Wolves upset Indians in exciting game

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

The Pearl City Lady Wolves have had a bit of a roller coaster season throughout their 2022-2023 campaign. After beginning the year 0-3, the Wolves managed to get their first win in an impressive showing against Dakota. They weren't able to string any wins together, however, as they went on to drop their next matchup to River Ridge-Scales Mound. Once again, the Wolves responded with an exceptional performance as they picked up a 48-37 win over North Boone. The win improved the Wolves' record to 2-4, but another pair of losses ensued as Pearl City fell to 2-6.

That's when the Stockton Blackhawks came to town to face off with the Wolves on their home court. It was a non-conference matchup scheduled for Saturday, Dec.

3. The Blackhawks came into the game with a zero in the win column. They hoped to change that against the struggling Wolves.

The Wolves got off to a solid start in the first quarter. Brea Musser hit an early three pointer as she posted seven points in the opening quarter. That helped the Wolves as they jumped out to a 13-6 lead. Things slowed down for the Pearl City offense in the second. The only basket the Wolves scored was a two-pointer by Ava Bremmer. Elizabeth Dinderman would sink a free throw, but those three points would be all the Wolves could muster in the second. Still, Pearl City took a 16-13 lead into the halftime break.

The Pearl City offense got even slower in the third quarter. They scored just two points in the quarter and that was thanks to a Dinderman basket. Meanwhile, Stockton put up nine third quarter points, which gave the Blackhawks their first lead of the game. Eventually, Stockton took a 22-18 lead into the fourth.

With the Wolves at the brink of suffering their seventh loss to a winless team, they needed to turn things around quickly. It was Falyn Endress who rose to the occasion as she got hot in the final quarter. Endress had seven fourth quarter points, her first points since a basket early in the first quarter. They were crucial as it helped the Wolves get back in the game. Musser added four points in the fourth herself as the Wolves managed to pull off the comeback for a 34-29 victory. Musser led the team in scoring with 11, while Endress was right behind her with nine. Bremmer finished the game with six and Dinderman was next up with five. It was the third win of the season for the Wolves, but it was a big one.

After suffering a loss to the Aquin Bulldogs in their first conference game of the year, the Wolves were back in action with a home matchup against the Pecatonica Indians. The Wolves came into the matchup as underdogs with the Indians sitting at 5-2 on the year. It was a back-and-forth opening quarter. Endress had five first quarter points to help lead the way. Both Kenzee Evans and Musser added early baskets as well, as the Wolves went into the second quarter tied at 9-9 with the Indians.

The second quarter was just as evenly matched. The Wolves continued to ride the hot hand of Endress, who added six points in the second. Evans and Musser once again added single baskets as the Wolves put up 10 in the quarter. Still, they found themselves heading into the break tied at 19-19, which felt like a good spot for the Wolves. If anything, all the pressure was on Pecatonica at this point.

Things almost spiraled

out of control for Pearl City coming out of the break. Pecatonica had a solid third quarter, hitting a pair of threes and combining for 14 points. That allowed the Indians to get a slim lead going into the final quarter as the Wolves trailed 33-25.

What happened in the fourth quarter was nothing short of spectacular. The Wolves needed someone to step up and that someone was Endress. Once again, the sophomore took over the offense as Endress caught fire from deep. A trio of three pointers, a free throw, and a pair of baskets in the paint all came from Endress as the sophomore posted 14 points in the final quarter. Endress outscored the entire Indians' team on her own in the final quarter as she practically willed the Wolves back into the game. A pair of free throws from Musser and another basket from Evans would be all the Wolves needed as they picked up the 43-42 win over Pecatonica.

Endress led the team in scoring with 28, while Musser finished with nine and Evans had six. Oddly enough, those three were the only Wolves' players to record a basket in the matchup. The win improved Pearl City's record to 4-7 overall, but the Wolves were now 2-1 over their last three games.

Pearl City will be back on the floor on Wednesday, Dec. 21 as they play host to the Galena Pirates.

RODNEY BRANDT

Rodney Brandt, age 80, died on Dec. 5, 2022, in Stockton, Ill. — a village that wouldn't have been the same without him. It's where he spent most of his life with his wife of 48 years, where he raised his children, served as mayor for 21 years, and played active roles in his family and community that he cared about deeply.

A 1959 graduate of Stockton High School, he was known best by some as a dedicated civil servant, acting as a Stockton Village board member since May 1989, then as village president, a role he had from May 2001 to the very end of his life. Some knew him in his professional life, working at Hudson's grocery store, as a real estate broker, then for First National Bank of Stockton and its successors. Others might have recognized his booming voice from the stands of a sporting event, of which he attended and supported many as a Stockton Blackhawk booster, Little League Commissioner and part of the Blackhawk Football Chain Gang Crew. He was a member and talented golfer at the Stockton Atwood Golf Course (where he was a men's club champion) and a student in childhood and congregant in adulthood of the Holy Cross Catholic Church.

But the titles Rod may have been most proud of were husband and father. He was one half of the inseparable, active, adventurous, ever-present "Rod and Lou," and the patriarch of a blended clan that he never treated as anything other than his own family.

While he was born an only child to Bart and Anita Brandt on Dec. 19, 1941, in Dubuque, Iowa, he went on to fill his life and his West Benton Avenue home to the brim with children, then grandchildren. Rod had his first three kids, Becky, Barry and Brian, with the late Jo Ann (Heidenrieck) Bower, whom he shared 11 years of marriage with.

Later, Lou and two more children, Kirk and Jesse, would come into his life. About a year before Rod and Lou's humble wedding on Nov. 16, 1974, Lou remembers when she first met the tall, handsome, mustachioed man at the golf course. Their first date, which involved taking a bunch of Holy Cross basketball players to Dixon, Illinois, would foreshadow a life filled with going to sporting events together. They attended every state basketball tournament from 1974 to 2019, and they traveled to many NCAA Final Fours and other March Madness games. Their shared love for Stockton athletics and the Chicago Cubs, as well as their competing loves for the Chicago Bears (Rod) and Green Bay Packers (Lou), were only topped by their dedicated fandom for whatever sports teams their kids and grandkids were on. They were the pair you could always count on to be on the sidelines, present for every game they could be.

But it wasn't just at sporting events, Rod was there at Thanksgiving with a homemade pecan pie in hand; at birthdays with his favorite cherry cake; at the lake on the Fourth of July with a whole mess of fireworks and no formal training; he was there at Christmas, where he always made the entire Brandt/Bower group feel like one family; he was on the party bus for family trips to Wrigley Field; at a family tailgate in some parking lot; or spending time at his kids' vacation homes in Breckenridge, Fort Myers, and on Lake Wisconsin. Time spent was one of Rod's love languages, and he showed it with abandon. He gave all of his children the will and determination to succeed in life, and he taught them how to find their own paths to raising loving families.

His long and fun-filled retirement allowed him to travel, go on afternoon rides with Lou and friends, check out breweries, perform mayoral duties and drive wherever family was on any given day. Rod will be remembered as someone who chose his words carefully, set high standards for himself and others, gave sage advice, helped fill the room with laughter and showed his love in actions. He was well-dressed, he worked hard and played hard, but a handyman he was not. (Just ask his kids who received electric shocks getting on the camper bus that wasn't properly grounded.)

But one thing he was exceptionally good at was making people feel connected. His support for his kids, his grandkids, his community, his church, and his sports teams created countless memories, strong family bonds and lasting friendships that went beyond him.

A battle with cancer cut his active life too short. But even in his last two challenging years, made better by the compassionate medical oversight of his daughter and a nurse practitioner, Becky, Rod lived his life, as he always had, with dignity, strength, and love.

He built the foundation for a strong family and a strong community, and they are his legacy. Rod Brandt was a husband, father, stepfather, father-in-law, grandfather, mayor, coach, fan, golfer, and friend who will be loved and remembered forever by so many.

Rod is preceded in death by his parents, Bart and Anita Brandt, and his granddaughter, Taylor Brandt. He is survived by his wife, Lou Brandt; his children, Becky (Dave) Bechling, Barry (Marci) Brandt, Brian (Brenda) Brandt, Kirk (Amy) Haring and Jesse (Kellie) Brandt; and his grandchildren, Alex (Natalie), Andie, Jonah, Grant, Casey, Connor, Anna, Branden, Caleb, Payton and Bryce.

A visitation was held on Monday, Dec. 12 from 4 to 8 p.m. at Holy Cross Catholic Church 223 E Front Ave in Stockton. The funeral service was Tuesday, Dec. 13 at 11 a.m. with a visitation beginning at 10 a.m. also at the church. Interment took place at Holy Cross Catholic Cemetery in Stockton.

In lieu of flowers, memorials in Rod's name can be made to Holy Cross Catholic Church or the V Foundation, a cancer research foundation founded by ESPN and legendary basketball coach Jim Valvano, at vffoundation.donordrive.com/campaign/Rod-Brandt-Memorial.

FROM LENA'S KITCHEN

The not so skinny cook

We finely had some December weather this past week. A lot of people have been waiting for snow. Those snow waiting people didn't get a lot, but it was a start. Those snow people are people who plow driveways, people who want overtime because they plow streets and highways, snowmobilers, and people who like to ski and sled. I am not any of those people because I walk with a cane and a walker. I wouldn't mind a little snow for Christmas, but then it can stop. I think the people I mentioned above have a pretty good chance of having some more snow in the next month. Snow would put us in the mood for Christmas. This week's recipes are featured to help us all to get ready for Christmas.

Cranberry and Bacon Cheese Dip

This baked appetizer can be made ahead of time, so it is a good one to serve for the holidays. Yes, it does have cranberries in it. I seem to be on a cranberry roll this year. Serve it on toasted sliced French bread baguettes, cut 1/4 inch thick or toasted pita bread.

2/3 C. mayonnaise
1/3 C. spreadable chive and onion cream cheese
1 T. stone-ground mustard
1/4 t. garlic pepper
3 C. shredded Swiss cheese
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen chopped onions, thawed and patted dry
8 pieces of bacon, cooked crisp and chopped
1/2 C. sliced almonds, divided
1/3 C. dried cranberries, chopped
Slices of French bread baguette, toasted or toasted pita bread

Preheat the oven to 325. In a large bowl, combine mayo, cream cheese, mustard, and garlic pepper. Add Swiss cheese; mix well. Stir in onions, bacon, 1/4 C. almonds and cranberries. Spread into a greased 1 or 2-quart baking dish. Sprinkle with remaining almonds. Place on a baking sheet. Bake, uncovered, until bubbly, 25 to 30 minutes. Serve warm with bread.

Wedge Salad with Blue Cheese Ranch Dressing

The PBS channel out of Wisconsin is one of my go-to stations to watch. They have had several specials about the history of Wisconsin supper clubs. Did you know that the term supper club originated in Wisconsin? I didn't because we have had supper clubs in northwest Illinois all my life. Do you remember the Red Cedar Inn and The Esquire in Freeport? I remember those places from my childhood, and that our family would go to a supper club once a year. What has that info to do with the recipe below? The wedge salad is a standard in any supper club that doesn't have a salad bar. This salad is a favorite of men because they love iceberg lettuce. Enjoy this blast from the supper club past.

Dressing:

1 1/2 C. mayonnaise
1 C. whole buttermilk
2 t. garlic powder
2 t. onion powder
4 t. hot sauce
1 t. salt
1 t. sugar
1 t. pepper
8 oz. blue cheese crumbles, divided
1/4 C. finely chopped fresh parsley
1/4 C. minced fresh chives
2 T. chopped fresh dill
Salad:
2 heads iceberg lettuce
8 slices chopped cooked bacon
2 C. cherry tomatoes, halved
Garnish: sliced fresh chives and black pepper

In the work bowl of a food processor, pulse together mayo, buttermilk, garlic powder, onion powder, hot sauce, salt, sugar, and pepper until well combined and mixture is slightly thickened. Add half of the blue cheese; pulse until cheese is incorporated and mixture is smooth.

In a medium bowl, stir together mayo mixture, parsley, sliced chives, dill, and remaining cheese. Cover and refrigerate for at least 1 hour or up to 3 days. Before assembling the salad, plunge the heads of lettuce into ice cold water. Let dry on a kitchen towel. Cut into quartered wedges. Divide lettuce wedges, bacon, and tomatoes among serving plates; serve with blue cheese dressing. Garnish with sliced chives and pepper

Cranberry-Orange Chicken

Sticking with my cranberry theme, this main dish is a great one to serve for company or for a family dinner. The green beans in the dish make for great color, and you have your vegetable taken care of too. If you like dark meat better, substitute chicken thighs for chicken breasts.

1 large navel orange, sliced
5 T. honey, divided
3 T. olive oil, divided
2/4 t. salt, divided
1 1/4 t. pepper, divided
1/2 t. ground allspice
4 bone-in skin-on chicken breasts
1 lb. French green beans, trimmed
1/2 C. fresh cranberries
2 cloves garlic, thinly sliced
1 T. chopped fresh rosemary

Position oven rack on top third of oven. Preheat oven to 375. Line a rimmed baking sheet with parchment paper. On prepared pan, place orange slices in a single layer. In a large bowl, whisk together 4 T. honey, 2 T. oil, 2 t. salt, 1 t. pepper, and allspice. Add chicken; stir until fully coated. Place chicken, skin side up, on orange slices. Bake for 30 minutes.

In another large bowl, stir together green beans, cranberries, garlic, rosemary remaining tablespoon of honey, remaining tablespoon of oil, remaining salt and pepper. Place around chicken, bake until thermometer reads 165 when inserted into thickest part of chicken, about 15 minutes. Garnish with rosemary if desired.

Beefy Shepherd's Pie

This casserole is a hearty one for a cold weeknight meal. You can prepare the meat and onions the night before and peel the potatoes and turnips, placing them in water. It is easy to assemble. The turnips add a sharp flavor to the potatoes. There are a lot of recipes using turnips for winter cooking. They are inexpensive and really help extend a dish. Try using them with things if you are not of fan of their stand-alone taste.

The 81-year-old female victim reported that a black male approached her demanding money and threatened her life by saying he was armed with a weapon. The victim refused and was able to get away from the suspect, later identified as Issom Brown, who then left the area.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of Issom Brown on Nov. 20, for the charges of Attempted Armed Robbery. On Nov. 22, Issom Brown was taken into custody in Sioux Falls, South Dakota and was transported to the Stephenson County Jail on Dec. 7.

Issom Brown is being held at the Stephenson County Jail on bond which was set at $100,000, 10% applies. The public is reminded that the defendant is presumed innocent and is entitled to a fair trial at which the government has the burden of proving guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

Lena-Winslow Lady Panthers off to 9-2 start

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

The Lena-Winslow girls basketball team is on fire after getting off to a 2-2 start. On Saturday, Nov. 19 the Panthers suffered a 38-27 loss to Rockford Christian that would drop the Panthers to a .500 winning percentage on the young season. Since then, the Panthers would go on a seven-game winning streak, including a mind-boggling win over the Durand Bulldogs. The Panthers have picked up some lopsided victories this year, but none like what we saw when they faced the Bulldogs on Tuesday, Dec. 6.

The Bulldogs have struggled through the young season as they came into the matchup with an 0-3 record. Meanwhile, the Panthers were the clear favorites as they came in at 6-2. Things got out of hand quickly in this one. Alyssa Daughenbaugh had the hot hand early on as she sank a pair of three pointers in the opening quarter. Rachel Setterstrom added four points of her own in the first quarter. Both Molly Amendt and Grace Groezinger each added baskets as well, but it was Daughenbaugh's seven first quarter points that led the way.

On the other side, Durand couldn't get anything going. The Le-Win defense kept the Bulldogs off the board throughout the opening quarter as the Panthers would take a 16-0 lead into the second. Since the Durand offense couldn't muster any points, the Lady Panthers decided to double their efforts and make up for it. Le-Win exploded for 25 points in the second quarter alone. Groezinger did a majority of the damage with six points in the quarter. Both Madi Chiles and Setterstrom had five second quarter points. Camdyn Huttenlocher, Chiles, and Setterstrom each hit three pointers in the quarter, as well.

The offensive struggles continued for the Bulldogs. Durand mustered just one point in the second quarter, leading the Panthers to a 40-point lead at the halftime break. This one was pretty much already out of reach as Le-Win went into the break up 41-1.

With the game already in hand, the Panthers were able to coast to victory in the second half. The third quarter featured a pair of three pointers from Janessa Esser and Sophie Johnston. Ava Vlasin added a basket of her own as the Panthers took a 51-1 lead into the fourth quarter.

Eventually, the Panthers would pick up a 60-3 victory in what was their fifth win in a row. Daughenbaugh led the Panthers with 10 points, while Setterstrom had nine and Groezinger had eight. Both Chiles and Esser finished with six points each. Following the victory, the Panthers kept the blowout wins coming. On Thursday, Dec. 8 the Panthers routed the Dakota Indians for a 42-10 victory. At that point, the Panthers had beat their last two opponents by a combined score of 102-13. The exceptional play continued on Saturday, Dec. 10 when Le-Win picked up a 46-24 victory over Oregon. It was the seventh consecutive win for the Panthers as they improved their overall record to 9-2 on the year. Le-Win will look to stay hot as they compete in the Pearl City Tournament throughout the week.

Pritzker signs changes to SAFE-T Act's cash bail provisions

By Jerry Nowicki
CAPITOL NEWS ILLINOIS

Gov. JB Pritzker on signed a follow-up measure to the SAFE-T Act criminal justice reform last week—the third such amendment since the law's initial passage in January 2021.

The changes approved by lawmakers in the fall veto session center on the law's provisions which will end the use of cash bail beginning in January.

The cash bail system, which in most cases allows offenders to post a dollar amount to be released from custody pretrial, will be replaced by one in which a judge weighs the individual's risk to the community and potential for fleeing prosecution in determining whether pretrial release will be revoked.

Its opponents have argued that the list of circumstances in which pretrial detention is specifically allowed is too limiting for judges.

Advocates, however, say that a presumption of pretrial release included in the law for lesser, nonviolent offenses will allow the courts to give more thorough hearings to those whose freedom is on the line prior to conviction.

"I'm pleased that the General Assembly has passed clarifications that uphold the principle we fought to protect: to bring an end to a system where wealthy violent offenders can buy their way out of jail, while less fortunate nonviolent offenders wait in jail for trial," Pritzker said in a statement. "Advocates and lawmakers came together and put in hours of work to strengthen and clarify this law, uphold our commitment to equity, and keep people safe."

In many cases, the changes were more substantial than "clarifications," as the measure, contained in House Bill 1095, expanded the list of offenses in which a judge can deny pretrial release. The change made it so all forcible felonies can lead to pretrial detention regardless of whether the defendant would be eligible for probation if a judge deems them a danger to the community.

It also specified that the changes take effect for those charged after Dec. 31, 2022, but those on the old bail system can petition the court to be placed into the new cash-free system on staggered timelines depending on the severity of their charges.

Members of House and Senate working groups worked for months on the changes with state's attorney and law enforcement groups, but Republicans said during floor debate that they were not included in the process.

Many concerns cited by opponents in the recent election season were addressed, however.

For example, the follow-up bill specifies that police maintain the authority to arrest trespassers.

While it maintains language instructing officers to issue a citation in lieu of custodial arrest for cases below Class A misdemeanors, it also specifies that police maintain discretion to make an arrest if the person is a threat to the community or they continue to break the law.

"We understand that public safety is not a static issue," House Deputy Majority Leader Jehan Gordon-Booth, D-Peoria, said in a statement. "This legislation strengthens the underlying SAFE-T Act with valuable feedback from survivors, law enforcement, prosecutors and other public safety advocates. If we want to make our communities safer, we have to work

Panthers win back-to-back games with half court buzzer beater

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

The Lena-Winslow Panthers have had no shortage of excitement in the early parts of their 2022-2023 boys basketball season. After dropping their season opener to a Wisconsin squad in the Belleville Wildcats, the Panthers responded in a big way.

The Panthers would have to wait a few days to get a shot at redemption, but it finally came when the Fulton Steamers arrived in Lena on Tuesday, Dec. 6. If there is any advantage the Steamers held over the Panthers, it was their game experience through the young season. While the Panthers came in at 0-1, the Steamers were already off to a 3-2 start.

Both teams were feeling each other out in the opening quarter. Each offense took time to settle in for a low scoring first. Rowen Schulz hit a pair of baskets in the first, helping the Panthers get out to a slim lead. Jake Zeal and Quinn Rodebaugh each added first quarter baskets as the Panthers took an 8-6 lead into the second.

That's where both teams appeared to come to life. Fulton caught fire from behind the arc, hitting four three pointers in the second quarter alone. The Panthers would hit a pair of second quarter three pointers of their own but did most of their work inside. Gage Dunker had a pair of key baskets in the second. Zeal came on strong with seven points in the quarter, including a three pointer. Le-Win would outscore the Steamers 16-14 in the second, allowing them to take a 24-20 lead into the half-time break.

The Steamers would continue their three-point barrage in the third quarter. Although they all came from one player, Fulton would hit another trio of three pointers following the break. The Panthers would also hit a pair of threes. Drew Streckwald and Owen Gilbertson each scored their first points of the game with third quarter three pointers. Schulz would hit a pair of free throws in the third, while Zeal added a basket of his own. Despite the distributed production, the Panthers were outscored 11-10 in the quarter. That set things up for an exciting finish as Le-Win took a 34-

31 lead into the final quarter.

The fourth quarter was the Gunar Lobdell show. After scoring just two points in the first three quarters combined, Lobdell came to life when it mattered most. While the rest of the Panther offense disappeared, Lobdell posted five points throughout the early parts of the quarter to help Le-Win keep pace.

Fulton had another solid quarter in the fourth. Eventually, the Steamers were able to tie the game at 41-41 with just under three seconds left in regulation. With one last opportunity, Lena-Winslow's head coach, Kyle Benson, chose to ride the hot hand.

The Panthers' inbound play led to some confusion for the Fulton defense. Having to go the full length of the court, Four Panthers started out on their end of the court, leaving the Steamers unaware of who would take the inbound. Eventually, it was Lobdell who took the inbound on the left side of the court. Lobdell looped to the right, almost like he was taking a sweep and following his blockers just like he did in football season.

The play worked to perfection. Lobdell dribbled to the center court logo, picked up the ball and heaved a shot from corner of the W on the logo. It was a high-arching shot. The buzzer would sound before the ball reached the rim. The gym fell silent for just a moment, and celebration ensued as Lobdell's shot fell through, giving the Panthers the 44-41 victory. It wasn't easy, but you couldn't ask for a more exciting way to get the first victory of the season.

Zeal led the Panthers with 11 points. Lobdell was next up with 10, while Schulz had nine. Streckwald added five points as the Panthers improved to 1-1.

On Thursday, Dec. 8 the Panthers continued riding the high of their last victory. They picked up a blowout victory over the Forrester Cardinals with a 57-28 win. It was Schulz who led the way in this one with 18 points, while Gilbertson had 10. The win improved the Panthers' record to 2-1 on the year.

After facing off with the Durand Bulldogs on Tuesday, Dec. 13 the Panthers will look to keep it rolling as they play host to the Winnebago Indians on Thursday, Dec. 15.

together. This update is a step in the right direction."

The measure clarifies judicial authority to revoke pre-trial release if the defendant violates electronic monitoring conditions and specifically states penalties may be imposed for intentional tampering with monitoring devices.

The SAFE-T Act specifies that defendants have a right to a public defender from their first appearance in court, a change that is expected to increase justice system workloads. The measure creates a grant program to aid public defenders with increased caseloads, but allocation of funding for the program would be up to future General Assemblies.

Asked at an unrelated news conference how he would gauge the effectiveness of the bill once it takes effect, Pritzker said he'd be looking to the Illinois Supreme Court and state's attorneys to outline unforeseen challenges.

"As with all laws, we're always going to be looking to see what's working really well and what things are maybe less so and who it is that's coming forward and saying, 'this is problematic,'" he said. "The most important thing is we're trying to make our neighborhoods and our communities safer all across the state of Illinois. This law and these amendments are designed to do just that."

Easy Mint Thins

These easy mint cookies taste a lot like the Girl Scout Mint cookies. They are perfect for a Christmas tray. They require the purchase of candy coating. You decide if you want milk or dark chocolate. The candy coating is available in large grocery stores and sometimes at Dollar General.

24 oz. milk or dark chocolate candy coating
1½ t. peppermint extract
60 Ritz crackers
12 oz. white candy coating, melted

Chopped Andes mint candies, crushed spearmint candies, and green colored sprinkles

In a microwaveable bowl, melt chocolate candy coating, stirring until smooth. Stir in extract. Dip crackers in chocolate candy coating; allow excess to drip off. Place on waxed paper; let stand until set. Drizzle tops with white candy coating; decorate as desired; let stand until set. Store in airtight containers.

Final Thoughts

Lena had a great parade the first weekend in December. There were plenty of entries—lots of lights, candy, and people. Santa and Mrs. Claus' float was beautiful, the tree lighting went forward without a hitch, and there was plenty of action downtown with food trucks and decorations. It was a great night. Hats off to the Lena Business and Professional Association for a great job to get us all thinking about Christmas.

In Lena there are plenty of places to buy gifts. You can buy clothes and gifts at Ev Marie Boutique, Sweet Stitches, the Lena Drug Store, Lena Mercantile, DeVoe Floral, Down on the Farm, The Mill, The South Door Décor, Crafty Collections, Sugarbakers, and Hometown Trophies. You can find something at the Thrift Shop, Wolf Hollow Golf Course, Sweetie Me, and Brandon's Hardware. Gift certificates and food items are available from all of the previous businesses as well as Torkelson Cheese, Barrel and Brie, A.J.'s Lena Maid Meats, Coaches Bar and Grill, Mulligans, Rafters, Subway, Saporitos, The Garden View Restaurant, and Main Street Eats and Treats. If you want to be practical, there are also gift cards at Dollar General, Casey's, Sullivans, FS Fast Stop, and Spirit Gas. You don't have to go far to get any Christmas gifts. If you don't live in Lena, check out your Hometown businesses for their unique items. Remember that local businesses are the lifeblood of your community.

I set as my goal to get some cookies baked; I did get two kinds made and hope to do a little more. I need to do some Christmas cards this coming week. I had my first Christmas gatherings last week. It was wonderful to eat good food and see old friends. That is what the holidays are all about.

If you have some good cookie recipes, we would like you to share them. If you have some good holiday recipes, we would like to see them too. Or if you have enjoyed this column for many years, let me know that too. You can contact us in person, by mail at From Lena's Kitchens, Shopper's Guide at 240 W. Main St. or email us at scoopshopper@rvpublishing.com.

Chesney warns of lame duck shenanigans

Democrats plan to attack 2nd Amendment rights

Illinois State Representative Andrew Chesney (R-89) is outraged by the Democrat's planned attack on Illinoisans' right to protect themselves, their families and their property from criminals intent on doing them harm. "The introduction of HB 5855 earlier this week by Democrats who are more concerned with protecting criminals than victims and our families, is just one more assault on our Constitutional rights," explained Chesney. "Moreover, the proposed legislation contains provisions that would make criminals of law-abiding citizens." Some of the provisions of HB 5855 include:

- Creating a gun registry for almost every kind of semi-automatic weapon,
- Outlawing magazines holding more than 10 rounds from being made, sold, or possessed,
- Restricting individuals under the age of 21 from obtaining a FOID card,
- Limiting the ability of individuals under the age of 21 to hunt, and
- Requiring law-abiding citizens to pay a $25 fee each for certain firearms currently owned or risk being charged as a felon.

"It is not lost on me that the Democrat's SAFE-T Act, signed into law earlier this year, releases those currently charged with violent acts back out on the streets while at the same time this new legislation creates felons out of law abiding citizens," said Chesney. "Democrats are making our communities less safe and then taking away our ability to protect ourselves. It is absurd and reckless." Chesney warns there is still time for HB 5855 to be called for a vote in the January lame duck session and
