around a little out in the cow yard.

We then started cleaning the pens, pitching large fork loads of straw and manure out of the pen and into the gutter.

We kept an eye on the herd and noticed that the bulls were starting to get a little rougher with each other.

One thing bulls do in the wild is head fight. Cattle will drop their heads low to the ground and push each other around until one gives in to the stronger animal and trots away taking on a submissive posture.

It was a little icy that day and sure enough the unthinkable occurred. As Big Blackie was pushing, Big Daddy's rear leg slipped and broke making a loud popping sound.

It was a very sad day as we had to quickly call the butcher to put the big bull out of his misery. The good thing was that we had plenty of good steaks and burgers the next couple years.

My dad wasn't too happy with our foolishness that day, but he was a very patient man and didn't come down too hard on us.

We always knew when we had messed up even without him saying anything because he had disciplined us when we were younger.

The Bible says in Proverbs 22:15; that foolishness is bound up in the heart of a child, and it takes discipline to guide young people on the road to a wise life.

Once in a while it takes a little more than a father's discipline to help a kid learn. It takes trial and error too. We thought that a little excitement would be worth the risk. Turns out it wasn't. We learned a lesson that day for sure.

As required by 35 ILCS 200/9-210 and 35 ILCS 200/10-115, the following equalization factors have been applied to bring the assessments to the statutorily required three-year median level of 33.33%:

Farmland:

Pursuant to 35 ILCS 200/10-115, the farmland assessments for the 2022 assessment year will increase by 10% of the preceding year's median cropped soil productivity index as certified by the Illinois Department of Revenue with data provided by the Farmland Assessment Technical Advisory Board resulting in a $38.73 per acre increase for each soil productivity index.

All other Property:

Property in these Townships, other than farmland and coal, is to be assessed at a 33.33% median level of assessment, based on the fair cash value of the property. You may check the accuracy of your assessment by dividing your assessment by the median level of assessment. The resulting value should equal the estimated fair cash value of your property. If the resulting value is greater than the estimated fair cash value of your property, you may be over-assessed. If the resulting value is less than the fair cash value of your property, you may be under-assessed. You may appeal your assessment to the Board of Review.

If you believe your property's fair cash value is incorrect or that the equalized assessed valuation is not uniform with other comparable properties in the same neighborhood, the following steps should be taken:

1. Contact your township assessor to review the assessment.
2. If not satisfied with the assessor review, taxpayers may file a complaint with the Jo Daviess County Board of Review. For complaint forms, instructions, and the Rules and Procedures of the Board of Review, call (815) 777-1016 or visit www.jodaviess.org for more information.
3. The final filing deadline for your township is 30 days from this publication date. After this date, the Board of Review is prohibited by law from accepting assessment complaints for properties in these townships. The filing deadline is October 14, 2022.

Your property may be eligible for homestead exemptions, which can reduce your property's taxable assessment. For more information on homestead exemptions, call (815) 777-1016 or visit www.jodaviesscountyil.gov.

Your property tax bill will be calculated as follows:
Final Equalized Assessed Value – Exemptions = Taxable Assessment;
Taxable Assessment x Current Tax Rate = Total Tax Bill.

Lady Panthers split week with Pecatonica, Aquin

ByTrenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

The Lena-Winslow varsity volleyball squad picked up their sixth win of the season last week when they traveled to face off with the Pecatonica Indians. At 5-1-2, Pecatonica also came into the matchup hoping to tally their sixth win on the season. The Panthers were also coming into the game off a pair of losses as they hoped to get back in the win column.

The first set featured a close battle as the Indians and Panthers went back and forth. In the end, Sue Amendt's Panthers were able to rally to close out a 25-20 victory. Once Le-Win had the momentum going, they ran with it. The Panthers had total domination in the second set as they held on to win by a score of 25-10. The victory improved Le-Win's overall record to 6-2 on the year. It was also their first conference victory of the season.

Kaidynce Lynch was on the attack for Le-Win as she finished with a team-leading 11 kills. Grace Groezinger was next up with six kills and Molly Amendt had five. Rachel Setterstrom led the team defensively, finishing with 14 digs. Alyssa Daughenbaugh was facilitating the offense all night for the Panthers as she led the way with 18 assists. Belle Paulsen was next up with six assists. The Panthers also combined for eight aces from the serve line on the night.

Two days later, the Panthers were hoping to get a winning streak going as they were on the road again. On Thursday, Sept. 8, Le-Win made the trip to face off with the Aquin Bulldogs. Aquin looked to be one of the biggest tests of the season for the Panthers as they came into the match with a perfect 9-0 record.

Despite giving the Bulldogs a run for their money in the first set, the Panthers weren't able deliver Aquin their first loss of the season. Aquin took the first set by a final score of 25-23 and dominated the second set 25-16.

The Panthers were unable to keep up with the high powered Aquin offense. While the Bulldogs combined for 28 kills on the night, the Panthers had just 14. Lucy Arndt led the way for Aquin with an impressive 16 kills. Bentleah Stovall was next up for the Bulldogs with six kills. Groezinger and Lynch both finished with four kills each to lead the Panthers. Groezinger also led the Panthers in total blocks with four. Paulsen led the Panthers in digs with seven, while Lynch and Setterstrom were right behind her with six digs each. Hanna Pizzolatto led the Bulldogs with six digs, while Hanna Broge, Megan Holder, and Arndt had five digs each for Aquin.

The Bulldogs went on to suffer their first loss of the season over the weekend when they fell to a tough Genoa-Kingston squad. They will play host to the Durand Bulldogs on Thursday, Sept. 15. The Panthers will be back on the court that same night when they travel to face off with the Dakota Indians. Dakota held an 11-3 record as of last week as they will pose another serious threat to the Panthers.

Stephenson County's Extension annual meeting will be held on Oct. 12, 2022, at the Farm Bureau Office at 210 West Spring Street, Freeport, Illinois. Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. with the meeting commencing at 10 a.m. Lunch reservations of $5.00 are to be sent to Judy Shippee at 8155 West Mound Road, Lena, Illinois by Sept. 30. • Panthers (Continued from front page)

Not to be overlooked was the Le-Win defense. They held the Pirates to just 122 total yards as Galena threw for 58 yards and rushed for 64. The Panther defense kept the ball in the hands of their offense, allowing them to outgain Galena by nearly 300 total yards.

Arand and the Panthers will look to move to 4-0 this week, when they travel to face off with West Carroll on Friday, Sept. 16. West Carroll is 0-3 on the year, making the Panthers the early favorites, once again.

Online STEM Café explores climate change in our backyards

Climate change affects everything including crop production, extreme weather events, food prices, jobs and real estate – not just far away, but right here at home.

At the next online STEM Café, hear from NIU experts in climate change and sustainability about how climate change will affect DeKalb and surrounding communities.

The event will take place online via Zoom on Wednesday, Sept. 21 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. It is free and open to the public. Registration and more details available at go.niu.edu/stemcafe.

This is event is offered by NIU STEAM in partnership with the NIU Alumni Association and the City of DeKalb Citizens' Environmental Commission.

Allison Michaelis, Ph.D., NIU assistant professor in the Department of Earth, Atmosphere and Environment, will speak about climate modeling and share some of the large-scale changes currently happening in the U.S. and the Midwest, especially shifts in precipitation and extreme weather.

"I hope the audience gains an understanding for how our regional climate is expected to change in the future as well as an appreciation for how complicated the topic of extreme weather and climate change is," she says.

Alex Haberlie, Ph.D., NIU assistant professor in the Department of Earth, Atmosphere and Environment, will discuss how and why U.S. thunderstorm activity may change during the 21st century and the potential impacts in the Midwest.

"I want people to appreciate the uncertainty that climate change introduces into planning for infrastructure, agriculture and other aspects of society," he says. "They may be surprised to learn that climate change could increase or decrease thunderstorm activity, and even shift our expectations of when thunderstorms are most likely to occur in the Midwest.

Freeport man sentenced to 17 years in federal prison for sexual exploitation of minors

A Freeport, IL. resident was sentenced today to 17 years in federal prison for traveling to Iowa to engage in sexual conduct with a minor he met online.

Erich Brinkmeier, 27, pleaded guilty earlier this year to one count of traveling in interstate commerce for the purpose of engaging in illicit sexual conduct with a minor and one count of commission by a registered sex offender of a felony offense involving a minor. U.S. District Judge Philip G. Reinhard ordered that the prison term be followed by a lifetime of court-supervised release.

The sentence was announced by John R. Lausch, Jr., United States Attorney for the Northern District of Illinois; and Ashley T. Johnson, Acting Special Agent-in-Charge of the Chicago Field Office of the FBI. The Freeport Police Department assisted in the investigation. The government was represented by Assistant U.S. Attorney Jessica S. Maveus.

Brinkmeier admitted in a plea agreement that in October 2019 he traveled from Illinois to Iowa to engage in sexual conduct with a 14-year-old minor he met online. Brinkmeier was a registered sex offender and was required under Illinois law to comply with the Illinois Sex Offender Registry.

Brinkmeier also admitted to contacting another minor victim online and coercing her to send Brinkmeier sexually explicit images of herself.

Troy Barr appointed as Alderman-at-Large

On the September 6 Council Meeting, members of the Freeport City Council approved the appointment of Troy Barr to the position of Alderman-at-Large. The position was vacated after the resignation of former Alderman Jim Berberet. After the approval, Barr was then sworn in as Alderman.

As a longstanding member of the Freeport community, Troy Barr has formerly served on the Planning Commission since 2018 and has served as a sports coach for local Jr. High and High School teams for 19 years. Barr is also a partner in a small local business since 2017.

"I am truly honored to serve the Freeport community as Alderman-at-Large," said Barr. Alderman Barr will serve in the position of Alderman-at-Large until the term expires in May 2023.

September is Childhood Cancer Awareness Month

By
DR. STEPHEN PETRAS
Illinois Licensed General Dentist

Childhood Cancer Awareness Month is an annual national health campaign held in September to bring awareness to cancer in children. Because our children are so precious to us, the color gold in the form of a ribbon was chosen as the international symbol for childhood cancer awareness.

Oral cancer in children is rare. Greater than 90% of tumors in the mouths of children are benign (non-cancerous). Although uncommon, childhood cancers do occur and, as with all cancers, early diagnosis and treatment are critical for long-term prognosis. That is why an oral cancer check is part of your child's routine dental checkup. Your dentist will check the jaw, the cheeks, and lips; the gums; the roof and floor of the mouth; and the top, bottom, and sides of the tongue. The neck will also be examined for swollen lymph nodes. If any abnormalities are found your dentist may perform an x-ray or CT scan and will share his findings with your child's pediatrician. Do not panic if your dentist recommends a biopsy (remember that the majority of oral tumors and lesions will be benign) but do not put it off either. Oral cancers are aggressive, so it is imperative that no time is wasted when seeking a definitive diagnosis. Once oral or oropharyngeal cancer has been diagnosed, treatment will depend on the type of cancer and whether it has spread. In addition, both benign and malignant oral cavity tumors can affect eating and/or speaking and may require treatment, which could include surgical intervention.

An important reason for this public awareness campaign is to spread the word about the signs and symptoms of oral cancer. Keep in mind that these signs and symptoms can be indicative of a wide range of oral health problems other than oral cancer. Have your child evaluated by your dentist if they experience a sore in the mouth or on the lip that does not heal, a lump or thickening in the mouth, a white or red patch on the gums, tongue, or lining of the mouth, difficulty swallowing or unexplained oral bleeding, numbness or pain in the mouth, difficulty chewing, swallowing, speaking, opening the mouth widely, or moving the tongue or jaw, a lump near the ear, cheek, jaw, lip, or inside the mouth, fluid draining from the ear, numbness or weakness in the face, or pain in the face that does not go away.

Anything that increases your chance of getting a disease is called a risk factor. Since unprotected sun exposure can increase your risk for oral cancer developing on the lips, apply lip balm with SPF to your child's lips during periods of prolonged sun exposure until they are old enough to do it themselves. The incidence of cancer of the oral cavity and pharynx has increased in the adolescent and young adult populations. Teach your adolescent that tobacco use is the strongest risk factor for developing oral cancer. Alcohol abuse follows closely behind and combining the two multiplies their risk. Data from recent research show that about 70 percent of oropharyngeal cancers are linked to human papillomavirus (HPV) infections. Numerous studies show that the earlier a child receives the HPV vaccine, the greater potential it has for preventing HPV-related cancers, which include oropharyngeal cancer. The HPV vaccine can be given to children as young as nine years. Schedule regular dental visits, with their critical oral cancer screening, twice a year. Support your child's immune system and overall health with a nutritious diet, staying hydrated with fluoridated water, and daily oral hygiene.

The not so skinny cook

There seems to be all kinds of signs that fall is in the air. Mums are out and pumpkins are for sale. There are still some tomatoes and zucchini, but there are also a lot of squash and apples. This week kicks off some new fall recipes and some old favorites.

Bacon Pea Salad

I had a request for this pea salad. My mother used to make the best pea salad. It is a great dish to take to a potluck because it is different than a regular pasta salad. My mother's recipe had a mayo dressing, but this recipe uses prepared Ranch Dressing, so it is easy to put together. It is especially good at a barbeque event. Enjoy making a salad that is unique.

4 C. frozen peas (16 oz.), thawed
½ C. shredded sharp cheddar cheese
½ C. ranch salad dressing
1/3 C. chopped red onion
¼ t. salt
¼ t. pepper
4 bacon strips, cooked and crumbled

Combine the peas, cheese, salad dressing, onion, salt, and pepper in a large bowl. Transfer to a serving bowl and refrigerate, covered for at least 30 minutes. Stir in bacon before serving.

Zucchini Patties

People still have an overabundance of zucchini. This recipe is an easy one for a quick side for any meal.

2 C. shredded zucchini
½ C. shredded cheddar cheese1/3 C. Bisquick
½ t. salt
2 T. grated onion
½ t. dried basil
¼ t. pepper
2 large eggs, room temperature, lightly beaten
2 T. butter

In a bowl, combine the zucchini, cheese, Bisquick, salt, onion, basil, and pepper. Stir in eggs; mix well. Shape into six patties, using about ¼ C. of zucchini mixture for each patty. In a skillet over medium-high heat, melt butter; cook patties until lightly browned, 4 to 5 minutes on each side.

Italian Zucchini Pie

Thanks to Veronica (Vee) Clair from Pearl City for sending a recipe that uses zucchini. It makes two shallow pies or one deep dish pie. Vee wrote, "This recipe came from my sister in North Carolina. She does the deep dish without a crust to cut down on calories." The original recipe called for two shallow pies. Vee said to "make sure your dried spices are fresh. Enjoy, really good!" Thanks, Vee, for sharing this yummy way to use that zucchini.

4 C. sliced zucchini
1 C. chopped onion
1 stick butter
½ t. salt
½ t. pepper
¼ t. oregano
¼ t. garlic salt
¼ t. basil
¼ t. oregano, garlic salt and basil.
2 beaten eggs
8 oz. mozzarella cheese, shredded
1 t. yellow mustard

Preheat the oven to 400. Cook the zucchini, onion, and butter for 10 minutes. Add the salt, pepper, garlic salt, and basil to vegetable mixture and stir. Stir in beaten eggs and 8 oz. shredded mozzarella cheese. Add to the veggie mixture.

Pour into two unbaked pie crusts that have been spread with 1 t. mustard. Bake for 20-30 minutes for two pies, longer for deep dish.

Haystack Supper

This casserole makes two casseroles so you can feed a whole crowd. It is interesting because it melds a lot of flavors. You can also cut the recipe in half. Enjoy the surprise layers.

1¾ C. crushed saltines (about 40 crackers)
2 C. cooked rice
3 lbs. ground beef
1 large onion, chopped
1½ C. tomato juice
¾ C. water
3 T. taco seasoning
Seasoned salt, salt, and pepper to taste
½ C. butter, cubed
½ C. flour
4 C. whole milk
1 lb. Velveeta, cubed
4 C. shredded lettuce
3 C. sharp cheddar cheese
3 medium tomatoes, diced
1 jar (10 oz.) stuffed olives
1 pkg. tortilla chips (10 oz.)

Divide the crackers between 2 ungreased 9 x 13 baking dishes. Top each with rice. In a skillet, cook beef and onion until meat is no longer pink; drain. Add the tomato juice, water, and seasonings; simmer for 15 to 20 minutes. Spoon over rice.

In a large saucepan, melt butter. Stir in flour until smooth. Gradually add the milk. Bring to a boil; cook and stir until thickened, about two minutes. Reduce heat; stir in Velveeta cheese until melted. Pour over beef mixture. Top with lettuce, cheddar cheese, tomatoes, and olives. Refrigerate any leftovers.

Orange, Beef, and Broccoli Stir Fry

For a quick weeknight dinner, this dish is easy to prepare. Unlike a lot of stir fry recipes, this one doesn't require half an hour of chopping up vegetables. You do have to slice the beef, peel the orange, chop some onion and garlic, and prepare broccoli florets. These require only a minimum of preparations. The original directions said to use a cast iron pan, but the cast iron is way too heavy for me. I just used a regular large frying pan and watched the ingredients carefully.

1 lb. sirloin steak, thinly sliced against the grain
¾ C. fresh orange juice, divided
4 T. soy sauce, divided
2 T. sriracha, divided
1 T. sugar
2 cloves garlic, minced
4 T. canola oil, divided
4 C. fresh broccoli florets
¼ C. honey
2 t. orange zest
1 T. cornstarch
1 T. water
2 C. navel orange segments
Cooked rice and sesame seeds to garnish

In a large resealable plastic bag, place steak, ¼ C. orange juice, 2 T. soy sauce, 1 T. sriracha, sugar, and garlic. Seal the bag and shake until combined. Refrigerate for 45 minutes. In a 12-inch skillet, heat 2 T. oil over medium–high heat. Add broccoli; cook, stirring occasionally, until crisp-tender, 5 to 8 minutes. Remove from skillet. Remove beef from bag, discarding marinade.

In the same skillet, heat 1 T. oil over medium high heat. Add half of the beef and cook until browned, 1 to 2 minutes per side. Remove beef from skillet and repeat procedure with remaining 1 T. oil and remaining beef. In the same empty skillet, stir together orange zest, honey, remaining orange juice, remaining 2 T. soy sauce, and remaining 1 T. sriracha; bring to a low boil. In a small bowl, whisk together cornstarch and 1 T. water until dissolved; stir into honey mixture. Cook, stirring frequently until thickened, 1 to 2 minutes. Stir in broccoli and steak; cook until heated through. Gently stir in oranges. Serve with rice and garnish with sesame seeds. (Tip: freeze the steak about 15 minutes before you slice it because cold meat is easier to cut than room temperature meat.)

Crème de Menthe Squares

This is a layered bar that is creamy cool mint and rich chocolate. You use crushed Oreo cookies (who doesn't love Oreos?) for the base, so that makes it extra good. It does require some preparation time because you need to have mixture set before continuing. It is worth the wait!

1½ C. finely crushed Oreo cookies (14 cookies)
2 T. butter, melted
1 t. unflavored gelatin
1¾ C. cold 2 % milk, divided
20 large marshmallows
3 T. green crème de menthe
3 oz. cream cheese, softened
1 pkg. (3.9 oz.) chocolate pudding mix
1 C. heavy whipping cream

In a small bowl, mix crushed cookies and melted butter. Reserve 3 T. for topping. Press remaining mixture onto bottom of a greased 8-inch square baking dish. Refrigerate 30 minutes.

In a large microwave-safe bowl, sprinkle gelatin over ½ C. cold milk; let stand 1 minute. Microwave on high for 30 to 40 seconds. Stir until gelatin is completely dissolved. Add marshmallows; cook 1 to 2 minutes longer or until marshmallows are puffed; stir until smooth. Stir in crème de menthe. Refrigerate 15 to 20 minutes or until cold but not set, stirring often. In a small bowl, gradually beat cream cheese until smooth. In another bowl, whisk pudding mixes and remaining cold milk. Gradually beat into cream cheese. In a large bowl, beat cream until soft peaks form, fold into marshmallow mixture. Spoon half the mixture over prepared crust; refrigerate 10 minutes. Layer with pudding mixture and remaining marshmallow mixture; top with reserved crumbs. Refrigerate 2 hours or until set. Cut into squares and serve.

Apple Pie Cookies

Apples are certainly in season. If you are interested in a recipe that isn't a pie, dumpling, or crisp, this cookie recipe is a little different. I guess you could say it really is an apple pie cookie! It is also easy because it uses refrigerated pie dough.

3 T. salted butter
2 apples, peeled and diced
½ C. packed light brown sugar
Juice of ½ lemon
2 T. apple juice or cider
1 T. cornstarch
1 pkg. pie dough (2 crusts)
1 C. powdered sugar
2 to 3 T. heavy cream

Melt butter in a medium saucepan over medium-high heat. Add the apples and cook until they start to soften, 3 to 4 minutes. Stir in brown sugar and lemon juice; bring to a simmer and cook until the apples are soft and the liquid is starting to reduce, 3 to 4 minutes. Whisk the apple juice and the cornstarch in a small bowl and add it to the pan. Cook, stirring, until the mixture thickens, about 1 more minute. Remove from the heat and let cool.

Preheat the oven to 350. Line a baking sheet with parchment paper. Roll out 1 piece of pie dough into a 12-inch round. Using a 3-inch cookie cutter, cut out 12 small rounds and arrange on the baking sheet. Reroll the scraps and cut out 2 more rounds. Roll the other piece of dough into a 12-inch round. Cut into ½-inch wide strips. Cut the strips into shorter 3½ to 4-inch pieces. You should have about 56 pieces. Arrange the dough rounds on the baking sheet. Place 1 T. of the apple mixture in the center of each. Lay 2 parallel strips of dough on top, then lay 2 more strips perpendicular to the first to look like a lattice. Alternately weave the strips into a lattice. Trim the edges of the strips, and then press around the edges with a fork to seal. Bake until golden, 18 to 20 minutes. Remove to a rack to cool. To glaze: whisk the powdered sugar and heavy cream in a small bowl. Drizzle over the cookies.

Final Thoughts

The Stephenson County Relay for life will be held on Saturday, Sept. 17 at the Stephenson County Fairgrounds from 5 to 9 p.m. There will be food trucks and music which will be starting at 6:15 p.m. The luminaries will be lighted at dusk. Barb Wire and Sue Diddens sent me a note to ask for me to tell you about this important event. The Relay for Life was established to show support for those people whom we have lost to cancer as well as the survivors who live with it.

We have put to bed another Fall Festival. I always think that this celebration is the real beginning of fall. We will have football games all over the place, and it is the end of baseball and golf. Tailgate parties replace picnics. Gardens are dying and trees will lose their leaves. Time marches on faster than we can imagine.
