Panthers extend winning streak to six games

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

After dropping their first game of the season, the Lena-Winslow Panthers have been riding a hot streak as they have won six games in a row. Their most recent win came on Monday, Dec. 19 when the Panthers played host to the 3-3 Winnebago Indians. The Panthers were boosted by an early three pointer from Owen Gilbertson. Rowen Schulz added four first quarter points of his own as Le-Win jumped out to an early lead. Winnebago tried to keep pace as Marcus Smith carried the Indians to eight first quarter points. Le-Win would take an 11-8 lead into the second.

Things evened out in the second quarter. Gilbertson hit another three-pointer, Schulz went two-for-two at the free throw line, and Gunar Lobdell hit a basket. Winnebago matched the Panthers as each team had eight second quarter points, leaving the Le-Win advantage at three points. Eventually, the Panthers took a 19-16 lead into halftime.

Coming out of the break, it was Lobdell's turn to get in on the action. After scoring just two points in the first half, Lobdell posted 10 points in the third quarter alone. Despite that performance from Lobdell, the only other Le-Win points came from a Gage Dunker free throw.

The Warriors had their best offensive quarter of the night as Ray Murchie hit a pair of three pointers on his way to nine third quarter points. Warren outscored the Panthers in the third, but it wouldn't be enough to put them in the lead. Le-Win would take a one-point advantage into the fourth as they were up 30-29.

Warren tried to use the foul line to get back in the game late in the fourth. The Panthers were clutch at the charity stripe, however, as they went eight for ten at the line in the fourth. Schulz was a perfect four-for-four at the line

New year to bring new laws in Illinois Obituary

Elimination of cash bail one of many changes taking effect Jan. 1

By Peter Hancock
CAPITOL NEWS ILLINOIS

By now, almost everyone in Illinois has heard that Jan. 1 will mark the beginning of a significant change in the state's criminal justice system — the elimination of cash bail.

It's an issue that dominated the 2022 campaigns and has been both praised and criticized on editorial pages in newspapers across the state. It essentially means that starting Jan. 1, the decision as to whether a criminal suspect should be held in jail while awaiting trial will be based on public safety and the likelihood the suspect will flee rather than their financial ability to post bond.

And while that criminal justice reform has received widespread attention, it is by no means the only new law that will take effect when the calendar turns over to 2023.

For most people who work a minimum wage job, the new year will bring a pay raise to $13 per hour, a $1 increase over the current wage. That's the result of a law Gov. JB Pritzker signed in 2019, his first major legislative victory after being sworn into office a month earlier. The law will eventually raise the wage to $15 an hour on Jan. 1, 2025.

The new $13 hourly rate does not apply to all minimum wage earners. People who receive tips at work will see their base wage rise to $7.80 an hour. And people younger than 18 who work fewer than 650 hours per year will see their wage go up to $10.50 an hour.

The higher wage will probably come as welcome news for those who drive a car to and from work. That's because the new year will also bring higher motor fuel taxes.

The same year Pritzker signed the minimum wage bill, he also signed a multi-year, $45 billion transportation and capital improvements bill known as "Rebuild Illinois," which is funded in part with higher motor fuel taxes that are scheduled to increase with inflation each year.

The adjustment in the tax rate is supposed to take effect on July 1 of each year, the first day of the state's fiscal year. But last spring, in the face of rising inflation and healthy state revenues, lawmakers authorized a six-month delay in the scheduled increase, putting it off until Jan. 1.

As a result, starting Jan. 1, the motor fuel tax people pay at the pump will go up 3.1 cents per gallon, and then it will increase again when the next regular adjustment date comes around on July 1, 2023.

Criminal law

Several new criminal laws will go into effect Jan. 1, including three that deal with sex offenses.

One of those prevents people who solicit sex from a minor or a person with a severe or profound intellectual disability from asserting a defense that they simply did not know the person was underage or intellectually disabled. House Bill 4593, signed into law May 27, puts the burden of proof on the defendant that they did not know the age or disability status of the other person, rather than the other way around.

Another new law changes the definition of when a person is "unable to give knowing consent." Under current law, a person cannot give knowing consent when the accused person "administers any intoxicating or anesthetic substance or any controlled substance" that causes the victim to lose consciousness of the nature of the act.

House Bill 5441, signed June 16, broadens that definition to include when the victim has taken any intoxicating or controlled substance causing them to lose consciousness of the nature of the act, even if the substances were administered by someone else.

Another bill expands certain employment restrictions that apply to convicted child sex offenders. Currently, they are prohibited from being employed by, or even being present at, child day care centers, schools that provide before- and after-school programs for children or any facility that provides programs or services exclusively for people under age 18.

Senate Bill 3019, signed May 27, expands that to prohibit convicted child sex offenders from working at carnivals, amusement enterprises, county fairs and the State Fair when people under age 18 are present.

Another new law expands the list of professionals who are required to report suspicions of child abuse or neglect. Starting Jan. 1, under Senate Bill 3833, signed May 13, occupational therapists and assistants, physical therapists and assistants, and athletic trainers will be added to that list.

Carjacking

Three new laws taking effect Jan. 1 are intended to address a spike in carjackings around the state. All were signed on May 26.

House Bill 601 expands the crime of possession of burglary tools to include possession, with the intention to enter and steal a vehicle, of devices to unlock or start a vehicle, or devices that capture or duplicate a signal from a key fob to unlock or start the vehicle.

House Bill 3699 expands an existing state council charged with providing grants and financial support to law enforcement agencies to aid in identifying, apprehending and prosecuting carjackers and recover stolen vehicles.

And House Bill 3772 ensures that victims of carjackings are not liable for costs and fines associated with impounding a vehicle that was stolen or hijacked, provided the owner files a police report in a timely manner.

Education

To address a shortage of substitute teachers throughout the state, House Bill 4798, signed April 27, allows students enrolled in approved teacher training programs who have earned at least 90 credit hours to obtain a substitute teaching license. Before, applicants had to hold a bachelor's degree or higher from an accredited institution of higher education.

House Bill 4716, signed May 27, calls on the Illinois State Board of Education to adopt "rigorous learning standards" for classroom and laboratory phases of driver education programs for novice teen drivers. Those will include, at a minimum, the Novice Teen Driver Education and Training Administrative Standards developed by the Association of National Stakeholders in Traffic Safety Education in association with the National Highway Transportation Safety Administration.

Higher education

In an effort to get more people to pursue careers in human services, Senate Bill 3925, signed June 10, establishes a student loan repayment program. Subject to appropriations, the Illinois Student Assistance Commission will award loan repayment grants to qualified individuals with an associate degree or higher who works for a human services agency that contracts with or is grant-funded by a state agency that provides "direct or indirect services that ensure that individuals have essential elements to build and maintain physical, emotional, and economic well-being at every phase of life."

Awards can be made for a maximum of four years. Maximum amounts are $3,000 per year for someone with an associate degree, $15,000 per year for a person with a bachelor's degree and $25,000 per year for a person with a master's degree or higher, with a $5,000 per-year add-on if the applicant holds certain professional licenses.

Meanwhile, students currently enrolled in any program at a public university or community college will have access to trained individuals who can help them apply for federal, state or local assistance based on their financial need. House Bill 4201, signed June 7, requires those institutions to designate a "benefits navigator" to help students identify and determine their eligibility for various benefit programs.

Alzheimer's care

Senate Bill 3707, signed May 27, requires all employees and people who work for agencies that contract with the Illinois Department on Aging who provide direct services to individuals participating in its Community Care Program to receive at least two hours of training in Alzheimer's disease and dementia, as well as safety risks, communication and behavior associated with the disease.

Hunting

Starting Jan. 1, deer hunters in Illinois will have a new option for the type of firearm they use. House Bill 4386, signed May 27, authorizes the use of single-shot centerfire rifles — guns that can fire only a single round of ammunition that contains primer in the center of the cartridge and not in the rim of the cartridge. Before, only shotguns, handguns and muzzleloading rifles were allowed.

State symbols

Illinois will have two new official state symbols effective Jan. 1. House Bill 4821 establishes the eastern milk-snake as the official state snake. That was an initiative of Gentry Heiple, a snake enthusiast and Carterville Junior High School seventh grader. And House Bill 4261 establishes dolostone as the official state rock. That was an initiative of a group of students from Pleasantdale Middle School and Maplebrook Elementary School.

Vehicles

People who own vehicles that were manufactured in Illinois will be able to apply for a slight break on their registration fees starting Jan. 1. Senate Bill 3609 allows those drivers to apply for a one-time $25 rebate, "if the vehicle is manufactured in this state and the application for title is made no more than one year after the month in which the vehicle was manufactured."

OPINION

Slices of life

You don't have to make me better

When people see you hurting they want to make it better—to make you better. It's a kind and compassionate approach to life. I appreciate that.

By JILL PERTLER
Columnist

But to my friends and loved ones, I have a message: You don't have to try to make me better.

In fact, you can't. But I appreciate you trying, I truly do. I feel your love. I feel your compassion and empathy. You can't make me better however much you long to try.

Because there is no making me better. There is no better. There is only right here, right now. I'm in the place where I am supposed to be. And it might be sad sometimes, but it's my place.

When I write about this place of grief that I currently find myself in, it may seem vulnerable and somber. I like to think of it as honest.

Honest is all I have, people. I don't have any reason to avoid honest.

I lost big. (How's that for honesty?) I'm not going to sugarcoat or shortchange it. I'm not going to pretend the loss wasn't significant, life-changing or horrendous.

It was all those things.

But I'm okay.

Truly. If I wasn't I'd let you know. I'd reach out.

Grief is terrible, but it isn't life-ending. At least not for me.

But that won't stop me from being honest. Because I think it's needed. I think we need to talk about grief and about how it affects our lives and about how terrible it really, truly is. Pretending it doesn't exist doesn't make that so. It doesn't make it the truth because it isn't the truth.

It doesn't allow us to avoid it because it is lurking in the corner for everyone. Rich, poor and everything in-between. Status, power, strength, intelligence, wealth, religion—none of it provides a buffer from grief. And that is scary, so we avoid the topic.

I understand that. I even see the logic in that.

Grief is scary.

Still I think we have to bring it out in the open just a bit more. It's okay. It's a part of life—an unavoidable part, but one we all will confront one day. I'm sorry for that.

But I truly think being open and honest about this topic helps us all in the long run. It helps us help one another—which ever end of the grief train we happen to be on at the moment.

Grief sucks. Grief doesn't end.

But grief isn't the end, and it certainly isn't the end to living.

Grief endures, but life does as well.

After a loss, we go on living, but we are never done grieving.

Those of us in the thralls of it may never be over it. We will always be at least a little bit broken.

And you may read that and see it as bleak, but it isn't. Not really.

Being broken isn't the end. Losing what we were isn't bad. It may feel like it at first, but grief is a beginning just as much as it is an ending.

The Greatest Gift at Christmas

Christmas Day finally arrived this year. Our twelve little grandchildren couldn't wait. I remember when I was a kid counting down the days and feeling like Christmas Day would never get here. There are so many things we do at Christmas that we don't do throughout the rest of the year that make it so special. First, we start listening to Christmas music weeks before the "Big Day" arrives. We buy presents for those we love and wrap them with fancy paper. We watch a classic Christmas movie or two. We probably have a Christmas party at our workplace or school. Maybe we go to a Christmas

By SCOTT CERNEK
Columnist

concert, or we go caroling. Sometimes we make it to a Christmas parade or a festival of lights of some kind. We bake cookies, share them with neighbors and friends, and we probably send at least a few Christmas cards to our loved ones.

One of the things we love most in our family is going to Christmas Eve Candlelight Service at church. We read the Christmas story and sing some of our favorite Christmas carols and really focus on worshipping God. At the end of the service, we always take communion to remember that Jesus was born to die on the cross to become the perfect sacrifice for the sins of man. We turn out the lights and light little candles that we hold as we sing, Silent Night Holy Night, all is calm all is bright. It certainly was a holy night when the shepherds were visited by the angels near Bethlehem long ago, and it always seems like Christmas Eve service brings God's holiness back into our lives in such a powerful way. Man, do we need that.

This year on Christmas

Eve Day, we had the blessing of having all of our family over to our farm for a Christmas celebration. It was wonderful. We are blessed beyond anything we deserve. We had four generations of family there and my wife and the ladies prepared some wonderful dishes of ham, turkey, beef brisket, rolls, beans, potatoes, and many desserts. Before we ate, the whole family gathered around in a large circle and bowed our heads before Almighty God. I prayed a prayer of thanksgiving and praise to Him for all the blessings He has showered upon us. Most importantly we thanked Him for the greatest gift of all, the sending of His Son, Jesus Christ, very God born in human flesh and spirit to be our Savior.

Doesn't that very thought just boggle your mind? Here is our vast eternal God who created the universe and every other detail of creation. Here is God becoming a man in order to save us all from sin's curse and all because He loves us so much, beyond anything we can imagine.

In the gospel of John chapter 1 we read these most beautiful and descriptive words of the coming into the world of our Savior the Lord Jesus Christ.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was in the beginning with God. All things were made through him, and without him was not anything made that was made. And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we have seen his glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth. In him was life, and the life was the light of men. The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it.

The true light, which gives light to everyone, was coming into the world. He was in the world, and the world was made through him, yet the world did not know him. He came to his own, and his own people did not receive him. But to all who did receive him, who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God.

There is just so much here in this passage. There is so much beauty and truth for us to believe in order to be saved from sin and receive the power of the Holy Spirit into our hearts and lives.

It's funny to think of man, who are just tiny little ants in God's grand scheme, that in our feeble little existence, God cared so much for us. That God so valued us above His most beautiful and immense creation that He would enter into our very sustenance, our very weak little existence and lift us up to heaven and bring us salvation. The only thing we must do is believe and live in relationship with Him. Praise God for Christmas! Until next week, God bless.

It is a beginning of a new you. A you that you never imagined or wanted before. It may not have been your first, second or even last choice, still it is new. And new comes with opportunities.

Opportunities for growth. Opportunities for new relationships, new outlooks and new beliefs.

Grief may signify an ending, but it is not the end.

It is a beginning. If we—all of us—allow and let it

at the county level are bronze, silver, and gold. Medals that proceed to state recognition are emeralds and diamonds. This year Stephenson County had ten bronze medal winners: Raelynn Yaeger of Rock City, Addyson Ackerson of Lena, Natalie Fellows, Ava Fellows, Mason Fellows, Elowen Lamm, Elizabeth Lamm, Carson Williams, Grace Maskell, & Rachel Perrin all of Freeport. To win a bronze medal, youth must complete at least one experience in each of the four dimensions listed above.

Our silver medal winners are Kasen DeHaven, Kinzy DeHaven, Abigail Busker, Matthew Busker, Rachel Busker of Ridott, Alessandra Olson, Brennan Olson, Audrey Boyer of Davis, Drake Merriman, Mya Mitchell, Jacob Mitchell of Freeport. These youth had to complete two experiences in each of the four dimensions, with at least two of those experiences being beyond the individual and club level.

Our gold medal winners had to complete four experiences in each dimension, and two of those experiences must be outside of their club and county. The youth who win this award are very active not just in their 4-H clubs in Stephenson County, but they attend and get involved with 4-H on a state and multi-county level as well. We had five youths who won gold medals this year: Stella Prasse of McConnell, Rebekah Visel of Lena, Magen Busker of Ridott, Cassie Boyer of Davis & Jordan Heimann of Warren.

Erwin Zueger of Stockton Service Center presents Dave Snyders, Board President of Tyler's Justice Center with a check for $1,000. We are so very fortunate to have these services available for our children and families. It is an honor and a privilege to be able to assist them in this way to help them continue their support and advocacy for those who so desperately need it.

and Lobdell went four-for-six as they helped protect the Le-Win lead.

Warren wasn't able to find that same momentum in the fourth as they had in the third. The Indians were just held to eight fourth quarter points as they tried to pull off the small comeback. Le-Win would eventually hold on for a 42-37 victory over the Indians.

Lobdell led the Panthers in scoring with 16 points. Schulz was the only other Panther to reach double digits as he finished with 10 points.

Gilbertson finished with six points and Drew Streckwald added four in the victory.

Le-Win will be back on their home court on Tuesday, Jan. 3 when they play host to the Dakota Indians. Currently, Dakota sits at 6-5 on the season.

New Illinois laws take effect Jan. 1

By Andrew Chesney
STATE REPRESENTATIVE

I hope this finds you and your family well and wish for you the best of the holiday season. As we approach the year's end, I want to take a moment to thank you for the privilege of representing your interests in Springfield. I am humbled by and grateful for the trust you have placed in me.

On your behalf, I cast votes on hundreds of pieces of legislation this year and on January 1 more than 180 of those bills will go into effect as new state laws. Some of those include:

The cost of license plate registration will be reduced from $24 to $10 for low-income seniors and people with disabilities (HB5304).

New rights were enacted for nursing home residents that include among other things, the right to be treated with courtesy and respect (SB1633).

Taxpayers will be able to access an interactive map on the State of Illinois Comptroller's website that provides the location and annual financial information of all statewide taxing bodies (HB0568).

Homeowner associations will be assured the right to file an appeal to the Property Tax Appeal Board on behalf of homeowners (SB3069).

Health insurance plans will be required to offer coverage for hormone therapy treatment for women who have undergone a hysterectomy (House Bill 5254).

In the Foster Children's Bill of Rights Act, the list of rights is expanded to include new items designed to support children transitioning in and out of the foster care system (House Bill 5418).

The Family Bereavement Leave Act will now permit up to 10 work days of unpaid leave from work due to a miscarriage, unsuccessful fertility procedure, failed adoption, failed surrogacy agreement, diagnosis that negatively impacts fertility, or stillbirth (Senate Bill 3120).

Returning military service members will have better access to gain civilian work experience through the SkillBridge program for employers and transitioning service members. SkillBridge is designed for service members to gain civilian work experience through industry training apprenticeships or internships during their last 180 days of service (House Bill 5385).

This new law erases the stigma of a high school equivalency diploma versus a high school diploma, and also reduces the cost of GED exams for adult education students. This change replaces references to high school equivalency certificates to State of Illinois High School Diplomas and will aid Illinois graduates in establishing reciprocity with educational requirements in other states (Senate Bill 3792).

Streamlines the Farmers' Market Permit for those who choose to sell their products at markets in multiple counties are standardized in this law, rather than being different from county to county. Permits will be valid for one year and fees shall not exceed $175 (Senate Bill 3838).

As we gather together with our families and loved ones to celebrate this joyous time of year, please take a moment to consider how you can help those in need and honor those who keep us safe: Our first responders, frontline healthcare workers and those serving in the armed forces.

It has been an honor of lifetime to represent you in the Illinois House of Representatives. On behalf of my staff and myself, we wish you a very Merry Christmas.

FHN Community Health Needs Assessment available online

Every three years, FHN Memorial Hospital (FHN) conducts a Community Health Needs Assessment (CHNA) to identify community health needs and create a plan to address those needs. The 2022 CHNA Assessment and the associated Implementation Strategy document are available online at www.fhn.org/community-health-needs.

The CHNA is required by Internal Revenue Code, section 501(r) and the Affordable Care Act to gather information from community leaders and stakeholders across a broad range of interests. For the purposes of the CHNA, the FHN service area is defined as Stephenson, JoDavies, and Carroll counties in northwest Illinois.

Surveys measured participants' perspective on a range of issues that affect the population's health and well-being, including community resources, barriers to healthcare providers, and reasons for high rates of disease and mortality. Through the surveys, FHN also requested the collection of secondary data on a broad array of health indicators and demographic information from databases created by other agencies or organizations.

FHN Get Fit 2023 begins Jan. 9

FHN's popular wellness program is back to help participants work toward their 2023 fitness goals. Get Fit 2023 is heavy on tips, videos, and recipes to help participants build a healthy lifestyle for years to come.

Get Fit 2023 is a FREE 12-week, all-online program again this year. It's not yet safe to gather people together for prevent screenings as has been done in past years, so the team competition has been put aside for this year and the focus is on helping participants work toward their personal best. Get-Fit 2023 runs from Monday, Jan. 9 through Sunday, April 2, and people can join at any time during the program. Registration opens Monday, Dec. 26.

Participants will still be able to keep track of exercising, eating fruits and veggies, and getting enough water via recommended online wellness trackers, and FHN's special Get Fit 2023 site will include videos with exercise and healthy diet tips, healthy cooking and shopping tips, recipes and more.

Participants can take advantage of special offers from local fitness partners and participate in fun contests, and of course, win great prizes. Signup for FHN's Get Fit 2023 opens Monday, Dec. 26 at www.fhn.org/getfit.
