The Scoop Today expands to include Facebook

By Tony Carton
EDITOR

Well, here it is 2019 and it looks like we're finally going to drag Rock Valley Publishing and its Scoop Today and Shoppers Guide papers into the 21st century with a Facebook page.

It hasn't been easy. The two newspapers have been serving Jo Daviess County and Stephenson County for more years than I care to remember, but times change and we're trying to move forward, so Facebook it is.

We started about five months ago with a page. It grew slowly and cautiously and today we've reached nearly 500 followers with more coming every week. The experiment has already exceeded our expectations.

We've been fortunate thus far. Our staff is fairly knowledgeable about social media and has considerable experience if only from their own personal pages. It's a little different when you try to run a business page, but not impossible. It just takes time, concentration, motivation, and a little luck.

We started out by looking at competitors' pages to see what works and what doesn't. There's no set formula, but after considerable observation we decided to run mostly photos rather than text, because while folks don't generally read sitting at a computer, they will look at pictures.

Then we realized we could "pin" certain materials to the top of the page and it would draw attention for as long as we left it there. Our first experiment with "pinning" is with obituaries. Obituaries seem to draw attention and people don't like searching for them, so we pin them to the top of the page.

We move things in and out from the top of the page and are finding considerable success. Our most successful post to date has been a very old picture of the Chelsea School which was located between Stockton and Warren. The photo was brought into the office by someone who had questions about who was in the picture. We posted it to our new Facebook page. We pinned it to the top of the page and in a matter of about six days we received 3000 + responses. I wouldn't say 3000 is exactly viral, but for our fledgling project it seemed to work amazingly well.

I'm going to share that photo with

This is the Chelsea School. It was located between Stockton and Warren. The teacher's name was Marybell Trost. We are looking for any possible additional information. Will you help?

you today along with some of the comments we received and if you care to add to it feel free to visit our Facebook page @scoopshopper and leave us a comment. Or, if you have thoughts about how we could do better with our Facebook experiment, like or follow the page and let us know what you think.

The original photo which has been edited to include the names of the teacher and her pupils is on our front page this week. Some of the comments we received are as follows:

Wendy Bailey Trost – The School Year was 1946-47 at Chelsea School

Terry Pickett - I attended first grade

there. Mrs. Whitman was the teacher at the time. There were only five of us in the first grade, all boys.

Kay Walker - That is my sister Nancy Pohl. She knew several in the picture. I need to send her this. We lived on the Kort farm at the time. Think Barb Euker and probably some Rodgers kids are also in picture.

Barb Trost Nelson - Yes, that's my mom...Maribell Dawson Trost. Isn't that a great photo? I think it would have been in about 1947 or 1948? Ralph Hanson My sister Roberta went to school there for a time after the Stockton school burned down.

FROM LENA'S KITCHEN

The not so skinny cook

A successful Fall Festival was held, and now everyone is cleaning up and resting up. The weather was perfect, and dare I comment on the fact that there were not a lot of bees. It was good for the Festival, but I wonder if it is bad for our environment. The parade was really great; there were many wonderful bands, a lot of floats, tractors, and commercial vehicles. You could hardly get into town. Tony had a lot of great pictures in this past week's paper and on the Shopper's Guide Facebook page; I guess Fall has officially started.

This week's recipes have a combination of seasonal recipes and some good ones for all year round.

This salad is a combination of late summer vegetables. You can use frozen corn if fresh is not available, and you can substitute cherry tomatoes for the grape tomatoes. If you don't have rice vinegar, you can use apple cider vinegar.

Lime Confetti Salad

- 2 orange peppers, chopped
- 2 medium ripe avocados, peeled and cubed
- 1 container (about 1 1/4 C.) grape tomatoes, halved
- 1 C. fresh corn
- 1/2 medium red onion, finely chopped
- Dressing:
 - 1/4 C. rice vinegar
 - 3 T. lime juice
 - 2 T. olive oil
 - 1/2 C. fresh cilantro leaves
 - 2 garlic cloves, halved
 - 2 t. sugar
 - 1/2 t. salt
 - 1/4 t. pepper

Place the first 5 ingredients in a large bowl. Place the dressing ingredients in a blender; cover and process until creamy and light in color. Pour over vegetable mixture; toss to coat and refrigerate, covered for 1 to 3 hours.

This fruit salad is really pretty with the different fruits. I especially like the fresh pineapple. The hardest part of the salad is cutting the grapes in half!

Fruit Salad with Poppy Seed Dressing

- Dressing:
 - 3 T. red wine vinegar
 - 3 T. honey
 - 1 t. orange zest
 - 2 T. orange juice
 - 1/2 t. salt
 - 1/2 t. dry mustard
 - 1/4 C. canola oil
 - 1 T. poppy seeds
- Salad
 - 1 fresh pineapple, cored and chopped
 - 2 cans (11 oz. each) mandarin oranges, drained
 - 1 C. red grapes, halved
 - 1 C. green grapes, halved
 - 1 C. quartered strawberries

Dressing: in a small bowl, whisk together vinegar, honey, orange zest, and juice, salt, and mustard until smooth. Whisking constantly, add oil in a slow, steady stream until combined. Stir in poppy seeds.

Salad: in a large serving bowl, combine pineapple, oranges, grapes, and strawberries. Serve with poppy seed dressing.

If you are tired of coleslaw and would like a use for a lot of cabbage, this unique roasted cabbage is a great side to roast pork or roast beef. It is very easy to make. Enjoy this different side for a fall dinner.

Roasted Cabbage

- 2/3 medium head green cabbage, cut into 4 wedges
- 1 T. extra virgin olive oil
- 1 t. garlic powder
- 1/2 t. pepper
- 1/4 t. salt
- 1/4 t. crushed red pepper
- 2 T. fresh lemon juice

Preheat the oven to 450. Spray a baking sheet with cooking spray. Place cabbage wedges cut side up on prepared pan. Drizzle with oil. In a small bowl, stir together garlic powder, pepper, salt, and crushed red pepper; sprinkle onto cabbage. Bake for 15 minutes. Turn wedges, and bake until tender, about 15 minutes more. Drizzle lemon juice.

I had a stuffed pepper recipe several weeks ago, and someone sent me this one that is just a little different. It uses Italian sausage. If you are a brave soul who likes spicy, you can use the hot Italian sausage. If you want a little spicier pepper, use green peppers. I don't think they are as mild as the yellow and red ones.

Italian Roasted Peppers

- 4 large red bell peppers
- 1 T. olive oil
- 1 lb. ground mild Italian sausage
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 1 C. chopped mushrooms
- 3 cloves, garlic, minced
- 3/4 t. salt
- 1/2 t. black pepper
- 1/4 t. crushed red pepper
- 2 C. pasta sauce
- 2 T. chopped fresh oregano or 2 t. dried oregano

Preheat oven to 350. Cut 1/2 inch off top of stem end of each pepper; discard seeds and membranes. If the peppers are not flat on the bottom, thinly slice the bottom to make it flat. Place peppers in an 8 inch square baking dish that has been sprayed with cooking spray. Thinly slice pepper tops.

In a large saucepan, heat oil over medium-high heat. Add sausage; cook, breaking up the meat into small pieces, until browned, about 8 minutes. Add sliced bell pepper, onion, mushrooms, garlic, salt, black pepper and crushed red pepper; cook, stirring occasionally, until tender, about 5 minutes. Stir in pasta sauce and oregano. Divide sausage mixture among bell peppers. Sprinkle with cheese. Cover with foil. Bake for 30 minutes. Uncover and bake until lightly browned, about 5 minutes more.

This recipe is a good one for a Sunday dinner or a main dish at night. It is easy to make, and it is delicious. A rotisserie chicken is about 4 cups of meat. You can substitute regular macaroni for the large elbow macaroni; I like to use the large macaroni because it has big holes in the tubes to catch the sauce. You can get the large macaroni in larger grocery stores.

Chicken Bacon Ranch Casserole

- 1 pkg. (16 oz.) thick cut bacon, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 3 cloves of garlic, minced
- 4 C. heavy whipping cream
- 1 C. shredded Parmesan cheese
- 2 (1 oz.) envelopes ranch dressing mix
- 2 t. salt
- 1 t. pepper
- 4 C. shredded cooked chicken
- 1 pkg. (16 oz.) large elbow macaroni, cooked according to package directions
- 1 C. chopped fresh parsley
- 1 C. shredded mozzarella cheese
- 1/2 C. shredded sharp Cheddar cheese

Preheat oven to 375. In a large Dutch oven, cook bacon over medium high heat until crisp, about 20 minutes. Remove bacon using a slotted spoon, and let drain on paper towels, reserving 2 T. drippings in skillet. Add garlic to skillet, and cook until fragrant, about 1 minute. Gradually whisk in cream; bring to a low boil, and cook until slightly thickened, about 6 minutes. Add parmesan cheese, ranch mix, salt and pepper, whisking until cheese is melted. Remove from heat and stir in chicken, pasta, half of the bacon, and parsley. Spoon mixture into a 9 x 13 baking dish sprayed with cooking spray. Sprinkle with mozzarella, cheddar, and remaining bacon.

Bake until golden brown and bubbly, about 25 minutes. Let stand for 10 minutes before serving.

If you are a fan of Rice Krispy treats, you will like this different version with the white chocolate. This version is just as easy as the regular one.

White Chocolate Cereal Bars

- 4 C. miniature marshmallows
- 8 oz. (about 1 1/3 cups) white baking chips
- 1/4 C. butter, cubed
- 6 C. Rice Krispies

Using a Dutch oven, combine the marshmallows, baking chips and butter. Cook and stir over medium-low heat until melted. Remove from the heat. Add the Rice Krispies; stir to coat. Transfer to a greased 9 x 13 pan; gently press mixture evenly into pan. Cut into bars. Hint: grease your fingers before pressing because it is much easier to spread.

Need a cookie for the chocolate lovers in your life or maybe you are a chocolate lover! This "chubby" chocolate cookie will be just the right choice. The original recipe calls for one cup each of walnuts and pecans; I have an allergy to walnuts, so I use all pecans. I often have trouble finding espresso powder, so I use instant coffee. If you are able to get a dark roast instant coffee that would be

DORIS GOFF

Doris Goff, age 95, of Hanover, Illinois, passed away Sept. 9, 2019 at the Elizabeth Nursing Home, Elizabeth, Illinois. A funeral service was held Saturday, Sept. 14, at the Hanover United Presbyterian Church. Burial will take place in Evergreen Cemetery, Hanover. Visitation was prior to the service at the church. Family and friends are invited to share in Doris' life at www.lawjonesfuneralhome.com.

Doris was born Dec. 20, 1923, in Hanover, Illinois, the daughter of Charles and Iva (Shaw) Rall. She was raised on a farm during the depression, where they grew much of their own food. She often remembered picking rhubarb in the spring, then strawberries, then raspberries, and finally blackberries toward fall. They always had plenty to eat. She graduated from Hanover High School with the Class of 1941. On April 27, 1947, Doris married William Schaible. They celebrated 18 years of marriage until William's passing in 1965. Doris then focused on raising her three sons. She even convinced the factory she was working for to allow her to setup an assembly line in her garage in Hanover, so that she did not have to move her family when the factory left Hanover. Doris later married Doty Goff on Sept. 1, 1979. They celebrated 34 years of marriage. Doty passed away in 2014.

Doris worked for the US Post Office in Hanover until her retirement in the late 90s. She also worked for the Savanna Army Depot during WWII, and factory work, including Safeway Safety Products in Hanover, and the Savanna Garment Factory. Doris was a member of the Hanover United Presbyterian Church. Doris enjoyed crocheting, crossword puzzles and gardening.

Doris will be dearly missed by her three sons, Kenneth Schaible of Alpine, Wyoming, Wayne (Beth) Schaible of Warrenville, Illinois, and James (Mary Lou) Schaible of Elizabeth, Illinois; four grandchildren, Wayne Schaible, Katelyn (Andrew) Raine, Olivia (Shawn) Ozdinet, and Jeremy (Mary Beth) Schaible; three great-grandchildren, Norman, Quinn, and Elliott; one brother, Marshall (Donna) Rall of Independence, Missouri; and a sister-in-law, Betty Rall of Denver, Colorado. Doris is preceded in death by her parents; both husbands, William and Doty; two brothers, William and Raymond, and two daughters in infancy.

DORIS LEE JONES-REDINGTON

Doris Lee Jones-Redington, age 74, of Lena, IL went home to her Lord on Friday Sept. 13, 2019 at FHN Memorial Hospital. She was born on June 11, 1945 in Racine, WI to Albert and Florence (Pleiser) Jones. She married Gerald "Jerry" Redington on Feb. 27, 1965 in Bellevue, IA. Alongside her husband of 54 years they raised four children. Doris was a singer, songwriter and country music legend at local karaoke bars. She was an avid Jeopardy watcher, even establishing a club with her friends. Her faith was strong and she was a part of prayer groups and a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church in Lena.

She is survived by her husband Jerry of Lena IL, children; Tony Redington of Lena IL, Tina (Robert) Wahler of Monroe, WI, Tonja Redington of Freeport IL, Troy (Joanna) Redington of CA, grandchildren; Steve Ellefson, Derek Wahler, Dylan Wahler, Mica Redington, and Rinoa Redington, sisters; Colleen, Valerie and LouAnn, many nieces and nephews and her prayer friends and Jeopardy opponent.

She is preceded in death by her parents, and brothers; Verlon and Lowell.

Per Doris's request there will be no services held. There will be a private family burial at St. Joseph's Catholic Cemetery in Bellevue, IA at a later date.

Cremation Rites have accorded.

A memorial has been established in her name.

Doris touched many hearts with her beautiful voice and ability to make people smile. On earth she was physically limited, but in Heaven she can dance with Angels.

Ecclesiastes 3:1-4; There is an appointed time for everything, and a time for every affair under the heavens. A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to uproot the plant. A time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to tear down, and a time to build. A time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance.

The family wishes to extend a special thank you to Raelynn Randecker, and the staff at FHN Medical Center.

Nature awaits camp in Oct.

The University of Illinois Extension will be hosting a mini nature camp on Monday, Oct. 14, 8 a.m.-noon. Your child will be immersed in nature and fun during this event! Each activity will be fun for the participants and will include a nature hike, migration games, and nature arts and crafts. Participants will also learn about monarchs and their migration, stormwater movement, and outdoor recreation/fishing skills like how to cast and tie fishing knots, in a hands-on, interactive way. All youth who are currently in K-12th grade are invited to attend and 4-H membership is not required. This event will take place at the Horseshoe Mound Preserve located at 1679 N. Blackjack Rd, Galena, IL. Horseshoe Mound is a remarkable place to explore. With 40-acres, there are plenty of opportunities to enjoy one of the most scenic properties in all of northern Illinois. Horseshoe Mound features a central gathering area, viewing scopes, and scenic outlooks with views across three states. According to Jackie de Batista, Extension Educator-4-H Youth Development, "We've planned a fantastic day full of hands-on activities and nature games for your children to enjoy out at Horseshoe Mound, at peak Fall color time. I can't think of a better place to spend this Columbus Day morning out of school!"

The cost to attend is $3 which will be used to provide participants with a "surprise" snack during the day. Pre-registration is required by Oct. 9. Please contact the Jo Daviess County Extension Office at 815-858-2273 for more information or register by visiting go.illinois.edu/jsw.

Shoebox recipient explains how area volunteers can reach children overseas with a simple gift

Area volunteers aim to pack more than 14,350 Operation Christmas Child shoebox gifts this year in the Northern Illinois area.

The shoebox represented to Prokhnevskiy unconditional love that heals everything, and allowed him to forget his struggles for a moment and just feel loved.

For many years, Northern Illinois area residents have been a part of Operation Christmas Child, a global project that shares the true meaning of Christmas with millions of boys and girls around the world. Each shoebox, filled with fun toys, school supplies and hygiene items is a tangible ex-

Lady Warriors fall to Scales Mound Hornets

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

On Sept. 12, the Warren Lady Warriors faced off with the Scales Mound Hornets for a Northwest Upstate Illini Conference matchup. The Warriors came in with a 1-5 record as they looked to get their first conference win against the 1-2 Hornets. The Warren volleyball squad came out firing as they were able to edge out the Hornets in the first set by a score of 25-22.

Set two would prove to be just as intriguing as the first as the Hornets evened things out with a 27-25 victory. It all came down to the third and final set but the Hornets seemed to carry their momentum from the end of game two over into this one as they took the win by a score of 25-17, giving them the 2-1 win on the evening.

The Lady Warriors battled in this one and they fought well but fell just short. They were solid from the serve line as the team combined for six aces, two of which came from Sydney Sigafus. Sigafus also had six kills and seven digs on the evening. Claire Riedl also had a quality game, leading the team with eight kills and two digs of her own. Emilie Slichenmyer and Allison Heller each had five digs of their own.

Warren currently holds a 2-6 record on the 2019 campaign.

Lady Wildcats fall to West Carroll

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

Last Thursday the River Ridge Wildcat's Volleyball team hosted the West Carroll Thunder for what would be an early Northwest Upstate Illini Conference matchup. The Wildcats have struggled so far this season at 1-8, and they came in looking to earn their first win conference win of the year as they faced off with the Thunder. The Thunder came in with a 3-3 overall record and would prove to be a tough opponent for the Wildcats. It was the Wildcat's first in conference game of 2019.

The Wildcats failed to keep things close in the first set as they lost to West Carroll by a score of 25-14. River Ridge was able to turn things around in the second set, however, as they fought their way towards a 25-18 victory to even the series at one a piece. The third and final set was oddly similar to the first though, as West Carroll took home another 25-14 victory, giving them the series win at 2-1 on the night.

Madison Stulc led the way offensively and was impressive from the line as she served for ten points on the night. Stulc had one ace and also distributed nine assists. Julia Finazzo had another impressive evening as she had an ace, and two kills. Abby Richmond led the team with three kills of her own while Riley Finn had two kills.

The Wildcat's schedule features two key matchups this week as after traveling to Scales Mound, they turn right around and host Pearl City on Wednesday, September 18 for another conference matchup.

Bonnie Brotman - Oh good grief- almost looks like my first grade class photo of 1951! Your mom looks so cute, Barb!

Virginia Townsend - I grew up with this near my house. It wasn't until Eric (a retired architect) and Lee Anderson bought it to get out of the city that I actually got to see the inside. Eric was a watercolor painter and painted many local farm pictures including 5 of ours. I was a very curious child and knocked on their door to see them and the inside of this school I grew up going past every day on the school bus. They added on a kitchen, bedroom, bathroom, and a garage but the integrity of the main school remained. They eventually moved to a Stockton apartment but Eric's art studio remained at the school. Eric has passed now but his wife Lee is still in Stockton and continues to write children's books. Maribelle Trost has also passed so I cannot confirm your facts if she taught there. I had her as a substitute teacher throughout my years at Warren schools.

Well, those are just a sampling of the dozens of comments we received on the photo. It's been an eye opening experience and we thank everyone who commented on this photo and the hundreds of other posts we've made since deciding to enter the world of social media. It's been fun and we're going to keep doing it, so please watch for us, like or follow our page @scoopshopper, and feed us ideas. We're listening and we are here for you.

great. I have seen the espresso powder once at Woodman's in Rockford, but find that the substitutions do not take away from the great flavored cookie for the chocoholics like me. If you love chocolate, you will love this cookie.

Chocolate Chubby Cookies

2 C. pecans, chopped
8 oz. Bittersweet bar chocolate, finely chopped
1 T. unsalted butter
1/3 C. flour
1 T. unsweetened cocoa powder
1 T. instant coffee or 1 T. instant espresso powder

1/2 t. baking soda
1/2 t. salt
2 eggs
1/3 C. sugar
1/3 C. packed brown sugar
1 t. vanilla
1 t. almond extract
1 C. semisweet chocolate chips

Toast pecans in a large nonstick skillet over medium heat until fragrant 5 to 7 minutes. Melt bitter-sweet chocolate and butter in a saucepan over low heat until nearly smooth; cool slightly. In a bowl, whisk together flour, cocoa, coffee, baking soda, and salt. In a large bowl, beat eggs, sugar, brown sugar, vanilla, and almond extract with a hand mixer until thickened. Beat in chocolate mixture, then flour mixture. Stir in nuts and chocolate chips. Cover dough and chill at least 2 hour or up to 1 day. Preheat oven to 350. Line baking sheet with sheets of parchment paper. Drop 1/2 oz. dough balls (3 t.) onto prepared baking sheets, spacing 2 inches apart. Bake cookies until slightly soft, 10 to 11 minutes. Cool cookies on baking sheets for 5 minutes, then transfer to a rack to cool completely.

We are charging through September, and we still are having some humid weather. This past week has been giving us a lot of rain. If you haven't noticed the beautiful flower pots (they are a lot bigger than your usual pots) around town, be sure you look at them. The beautiful canna lilies that are yellow are very visible from the street. Thank you Lena Business and Professional Association for buying, planting, and keeping them beautiful all summer long. It is a lot of work, and I sometimes think we take things for granted (like beautiful flowers). Thank you for your dedication to the beautification of our streets. I stopped at the Farmer's Market this week and bought some beautiful green beans, broccoli, and onions. I had to get my weekly cookie fix, and bought some jelly for the winter. There were beautiful tomatoes, breads, freshly canned green beans for the winter, and pickles. Remember to support our local Farmer's Market; they will be back this week on Wednesday evening between 4 and 7. We continue to look for some recipes that feature vegetables from the garden and some peaches, raspberries, pumpkin, and apples.

If you have any recipes you would like to share, send them our way. You can contact us in person, by mail at From Lena's Kitchens, Shopper's Guide at 213 S. Center St. or email us at scoopshopper@rvpublishing.com.

Orangeville vs. South Beloit

Lady Broncos hold a pregame huddle getting each other pumped up for Monday night's match against South Beloit.

Forestry Tour and Sawmill Demonstration

The Northwest Illinois Forestry Association will tour Johnson Creek Hardwoods, near Mount Carroll, on Saturday, Sept. 21, from 1 until 4 p.m.

For over 20 years, this facility has been producing high quality lumber for craftsmen and woodworkers. Their stock is sourced from two dozen northwestern Illinois hardwood species in their adjacent woodland. The Johnsons will show their standing timber and will lead a walk through their shop discussing how logs are cut, lumber is dried, and their emphasis on quality. The finished products are displayed in their "Board Room". Michael Johnson also will demonstrate an economical method of sawing white oak for a high percentage of quartersawn and riftsawn lumber. He also will demonstrate their method of sawing bookmatched slabs for dining room tables.

To reach Johnson Creek Hardwoods, from Mount Carroll, go south on IL Route 78 for 2.6 miles, then (turn left) east on Timber Lake Road for 1 mile, then (turn right) south on Daggert Road for 1.5 miles to Johnson Creek Hardwoods at 6480 Daggert.

This tour is open to the public; there is no charge to attend.
