Opening round winner for Lena-Winslow

By Chris Johnson
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

Leading 33-14 at the half, the Lena-Winslow Panthers closed the deal in the second half and moved to the second round of the IHSA Playoffs following a 54-14 win over Bureau Valley. The Storm didn't know what hit them as they saw a running clock go into effect.

Playing out of the Three Rivers Conference and qualifying for the playoffs after surviving, doesn't let a team believe something memorable could happen to them in the playoffs. The Storm are season-tested. They battled through former State Champions such as Morrison and Sterling Newman before. They stayed close in their losses this season, dropping an eight-point decision to playoff-qualifier Fulton. They stayed within two scores of previously State-ranked Orion. They couldn't hang with Lena-Winslow.

The Panthers didn't seem to care how well the Storm has been playing recently. They are working on getting better. Head Coach Ric Arand will see to that. Lena-Winslow is still a team in the development stage to many sports enthusiasts. Heading into the playoffs many feel the Lena-Winslow Panthers have yet to play their best ball of the season. With a record of 8-2 the Panthers move to round two and a road trip which could be talked about for seasons to come.

Catlin-Salt Fork is located west of Decatur in southern Illinois. They won their playoff-opener against an area favorite. Salt Fork was asked to travel north for their opening round game at Stockton. The Blackhawks were 9-0 heading into the Class 1A opener. Stockton lost by a point 43-42. A showdown with the Blackhawks in the post-season won't happen this year for Lena-Winslow. It's over for Stockton. It continues for Lena-Winslow.

Because Catlin was on the road this week and the nearly four hour trip has been recorded, they will get to stay home for week two, since their opponent got the chance to host their opening round game. Everyone is given a chance to host in the longer marches towards State.

Lena-Winslow is rewarded with a round two match in Catlin. If the Panthers win this weekend and move on to the Class 1A Quarterfinal, there is a chance they could face the Forreston Cardinals for the right to go to the State Semi-Final. Forreston hosted their opening round game. They defeated Luther North in record-setting fashion, 67-0. The Cardinals have to take down seven-seed Stark County if they want the chance to face Lena-Winslow next week.

In week seven, the Panthers fell to Forreston. The game was played in Forreston and home field was rewarded with a 13-7 win. The win helped secure the NUIC Northwest Crown for Forreston.

Forreston won't matter if the Panthers are tripped up this weekend. Match-ups with other NUIC teams such as Freeport Aquin or Dakota could also be in the cards for Lena-Winslow. Everything wraps around the Panthers need to win. Each week pushes them one step closer to another shot at a State Title.

Details of this weekend's Class 1A Quarterfinal-qualifying round will be available in next week's edition of this publication.

Lena-Winslow lands in Regional Championship

By Chris Johnson
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

Sitting as the four-seed in the Girls' Class 1A State Volleyball Tournament, the Lena-Winslow Lady Panthers played through their competition and advanced to the Regional Final and a shot at Galena. The Lady Pirates were issued the top seed in the upper bracket of the Class 1A Tournament. They lived up to it as they ended Lena-Winslow's season in two sets 25-13 and 25-18.

Lena-Winslow wrapped up the 2016 NUIC season with a fifth-place showing. Their overall conference mark was one of the best in the league as they finished the year with a ledger featuring a 10-3 mark. Dakota, the recent winner of its own Class 2A Volleyball Regional tied for fifth place. They finished 2016 with a 10-3 record.

Eastland ended 2016 with third place honors. They were 11-2. The Lady Cougars claimed the Polo Regional Title and moved on to the Eastland Sectional this year. Galena was 12-1 during the season. They finished in second place. In the front-end loaded NUIC, Freeport Aquin was the regular season conference champion. The Lady Bulldogs led the way with a 13-0 record.

Each team which finished above Lena-Winslow in the regular season this year is either still alive in the 2016 post-season or played for their respective Regional Crown last week.

Sectional play takes place this week in Eastland. Lena-Winslow's victor joined with other qualifying NUIC representatives and moved to the Tuesday Nov. 1 Sectional Semi-Final Rounds. The Lady Pirates stared down the Sterling Newman Central Catholic Lady comets in the opening round game of Sectional play in Lanark.

Lena Library News

By Dixie Althoff

DIRECTOR

We seem to be moving on to some more normal temperatures. Not sure I like it, but it is that time of year. I don't like the getting dark so early either, but not much we can do about that either. It will help out when all the little spooks and goblins are out on Halloween night. Parents, make sure your little ones have a fun safe Halloween.

We had our first training class for switching over to just one system come the end of November. We will become full members with RAILS at that time. The training went well, that is not to say we won't have problems later, so please bear with us.

Our next training will be November 7th, which will mean we won't open the library until 2 p.m. that day. Sorry for any inconvenience!

Book discussion was held Oct. 26, at 9:30 a.m. We enjoyed discussing many books but had a real treat other than books. Fran DeMong was with us and gave a talk on her latest project. She is in the process of painting an owl in an oak tree. She showed us what she has done and it looks fantastic. If you have never seen any of Fran's work, she is a great painter. She took up painting later in life and she does a wonderful job. Thank you Fran for sharing with us!

Some of the books discussed were: Long Way Gone by Charles Martin, Fool Me

Once by Harlan Coban, The Choice by Nicholas Sparks, Run by Anne Patchett, Orphan Train by Christina Baker Kline, The Kitchen House by Katherine Grissom,

Christmas Caramel Murder by Joanne Fluke, and The Girl Who Fell From the Sky by Heidi Durrow. Some good books and great discussion. Our next discussion will be held Nov. 16, at 9:30 a.m. A week early this month because of Thanksgiving!

Nov. 7, we will be having our next coloring night. Plan to join us at 6 p.m. for a night of fun and creativity. (Maybe a few snacks thrown in too).

The after school group last week made ghost window frames. They were made to look just like a window with someone or something looking through it. There were several things they could make to put in the window: ghosts, bats, owls, or goblins.

It was a lot of work and I must say a lot of glue was used, but they were just adorable. They decorated our wall inside the door for a couple of weeks and then Mrs. Kathy gave them back so each one could take their creation home to decorate their own house.

This week was their Halloween Party/Scavenger Hunt. Mrs. Kathy hid 24 items for them to find in the big room downstairs. Among the items were: Pumpkin guts, (Orange cotton candy), worms, boogers, eyeballs, fangs, spiders, bookmarks, and more. In case you were wondering, all of the "yucky" stuff was probably candy!

After finding all the items they all enjoyed a snack of hot dogs, chips and a drink.

Sounds like a great time to me!

The preschoolers last week made their own "friendly ghost". This was a lollipop, a tissue over the lollipop, and a smiling face drawn on the tissue. A ribbon accented the ghost. These little critters were used when they learned the "Friendly Ghost" song.

Books we read were: Halloween is Here, Boo Bunny and Who's There? Elmo's Trick or Treat Sound Book. Finger plays were enjoyed also. They were: Leaves are falling, Leaves on the trees, and raking leaves. For flannel board they did ghosts, pumpkins, and leaves. Songs that were sung: Friendly ghost Song, and Hooky Spooky Tune.

This week it was the Halloween party. They did a wall activity of making a leaf pile.

Books read were: Plumply

Dumpley Pumpkin, and Five Black Cats.

The hit of the party was searching in a bucket filled with "ghost poop" for prizes.

Don't get excited parents, Mrs. Kathy used white Styrofoam packing beads so no one got messy or smelly!! Each child made a Halloween Snoopy bracelet and enjoyed a snack before leaving. I saw the children come up with a Halloween bag that looked like it had quite a few treats and toys in it. I think they all enjoyed the party and had lots of fun!!

Remember if you have not signed up for story hour, you can still do so! Mrs. Kathy is always thinking up new things to try, so don't miss out on any of the fun.

New Fall reads: Cakewalk by Rita Mae Brown, Christmas Town by Donna VanLiere, Escape Clause by John Sandford, Oliver, the Cat who Saved Christmas by Sheila Norton, Order to Kill by Vince Flynn, Paris for One and Other Stories by JoJo Moyes, Small Great Things by Jodi Picoult, 12 Dogs of Christmas by David Rosenfelt, Baxter Family Christmas by Karen Kingsbury, Life List by Lori Nelson Spielman, Mirror Sisters by V.C. Andrews, Mistletoe Murder and Other Stories by P. D. James, Night Watch by Iris Johansen, Season of Us by Holly Chamberlin, Sex, Lies and Serious Money by Stuart Woods, Whistler by John Grisham, and Wild Montana Skies by Susan May Warren.

New Non-fiction: Life Well Played by Arnold Palmer, and Magnolia Story by Chip Gaines.

New Juvenile books: If You Give a Mouse a Brownie by Laura Numeroff, Duck on a Tractor by David Shannon, and Gingerbread Christmas by Jan Brett.

We have lots of new things to choose from so stop in and take your pick. (If they are in!)

A little levity to lighten your day

Two pirates see each other for the first time in many years. The first asks, "Bill, My God, where did you get that wooden leg?" "Well, I lost it when a shark came and bit it right off." "My God Bill, how did you get that hook for a hand?" "Well, I was pullin' in the anchor and the rope caught, twisted around me hand, and yanked it clean off." "My goodness Bill, and that patch over yer eye ... how did that happen?" "Well, I was sitting in the crow's nest and a seagull came and it pooped in me eye." "But Bill, seagull poop won't take out your eye!" "Aye, you're right, but I forgot I just got me hook the day before."

U.S. Attorney's office to conduct Election Day monitoring

The U.S. Attorney's Office will monitor the federal and local elections in Rockford and surrounding communities on Nov. 8, 2016, Zachary T. Fardon, United States Attorney for the Northern District of Illinois, announced today.

As part of the monitoring effort, the Office will operate a telephone hotline for candidates or the public to report complaints related to the voting process. Assistant U.S. Attorneys and other Office personnel will monitor the hotline and be available to respond to complaints as needed.

The hotline number, staffed on Election Day only, is (312) 469-6157. "A citizen who is entitled to vote should in no way be prevented from doing so," said Mr. Fardon. "Our Office will act promptly and aggressively to protect the integrity of the election process."

The Department of Justice has an important role in deterring election fraud and discrimination at the polls, and combating these violations wherever they occur. The Department's longstanding Election Day Program furthers these goals, and also seeks to ensure public confidence in the voting process.

Stockton Police Department report for Oct. 21 to 27

On 10/21 at approximately 2:50 p.m. Stockton Police with Jo Daviess County Sheriff's, were dispatched to the rear area of a bar on Front Street in reference to an irate citizen. On arrival, Officers encountered the subject who refused to calm down and talk with officers. It was apparent that the subject was in need of medical intervention, and the Stockton Ambulance Service was called to the scene. After some counselling, the subject agreed to go in the ambulance to Freeport Hospital for treatment. No further police intervention was required.

On 10/22 at approximately 10:39 a.m., the Stockton Police were dispatched to an address on Queen Street, in reference to a violation of an Order of Protection. On arrival, the Officer met with the complainant who stated that the subject of the order of protection was violating the order constantly. The complainant stated that the subject of the order was in the area of her residence and would make it known to her that he was there, by honking his horn or squealing his tires to get her attention. The officer was able to find the subject of the order. At this time the subject was not violating the order. The subject was warned about the consequences of violating the order in the future. Both subjects were warned to stay away from each other.

On 10/22 at approximately 12:44 p.m., the Stockton Police were dispatched to an address on Stockton Street in reference to a Civil Standby. On arrival, the officer met with the complainant who stated the she was attempting to remove personal belongings from the address and felt she needed the police for her protection. The complainant was able to remove her belongings with no problems from the resident. No further assistance was needed.

At approximately 3:36 p.m. on 10/22 an Officer of the Stockton Police Department was dispatched to an address on North Avenue in reference to a violation of an Order of Protection. On arrival, the Officer met with the complainant who stated that she was at her place of business, when her ex-boyfriend was observed in a parking lot next door to her place of business. The ex-boyfriend is the subject of an active Order of Protection issued in Jo Daviess County. The complainant stated that the subject was sitting in his car and began to honk his horn and wave at the complainant. The complainant became afraid that the subject would do something to her or her car, so she called the police. The subject was not on the scene when police arrived and the violation of the order was documented through a police report.

On 10/25 at approximately 12:15 p.m. the Stockton Police and Stockton Ambulance Service were called to the Stockton High School for a student choking. On arrival, the Officer and Ambulance Personnel encountered the student and staff. The student was breathing, but having difficulty and had been having a problem for approximately 30 minutes before the Ambulance was called. The student was taken for treatment.

On 10/25 at approximately 5:07 p.m., the Stockton Police were requested at an address on Hudson Street to stand-by while a resident moved out. The resident requested police assistance in order to prevent any kind of an altercation with the other residents of the house. The complainant was able to get his belongings as the officers stood by, and there was no unlawful action taken by the current residents.

On 10/26 at approximately 5:19 p.m., Stockton Police were dispatched to a call of a suspicious person in the area of 209 East North Avenue. The caller stated that the suspicious person was a male black subject who looked disheveled and was wandering around the area aimlessly. On arrival, the subject in question was found at 200 East Dillon St. The subject stated he was travelling across country from Utah to New York. The subject stated that he had been on a Trailways Bus, but that the bus let him off in Stockton, and now he had no means to get any further. A check on the subject through police computer revealed that the subject was not wanted by any law enforcement agency. The Stockton Police Officer then arranged for a place for the subject to stay for the night so he could continue his travels the following day.

On 10/27 at approximately 12:52 p.m., a Stockton Police Officer was dispatched to assist the Jo Daviess County Sheriff's Office on a call of a person in need of medical intervention. On the officers arrival, it was found that the subject of the call, an out of town visitor and hunter, was deceased. The circumstances of this incident are under investigation by the Jo Daviess County Sheriff.

On 10/27 at approximately 2:16 p.m., the Stockton Police were dispatched to a call of a suspicious person, walking in the roadway on US Route 20 and Route 78. On arrival, the Police found the subject east of the stated location. The subject was a hitchhiker attempting to get to Freeport. The subject was warned about walking in the roadway, and after a computer check proved negative, he was allowed to go on his way. No further police assistance was required.

An old but continuing scam has been occurring again in the Jo Daviess County area. Everyone is reminded that if you receive a phone call from someone who states that you owe money to the IRS or the Federal Government and that you must pay now or you will be arrested, THIS IS A SCAM. The Government will NEVER call you on the phone and tell you that you owe money. DO NOT give these callers any information about yourself. It is recommended that you hang up the phone without responding to the caller.

Chief Tom Sheehan of the Stockton Police Department would like to remind everyone, that persons charged with crimes are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

VIEWPOINT

From the desk of State Representative Brian W. Stewart

In the New Testament of the Bible, there's a passage in Acts in which Paul describes the new believers in Thessalonica. These converts were good people, and the Bible says they were of "noble character." But perhaps the highest praise that was said of the Bereans was that they diligently searched the scriptures daily. When the Apostle Paul preached, they verified everything he said by doing their own research.

We live in an age where information is literally at our fingertips. Give me thirty seconds, and I could tell you the capital of any country in the world; give me a minute and I can translate any phrase from any language into English. That's how far technology has advanced. In a world where there is more information available to us than at any time in the earth's history, are we making good use of this gift?

Chuck Sweeney recently had a great column entitled: "Kids Aren't Looking up Dictionary Words on Smartphones." Mr. Sweeney laments the news that a Rockford charity will no longer be giving away free dictionaries to third graders in the Rockford school system. This ends a twenty year period of giving thousands and thousands of young kids a free resource which they may not have otherwise had. He goes on to say that this was brought about because most school-aged kids now have access to the internet, and therefore hard copy dictionaries are no longer deemed a necessity.

So this begs the obvious question – are we taking full advantage of the resources afforded us by the World Wide Web? Let's take social media as our case study. Facebook has given us one major advent that has changed the world as we know it – the meme. For those of you who may not know, a meme is a picture or graphic with text attached to it. The meme has become one of the most prevalent sources of entertainment on social media, and recently it has also become one of the major sources of information.

If I have noticed one thing in this crazy election cycle, it has been the rise of political memes. Whereas people use to discuss politics on social media, they now just post memes. That's right, pictures with words are now the preferred medium of political discourse. As sad as that may be, here's the worst part: most of these memes have no sources attached, and oftentimes they aren't even grounded in truth.

This startling phenomenon isn't just limited to social media. Those who do not do their own due diligence will take these oftentimes baseless tidbits as fact, and that's extremely dangerous. Misinformation is harmful to all of us – whether we utilize social media or not – because those who are misinformed have the same amount of votes as you or I do.

In a democracy, it is imperative that truth is cherished and lies are chastised. I'm not calling for anyone to be punished for disseminating false information, but I am calling for all of us to individually seek truth and to refute falsehoods. Perhaps if we do more to pursue the truth in everything that we say, then we can have better discourse in this country.

We shouldn't take anything we hear for granted. When our brains hear only that which reinforces our way of thinking, we are not challenged. And when we are not challenged, we are not growing and learning. As a society, I would like to see us do more to research for ourselves that which is true and that which is false. Don't rely on anyone else to do that job for you.

I know I quoted Ronald Reagan just last week, but a quote of his came to mind that is too fitting for this week's column to not mention: "Trust, but verify."

As always, you can reach me or Sally at (815) 232-0774 or e-mail us at repstewart@gmail.com. You can also visit my website at www.repbrianstewart.com or on Facebook.

From the offices of Il State Senator Tim Bivins-Senate Week in Review: October 17-21

A newly created "Illinois Competitiveness Council" was tasked this week with cutting red tape and eliminating burdensome regulations on employers and entrepreneurs; the Illinois School Funding Reform Commission continued their discussion on Illinois' property tax system and its implications for school funding; and the Health Care Fraud Elimination Task Force announced their findings.

Cutting red tape in Illinois

Senate Republicans say an important step to generating business development in Illinois will be to get rid of the burdensome regulations and outdated policies that are hindering job creation and economic growth and are forcing businesses to leave.

Having long encouraged policies that would make it easier for employers to do business in Illinois, Senate Republican lawmakers applauded Governor Bruce Rauner's creation of the Illinois Competitiveness Council. The council will review all agency rules and regulations with the hope of cutting the red tape in Illinois and saving the state $250 million over the next decade.

For years, Senate GOP legislators have echoed concerns raised by the business community, saying the state's duplicative, contradictory and outdated regulations make it unnecessarily difficult—in some cases time and/or cost prohibitive—to do business in Illinois.

Representatives from each of Illinois' regulatory state agencies will serve on the council to ensure current regulations are up to date and relevant to today's industries and practices. Furthermore, they will make sure the language in the rules is easy to understand and will reduce the amount of burdensome requirements put on businesses, social service providers and citizens—and are expected to save Illinois taxpayers and business owners at least 4 million pages in paperwork.

In addition to examining regulations, council members will also look at the state's licensing process where they hope to save at least $250 million over the next decade from the cost of direct license fees.

In order to have the greatest impact, the Illinois Competitiveness Council is encouraging the public to submit input on their website on which rules and regulations are the most burdensome to people and businesses.

Property taxes remain the focus for School Funding Reform Commission

Property taxes were again the topic of discussion during the sixth Illinois School Funding Reform Commission meeting on Oct. 19. Commission members continued their conversation from the Oct. 5, meeting on how property taxes influence school funding.

Illinois now has the highest median property taxes in the nation, surpassing New Jersey. Members of the commission are exploring ways to reform a school funding system that relies heavily on property taxes. Concerns were raised that certain communities, particularly the City of Chicago, have high property values but very low property tax rates. Senate Republican lawmakers noted that though the City of Chicago has the resources to raise money locally to fund Chicago Public Schools (CPS), CPS still disproportionately benefits from special allowances protected in state law that are not afforded to any other school district in Illinois.

The 25-member commission includes five designees from the Rauner Administration and five designees from each of the four legislative caucuses. Chaired by Secretary of Education Beth Purvis, the commission is tasked with making recommendations to the General Assembly to revise the current school funding formula by Feb. 1, 2017.

Gov. Rauner announces Health Care Fraud Elimination Task Force findings

On Oct. 19, Governor Bruce Rauner announced the recommendations from the Health Care Fraud Elimination Task Force. The task force, created in April, was tasked with looking strategically and comprehensively into fraud, waste and abuse in taxpayer-funded programs.

The report found that through the improved fraud, waste and abuse identification as well as prevention efforts recommended by the task force, the state will save an additional $50 million.

The task force has already taken simple and effective steps to improve how the state delivers health care, while also driving better value for taxpayers. Central Management Services conducted an audit of all dependents from the State Employee Group Insurance Program and found the state was paying benefits for about 6,000 people that did not qualify for those benefits. Removing those individuals from their plans saved the state approximately $22 million in FY16 and is estimated to save over $32 million in FY 17.

Illinois tackles childhood mental health

Illinois was one of ten states selected to participate in a ZERO TO THREE Policy Center meeting to advance state policy related to improving infant and early childhood mental health. ZERO TO THREE is a non-profit organization that works to ensure all babies and toddlers benefit from the family and community connections critical to their well-being and development.

On Oct. 13-14, government agencies, advocacy organizations and child and family service programs gathered in Minneapolis to address mental health prevention, intervention and treatment programs. The goal of the meeting was to identify state strategies to align health care finance policy, specifically Medicaid, with infant and early childhood mental health practice.

ZERO TO THREE estimates that between 9 to 14 percent of children from birth to five years-old experience at least one emotional or behavioral disturbance. If left untreated, that disturbance can have long-term negative impacts on a child's mental health development.

Attorney General Madigan commends white house for working to eliminate restrictive non-compete agreements

Attorney General Lisa Madigan today commended the White House for its push to eliminate improper, restrictive non-compete agreements that unfairly hinder the country's lower wage workers by attempting to ban them from getting a better job or starting their own company for years after leaving a job. Madigan supports the White House's State

Call to Action on Non-Competes issued today, which urges states to adopt a series of common-sense legislative proposals to address the overuse of non-compete and other restrictive agreements.

In June 2016, Madigan filed a lawsuit against Jimmy John's for imposing highly restrictive non-compete agreements on its employees, including low-wage sandwich shop employees and delivery drivers. Madigan is also investigating the inappropriate use of non-compete agreements by other Illinois employers.

Madigan's Workplace Rights Bureau will also be hosting a symposium

Obituary

ROSEMARY GAY (HAGER) WEIS

Family members and friends gathered at Sept. 18, for a memorial service for Rosemary Gay (Hager) Weis. Pastor Patrick Jones conducted the ceremony at Beacon Community Church, New Port Richey, Pasco, Florida. Rosemary was a member of the church for over twenty years and had outlined her memorial service including favorite scriptures and hymns to be played or sung for her service. Friends and relatives gave a picture of her life at the Beacon Church and at home, through their memories about Rosemary.

Rosemary was born in Freeport, Stephenson, Illinois May 31, 1947, the daughter of James Wesley Hager and Gertrude Masters Reed. She grew up in Lena, also in Stephenson County. Her parents adopted a son Robert Jackson Hager when Rosemary was in high school.

After attending schools in Lena, she graduated from high school with the Class of 1965. Rosemary had previous church membership in the Freeport Free Methodist Church, Freeport. Following high school, Rosemary graduated from Greenville College in the Class of 1969. Greenville (Illinois) is a Free Methodist college.

During the 1970's, Rosemary lived in Milwaukee, Wisconsin and worked with VISTA, (Volunteers In Service to America) a government operated organization, much like the Peace Corps. She was employed in Milwaukee Public Schools as a paraprofessional. While in Milwaukee she met her husband, Duaine Weis (born in 1947). The couple married Aug. 28, 1976, in Milwaukee, where they lived for several years. Duaine had a son David, from a previous marriage.

Duaine and Rosemary became parents of a son Daniel Jayson Weis, in 1978, in Milwaukee. By the 1980's they moved to Hudson, Pasco, Florida. Duaine's mother Doris Weis lived in Florida and needed help with her business.

During the 1990's, Duaine was a chef/cook and for a sideline entertained as a clown. Rosemary worked as a paraprofessional teacher's aide in area schools. She also received a Master's degree in education in 1998 from the University of South Florida, in Tampa.

Over a period of years, Duaine had developed renal failure with the need for a kidney transplant. A suitable match for transplant happened but complications occurred and Duaine died, Oct. 1, 1999. He was cremated and cremains were interred in the Milwaukee area. Rosemary remained in Hudson along with her sons, David and Dee Jay.

In later years, Rosemary had developed Muscular Dystrophy which is always a challenge for anyone dealing with it. She was able to maneuver with help and remained active.

In addition to her educational pursuits, Rosemary was an author and compiled a couple of books: Lifetry - The Poetry of Life and Weis Crackers, both available through Amazon.com.

Being a born again Christian she remained active at Beacon Community Church. Rosemary faithfully challenged the pastor's sermons and biblical insights. Away from church she enjoyed communicating her faith with her friends and contacts on Facebook.

A joy in her life was her sons, David and Dee Jay and their children, making Rosemary grandmother. David has three daughters: Jessica, Jamie, and Julie, and a son Noah Weis. Dee Jay married Krystal Gibbs and has a son Jordan.

She always looked forward to coming back to Lena and visiting with her cousins and friends in Illinois and Milwaukee. A goal for Rosemary was to keep in touch with her high school classmates and was faithful to attend the class reunions. In 2015, Rosemary attended her 50th Class Reunion at Lena High School.

Rosemary is survived by her sons and grandchildren, and one brother Robert Jackson Hager, and several cousins. She was preceded in death by her husband Duaine, and parents. Cremation rites were accorded Rosemary with interment to be determined.

sium on Nov. 17 on Emerging Legal Issues in the Workplace to discuss academic, business and government perspectives on non-competes and other workplace issues.

"I applaud the White House for shining a light on non-compete agreements and how they can unfairly impact the lives of lower wage workers," Madigan said. "We need to ensure that employees around the country have the ability to change jobs and pursue new job opportunities so they can build successful lives. My office will continue to address the overuse of non-compete agreements in Illinois."

According to reports from the White House and the U.S. Department of the Treasury, non-competes impact approximately 30 million – nearly one in five – U.S. workers, including roughly one in six workers without a college degree. In Illinois, non-compete agreements must be premised on a legitimate business interest and narrowly tailored in terms of time, activity and place. However, Madigan's office has been contacted by employees who are stuck in overly broad non-compete agreements that have effectively limited their job mobility as a result. In August 2016, the Illinois General Assembly passed the Illinois Freedom to Work Act, which prohibits the use of non-compete agreements for employees earning less than the state minimum wage or less than $13 an hour. It goes into effect January 1, 2017.

Bureau Chief Jane Flanagan is leading the investigation of overly restrictive non-competes for Madigan's Workplace Rights Bureau.

Lena-Winslow FFA attends National FFA Convention

Seven members of the Lena-Winslow FFA Chapter attended the 89th National FFA Convention in Indianapolis, IN, Oct. 19 through 21. There were over 60,000 FFA members and agriculture industry representatives at the conference this year. The first night the chapter attended the opening session to hear the keynote speaker, Diana Nyad. Ms. Nyad spoke about the power of perseverance and how it paid off when she successfully swam the 100 mile distance between Cuba and Florida in her fifth attempt. She was sixty-four at the time she swam through the cold and shark-infested waters, finally completing this life-long goal and shared her inspirational story with FFA members across the nation.

In addition to hearing keynote speakers, the FFA Chapter went to two workshops, "Leadership is Influence," and "Color Wars." Both workshops strengthened chapter member's leadership skills and helped them define and build on their individual strengths and weaknesses as leaders. The students toured the career fair where industry giants such as John Deere, Zoetis, Case IH, Dow AgroSciences, RFD TV, and Monsanto had booths there with information on career opportunities with their companies. There were also many, many colleges there recruiting students to their various campuses. It was a great opportunity for the kids who attended to broaden their horizons and see the opportunities that are available in their futures.

As a part of the trip we also toured the Indianapolis Motor Speedway where the students got to "kiss the bricks" and see the museum as well as tour the race track itself. Students were also treated to a performance of hypnotist Jim Wand.

The National FFA Organization has over 500,000 members across the nation. FFA makes a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their potential for premier leadership, personal growth and career success through agricultural education.

Twenty members of the Lena-Winslow FFA Chapter competed in the Section One Dairy Foods CDE on Oct. 25th at Lena-Winslow HS. In this contest students have six different areas of dairy products and production tested. They are tested on their knowledge of the dairy industry through a multiple choice test, identify ten different types of cheeses (ranging from cream and provolone to processed American and Sharp vs. mild cheddar), identify and grade milk sample defects (feed, unclean, oxidized, garlic etc.), decide if given examples are real vs. imitation dairy products, read and score a CMT (California Mastitis Test), and finally take a math team test on a profitability scenario. There were ten schools from section one who participated this year, Eastland placed first, Dakota was second and Lena-Winslow placed third. The Lena-Winslow FFA Chapter had three students score in the top ten as individuals: Shianne Stietz was fourth, Laurel Flynn was seventh and Jackie Moest was eighth overall.

Northwest Illinois Agritourism Series continues

The Northwest Illinois Agritourism Series is designed to give information to those who are interested in getting started with orchards, pick your own pumpkins, wineries, and other types of operations that involve the general public visiting your farm. Agritourism is a topic that many people are interested in but don't know how to get started. This series is designed to give you a start by exploring the possibilities, discussing risk management, regulations, and marketing options. Three classes of the series remain. Sign up to take part in them today!

Agritourism Tour and Roundtable Discussion will take place at Wishful Acres Farm and Brewery. The tour will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 15, at 6 p.m., at Wishful Acres Brewery, 4679 N. Flensburg Road, Lena, IL. The evening will also include a short introduction to agritourism and a roundtable discussion led by Extension Educator Grant McCarty.

Risk Management and Rules and Regulations for Agritourism Businesses will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 30, from 6 to 9 p.m., at the Stockton Public Library, 140 W Benton Ave, Stockton. Deb Brown from Ag and Small Business Services will present information about managing risk in your agritourism business. Extension Educator Grant McCarty will share with participants the rules and regulations within the State of Illinois regarding business of this type.

Marketing for Agritourism, the last class of the series, will delve into the many avenues of marketing. Held on Tuesday, Jan. 24, from 6 to 8 p.m., in the lower level of the Lena Community Center, 497 Lions Drive, Lena, IL, this class will be led by Marilyn Smit of M45 Marketing Services and Connie Sorn of the Stephenson County Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Each class is $10 or $30 for the entire series. Pre-registration is required and can be completed by calling the University of Illinois Extension Stephenson County at (815) 235-4125, University of Illinois Extension Jo Daviess County at (815) 858-2273 or on-line at <https://web.extension.illinois.edu/jsweb>

Scales Mound School 2016 Voting Campaign

By Scales Mound Eighth Grade

This year at Scales Mound School the junior high and elementary students are holding a mock election and encouraging people to get out and vote. The slogan for the campaign is: "Your Vision. Your Decision. VOTE!" The students are participating in many different activities to encourage people to vote such as making yard signs, t-shirts, and brochures. On the day of the election, the students plan to canvas the town reminding people to get to the polls.

On Nov. 8, the students plan to take computers just past the 100 foot radius (the legal requirement) of the town hall to survey voters. The students will be surveying voters to find out more information about their election decisions. This survey will be anonymous. For example, students might ask, "How did you make the decision of who to vote for?" or "What were some factors you considered in your decision?" Then the students will compile the results and plan to publish them following the election.

On Nov. 7, the Scales Mound junior high is holding a mock election for elementary and junior high students. Earlier this month, League of Women Voters members trained Scales Mound high school students as election officials. These students will now train junior high student officials. After being educated on each candidate, students will vote for the candidate they believe is best for America. The website procon.org has been a useful resource for students to learn about the presidential candidates. Since some elementary students cannot read, picture ballots will be used.

The Scales Mound junior high students are doing many things to get ready for our upcoming election. We thank the Scales Mound PTO for donating money for newspaper advertisements and supplies and are excited about our campaign to encourage citizens to get to the polls on Nov. 8.

Members and non-members alike are welcome to participate in the Saturday evening service.

Operation Christmas Child collection week to begin Nov. 14

Samaritan's Purse has brought the joy of Christmas and the Good News of Jesus Christ to children in over 140 nations as we distributed more than 113 million Operation Christmas Child shoebox gifts that were provided by people like you. Jesus said, "Let the little children come to Me" (Matthew 19:14). We praise God that multitudes of these children have given their lives to Christ and become His faithful disciples. Pray for God's blessing as we continue to share His love with children around the world.

Whenever I give Operation Christmas Child shoeboxes to children overseas, I am amazed at the way God uses these simple gifts to bring such great joy to every boy and girl. But, the most important thing of all is that every child has the opportunity to hear the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Last year, God blessed Samaritan's Purse with nearly 10 million gift-filled shoeboxes, allowing us to share His love and the true meaning of Christmas with more than 113 million children since 1993.

As you collect Operation Christmas Child shoebox gifts this year, pray that the children who receive them will hear the Gospel and ask to receive Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord. Thank you for helping make an eternal difference in the lives of these precious children.

Operation Christmas Child collection week will be Nov. 14, through 21, Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday 9 a.m.-noon.

Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday 3-6 p.m. at Christ Lutheran Church, 600 North Main St, Stockton, Ill 61085. Our goal at the Stockton drop off site this year is 1,500 boxes. Please help us reach our goal. Questions call (815) 275-0303

Calvary Church in Stockton will be holding its annual bazaar

Calvary Church in Stockton will be holding its annual Bazaar on Saturday, Nov. 12, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The ladies have been working diligently preparing various handmade craft items. The tables will be: Crafty Corners, Christmas Fantasy, Bake Shop Goodies, Candy Cane Lane, and Produce. Freshly made caramel corn made Friday night will be available, along with homemade candy and baked goods. Breakfast rolls and coffee will be available plus lunch. The menu will include BBQ, Brats, Ham Sandwich, Vegetable Soup, Potato Salad, Cake and Pie. Calvary Church is located two blocks off Rt. 20, just south of the Middle School. The public is invited to come, shop, and stay for lunch.

St. Paul Church on Epleyanna to host patriotic concert and dessert buffet

In honor of Election Day and Veterans' Day, St. Paul Church invites you to a special evening of celebrating our freedom and honoring our military personnel, past and present on Nov. 6, at 7 p.m. We will also honor and recognize those who serve in law enforcement, firefighters, and first responders.

Come savor an evening of patriotic music, enjoy familiar melodies and delight in red, white, and blue harmonies. Then stay for our fabulous dessert buffet following this free concert!

St. Paul Church is located at 8800 E. Epleyanna Road in rural Davis. Please call the church office at (815) 865-5314 for questions and/or directions or you can also reach us by email at: office@stpaulchurch-davis.org.

Willow/Kent United Methodist Churches

Willow/Kent UMC will worship together Sunday Nov. 6, at Willow UMC at 9 a.m. Brenda Morris will be giving the message and also will be serving Communion to all, no one is turned away. Also welcome to stay for the fellowship following.

Sunday School is at 10:30 a.m. studying from the Holy Bible and all are welcome and invited to share in this study too.

Willow UMC is located about 7 miles SE of Stockton, IL on Willow Rd. For more information, please call (815) 601-6742.

Good Shepherd Lutheran Church schedules week of Nov. 6, events

Good Shepherd Lutheran Church will gather for worship on Nov. 6, at 118 E. Mason St. Lena, IL, at 9:30 a.m. All are invited to worship on this All Saints Sunday with Holy Communion as Pastor Miho leads us in worship and the children's sermon. Following worship, there will be a time of fellowship. All Sunday School children will gather for Sunday School Opening at 10:45 a.m. followed by learning, Bible study, prayer, and fellowship.

At 2 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 6, You Are Cordially Invited to the Installation of Pastor Miho Yasukawa at Good Shepherd. Please Come and Celebrate with Us.

On Tuesday, Nov. 8, Good Shepherd Lutheran Church will host the Hymn Sing at the Lena Living Center at 9:45 a.m. It will be a wonderful time of singing favorite hymns. Volunteers are welcome to come and sing along and to help residents with their hymn books.

On Wednesday, Nov. 9, at 8 a.m. the Piece Corps Quilters will work together to craft quilts for Lutheran World Relief. They are always looking for more people to help tie quilts and sew. No previous quilting experience is necessary. Come join the fun and make a difference in the world.

On Thursday, Nov. 10, The Friendship Club will meet at 12 p.m. at Good Shepherd for a Potluck and entertainment from "Tyger Johnson."

On Saturday, Nov. 12, all are invited to a fun filled evening of deciphering clues as to what is on the Mystery Supper Menu this year. The supper will be a three course meal with appetizer, main dish, and dessert. The fun will start at 5:30 p.m. with the selection of your meal for the evening. Come and enjoy the adventure and fun.

The After School Program for fourth through eighth graders will meet at the Hangout downtown on Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. Each day there is worship with music and a Christian message; pizza; homework help; and lots of time for all sorts of games, challenges and play.

There's no place like home for the folks at Checkered Flag Auto Body

By Tony Carton
EDITOR

Troy and Rhonda Pokoj ran their Checkered Flag Auto Body in Lena for more years than they care to admit, but once their kids graduated and they started looking to downsize they decided to take it to the country and pretty much go back home.

"I'm a car guy and it's been my passion," said Pokoj. "I grew up at Apple Canyon Lake and graduated Scales Mound High School in 1982. I started in the auto body field right after high school, so when we wanted to slow down a little bit we moved back to where we grew up. It was the right location, the right time and the right everything, so here we are."

He always liked cars and he likes building stuff.

"He went to the Jo Daviess Carroll AVC when he was in high school, Rhonda said. "He took two years of auto body in high school and then got hired at Metal Specialties in Freeport. He worked there for 17 years before going to G & R in Pearl City and while he was there he opened his own shop."

They were in Lena for 15 years before moving to rural Apple River last year."

"It just got really big really fast in Lena," she said. "We had two full time employees and I quit my job to work as business manager. We were working 65-70 hours a week and we were exhausted. We had a wonderful business there and the communities were great and very supportive. It just grew bigger than we ever thought it would."

Never one to rest on her laurels, she started going back to nursing school while their son was still in high school in Lena and when he graduated two years ago, Troy decided he wanted to go back to being a one man shop and live where he works; simplify it and put it all together again, but back in his old stomping grounds.

The CTE Academy in Elizabeth taught me the basics," he said. "They had all the tools and outstanding teachers. It used to be called the AVC and was a lot of fun because you got to meet kids from other schools. Basically, they taught me the platform that I'm still using today about how to fix a car that's been wrecked or how to restore one from start to finish."

He said the trick is to just keep on learning.

"In my first year at the AVC I thought I wanted auto mechanics, but about two days into that I went right back to auto body," Pokoj said. "It was a natural fit. I enjoyed it. I loved going there. I recommend that program. It got me my start. I started there as a high school junior and it verified for me that I was pretty good at it and it was something I should think about doing and that's how it all started for us."

They said business at their new location is excellent.

"We're marketing at Apple Canyon Lake and in Scales Mound," she said. "We're going to start marketing back into Lena. There are no limits on the projects we'll undertake."

Checkered Flag will take on just about any project that will fit in the door.

"The Scales Mound shop closed when Bob Wachter retired last year and that's brought us a lot of business because the only other option is East Dubuque since Galena doesn't have a shop," she said. "We're trying to serve Jo Daviess County and reach those folks that don't know we're here and don't know what to do when they wreck their car."

Checkered Flag sports two loaner cars and updated technologies usually only found in much larger shops.

"We can fix you up with a car while we get yours back on the road," he said. "We offer some big town equipment and technologies, but we're in a smaller market in a rural setting and 50 feet from my back door, so it's real nice."

She likes having him close to home.

"When he has a really busy day he can take a quick lunch and head right back out to work," Rhonda said. "If we need to be available outside our regular hours we live here so people can come out early or in the evening and we can take care of them."

It's all about customer service at Checkered Flag.

"If someone cannot pick up their car during our hours or if they need an estimate, we're here," he said. "If someone calls and we're home, I'll just tell them to come in for an estimate or whatever they need and we'll get the ball rolling. Lena is kind of our hometown and that's where we raised our kids, but since the shop in Scales Mound closed the folks out here are happy to have us and we're happy to be here. We're where we're supposed to be."

Mady's Pantry Celebrates 5th Anniversary Nov. 5 and 6

Lena area supply drive and fundraiser exceeds all expectations to support Ronald McDonald House

Five years ago, when the Jacobs family organized the first Mady's Pantry supply drive in support of Ronald McDonald House Charities (RMHC) of Madison, they weren't sure what to expect.

"We were going to be excited if we filled two or three boxes with supplies," Heather Jacobs said.

Instead, they filled several vehicles with approximately $12,000 worth of supplies and donations to provide families with convenient and comforting accommodations in Madison during their child's hospital stay.

It's a cause the Jacobs are very familiar with and appreciative for, as their daughter, Madyson, was born with Walker-Warburg Syndrome and required ongoing treatment at the University of Wisconsin Hospital.

"Ronald McDonald House was our home away from home," Heather explained. "We'd spend three and four days at a time there."

There, the Jacobs could find a warm and welcoming place for their family to stay during Mady's frequent visits to the hospital. And now, for the fifth year, Mady's parents, J.R. and Heather, along with her brothers, Braden, 11, and Brody, 5, join will again join their community, family and friends to pay it forward through Mady's Pantry annual supply drive.

Celebrating Life, Family and Community

When Mady passed away in 2012 at the age of 5, her family sought to honor her memory while celebrating the enthusiastic support and overwhelming generosity of the community that rallied around them throughout Mady's life.

"We want to talk about our daughter. She taught us so many things. And we have this wonderful community that wants to give," said Heather. "This is her legacy."

And what a legacy it is.

"Mady's Pantry supply drive is the largest single donation of wish list items of the year," said Ronald McDonald House Director Tara Hensley. "It is a beautiful way to remember Mady while helping other families dealing with the illness of a child. The generosity of the Jacobs family, Lena and the surrounding communities is an inspiration to us all."

Since the inaugural event, Mady's Pantry has raised approximately $50,000 in supplies and donations. This drive allows RMHC-Madison to keep their pantry stocked and provide lunches through the Lunches with Love program.

Cookouts, Crown Cookies and Groceries Galore

The Jacobs family is inviting the community to join them in celebrating the 5th Anniversary of Mady's Pantry, which will take place Saturday, Nov. 5, and Sunday, Nov. 6, at Sullivans in Lena.

The event will include:

A supply drive from 9 a.m. - 6 p.m. on Saturday and 9 a.m. - 3 p.m. on Sunday. Shoppers can drop off "wish list" supplies or select from specially marked groceries throughout the store. They can also purchase pre-filled grocery bags valued at $10.

A cookout from 11 a.m. - 6 p.m. on Saturday and 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. on Sunday

Mady's Pantry popular trademark pink crown cookies will also be on sale.

Monetary donations of all sizes will also be accepted during the drive. Donations can also be deposited into Mady's Pantry account at Citizen's State Bank at any time.

Pop tabs can also be donated for RMHC during the event and all year long at Sullivans

No matter how people choose to give, the Jacobs want the community to know how much they appreciate contributions in all forms and sizes, as each donation makes difference.

"JR told me we collected 120 pounds of pop tabs last year. That is about 1,400 tabs per pound," Heather said.

The RMHC wish list and other details are available on "Mady's Pantry" Facebook page.

"We are regularly updating the Facebook page as the event draws near," said Heather.

Gratitude and a New Goal

Each year, Mady's pantry fills a van, a truck and a trailer with supplies and donations. The Jacobs hope to mark the event's 5th anniversary by reaching $15,000 worth of donations.

"Honestly, J.R. and I never thought it would grow to what it did! After our first year, we had to get the trailer. In honor of our 5th year, we'd love to fill just one more vehicle," said Heather.

And because they have seen firsthand the amazing generosity their community is capable of, Heather has no doubts Mady's Pantry can achieve this goal.

"We really don't have the words to thank the people of Lena and surrounding communities, the friends and family who volunteer, as well as the churches, businesses and schools who support this important cause while helping us celebrate Mady's life. I know our sweet baby girl is smiling down, and her heart is full knowing of the generosity of everybody."

U.S. Attorney's office to conduct Election Day monitoring

The U.S. Attorney's Office will monitor the federal and local elections in Rockford and surrounding communities on Nov. 8, 2016, Zachary T. Fardon, United States Attorney for the Northern District of Illinois, announced today.

As part of the monitoring effort, the Office will operate a telephone hotline for candidates or the public to report complaints related to the voting process. Assistant U.S. Attorneys and other Office personnel will monitor the hotline and be available to respond to complaints as needed.

The hotline number, staffed on Election Day only, is (312) 469-6157.

"A citizen who is entitled to vote should in no way be prevented from doing so," said Mr. Fardon. "Our Office will act promptly and aggressively to protect the integrity of the election process."

The Department of Justice has an important role in deterring election fraud and discrimination at the polls, and combating these violations wherever they occur. The Department's long-standing Election Day Program furthers these goals, and also seeks to ensure public confidence in the voting process.

Highland Community College rises to meet the needs of the community it serves

By Tony Carton

EDITOR

Responding to a perceived workforce skills gap Highland Community College in Freeport is moving to meet the needs of area businesses. New programs are in place this semester and several more are in the final stages of preparation and will be added to the school's curriculum by spring 2017.

Among those already in place are Mechatronics which takes the best of electronics and mechanical maintenance and combines them offering an Associates in Applied Science, Environmental Science featuring Highland's new transfer emphasis which prepares students for transfer to a four-year school to major in this high demand field and several new offerings in Nursing and Allied Health.

Mechatronics

When graduates of the Mechatronics program enter industry, they bring with them the wide range of skills that local and regional employers are seeking. They have experience with electricity and electronics, pneumatics and hydraulics, sensors and motors, and tool usage. Graduates will be versed in welding, machining, and other manufacturing processes, as well as troubleshooting as it relates to industrial equipment.

"What we are trying to do is address some of the needs of area manufacturers for people who are trained in a number of different areas," said Highland electronics and manufacturing instructor Steve Gellings. "Sometimes you have folks that are good mechanics, but they don't have an electrical background and sometimes it's just the opposite. So, what we are looking to do with a revision of our degree areas is to keep our Industrial Electronics Controls Certificate, but blend a couple things together with our Mechatronics Program."

That blending Gellings mentioned has involved implementation of a program that teaches how hydraulics and motors and sensors and programmed controllers all work together to make a machine do what it needs to do.

"In the past we've had a Programmable Logic Controller's class which has been very popular," he said. "We are seeing more need for that, so we've taken our PLC class and actually split it into two classes. One will be an introductory level and the others will be using some advanced controllers and more advanced software. We've added in some welding and some other things along those lines so our Mechatronics students will have experience with both pneumatics and hydraulics."

Couple those areas with instruction in Automation and an Equipment Maintenance Skills program and you have a program offering graduates entry level employment at any facility that requires general maintenance and repair. This would include, but is not limited to, manufacturing, value added agriculture, or any business with automation.

"I think if it's a case where a student likes robotics and they like working with computers and they are interested in it all from the mechanical side, there are really a lot of areas that are moving in this direction," Gellings said. "For example, once upon a time, most tractors and farm machinery was more mechanical than anything else, but now we're getting more electronics and added features, so it just keeps happening and I think if someone were interested in that type of thing they will be interested in what we are doing with Mechatronics and then be able to go out and almost write their own ticket because there are a lot of companies that are looking for people with those kinds of interests and skills."

Environmental Science

An increasing number of Highland students studying chemistry and biology have been transferring on to four-year institutions to seek degrees in Environmental Science. Seeing a need to introduce the study of environmental science earlier, students can get an Associate of Science in Environmental Science at Highland.

The program is intended to provide the first two years of a four-year baccalaureate program. Students studying environmental science apply biological, chemical, and physical principles to the study of the physical environment and the solution of environmental problems, including subjects such as abating or controlling environmental pollution and degradation; the interaction between human society and the natural environment; and natural resources management.

Careers born out of the study of Environmental Science can be forestry, environmental scientists, agricultural engineers, ecologists, marine biologists, meteorologists, wildlife biologist, zoologist and climatologists, just to name a few.

Brendan Dutmer, interim associate dean for natural science and mathematics, said the need for this program came about when students studying chemistry and biology at Highland, often changed their majors when they furthered their undergraduate degrees at other colleges or universities.

"We found that many of our students that studied chemistry and biology here change their majors to environmental science after they transfer on from Highland," Dutmer said. "There is a definite need, and many of our students were unaware of the options while they studied here, so now we can better serve those students to have them ready to step into this major when they move forward. It's a great addition to Highland's course and major options."

Dutmer said Environmental Science is a rich and varied course of study. Many people going into this field can look at park systems, the Environmental Protection Agency, or the science of the environment. For more information on this program, contact Brendan Dutmer at (815) 599-3493 or by e-mail at brendan.dutmer@highland.edu.

Nursing

Tapping into a high demand for phlebotomy technicians, Highland will begin the spring 2017 semester by offering Phlebotomy certification with its successful Nursing and Allied Health programs.

"There is a huge need for phlebotomists in our area. Hospitals are looking to increase CNA responsibility and hire more phlebotomists to fill that role," said interim associate dean of Nursing and Allied Health Jennifer Grobe. "At Highland, we will be providing a certificate program which is an opportunity for someone to walk off the street and change their career plan after just one semester of training. It's all about helping to fill a need."

A phlebotomist draws blood from patients. Like many of the tasks that people often associate with nurses, this skill has become a specialization of a new profession that has taken one of the many roles once filled by other medical personnel.

The demand for phlebotomists is partly due to the fact that many health care institutions, such as hospitals, require three shifts of phlebotomists on staff to provide skilled care around-the-clock. This opens up a career that offers a wide range of working hours. Many hospitals or clinics offer night shifts, flexible shifts, weekends or holiday hours.

The health care field is attracting a lot of new faces for a variety of reasons. The field as a whole is growing and several new career branches require more specialization, and there are advantages and benefits to choosing this career path. There is job security, a good salary, and opportunities to advance into greater specialization, and Highland is proud of its continuing commitment to building career paths that enable prospective students a variety of choices in the health care field.

Hand, Foot and Mouth Disease makes Illinois appearance

Compiled by Tony Carton

EDITOR

Hand, foot and mouth disease or HFMD, has made its way to Illinois. The University of Illinois has already seen 60 cases since the beginning of the semester, and one doctor says that it's more often seen in day care centers meaning any child attending day care is susceptible.

HFMD usually causes fever, painful sores in the mouth, and a rash on the hands and feet. Most infected people recover in a week or two. Wash your hands often and practice good hygiene to reduce your risk of infection.

HFMD is common in infants and children younger than 5 years old, because they do not yet have immunity to the viruses that cause HFMD. However, older children and adults can also get HFMD. In the United States it is more common for people to get HFMD during spring, summer, and fall.

Symptoms of hand, foot, and mouth disease often include the following:

- Fever
- Reduced appetite
- Sore throat
- A feeling of being unwell
- Painful sores in the mouth that usually begin as flat red spots

A rash of flat red spots that may blister on the palms of the hands, soles of the feet, and sometimes the knees, elbows, buttocks, and/or genital area.

These symptoms usually appear in stages, not all at once. Also, not everyone will get all of these symptoms. Some people may show no symptoms at all, but they can still pass the virus to others.

The illness is typically mild, and nearly all people recover in 7 to 10 days without medical treatment. Complications are uncommon.

Rarely, an infected person can develop viral meningitis (characterized by fever, headache, stiff neck, lack of energy, sleepiness, or trouble waking up from sleep) and may need to be hospitalized for a few days. Other even more rare complications can include polio-like paralysis, or encephalitis (brain inflammation) which can be fatal.

The viruses that cause HFMD can be found in an infected person's:

- Nose and throat secretions (such as saliva, sputum, or nasal mucus)
- Blister fluid
- Feces (poop)

HFMD spreads from an infected person to others through:

- Close contact, such as kissing, hugging, or sharing cups and eating utensils
- Coughing and sneezing
- Contact with feces, for example when changing a diaper
- Contact with blister fluid
- Touching objects or surfaces that have the virus on them

People with HFMD are most contagious during the first week of their illness. However, they may sometimes remain contagious for weeks after symptoms go away. Some people, especially adults, may not develop any symptoms, but they can still spread the viruses to others. This is why you should always try to maintain good hygiene, like washing hands often with soap and water, so you can minimize your chance of getting and spreading infections.

When someone gets HFMD, they develop immunity (protection) to the specific virus that caused their infection. However, because HFMD is caused by several different viruses, people can get the disease again.

There is no specific treatment for HFMD. Fever and pain can be managed with over-the-counter fever reducers and pain relievers, such as acetaminophen or ibuprofen. It is important for people with HFMD to drink enough fluids to prevent dehydration (loss of body fluids).

There is no vaccine to protect against HFMD. However, you can reduce the risk of getting infected with the viruses that cause HFMD by following a few simple steps:

Wash your hands often with soap and water for 20 seconds, especially after changing diapers, and help young children do the same

Avoid touching your eyes, nose and mouth with unwashed hands

Avoid close contact such as kissing, hugging, and sharing cups and eating utensils with people who have HFMD

Disinfect frequently touched surfaces and objects, such as toys and doorknobs, especially if someone is sick

HFMD is often confused with foot-and-mouth disease (also called hoof-and-mouth disease), which affects cattle, sheep, and swine. Humans do not get the animal disease, and animals do not get the human disease.

EPC exits post-season and enters the refocus phase

By Chris Johnson
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

It will be difficult to not call the 2016 fall sports season a success for the Eastland-Pearl City Wildcats. The loss to 14-seed Taylor Ridge-Rockridge, 42-13 in the opening round of the Class 2A Tournament could be difficult to look past right now. But overall, making the playoffs means you were successful.

Memories of the loss and the "what-if's" will pass in time. Things will return to normal in Lanark and Pearl City. After the three-seed was kicked from the Class 2A High School Football Playoffs winner's circle, the attention turned towards how things went this year. Compared to last season, 2016 was great. Head Coach Randy Asche will review the season, as he and his staff begin taking the early steps towards 2017.

In 2015 the EPC Wildcats sat home on opening night of the post-season. A lot of questions were left unanswered as the team finished with a 2-7 mark. In 2016, things set up differently. An opening night win over the Lena-Winslow Panthers helped put the NUIC Northwest Title in the Wildcats' path. Showdowns with Dakota and Forrester would have to still be played through, but the pace was established with the two-touchdown opening season win.

EPC rolled over all would be challengers, until week eight, as they ran into the NUIC Northwest 2016 Champion Forrester Cardinals. The 21-7 loss was the only one suffered this season by the Wildcats. That was until Rockridge pulled off one of the Class 2A Tournament's biggest upsets of the week. EPC closes 2016 with an 8-2 mark. The football playoffs continue for Rockridge as they prepare to head home for a match with the Fulton Steamers this weekend.

Basketball practice has already begun and athletes from Lanark and Pearl City. Former teammates have parted ways. Many will meet again. On Nov. 14, the girls' basketball winter sports season tips-off. A week later the boys begin playing. Pearl City readies for an NUIC battle with the always-dangerous Dakota Lady Indians on Nov. 21. Eastland gets the season started and looks forward to a non-conference match against Winnebago and NUIC clashes with Galena and East Dubuque to open the season.

Come LIVE it Up with Us!

Calling all teens! University of Illinois Extension is hosting an event called LIVE It Up (LIVE stands for Lead, Inspire, Value and Explore), and it is just the thing for you!

This Leadership Conference is open to ALL youth ages 13 – 18 years old. LIVE It Up will be held on Nov. 18 and 19. LIVE It Up! Is a leadership conference planned by teens, for teens. Friday night the conference will begin with registration from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the Northern Illinois University Holmes Student Center. After the program "The Human Library", which focuses on building a positive atmosphere for conversations that can challenge stereotype and prejudices, we will then proceed to the Husky Den to play pool, go bowling, and eat pizza!

After a good night's rest in hotel rooms at the student center, we will continue our next day at the DeKalb County Farm Bureau Building. Fun things planned include community service projects of making dog toys for animal shelters, and fleece hats for kids in need. There will also be a variety of different breakout sessions for participants to enjoy. Some of sessions offered include: Ninja Methods of Escape, CSI, Chocolate Mania, What's Burning, Build a Battle Bot and more. Following the breakout sessions, we will have a closing program to wrap up our weekend.

The cost of this event is $95 which includes meals, overnight accommodations, transportation, t-shirt and most activities (there are some additional fees for some workshop sessions). Please register by Oct. 31, at web.extension.illinois.edu/bdo. For more information contact Extension Educator Johnna Jennings at bjennin@illinois.edu or at (815) 758-8194. Plan on learning a whole bunch, having lots of fun and making new friends! If you need a reasonable accommodation to participate in this program, please contact your local Extension office.

Protect yourself and your family with a flu shot!

Influenza ("flu") isn't anything to mess around with – it can be serious or even deadly for elderly people, newborn babies, and people who have certain chronic illnesses.

Help your body fight off the flu this year by getting a flu shot at one of FHN's flu shot clinics, open to the public at convenient locations across northwest Illinois.

If you are an adult under 65 years of age, you will get a quadrivalent vaccine that protects against 4 strains of influenza for $40.

If you're over 65, you will receive a high-dose version of the vaccine ($57). There will be no out-of-pocket expense if you are covered by Medicare Part B (please present Medicare card) or a Medicare HMO accepted by FHN (there's a list available at each location; covered persons MUST present the Medicare HMO card instead of the Medicare card for the billing process).

All immunizations not covered by Medicare or a Medicare HMO must be paid for by cash or check payable to FHN. The prices shown here are only available at these flu shot clinics; other rates may apply in FHN offices. No other insurance coverage can be accepted at these flu shot clinics, and per government regulations, no Medicaid cards can be accepted at these locations.

Because of federal guidelines to prevent identity theft, everyone must present a photo ID to receive an immunization. Children can only be immunized if a written prescription from a physician indicating dosage is presented.

You should NOT receive a flu shot at any of these clinics if you:

- Are allergic to eggs or the flu vaccine
- Are ill or have a fever
- Have a depressed immune system

Please contact your healthcare provider or call FHN toll-free at 1-877-6000-FHN (1-877-600-0346) ext. 945 for assistance in finding a provider if you can't receive a vaccination due to the above restrictions.

For more information, visit www.fhn.org.

From Lena's Kitchen

We are back to summer weather. Our fall has disappeared, and we are now running around in shirt sleeves again. It seems November will begin as unseasonably warm. I guess we should be glad we don't have any snow on the ground. I still have green tomatoes on the vine—that is a first for me. I can't believe that Halloween is over, and we are heading into the beginning of the winter season. This weekend we set the clocks back! Our recipes this week are a warm appetizer, an apple salad, a vegetable, and two main dishes. The column will end with a beautiful cake fit for a great dinner party or just a dessert luncheon.

The first recipe is for a delicious and rich dip. You can substitute white wine for the chicken broth for an even more decadent taste. This recipe is great to make on the stove and then put into a crock pot for an appetizer party or a game day party. Keep it around for the holidays.

Warm Crab and Spinach Dip

2 T. olive oil
1/3 C. finely chopped sweet onion
2 garlic cloves, minced
2 pkgs. (8 oz. each) cream cheese, softened and cubed
4 t. butter, softened
1 t. Italian seasoning
1/4 t. black pepper
1/4 C. milk
1/4 C. half and half cream
1/4 C. chicken broth
1 T. Old Bay seasoning
2 t. Worcestershire sauce
1 t. hot sauce

1/8 t. crushed red pepper flakes, optional

12 oz. imitation crab meat shredded or chopped

1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen spinach, thawed and squeezed dry
2 C. shredded cheddar cheese

In a nonstick skillet, heat the oil over medium heat. Add the onion and garlic; cook until the onion is tender, about 3 minutes. Stir in the cream cheese, butter, Italian seasoning, and pepper until melted. Stir in the milk, cream and chicken broth. Add the seafood seasoning, Worcestershire, hot sauce and if desired, the red pepper flakes. Stir in the crab, spinach and cheddar cheese until the cheese melts and mixture is bubbly. Serve warm with blue tortilla chips.

This traditional salad has its history from the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York City. The dressing is much lighter than the traditional Waldorf salad because of the use of yogurt. The orange zest adds just the right zip. I like the combination of the Granny Smith and Braeburn apples. I discovered the Braeburn apple several years ago, and it is one of my favorites now. Enjoy this salad as a side to any main course.

Spanish Waldorf Salad Dressing:

1/2 C. plain yogurt
2 T. sherry vinegar
1 T. honey
1 T. minced orange zest
1 t. kosher salt
Black pepper to taste
Salad:

2 Granny Smith apples, cored and diced

2 Braeburn apples, cored and diced

3/4 C. chopped celery

3/4 C. chopped apricots

1/2 C. slivered almonds, toasted

1/4 C. minced fresh parsley

Dressing: whisk together the yogurt, vinegar, honey, zest, and salt. Season with pepper

Combine the apples, celery, apricots, almonds and parsley and toss with dressing.

When I was at my friend's lake house this summer, we roasted cauliflower. It was absolutely delicious, and I have made it several times since then. This recipe will feed a lot of people. It would be a great side for Thanksgiving. It is very easy and even better tasting!

Roasted Rosemary Cauliflower

1 head cauliflower broken into florets
2 T. olive oil
2 t. minced fresh rosemary
1/2 t. salt

Preheat the oven to 450. In a large bowl, toss the cauliflower, olive oil, rosemary and salt together. In a greased sheet pan, spread the cauliflower mixture out evenly. Roast until tender and slightly browned, 20-25 minutes, stirring occasionally.

I first had the Hawaiian slider sandwiches several years ago. I like the taste of them, but I have only ever had them made with ham. This recipe is for turkey and cheddar sliders. The tangy dressing over the top makes this dish a main meal (you will eat several) or as an appetizer.

Pull Apart Turkey and Cheddar Sliders

2 pkgs. Hawaiian-style rolls, cut in half Mayonnaise
1 lb. deli turkey
8 slices cheddar cheese
1/2 C. butter
1/4 C. brown sugar
1 1/2 T. Worcestershire sauce
1 T. Dijon mustard
1 T. dried onion flakes
1 t. poppy seeds

Preheat the oven to 350. Spread the cut side of the top half of the rolls with mayo. Layer the deli turkey and cheddar cheese on the bottom half. Replace the top half of the rolls and arrange in a 9 x 13 pan coated with cooking spray. In a small saucepan, melt the butter with the brown sugar. Stir in Worcestershire sauce, mustard, onion flakes and poppy seeds. Bring to a boil. Pour evenly over the rolls. Bake 15 minutes or until the tops are browned.

This main dish is an easy one to make, and it has all the traditional Mexican fixings of tacos in a casserole. You can do a lot of the prep work ahead of time, and it is easy to assemble for a quick dinner.

Taco Casserole

1 lb. ground beef
1 pkg. (1 1/4 oz.) taco seasoning
2 C. cooked brown rice
1 can (15 oz.) refried beans
1 C. salsa
1 1/2 C. sharp cheddar cheese, divided
2/3 C. corn chips
1 can (2 1/3 oz.) sliced black olives, drained

Chopped green onions, diced avocado or tomato for garnish

Preheat the oven to 350. In a large nonstick skillet, cook ground beef, taco seasoning and 2 tablespoons of water until no pink remains.

Place the cooked rice in an 8-inch square baking dish that has been sprayed with cooking spray. In a glass bowl, microwave beans and salsa until hot, about 2 minutes. Stir and then spoon over rice. Layer beef over bean mixture. Sprinkle half the cheese over the beef. Scatter chips evenly over the cheese, and top with remaining cheese and black olives. Bake until cheese is melted, about 10 minutes. Top with green onions, diced avocado or tomato.

This cake is one of the prettiest cakes I have seen. When you cut it, the swirl in the center of each piece makes you want to dig right in. The glaze makes it look like a work of art. Be sure you use the 15 cup Bundt pan; if you use a smaller one, the batter will overflow. Put it on a cake pedestal plate, and it could be the show piece of your dinner.

Apple Cream Cheese Swirl Bundt Cake

Swirl
1 pkg. (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened
1/2 C. powdered sugar
2 T. flour
1 large egg
1 t. orange zest
Batter:
4 C. flour
2 t. ground cinnamon
1 t. baking soda
1 t. salt
1/2 t. ground ginger
1/8 t. ground nutmeg
1 1/2 C. unsalted butter, softened
1 1/4 C. firmly packed light brown sugar
4 large eggs
3 large Granny Smith apples, peeled and cored
2 T. fresh lemon juice
1 t. vanilla
1 t. orange zest
Glaze:
2 C. powdered sugar, sifted
1/4 C. whole milk
3 T. dark corn syrup
Chopped pecans

Preheat the oven to 325. Spray a 15-cup Bundt pan with baking spray with flour.

For swirl: in a medium bowl, beat cream cheese with a mixer at medium speed until creamy. Add powdered sugar, flour, egg, and zest, and beat until smooth, about 2 minutes, stopping occasionally to scrape the

One way we can help each other get through these challenging times is to keep our dollars local. Here are three good reasons.

Reason #1: Shopping locally saves you gas and wear and tear on your vehicle.

Reason #2: When you spend your money locally, you support the businesses whose property taxes pay for our municipal services.

Reason #3: Many of our youth programs are supported and sponsored by local businesses and if we don't support them, they can't support our kids.

Pearl City student earns highest FFA degree

Whitney Rankle, a 2015 graduate of Pearl City, was honored at the National FFA convention in Indianapolis on Saturday Oct. 22, with the American FFA Degree. The American Degree is the highest degree given out by the National FFA Organization. Members must meet minimum criteria to qualify for the degree. Criteria includes: FFA Participation, supervised experience programs, academic excellence, school and community activities and volunteer work. Whitney joined FFA in the fall of 2011. As an FFA Member she has been involved in several activities. She has competed in soil judging and Ag. Business. Also, she competed in the FFA Goat Production award. She attended both the state and national FFA conventions.

Whitney's main project has been raising and showing her goats. She started raising goats at a young age when her mother gave her a goat. Since then, she has grown her enterprise through a breeding program which involves searching for breeding stock from all over the country. She has shown her goats at several fairs, sold some of her goats to other producers, and sold some milk from her goats to several customers.

Outside of FFA, Whitney has been involved in several activities. In high school she played volleyball, basketball, and softball. She also volunteered and worked for the Stephenson County Fair by helping with the 4th of July stand and the cub foods stand. Through her sorority in college she has been involved with helping raise money for the agriculture in the classroom program.

Whitney is the twenty-second Pearl City FFA member since 1929 to receive the American FFA Degree, and the first female from Pearl City to obtain such an honor. Her path to the degree included first obtaining her State FFA Degree, then applying for her American Degree. After applying for the degree, she was interviewed and approved by the state before they forwarded her application off to the National Organization.

When asked what her advice to younger FFA members would be Whitney replied: "When I was a freshman in high school, I never dreamed that I would be getting my American FFA Degree someday. Just take advantage of the opportunities that FFA has to offer, and the rewards will come."

Whitney is currently a sophomore at the University of Wisconsin-Platteville majoring in Agriculture Business. Her future plans are to someday maybe work for the U.S.D.A or the Farm Bureau.

A little levity to lighten your day

A state trooper pulled over a woman for speeding. The officer said to the woman, "If you can give me an excuse I've never heard before, I'll let you go." She replied to the officer,
"Several years ago my husband ran off with a state trooper and I thought you were her trying to bring him back." The officer replied, "Slow it down and have a nice day."

Eighth Grade trip to Adkins Energy LLC and Cave of the Mounds

On Thursday, Oct. 20, the Lena-Winslow eighth graders participated in a field trip to enhance the learning they have been doing in their science classes. Their day began with a tour of the Adkins Energy LLC ethanol production plant in Lena, IL.

While there, the students were able to tour the new biodiesel operation that was put in place two years ago. The eighth graders learned that this fuel is sold to local markets with-in one hundred miles of the plant. This facility allows the plant to be even more energy efficient by selling some of their unused product from the ethanol production to local and global farming markets. The eighth graders also learned about the approximately 50 million gallons of ethanol that the plant produces on a yearly basis. It was a surprise to learn just how many semi-trucks enter and exit the facility daily. Many are hauling in corn for the 24 hour production of ethanol, while others are loading the unused portions of the corn product left over from the ethanol production to be used as feed by area farmers.

After leaving the ethanol plant, the students headed to Brigham Park near Blue Mounds, WI for lunch. This park sits high upon the Blue Mounds and was named for the Brigham family who originally owned the land where the Cave of the Mounds Cave exists. The students then traveled to the Cave of the Mounds Cave where they were given a tour of the caves. They learned that the cave only has one entrance which is what allowed the cave to remain undisturbed for the majority of its life. They also learned that the two main threats to the cave formations are oils from human hands and algae that can grow with light and particles brought in on shoes. Therefore, the staff keeps lights off in the cave until the groups they are touring enter specific sections. This gives the cave a more mysterious feel because the students were unable to see what was coming ahead. The students returned to school just in time to prepare to leave for the day. They had a great time exploring through the cave and learning about the various formations. The eighth graders would like to thank the Lena-Winslow Education Foundation for their contribution to make this trip possible.

• LENA'S KITCHEN (Continued from page 18)

sides of the bowl. Cover and refrigerate.

For batter: In a large bowl, whisk together the flour, cinnamon, baking soda, salt, ginger, and nutmeg. In the work bowl of a stand mixer fitted with the paddle attachment, beat the butter and brown sugar until fluffy, about 2-3 minutes, stopping occasionally to scrape the sides of the bowl. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition.

Shred apples using the large holes of a box grater. Coarsely chop shredded apples. Add apples, lemon juice, vanilla, and zest to batter, and beat for 1 minute. Gradually add the flour mixture to apple mixture, beating just until combined.

Spoon half of the batter into the prepared pan. Spoon the swirl mixture onto batter, avoiding edges of the pan. Top with remaining batter. Using a knife, pull the blade back and forth through the batter to swirl layers together. Smooth the top of the batter.

Bake until a wooden pick inserted near the center comes out clean, about 75 minutes. Let cool in pan for 10 minutes. Remove from the pan and let cool completely on a wire rack.

For the glaze: in a small bowl, whisk together all the ingredients until smooth; drizzle onto the cooled cake. Garnish with pecans, if desired. Refrigerate cake in an airtight container for up to 3 days.

I will be getting ready for my Halloween evening. I have several large bags of candy because in the past, there is a lot of activity on my street. I will adjust the clock being set back better than in the spring when we "spring" forward. Football playoffs continue, and fall marches on. The Lena Business and Professional Association wants us to look forward to the holidays. They have many activities planned in November and December. Beginning this Wednesday evening and every Wednesday until Christmas, many stores will be open until 7:00. Stop by and see what specials they are offering. We will continue to look for recipes for the upcoming Thanksgiving holiday. If you have some pumpkin, squash, or apple recipes that are old standbys or a new one, you can contact us in person, by mail, or email us at From Lena's Kitchens, Shopper's Guide at 213 S.
