Fall into Stockton festival draws big crowds to downtown Stockton

Tony Carton
Editor

STOCKTON — Fall into Stockton 2015 was bigger and better than ever and the best is yet to come. The event featured Basses Wild inflatables, live entertainment, arts and crafts, food and dozens of booths featuring the goods and services offered by Stockton area merchants.

"This is a Chamber of Commerce sponsored event to promote the businesses of Stockton and the surrounding areas," said Chamber Vice-President Sam Stoddard. "We've teamed up with the Boy Scouts of America Camporee in the park and the sanctioned tug of war event, so today is just bringing everybody together."

He said the daylong event was definitely a positive activity for the Village of Stockton.

"The Stockton Chamber is rebuilding its reputation and working to re-energize the whole Stockton community to really get involved, spruce up the town and get things going," said Stoddard.

"We're trying to shake things up so we can get some energy back into Stockton."

He said even bigger and better events are still ahead for the Chamber and for Stockton.

"Our next event is the traditional Stockton Christmas Walk and tree lighting, then the opportunity for a meeting with Mr. and Mrs. Claus," Stoddard said. "We are really trying to promote more community involvement and volunteerism. We're trying to get folks up and out into the community. We've got a lot of projects that need to be done and we need to put a new face on our village."

Katherine Walker of the Galeana/Jo Daviess County Convention and Visitors bureau said traffic had been brisk at her table.

"I'm distributing information about the Lead Rush which is our half-marathon in November at Chestnut Mountain," Walker said. "The weekends leading up that event are busy and right now, we're waiting for the trees to start changing colors."

Apple Canyon Lake hosts its thirty-seventh annual Ice Cream Social and Craft Fair

APPLE CANYON LAKE — Traditionally, an ice cream social is an eighteenth century planned event with a primary focus of serving ice cream to guests. Socials were a summer-time special event and usually hosted by a neighborhood or church and held in ice cream gardens that were common at the time.

Not to be outdone, Apple Canyon Lake will host its thirty-seventh annual Ice Cream

Social and Craft Fair with a slight twist on times gone by at Apple Canyon Lake, Sunday, September 6. Desserts, homemade pies, ice cream treats and more are the order of the day.

We all know to eat dessert first, but eventually folks want to move on to something more substantial and ACL is ready with a BBQ ground beef sandwich or a grilled hot dog for fuller fare and then, because you can, a second pass at the dessert table is always a good idea.

There are plenty of in and outdoor dining space this year and they will be surrounded by craft booths packed with everything from plants to jewelry to baked goods to woodworking and more.

Apple Canyon Lake Communications Director Cynthia Donth-Carton said the social is an opportunity for folks to come out from the city and neighboring communities, visit friends and maybe take something homemade back home.

"This is traditionally a huge event where we serve between 500 and 600 guests," said Donth-Carton. "There is something for every member of the family. We have space for as many as 50 vendors this year.

She said the event is a volunteer staffed event.

"Our Recreation Committee really goes all out to see that everyone has a great day," said Donth-Carton. "It's a three day weekend, so folks come in from all around the tri-states. It's the end of the summer season, so it's usually a big family bash with folks just getting together to enjoy the start of the fall season at Apple Canyon Lake."

The ACL Garden Club will be selling perennials and other garden craft items.

She said the social is the Recreation Committee's largest fundraiser with past profits from the event going toward enhancements at the clubhouse, including the new flat screen television and DVD player, stove, freezer, coffee station, and more, as well as yearly,

Elizabeth Nursing Home celebrates the last bash of summer

Tony Carton
Editor

ELIZABETH — The folks at the Elizabeth Nursing Home celebrated the final days of summer 2015 on Saturday with their first annual Summer's Last Bash family potluck picnic.

"This is a community picnic, also the families were invited; it's just a way of giving back to the community and the public for supporting us," said staff member Lisa Bonvillian.

The fare included hot dogs, bratwurst, chips and beverages. There was a raffle of a quilt that was donated by the family of a loved one who was a former resident of the home.

"We have door prizes from a number of our downtown Elizabeth businesses and Gary Horton with his traveling petting zoo and the Terrapin Ridge Ramblers are playing music for us," she said. "We also have face painting and a fun face cutout board for silly photos."

She said the board is handicap accessible and was made by Jane Johnson who works in Assisted Living at the facility.

"Of course, no picnic would be complete without an appearance by JoJo the Clown who is Jane's sister, Jeannie Ohms," Bonvillian said.

She said future activities for the residents include a vintage car show and field trips to area restaurants and places of interest.

"At some point in October we are trying to arrange for a cruise with the Dubuque boat," said Bonvillian. "That's still in the works and we're hoping it will work out."

Gary Horton of Friendly Lake-side Critters is a regular at events at the Elizabeth Nursing Home. He said he's been coming three or four times a year for about six years and loves doing it.

"We enjoy visiting the nursing homes in the area and the residents always seem to have a great time," Horton said. "We will keep coming as long as they will let us."

She said Fall into Stockton is a strong event for Stockton.

"The weather was a little rough earlier, but it's clearing out and folks are coming downtown, so it's looking a bit better," Walker said. "There is quite a bit of traffic and the booths are staying busy."

You can be a part of Stockton's rebirth. Get involved. Contact the Stockton Chamber of Commerce at 815-947-6090 or Stockton Strong at 815.947.2878. Be part of the solution.

Three year old Devin Bonvillian visited the Elizabeth Nursing Home for Saturday's community picnic and loved the rabbits in the petting zoo.

One of the more popular activities at the Elizabeth Nursing Home Last Bash of Summer was the photo opportunities at the cutout board. The board was designed and built handicap accessible by Jane Johnson who works in Assisted Living at the facility.

VIEWPOINT

SENATE WEEK IN REVIEW

Aug. 24-28

SPRINGFIELD — As Illinois' budget impasse continues eight weeks into the 2016 fiscal year, the latest unemployment figures and economic assessment supports the Rauner Administration's push for a better business climate as part of a budget deal with the legislative majority.

The budget impasse between the administration and Democrat majorities in the Senate and House of Representatives leaves Illinois government running mostly by court-imposed orders and agreements. Only state education spending and federal funding for programs have received legislative approval and were signed into law by Gov. Bruce Rauner. The root of the budget impasse is years of fiscal mismanagement that left Illinois with few resources.

Illinois job growth lags nation

The latest report from the Illinois Department of Employment Security (IDES) shows the state ended July with an unemployment rate of 5.8 percent, down from 5.9 percent in June. Illinois also gained about 1,900 nonfarm payroll jobs, but job growth continues to trail behind other states. IDES Director Jeff Mays said if Illinois employment growth had matched the rest of the nation this year, "Illinois would have added 40,000 more jobs by now."

That trend was confirmed by a corresponding report from the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL). According to the DOL, Illinois's rate of job growth in the past year was both slower than surrounding states and last among neighboring states in per-capita job growth. So, while the report shows that Illinois gained 50,000 jobs over the past year, our neighboring state Indiana gained 64,000 – almost 30% more – despite having only half the population.

"F" doesn't mean "friendly" for small businesses

According to an annual survey released this month, Illinois gets an "F" on its small-businesses report card. The fourth annual Small Business Friendliness Survey by Thumbtack.com, which polls nearly 18,000 small business owners across the country, gave Illinois its worst possible grade, tied with three other states: California, Connecticut, and Rhode Island. Each of our neighboring states made out much better, ranging from a "C+" (Iowa and Kentucky) to a high of "B+" (Indiana).

Opportunity elsewhere?

Another report on Illinois' economy indicates that thousands of Illinoisans found job opportunities, in other states. The Illinois Policy Institute (IPI), a public policy think tank, cites figures from the Internal Revenue Service. IPI reports, "...in 2012, Illinois lost more taxpayers and taxpayer wealth to a greater number of states than ever before." The Institute's analysis indicates that nearly 67,000 taxpayers and their dependents left Illinois taking with them $3.7 billion in annual income.

The reports are among many revealed in recent years and months that bolster the claim that Illinois must do more to improve its business/jobs climate. Numerous reforms to ease state regulations and lower the cost of hiring were proposed by Republican lawmakers in recent years and in 2015. The year began with hope that a new governor, elected on an argument that change was needed, would usher in a revitalized Illinois economy; however, most of the proposed changes ran into partisan opposition.

Regulation reform = economic growth

Gov. Rauner signed legislation during the week that supporters said is an example of what can be accomplished when political parties and opposing interests work together for the benefit of the entire state.

Senate Bill 1672 creates a state process for Illinois companies seeking an air permit for a new or expanded facility. Currently, companies must go through the federal government to obtain the permits. It's a process that can take years to complete, which can lead to delays in construction and hiring or decisions not to build. Under the new state permit process, companies will receive their regulatory decision within one year. The legislation is the result of an agreement between the Attorney General's Office, the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, Sierra Club/Illinois Environmental Council, and the Illinois Chamber of Commerce. Illinois joins 41 other states with a similar process.

Other legislative action

Gov. Rauner took action on a number of bills during the week. A complete list is available on the Senate Action page of the Senate Republican Caucus Web site.

Disaster recovery assistance

Earlier this month, the U.S. Department of Agriculture granted the state's request for official disaster designation covering 101 of Illinois' 102 counties, resulting from the damage caused by heavy rainfall and flooding earlier this summer. Now, the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) is making federal economic injury disaster loans available.

The disaster loans are available to small businesses, small agricultural cooperatives, and small businesses engaged in aquaculture, and private non-profit organizations. The SBA can be contacted for applications and more information at 1-800-659-2955. Information about the Agriculture Disaster Declaration can still be obtained through county Farm Service Agency offices.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Jim Sacia

I've written about it before but some analysis needs to be mentioned.

After winning my first state representative election in November 2002, many congratulatory comments included "whatever you do Jim don't become one of them".

In eleven years, I never identified "one of them". My analysis is simple, we like and respect our area elected persons, it's the rest of them, especially those from Chicago, we need to be wary of. Is that unfair? Of course it is. I developed a deep and sincere appreciation for most of my colleagues with only few exceptions. Most work very hard to get elected and had one objective – Do the best they could for the folks back home.

Here is the real conundrum. Many of these colleagues had such differing views from you and I that it made my head spin. Many sincerely believe it's the government's job to care for everyone. Handouts should be simply for the asking. My favorite – All guns should be outlawed and confiscated – HUH!! How crazy can you get was my thought. Still, though strongly disagreeing, I came to respect their opinion as that is what the majority of their district wanted.

Here is where we often error. It's easy to take those opposing opinions as those folks are corrupt and not to be trusted. Without question, the most common suggestion that I heard from the folks back home, or in many cases demand, was "segregate Chicago from the rest of Illinois". "Get rid of Chicago and Illinois will be great again". The comment always received chuckles from those nearby, but the comments were sincere.

Chicago and the collar counties make up about fifty percent of the 13 million Illinois citizens. For the most part downstate (yes even East Dubuque is downstate for political understanding) can work in concert with the Chicago area.

One must never lose sight that Chicago is the horsepower center of the state and the rest of us are the "red headed stepchildren" in many of their eyes. Finding total common ground will never happen. Strong leadership throughout Illinois is imperative to maintain a check and balance.

FROM LENA'S KITCHEN

The not so skinny cook

We finally got some rain. It was wonderful not to have to water this weekend. The weather is supposed to get really warm; perhaps it is the last hurrah of summer. The heat and rain should help some of those vegetables grow. I love eating fruits and vegetables of the season, and this week's recipes will feature some of our summer's bounty.

The first recipe is for roasted tomatoes. You can use these roasted tomatoes in many main dishes. You can also use it in many appetizers. The tomatoes will keep in the refrigerator for five days or frozen for two months. If you have any extra tomatoes, this recipe is a great way to preserve them without a lot of work.

Roasted Tomatoes

3 lbs. large tomatoes, cored, bottom 1/8 inch trimmed and sliced 3/4 inch thick

2 garlic cloves, peeled and smashed

1/4 t. dried oregano

Salt and pepper

3/4 C. extra virgin olive oil

Adjust oven rack to middle position and preheat oven to 425. Line rimmed baking sheet with aluminum foil. Arrange tomatoes in even layer on prepared sheet, with larger slices around the edge and smaller slices in the center. Place the garlic cloves on the tomatoes. Sprinkle with oregano and 1/4 t. salt and season with pepper to taste. Drizzle oil evenly over the tomatoes.

Bake for 30 minutes, rotating sheet halfway through baking. Remove the sheet from the oven. Reduce the oven temperature to 300 degrees and prop oven door to cool oven to the 300 degrees. Using thin spatula, flip tomatoes.

Return tomatoes to oven with door closed and continue to cook until spotty brown, skins are blistered, and tomatoes have collapsed to 1/4 to 1/2 inch thick, about 1-2 hours. Remove from oven and let cool completely, about 30 minutes. Discard garlic and transfer tomatoes and oil to an airtight container. Tomatoes can be refrigerated for up to 5 days or frozen for up to 2 months.

This week the recipes are featuring some peaches. The peaches are really good this year, and there are many ways to use them. This salad is a great one using fruit, bacon, and spinach. I have a salad that uses strawberries and spinach, so the substitution of peaches for strawberries is an easy one. Enjoy this great flavor combination.

Spinach and Bacon Salad with Peaches

1 C. olive oil

1/3 C. cider vinegar

1/4 C. sugar

1 t. celery seed

1 t. ground mustard

1/2 t. salt

Salad

6 C. fresh baby spinach

2 medium peaches, sliced

1 3/4 C. sliced fresh mushrooms

3 hard-cooked eggs, halved and sliced

1/2 lb. bacon strips, cooked and crumbled

1 small red onion, halved and thinly sliced

1/4 C. sliced almonds, toasted

Grated Parmesan cheese

Place the dressing ingredients in a blender and cover and process until blended. In a large bowl, combine the spinach, peaches, mushrooms, eggs, bacon, onion and almonds. Serve with dressing and cheese. To toast the nuts: Spread the almonds in a jelly roll pan. Bake at 350 for 5-10 minutes or until lightly browned, stirring occasionally.

There was beautiful cabbage at the Farmer's Market. This coleslaw recipe is a creamy one because of the buttermilk. I think the buttermilk cuts the taste of the may to make it extra tasty. Have a great coleslaw side with this easy recipe.

Chopped Coleslaw

1/2 medium head of cabbage

1/2 C. finely chopped celery

1/2 C. finely chopped red pepper

1/3 C. finely chopped sweet onion

Dressing:

1/2 C. mayonnaise

1/4 C. sugar

1/4 C. milk

1/4 C. buttermilk

2 t. white vinegar

1/4 t. hot sauce

Cut the cabbage into slices and place in food processor one half of the cabbage at a time; pulse until chopped. Transfer to a large bowl until all the cabbage has been processed.

Add the remaining vegetables to the cabbage. In a small bowl, whisk the dressing ingredients until blended. Pour over the coleslaw and toss to coat. Refrigerate for at least 1 hour before serving.

If you have a lot of zucchini (and those of you who raise zucchini always have tons of it), this soup is a great one for summer and fall. It uses a lot of zucchini and some other vegetables. The sausage gives the zucchini a little zip. The soup can be made the night before and plugged in when you leave for work. Serve it with some crusty bread and a spinach salad, and you will have a feast. You can have a heartier meal if you serve it over noodles or rice. This soup is even better the next day.

Slow Cooker Zucchini Soup

1 T. olive oil

1 lb. sausage

2 C. chopped celery

8 C. zucchini, cut crosswise

into 1/2-inch slices

2 cans (28 oz. each) diced tomatoes, undrained

2 green peppers, cut into 1/2-inch wide strips

1 C. chopped onion

1 t. salt

1 t. sugar

1 t. dried oregano

1 t. Italian season

1 t. dried basil

1/4 t. garlic powder

1/2 C. grated parmesan cheese

Heat the olive oil in a large skillet over medium-high heat until hot. Add the sausage and cook, stirring and breaking up lumps, until browned and crumbly, 8-10 minutes. Pour off the grease. Add the celery to the sausage in the skillet and cook, stirring occasionally, until the celery is softened (about 10 minutes.)

Transfer sausage mixture to a 5 or 6 quart slow cooker. Stir in the zucchini, tomatoes (with juice), bell peppers, onion, salt, sugar, oregano, Italian seasoning, basil and garlic powder.

Cook, covered on LOW until the zucchini is tender (at least 6 hours). Serve the soup in bowls and sprinkle with teaspoons of parmesan cheese. You can serve this over rice or noodles.

Still want another zucchini recipe? This recipe pairs zucchini and fresh blueberries. It also makes a large pan, so it is a great recipe to take to a reunion or potluck. Be sure to use the two extra tablespoons of flour to toss the blueberries. They won't sink to the bottom if they are tossed in the flour. Enjoy these unique bars at any time.

Blueberry Zucchini Squares

2 C. shredded zucchini
½ C. buttermilk
1 T. grated lemon peel
3 T. lemon juice
1 C. butter, softened
2½ C. sugar
2 eggs
¾ C. plus 2 T. flour, divided

1 t. baking soda
½ t. salt
2 C. fresh blueberries

Glaze:

2 C. powdered sugar
¼ C. buttermilk
1 T. grated lemon peel
2 t. lemon juice
1/8 t. salt

Preheat the oven to 350.
Grease a 15 x 10 x 1 inch baking pan. In a small bowl, combine the zucchini, buttermilk, lemon peel, and lemon juice. Toss to combine. In a large bowl, cream the butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in the eggs, one at a time. In another bowl, whisk ¾ C. flour, baking soda, and salt. Gradually add to creamed mixture, alternately with the zucchini mixture, missing well after each addition. Toss the blueberries with remaining flour and fold into the batter.

Transfer batter to the prepared pan, spreading evenly. Bake 30-35 minutes or until light golden brown and a tooth pick inserted into the center comes out clean. Cool completely in the pan.

In a small bowl, mix the glaze ingredients until smooth; spread over the top and stand until set.

The hardest part of this next recipe is crushing the gingersnaps. This great pie is easy to make and delicious also. You do need to plan ahead because you need to freeze the crust and refrigerate the pie. If you don't have fresh peaches, you can drain a can (15oz.) of slices peaches and use them in place of the fresh peaches. If you happen to run into Anna's Ginger Cookies, they are the best. This pie is a really cool way to end summer.

No-Bake Peach Melba Pie

1¼ C. finely crushed gingersnaps

3 oz. white chocolate, melted

1 T. butter, melted

4 oz. cream cheese, softened

1/3 C. powdered sugar

2 T. milk

1 ½ C. whipped topping, thawed

2 peaches, peeled

2 T. raspberry jam

1 C. fresh raspberries

Combine the gingersnap crumbs, chocolate, and butter; press onto the bottom and up the side of a 9-inch pie plate sprayed with cooking spray. Freeze for 20 minutes.

In a mixing bowl, beat the cream cheese, sugar and milk until blended. Gently stir in the whipped topping. Cut the peaches into ½-inch thick slices. Reserve 3 peach slices for garnish; wrap tightly in plastic wrap. Finely chop remaining peach slices; stir into cream cheese mixture. Spoon on to the crust. Refrigerate pie and reserved peach slices 2 hours or until pie is firm.

Before serving, microwave jam in a small bowl on HIGH for 30 seconds or just until warmed; stir and then drizzle over the pie. Garnish with raspberries and reserved peach slices.

I have to do something with the wonderful Farm Bureau peaches. I think I will make a traditional peach pie and put it in the freezer for a Labor Day picnic. I love to slice them and eat them on ice cream. There is no better taste than fresh and juicy peaches. The peach delivery sends the signal that Fall is arriving. Volleyball and football games started this week. The Friday night game was a wet one. Isn't it just like the weather—we cry and pray for rain for weeks, and then when we start football, the monsoon comes. I guess we better not complain because we needed to have it. This weekend there will be a Farmer's Market, so stock up on the vegetables you need. We are still looking for summer recipes, but also are on the hunt for fall recipes. If you have some recipes to share, you can contact us in person, by mail, or email us at From Lena's Kitchens, Shopper's Guide at 213 S. Center St. or email scoopshopper@rvpublishing.com.

CHURCH NOTES

PASTOR'S CORNER

"GPS Failure!"

By Pastor Rick Bader

St. John's Lutheran Church, Lena

LENA — Last week I took my wife to the Madison airport so she could fly to Texas to see our grandson. I've only been to the Madison airport a couple of times and each time, the GPS on my phone has taken me a different way. I have no trouble getting to Madison and I can find every hospital in Madison with no wrong turns.

Back to my story. This time the GPS takes me from the Beltline to John Nolen Drive. Okay, I don't know which way is better, but we got there. I'm leaving the airport, make a turn on Packer Avenue—(couldn't be Chiefs Boulevard)—and I realize that my GPS is not working. It froze up! I didn't particularly like the way I had come, so I was trying to remember the way I had traveled to and from in a previous visit. I made two correct turns, but then one wrong turn. I knew it didn't look familiar.

I pulled into a parking lot to get my bearings. Of course, who carries a map in their car these days? I messed with the GPS, but it wouldn't take my home address, my church address, and denied that Lena existed. "No such destination!" I've only lived there for 35 years! I felt like I was in the movie, "Back To The Future" where Marty goes back to the past and the subdivision he lives in for the present, hasn't even been built yet. What do you mean there's no Aspen Court.

I shut my phone off, waited

Calvary UMC to host annual community garage and bake sale

STOCKTON — Calvary United Methodist Church will host its annual fall fundraiser Garage and Bake Sale, from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m., Thursday and Friday, Sept. 3 and 4; final sale day-Saturday, Sept. 5, from 7 a.m. to Noon. The indoor community garage sale will be held at the air-conditioned church fellowship hall, 315 West Maple Ave., Stockton. Come early for the best selection of bargains in women's and men's clothing, toys, games, infant and children's items, electronics, tools, kitchen & bath items, collectibles, home décor, picture frames, yard & garden a few moments, and turned it back on. Mission accomplished! Well, kind of. It still wouldn't take Aspen Court, but it took Country Lane Drive, with the exception that the church's address is 625, while the GPS said it was 601-699! Close enough. I just needed to get to a part of Madison that I was familiar with. I hadn't strayed far from the route and it all started to come back to me. That's good, because I've got to do it again this week, when I pick my wife up from the airport.

Our spiritual life is kind of like that, more from neglect than anything. God's GPS, His Word and Spirit are always there and always on target. The problem is ours—we tend to ignore God's GPS, and trust our own sense of direction. Our destination is our home in heaven, an unfamiliar journey—except that Jesus says, "I Am the Way and the Truth and the Life. No one comes to the Father except through Me." (John 14:6) We don't need to worry about directions when we know Jesus as our Lord and Savior. He is our built in GPS through this life to heaven, and He will never fail us.

The Psalmist reminds us: "Your word is a lamp to my feet and a light to my path." (Ps 119:105) Sounds like a pretty good GPS system to me! Without that light, all we could do is grope around in the darkness, lost and not able to see our way home. God's Word lights the path before us and shows us the way home. Hope to see you there!

Christ Lutheran Church of Stockton will celebrate its one-hundred-twenty-fifth anniversary with a series of events over the first weekend of October

Christ Lutheran Church celebrates 125 years

STOCKTON — Activities and events in Stockton, October 3, 4 will celebrate the one-hundred-twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Christ Lutheran Church of Stockton. Events during these two days highlight the history and legacy of the congregation and the Stockton Community.

Events on Saturday October 3 will be held in the Stockton Park for members of the congregation and the Stockton Community. A lunch of hot dogs, brats, chips and drinks will be served by the ladies of the church from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Stockton Park House with proceeds to benefit the Church Anniversary Fund.

Church historical displays and photos will be on display in the Park House.

At 1:30 p.m. the "Peace Seekers" will present a concert at the stage in the park. This will be followed by a presentation by Rep Brian Stewart of an Illinois General Assembly resolution honoring the history and legacy of Christ Lutheran Church in the Stockton community. Others invited to this ceremony are Stockton Village President Rodney Brandt, Melody Heidenreich of the Stockton Heritage Museum, and State Senator Tim Bivins.

Apple River fire department and American Legion host Chicken BBQ Weekend

Tony Carton
Editor

APPLE RIVER — The folks in Apple River were going out on a limb over the weekend claiming their BBQ chicken is the best anywhere and if smiling faces are any gauge, they may be right. Hundreds of area residents turned out for what has become something of an end of summer tradition and none left hungry or disappointed.

"This is our annual chicken BBQ and Park Days," said Apple River Fire Chief Richard Huizenga. "It's a joint venture with the fire department and the American Legion and it benefits both organizations."

He said his department uses the funding gained from the event for new equipment.

"Down the road we are looking to buy another tanker," Huizenga said.

They were cooking about 900 chicken halves and expected to be sold out well before the day's other activities slowed down.

"We've got lawn mower races over at the old school, a tractor pull downtown and ball games at the ball park so we've got things going on all over town," he said.

American Legion Adjutant Mike Toepfer said the event is the single fundraiser for the Legion and for the department.

"It's a wonderful community activity," said Toepfer. "We are a community of around 200, but we are going to serve 900 chicken dinners today."

He said the event could not happen without the dedication of a full cadre of volunteers.

"We also gave out the Karl Bush trophy to William Cooper," Toepfer said. "Bill is always volunteering and doing more than his share and this is just a great way to recognize him and thank him for helping."

He said everybody works hard, but there is always a few that go above and beyond and the Bush trophy is just a small way of saying, thank you.

"We get great support from the town and Apple Canyon Lake and folks from all around the area," he said. "We really appreciate their support."

Stockton Boy Scouts host Camporee to celebrate 100 years of scouting

Tony Carton
Editor

STOCKTON — A camporee is a local or regional gathering of Scouting units for a period of camping and common activities. The event can be a perfect showplace for a Scouting program and, therefore, go far beyond just being a gathering of boys. The camporee staged at Stockton was just such an event.

"Troop 31 of Stockton is hosting a Camporee celebrating their 100 year anniversary," said Scout leader John Scott. "We brought in six troops from all across the tri-state area and we will all be camping in Stockton Park for two nights."

The Scouts were kept busy practicing competitive scout skill activities for leadership.

"They did a timed tent setup, a blindfolded tarp setup, a knot relay, some compass work and we've been practicing throwing tomahawks," Scott said. "They also did a nuclear reactor project where they removed simulated bio-hazard materials."

He said the troop is hoping to host similar events in the future.

"We would like to do this annually," he said. "The troop is set up with equipment and we can keep using it over and over, so all we will have to do for future Camporees is promote them and get more troops involved."

Scott said the Camporee was a positive thing for the village.

Practicing the art of tomahawk throwing is harder than it looks, but many of the Boy Scouts that participated in the Camporee staged over the weekend in Stockton Park mastered the technique.

"The event brought people from outside our town in to our town and at the same time we are promoting activities that we are doing for our youth right here in our city park, so it's a great thing for Stockton," said Scott. "Having this kind of visibility is huge."

Boy Scouts representing six troops gathered in Stockton Park over the weekend to celebrate 100 years of scouting in Stockton.

Chow time at the Boy Scout Camporee staged over the weekend in Stockton Park was a busy time for the leaders and the boys assigned mess detail.

Celebrate Fall into Stockton

The weather was a little rough Saturday, but the crowds still turned out for the annual Fall into Stockton festival held throughout the village' downtown.

Pearl City Chew and Brew co-owner Sylvia Martin and crew were kept busy Saturday afternoon serving up the establishment's signature pulled pork sandwich during the annual Fall into Stockton festival.

(Right) The petting zoo run by the Stockton FFA Alumni was a very popular stop on the route through the Fall into Stockton event and this particular goat seemed to be really enjoying the attention.
