Breakthrough Treatment Available In Winnebago

Dr. Johnson uses the Sigma Instrument to analyze a patient's spine and pin-point areas of Nerve Impingement Syndrome.

Winnebago, IL - Imagine forty years ago if you were told that lasers would replace scalpels in surgery or that robotic instruments would build cars; you may not have believed it. By the same token, would you believe that chiropractic treatments could be performed using a special hand-held instrument developed by NASA scientists; all while you were sitting in an upright position without any turning or twisting movements?

According to Dr. William Johnson, "This new form of computerized treatment is so gentle and effective, that it amazes even the most skeptical patients. It's called the Sigma Instrument and is the latest, state-of-the-art technology in existence today, and the only one in the Winnebago area."

The Sigma Instrument can safely and gently analyze and treat the spine and other joints to remove the nerve impingement that is often the cause of pains in the low back, neck, shoulder and elsewhere in the body. It also works on a variety of muscular conditions to loosen tight muscles with ease and comfort. Many patients say that it's like getting a mini-massage. Even patients with knee, hip and foot problems such as plantar fasciitis are being helped. It is also covered by most insurance companies including medicare.

Dr. Johnson says that, "The secret to the Sigma Instrument lies in its ability to deliver an extremely precise adjustment." He says that, "Even though traditional forms of adjusting also work, people are drawn to this new technique because of how gentle it is and does not involve any twisting, especially in the neck.

Many people love getting adjusted with traditional manual techniques, all of which are safe and effective. But there are a large number of people who never get to experience the amazing benefits of chiropractic because they are scared to have their spine adjusted in that way," says Dr. Johnson. Now, there is no longer a reason to be weary.

The Sigma Instrument is perfect for anyone who has been thinking about going to a chiropractor, but hasn't yet made that decision. Dr. Johnson wants everyone to be able to experience these same benefits and if you have any of the following conditions, the Sigma Instrument may be the answer you've been looking for...

- Low back pain
- Headaches
- Scoliosis
- Planter Fasciitis
- Sciatic pain
- Carpal Tunnel Syndrome
- TMJ
- Knee or hip pain
- Neck & Shoulder pain
- Arthritis
- Fibromyalgia
- Sports Injuries

Treatment with the Sigma Instrument is consistent, measurable and extremely gentle. Call our office today and mention this article to receive a FREE Sigma Instrument analysis to pin-point your problem areas and to see how the Sigma Instrument can help. Call 815-335-2820 today to reserve your free Sigma Instrument Analysis Scan. This technological marvel can help you return to a healthier lifestyle. You may no longer have to live with a persistent, painful condition. Call us today.

A WINNING STRATEGY

Sensible tips for healthy eating

FAMILY FEATURES

With so many social events that revolve around food, it's not easy to get a fresh start on making healthy food choices. However, with a little thought and planning, you can prevent taking your body on a roller coaster ride – without having to choose between food deprivation and satisfaction.

“Whether you are hosting an event or attending someone else's celebration, planning ahead can help you stay on track,” said Mitzi Dulan, a registered dietitian and nationally recognized nutrition and wellness expert. “Having quick and simple strategies and recipes on hand makes it easy to eat well and keep you feeling great.”

Put a winning plan in place to take a new look at your approach to eating smart with these tips from Dulan, who is the team nutritionist for the World Series champion Kansas City Royals.

Don't skip meals.

Although skipping breakfast may seem like a good way to cut calories, it's a plan that can actually backfire, making you hungrier as the day wears on, and more likely to overeat or sneak unhealthy snacks. Start each day with a well-rounded breakfast to fuel your body. Apply a similar approach to events later in the day, as well. You may be tempted to skip a meal so you can enjoy the treats at a party, but chances are you'll end up overdoing it with high-calorie indulgences, so make sure you fuel up ahead of time.

Love what you eat.

Be mindful of the food you eat and make every bite count. Enjoying each delicious taste will make it easier to stick to a sensible eating plan. For the foods you do love, look for ways to make them better – better for you, that is. For example, if pizza is your weak spot, substitute a lower-calorie crust, such as Flatout Flatbread. Then choose toppings wisely to amp up the flavor while managing added fat and calories.

Eat smaller portions.

When you simply must indulge, you may be surprised to hear “go ahead,” but to do so in moderation. One clever way to keep your portions small: use a tablespoon, not a serving spoon to dish out portions. Then eat slowly so your body has time to tell your brain you're full.

Get your fill in healthy ways.

Overeating often comes down to a very basic cause: hunger. Becoming more conscious of how you answer your hunger will help you stay on track. Drinking water before and during events will help to fill you up so you are less likely to consume excess calories. Snacking throughout the day can also help keep hunger at bay; several small, healthy snacks, such as a handful of nuts or trail mix, can help keep you feeling full. Also, remember to stop eating when you feel satisfied, but before you feel full.
