Illinois wheat tour scouts are bullish about yield potential

By Daniel Grant
FARMWEEK

It looks to be quite a year for wheat in Illinois based on findings of the Southern Illinois Wheat Tour and the latest USDA projections. The annual tour, hosted by the Illinois Wheat Association (IWA) May 23, projected an average yield of 97.1 bushels per acre, with a weighted average of 94.8 bushels, based on 57 samples from 20 counties mostly south of Interstate 70.

"One thing I noticed on the tour is everything is pretty steady," said Mark Krausz, IWA president and Clinton County farmer. "We didn't see that one bad patch." Joel Boesch, of Wehmer/AgriMAXX Seed in Mascoutah, reported similar findings. "Most of the area I cover looks pretty dang good," he told FarmWeek during a tour stop in Washington County, the state's largest wheat producer. "I bet there'll be some yields in the 120s and 130s coming in."

IWA worked with the University of Illinois to enhance the crop scouting methods on the tour this year with more focus put on spikelet measurements along with tiller counts to make yield projections.

Overall, USDA projects Illinois farmers will harvest the most acres (790,000) in a decade this season and produce the most bushels (61.6 million) statewide since 2008. "We did not have a hard time finding a field, so that's an excellent sign," said Dave Devore, of Siemer Milling in Teutopolis, who scouted fields in Effingham, Jasper, Richland and Clay counties. "Some of the acreage increase is in some of those counties."

Overall, USDA projects Illinois farmers will harvest the most wheat acres (790,000) in a decade this season and produce the most bushels (61.6 million) statewide since 2008.

And what about yield potential in those southeast counties? "We didn't see a bad field," Devore said.

The National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS) Illinois field office rated the condition of the crop at 67% good to excellent (up 5 points from the previous week), 24% fair and 9% poor to very poor as of May 22.

USDA pegged the statewide average yield at 78 bushels per acre as of May 12, just one bushel below the record set the past two years. If the production estimates come to fruition, Illinois would rank as the No. 4 producer of wheat in the U.S. this year. "That's really unusual for Illinois because we devote so many acres to corn and soybeans," said Mark Schleusener, Illinois state statistician with NASS, who noted new wheat estimates will be released this month.

However, part of the reason Illinois could move up in wheat rankings is due to crop issues in drought-ravaged portions of the Plains. "I think the big story for wheat across the U.S. is actually in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. It's very, very dry there," Schleusener noted. "It's bad enough that some people are evaluating wheat fields and saying they look so bad they're going to kill them and plant corn or beans (which could alter the final acreage mix)."

Nationally, USDA estimates the winter wheat planted to harvested ratio could sink to just 67.4% this season, which would be the lowest since 1917. In Illinois, tour scouts did find a range of issues from freeze damage, nitrogen deficiency and barley yellow dwarf to some fusarium head blight in the crop. But none of the issues appeared to be widespread.

"There's not a lot of head scab," said Aaron Hunsinger, of Bosch BASF Smart Farming in Carmi, who led the tour through White, Hamilton, Gallatin and Wayne counties. "We saw a lot of good wheat fields, which is pretty amazing since we got a lot of rain. When people were getting 2-3 tenths, we were getting 2-3 inches at a time."

Tour participants predict harvest will begin in early to mid-June in southern Illinois and progressively later in the month moving north. "All in all, the fields look really good. There was no insect pressure or scab," said Mark Miller, of Mennel Milling in Mount Olive, who led the tour through Macoupin, Montgomery, Bond and Madison counties. "We'll see what it looks like in 2-3 weeks."

The recent warm up should be good for grain fill heading into harvest, according to Boesch. "We need one more good rain and I think Illinois will have another good wheat crop," Devore added.

Pritzker set to consider signing more than 500 bills in the next three months

By Jerry Nowicki
CAPITOL NEWS ILLINOIS

Illinois lawmakers passed 566 bills through both chambers of the General Assembly in the recently concluded legislative session—all but one of them in May. It sets the table for an approximate three-month bill-signing season for Gov. JB Pritzker. That's because the state's constitution gives legislative leaders 30 days from a bill's passage to send it to the governor, who then has 60 days to sign or veto it.

If the governor takes no action in that time frame, the bill would become law automatically. Historically, the legislature has sent bills to the governor in batches, allowing his staff ample time to review the proposals.

The following are some of the bills that Pritzker will consider signing in the coming months.

Noncitizen licenses

A measure backed by Democratic Secretary of State Alexi Giannoulias would allow residents of Illinois to obtain a standard driver's license, rather than the "temporary visitor driver's license" that is currently allowed under law. An applicant would be required to show their U.S. immigration documentation or, if they don't have that, a passport or consular card. They would also have to prove they have car insurance.

A standard license can be used as identification, whereas a TVDL cannot. Advocates said that has made tasks such as buying alcohol or picking up a prescription challenging for many TVDL holders. Under House Bill 3882, noncitizens would still be ineligible to receive a federal Real ID certified license.

According to the secretary of state's office, more than 300,000 people currently have a TVDL. Those would still be valid until their expiration date, but the state would not issue any new ones.

It passed the House 67-35 and the Senate 33-18.

Noncitizen law enforcement

House Bill 3751 provides that noncitizens can become law enforcement officers in Illinois if they're authorized by federal law to work in the country or if action on their immigration status has been deferred under the federal Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals process. Those individuals must meet all other state qualifications for being in law enforcement and must be authorized to possess a firearm under federal law. The measure passed 37-20 in the Senate and 100-7 in the House.

License plate readers

Another measure backed by Giannoulias would prohibit any "user" of an automated license plate reader from sharing data collected by the device with out-of-state law enforcement officers who are investigating activities related to abortion care or someone's immigration status.

Prior to sharing any data, an ALPR user—which includes law-enforcement agencies and other entities if they share the data with law enforcement—would first need a written declaration that the law enforcement agency would not use the data contrary to the bill's language. If no such declaration exists, the user would be prohibited from sharing the data. House Bill 3326 passed 39-15 in the Senate and 69-34 in the House.

Native American repatriation

House Bill 3413 would streamline the process through which Illinois returns Native American remains and materials to their communities. In part, it would create a procedure in which the Illinois Department of Natural Resources would consult with affiliated tribal nations when returning remains. The measure was spurred by reporting from ProPublica which showed the Illinois State Museum has the second-largest collection of unrepatriated Native American remains in the U.S. As of 2022, the state museum had only returned 2 percent of the 7,700 remains it reported to the U.S. government.

HB 3413 allows IDNR to establish burial sites for Native American human remains and other artifacts that are closed to the public and protected by the state. Additionally, it creates a fund in the state treasury that would be paid into by violators of the act and subject to appropriation to cover costs including reinterment, repatriation, repair or restoration of human remains. It passed both houses unanimously. One lawmaker voted "present" in the House.

Probation drug testing

Senate Bill 1886 would limit the circumstances under which a judge could order a person to refrain from cannabis and alcohol use and submit to testing while on probation. A judge could still mandate testing if the person is under 21 or was sentenced for an offense that included use of an "intoxicating compound." Testing could also still be required if the person is in problem-solving court or if the person has undergone a clinical assessment that includes alcohol or cannabis testing. Courts could also still require a person to abstain from cannabis and alcohol for 30 days between sentencing and the person's participation in a clinical assessment.

The measure would also prohibit a court from banning cannabis use if it is prescribed by a medical professional and from assessing fees for mandatory drug or alcohol testing if the person is indigent as defined in state law. It passed 75-40 in the House and 31-18 in the Senate.

Child influencers

Senate Bill 1782 aims to protect "child influencers" who are under the age of 16 and featured in at least 30 percent of money-making internet videos, or vlogs, published by a family member in a 30-day period. Vloggers who feature children under the age of 16 would be required to keep records of the children's inclusion in vlogs, proof of age and other documents. If they don't, the child would have a right to sue in civil court.

If the vlog reaches a platform's money-making threshold or generates at least 10 cents per view, the vlogger would be required to put a percentage of earnings into a trust fund for the child that is equal to half of the percentage of content that features the child. Percentages differ if multiple children are featured.

It passed the House 98-17 and the Senate 57-0.

Hotel worker protections

House Bill 2220 would give hotel managers greater authority to remove disruptive visitors from their premises. That includes individuals who refuse to pay, threaten employees, violate laws or posted hotel rules, or use

Perspective

When confronting a problem. I've always been told to gain perspective by thinking about how important this issue will be in five years. It's a useful exercise.

But going into the future is mere speculation. You don't/can't know where you will be in five years. Maybe your troubles will be small; maybe they will be great.

So, while the approach of looking ahead has worked for me thus far, I'm proposing something completely different. What if we take this idea and turn it on its head?

Instead of looking to the future, how about we go back - to the past?

Put yourself in your own shoes five years ago. Here, there is no guessing. You know exactly where you were five or even 10 years

By
JILL PERTLER
Columnist

ago. You know far too well the obstacles you've encountered - and overcome - since then.

And these obstacles, I think, can perhaps better help us put our present angst into perspective.

Today I struggle with the need to purchase a car. Or maybe a washing machine that needs repair. Or perhaps one of my kids needs a job.

All angst-worthy situations.

But.

How do they compare to other angst-worthy situations

I've encountered in the past?

I advised going back five years, but I don't have to go that far. For me, the key year is (and probably always will be) 2020. In 2020, COVID hit, the world shut down, my dad died and then my husband died. All in those 12 precious months. Worst year of my life - so far and I hope ever.

My present angst doesn't come close to that of 2020. It isn't even a sliver.

Still, it threatens to overpower my day - with worry, consternation, with what-ifs and worst-case-scenarios. All a waste of my good time. I read somewhere once that it isn't negative events that cause anxiety, it's the way we think about those events - or how much we allow ourselves to think about those events.

We think we can control the negative events in our lives but that is most often impossible. We can't control negative events any more than we can control lightning or the tide or the path of a tornado. We aren't in control of the bad things that happen in our lives. We are in control of how we respond to them.

It's tempting to get caught up in the maze of turbulence that is life. And sometimes I do, but not for long - at least not often. Much, much less than in the past - prior to 2020. That's for sure.

I only need to think of 2020 and suddenly perspective becomes crystal clear. I survived 2020. Certainly I can survive an appliance repair.

It's a no-brainer.

Maybe that's the hidden gift of hard times. They create perspective. They give a backdrop onto reality. They make everyday problems seem doable because they are.

Life provides hills and hurdles. It isn't a clear path because it wasn't designed to be. We wouldn't learn needed lessons if all we experienced was easy street.

Life is meant to be hard. Gulp.

Because hard pushes us. Hard makes us grow. Hard helps us to rise above the problems of today and realize we can tackle tomorrow. Hard - when conquered - makes us the opposite of hard.

It opens us to the beauty in every moment. Hard, when tackled correctly, softens us. It allows us to be more loving and kind. And in doing so, it make the world a kinder place.

And, really, truly, that's what this is all about, isn't it?

Bills

“verbally abusive language.”

The hotel industry pushed for the changes, which also state the removed guest must be refunded for unused portions of their stay. It also states the language can't be used to evict long-term residents or if the area is under a severe weather warning. It also may not be used to discriminate against a guest based on characteristics protected under federal, state or local law.

Hotel managers would be allowed to refuse accommodation to anyone who destroys or threatens to destroy hotel property or who is on the premises for the purpose of providing alcohol to an underage person or possessing a controlled substance. It passed 108-3 in the House and 51-2 in the Senate.

Full-day kindergarten

House Bill 2396 would require Illinois elementary and unit public school districts to offer full-day kindergarten by the 2027-2028 school year. After that time, offering half-day kindergarten would be optional. Some districts would be able to apply for a two-year waiver based on their level of state funding.

The measure would also create a task force to study the number of districts offering kindergarten, the number of students enrolled and several other factors. The task force is to be named by October, with an interim report due to lawmakers by June 30, 2024, and a final report by Jan. 31, 2025.

It passed 52-1 in the Senate and 85-24 in the House.

New state flag commission

Senate Bill 1818—numbered for the year Illinois entered the union—would create a commission to consider new state flag designs and make recommendations to the General Assembly as to whether the current flag should be replaced. Members would be appointed by the governor and legislative leaders of both parties, as well as the secretary of state, the state board of education and the state museum. They would be unpaid other than a per diem reimbursement.

The commission would set “guiding principles” for a new flag, raise awareness for the effort and create a submission process for new designs. By Sept. 1, 2024, they would select 10 of those designs, and by Dec. 3, 2024, they would report to lawmakers with their recommendations. It passed 39-16 in the Senate and 72-40 in the House.

Teacher licensure

Senate Bill 1488 will temporarily suspend and create a task force to review one of the tests prospective teachers must pass to be licensed in Illinois. The test is known as the Teacher Performance Assessment, or “edTPA,” which would be suspended through Aug. 31, 2025, under the measure.

The edTPA is a performance-based assessment that requires applicants to submit a portfolio including lesson plans and tests they've administered while student teaching, along with examples of student work and other material. The portfolios are scored by outside teachers and teacher educators. It has been a requirement in Illinois since 2015 but was temporarily stalled by Pritzker's executive orders related to the COVID-19 pandemic, which expired May 11.

SB 1488 would also establish a task force to evaluate teacher performance assessment systems and make recommendations to the State Board of Education and the General Assembly by Aug. 1, 2024. It passed the House 84-19 and the Senate 55-2.

School district cash reserves

Senate Bill 1994, which passed both chambers unanimously, would require school districts to report their annual cash reserves and average three-year operating expenditures to the state. When reserves exceed 2.5 times the average three-year expenditures, the school district would be required to file a plan to the state board detailing how they plan to spend reserves down to 2.5 times their average expenditures or less.

Districts would not be required to spend reserves, but only to submit the plan detailing how they intend to do so over three years.

Editor's note: Capitol News Illinois reporters Peter Hancock and Nika Schoonover contributed to this report.

Youth robotics competition builds conservationist mindset

Youth from 30 teams across Illinois demonstrated their learning, celebrated their accomplishments, and interacted with others who share an interest in robotics at the 4-H Hyrdobot Robotics Competition held at the Interstate Center on the McLean County Fairgrounds on May 13. The competition theme this year tasked youth with adopting a conservationist mindset as part of the competition.

"This generation of minds will be charged with saving our oceans, and making the planet a cleaner, healthier place," said University of Illinois Extension 4-H youth development specialist Keith Jacobs. "And this year's competition will put youth in the mindset of conservationists and oceanographers as they built an Autonomous Underwater Vehicle."

Illinois youth ages 8-18 competed in teams of three to ten youth at two levels of competition. Teams competing at the Rookie level had never competed in a 4-H, FLL/FTC/FRC competition. Those competing in the Advanced level had previously competed in those types of competitions. Competition judges were on hand to score events and determine the competition category winners. Teams were evaluated on Table Performance Judging, Technical Judging, and Teamwork Judging

"This competition is perfect for different skill levels as the expectation is that teams design a robot and program that reflects their current level of learning," says Jacobs. "The challenge is designed to be open-ended and includes a lot of room for creativity, which the judges love to see."

Stephenson County had two teams compete this year at State. Team-Juniors was a Rookie-level team and Team-Seniors was an Advanced level team. A total of 8 youth attended the State Competition from Stephenson County. Both teams won the Teamwork Award for their division.

The Stephenson County Robotics Club is all about teamwork. Robotics is more than just making a robot. The kids that attend the club learn how to start a robot from scratch, this means learning how to build it, program it, code it, and how to build the table by setting it up and taking it down.

For more information on Stephenson County 4-H programs, please visit our county website: go.illinois.edu/jsw

About Illinois 4-H: Illinois 4-H is the flagship youth development program of University of Illinois Extension and administered through the College of Agriculture, Consumer, and Environmental Sciences. 4-H grows true leaders, youth who are empowered for life today and prepared for a career tomorrow. The hands-on approach in 4-H gives young people guidance, tools, and encouragement, and then puts them in the driver's seat to make great things happen. Independent research confirms the unparalleled impact of the 4-H experience, demonstrating that young people are four times more likely to contribute to their communities; two times more likely to make healthier choices; two times more likely to be civically active; and two times more likely to participate in STEM programs.

For the Lena-Winslow Panthers, the 2023 softball season had their fair share of ups and downs. Le-Win head coach, Ryan Hahne, will be the first to admit that. After an early three-game winning streak, the Panthers suffered a three-game skid to follow. After 10 games played, the Panthers saw themselves sitting at just 4-6 on the year. This was obviously a disappointment for a team that had high expectations for 2023.

That slow start wound up costing the Panthers, according to Hahne. "At one point, we were 4-6 and we were not playing well," Hahne shared, explaining, "We had some girls in new positions defensively that they were getting accustomed to. Some of these bad losses hurt us when it came time to do the postseason seeding."

At the time of seeding, the Panthers saw some improvement on the field, but they would still pay for their slow start. At just 11-9, the Panthers found themselves in a position where they would have to face off with the Orangeville Broncos in Regional play. Coincidentally, the Panthers were just coming off 12-3 and 8-4 losses to Orangeville at the time of seeding. Although there was plenty of regular season left to be played, the Panthers knew they would have to meet up with the team they had just dropped a pair against in the playoffs.

That second loss seemed to spark something for the Panthers, however. After feeling like they had what it took to compete with the Broncos, the Panthers began playing their best softball. Le-Win went on an eight-game winning streak. At one point, the Panthers had outscored seven consecutive opponents by a combined score of 83-12. The winning streak improved Le-Win's record to 19-10 and included an impressive 10-0 win over Pearl City in the postseason.

At that point, Hahne felt the team was much better than what we saw in the first half of the season. "I thought we were a top three team in the area at the end of the year," Hahne shared. Despite the

Scheuerell discusses 2023 season, sectionals loss, and bright future for Bronco softball

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

Following a tough 6-1 loss in the 2023 Sectionals, the Orangeville Broncos rung the bell on yet another outstanding softball season. After winning 30 games in 2023, the Broncos hold a record of 71-13 over the last three seasons.

On the Supersectional loss, Orangeville Head Coach, Lon Scheuerell, discussed some of the obstacles the team had to battle through, including injuries. In the Sectional championship, Ava Theisen broke her wrist sliding into second base. Scheuerell and the Broncos were forced to stick a new face out in left field. "New" might be an understatement. According to Scheuerell, freshman outfielder, Jada Reed, had never even played softball before, let alone step in for a Varsity team in a Super-Sectional matchup. The Orangeville coach complimented the freshman saying, "Jada did a great job. She caught every ball and made a couple tough catches too."

Despite Reed doing such an impressive job of filling in for left field, it was Orangeville's defense that came back to bite them in the Super-Sectional. The Broncos had six total errors in the 6-1 loss to St. Bede. "We played really good defense all year. Unfortunately, we had a couple plays during the game that got us," Scheuerell said. "We bunted the ball a couple times, and we had a hard time with a couple of those plays. That definitely is a factor. It wasn't our best game. The game was on turf and [St. Bede] had a lot of speed, and they were able to use that to their advantage."

Despite the tough loss, Scheuerell was incredibly happy with what he saw from the Broncos in 2023, especially in the NUIC. "We had a great year. We went undefeated in the NUIC-North going 10-0. We did not lose one game to an NUIC North, West, or South team. To do that, that's always a good sign," he said.

Scheuerell spoke about some of the improvements he saw in 2023, especially on the defensive end. "At the beginning of the year, we were a little worried about some of our defense, especially in the outfield, we were unsure about some of our positions. That is one area that really got better as the year went on," Scheuerell shared before specifically mentioning some of the players that stepped up. Freshman, Anicka Kraft and junior Isabelle Talbert were the first two mentioned. The Orangeville coach complimented their ability to step into the outfield and "play some great outfield". However, Theisen was the leader of the outfield as the returning starter. Losing Theisen before the Super-Sectional was an insurmountable loss for the Broncos. However, Scheuerell was very pleased with the development he saw out there saying, "The outfield was an area that we were worried about and they really did a great job out there. Throughout the year we worked hard on them, and they really came a long way from the first game to the last game."

The freshman, Kraft, stepped up at the plate as well, especially in the postseason. "Offensively, Kraft was very strong all year, especially in the playoffs. She had some big hits," Scheuerell shared. In their final five games of the season, including postseason, Kraft racked up 10 runs batted in. Kraft, as a soon-to-be sophomore, is a big reason for Orangeville's exciting future.

The Broncos graduate just one senior from this year's 30-win team. Although it's a tough loss as Leah Baker has been a pillar of the team for more than a couple years now, the Broncos feel they have what they need to replace her. "We also have a great shortstop in Megan Holder, who was a First Team All-Conference player and an All-State player last year. Also, our catcher is unbelievable as a leader and defensively on the field in Meghan Carlisle. So, up the middle we are very talented for next year coming in," Scheuerell shared.

None of them will be able to fill the void Baker leaves behind as the team's main pitcher, however. Now insert Laney Holland, who Orangeville believes is more than ready to become the team's number one pitcher. "We have a kid in waiting in Laney Holland," Scheuerell shared. Holland went 9-1 this year and pitched quite a bit in 2022. "She can be a very solid pitcher. She beat Forreton the first time we played them, and her only loss was to Kenosha Tremper. Obviously losing Leah is a big loss, but we feel good. We have a kid who threw about one third of the innings this year, and she'll be ready to go," Scheuerell said on Holland.

For Orangeville's schedule, you can expect them to have several cross-border games in the future. Orangeville competes with a handful of Wisconsin teams every year, and Scheuerell says that is no coincidence. Scheuerell, who is from Wisconsin, says, "I've always tried to play as many Wisconsin teams as we can. Sometimes we just can't get them to find a date that works. We would prefer to play 15 minutes or a half an hour away. We're always looking to play Black Hawk, Argyle, Monticello-Albany. It's good to see also, because it's not someone you have to worry about playing in the playoffs."

Orangeville also finds some tough competition in Wisconsin. This year the Broncos faced off with Juda-Albany and attempted to play Brodhead, who are both impressive programs. Brodhead made it all the way to the Division 3 State Championship game in Wisconsin this year. Orangeville beat Juda-Albany 6-5 early in the season. "Juda-Albany is 15 minutes from Orangeville, and they are a great opponent. That's kind of a game that both teams count on every year. We'd rather drive 15 minutes than drive an hour and go someplace far away," Scheuerell explained.

Orangeville also plays their summer ball in Wisconsin where they play in the Monroe league. "Anyone who wants to play, we'd love it," Scheuerell added.

While it is no surprise to say the Broncos have a bright future, especially under a coach like Scheuerell, it cannot be overlooked. Orangeville will return a majority of their 30-win team and should see development from a number of their key contributors next year. Despite losing NUIC-North player of the year, Leah Baker, the Broncos will return two First Team All-Conference selections in Holder and Carlisle. They also return Addyson Wheeler, Kraft, Hanna Broge, Holland, and Talbert. Wheeler, Kraft, Broge, and Holland were each Second Team All-Conference selections, while Talbert was an Honorable Mention.

If everything goes right, the Broncos will hope to get over the Super-Sectional slump next year.

ANNUAL DRINKING WATER QUALITY REPORT

LENA
IL1770300
Annual Water Quality Report for the period of January 1 to December 31, 2022
This report is intended to provide you with important information about your drinking water and the efforts made by the water system to provide safe drinking water.
The source of drinking water used by LENA is Ground Water.
For more information regarding this report contact:
Name: Kory Polhill
Phone: 815-369-4016
Este informe contiene información muy importante sobre el agua que usted bebe. Tradúzcalo ó hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.
The Village of Lena meets on the second Monday of each month at 6 p.m.

Source of Drinking Water

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.
Contaminants that may be present in source water include:
- Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife.

- Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.
- Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban storm water runoff, and residential uses.
- Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff, and septic systems.
- Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.
Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the EPAs Safe Drinking Water Hotline at (800) 426-4791.
In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations which limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population.
Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).
If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. We cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>.

Source Water Assessment

We want our valued customers to be informed about their water quality. If you would like to learn more, please feel welcome to attend any of our regularly scheduled meetings. The source water assessment for our supply has been completed by the Illinois EPA. If you would like a copy of this information, please stop by City Hall or call our water operator at (815) 369-4016. To view a summary version of the completed Source Water Assessments, including: Importance of Source Water; Susceptibility to Contamination Determination; and documentation/recommendation of Source Water Protection Efforts, you may access the Illinois EPA website at <http://www.epa.state.il.us/cgi-bin/wp/swap-fact-sheets.pl>.

Source of Water: LENA To determine Lena's susceptibility to groundwater contamination, the following documents were reviewed: a Well Site Survey, published in 1989 by the Illinois EPA, and a report entitled "Phase 2 and Phase 5 Waiver Application/Vulnerability Assessment" prepared for the Village of Lena by Fehr- Graham & Associates Engineering and Science Consultants in 1994. During the survey of Lena's source water protection area, Illinois EPA staff recorded two potential secondary sources within the minimum setback zone of well #2 and two possible problem sites within the minimum setback zone of well #3. Several other possible problem sites are located outside the minimum setback zone, but within the survey area of both wells. Based on information provided by Lena's water supply officials, the following facilities has changed their status: Lana Farmers' Exchange has been razed and the tanks removed, Stamm Farm Systems Inc. has had the tanks removed, Lena Winslow School District 312 has been changed to Dietz Apartment Building, Stewarts Motor Service has been removed, and Green Country Express is now Werhane Enterprise. The Illinois EPA does not consider the source water susceptible to contamination. This determination is based on a number of criteria including: monitoring conducted at the wells, monitoring conducted at the entry point to the distribution system, and the available hydrogeologic data on the wells. In anticipation of the U.S. EPA's proposed Ground Water Rule, the Illinois EPA has determined that this water supply is not vulnerable to viral contamination. This determination is based upon the completed evaluation of the following criteria during the Vulnerability Waiver Process: the wells are properly constructed with sound integrity and proper site conditions; a hydrogeologic barrier exists that should prevent pathogen movement; all potential routes and sanitary defects have been mitigated such that the source water is adequately protected; monitoring data did not indicate a history of disease outbreak; and a sanitary survey of the water supply did not indicate a viral contamination threat. Because the wells are constructed in a confined aquifer, that could minimize the movement of pathogens into the wells, well hydraulics were not considered to be a significant factor in the vulnerability determination. Hence, well hydraulics were not evaluated for this groundwater supply.

2022 Regulated Contaminants Detected

Lead and Copper

Definitions:

Action Level Goal (ALG): The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. ALGs allow for a margin of safety.

Action Level: The concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.

Lead and Copper	Date Sampled	MCLG	Action Level (AL)	90th Percentile	# Sites Over AL	Units	Violation	Likely Source of Contamination
Copper	07/29/2020	1.3	1.3	0.81	0	ppm	N	Erosion of natural deposits; Leaching from wood preservatives; Corrosion of household plumbing systems.

Water Quality Test Results

Definitions: The following tables contain scientific terms and measures, some of which may require explanation.

Avg: Regulatory compliance with some MCLs are based on running annual average of monthly samples.

Level 1 Assessment: A Level 1 assessment is a study of the water system to identify potential problems and determine (if possible) why total coliform bacteria have been found in our water system.

Level 2 Assessment: A Level 2 assessment is a very detailed study of the water system to identify potential problems and determine (if possible) why an E. coli MCL violation has occurred and/or why total coliform bacteria have been found in our water system on multiple occasions.

Maximum Contaminant Level or MCL: The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal or MCLG: The level of a contaminant in drinking water below

Pritzker puts final stamp on $50.4 billion state spending plan

By Andrew Adams
and Jerry Nowicki
CAPITOL NEWS ILLINOIS

Gov. JB Pritzker signed the state's operating budget for the upcoming fiscal year last week, marking the first spending plan of his second term as governor.

The $50.4 billion spending plan anticipates about $50.6 billion in revenues for the fiscal year that begins July 1, making for a projected surplus of roughly $183 million, according to the governor's office. That revenue estimate would be slightly below or roughly equal to what's collected in tax revenues for the current year, depending on June's final revenue collections.

The bill signing's venue, typically chosen to highlight an important aspect of the budget, was the Belmont-Cragin campus of Christopher

House in Chicago, a charter school that mostly serves low-income Hispanic families.

The signing was attended by a who's who of state Democrats, with the governor, House Speaker Emanuel "Chris" Welch, D-Hillside, Senate President Don Harmon, D-Oak Park, and various members of the legislature's Democratic leadership and budget negotiation teams.

Several of them highlighted the budget's investments in education.

"Birth-to-five services and kindergarten readiness are the foundation for the rest of our children's educational experiences," Pritzker said.

'Smart Start Illinois'

The budget includes funding to launch Pritzker's "Smart Start Illinois" early childhood education program.

Earlier this year, he toured the state to promote the increased spending on pre-K and kindergarten, which includes $130 million to fund a new system of contracts for early childhood workers and upping state funding for early childhood block grants by $75 million. "Smart Start" also includes added funding for early intervention and home visiting programming.

The budget also increases state dollars going to the K-12 funding formula by $350 million—the amount called for annually in state law—and puts $45 million toward a three-year pilot program to fill teacher vacancies and provide scholarships to future teachers. It's less than the $70 million for that program that Pritzker included in his February budget proposal.

Higher education, a long-time budget priority of Pritz-ker's, will also see increased funding. These include a $100 million funding increase to the state's Monetary Award Program, which provides need-based scholarships. It marks a 75 percent increase in funding for MAP grants since 2019. The budget also includes a $15 million increase to the AIM HIGH merit-based scholarship program and a $3.8 million increase to the Minority Teacher Scholarship program.

Despite praising Republican involvement in budget negotiations throughout the legislative session, Senate Minority Leader John Curran, R-Downers Grove, criticized the overall budget in a statement while noting it included some common ground between the two parties.

"We negotiated in good faith, and as a result, there are some joint priorities in this budget, specifically to support the developmentally disabled and invest in education," Curran said.

No Republican support

No Republicans in either chamber voted for the plan.

In the House, debate was more tense. Republican budget negotiator Norine Hammond, of Macomb, said the GOP was essentially cut out from the budget process by House Democrats. She had previously noted Republicans participated in more frequent budget talks with the governor's staff.

"Another budget filled with broken promises, accounting gimmicks, and a lack of structural reforms to address the systemic outmigration of Illinois families," House Republican Leader Tony McCombie, R-Savanna, said in a statement.

McCombie also contradicted Curran's read of the budget and said that it "shortchanges" the direct service professionals, or DSPs, that serve disabled people in community settings.

A state-commissioned 2020 study of the industry recommended increasing DSP wages to 150 percent of the state's minimum wage, which is currently $13 per hour and is set to increase to $14 in January.

The budget includes provisions increasing DSP wage base rates by $2.50 per hour, to $19.50, beginning in January. That would still fall short of the $4 per hour needed to meet the study's recommendation as of next year. Still, it marks a $1 increase beyond what Pritzker had proposed in February.

The budget also includes

FROM LENA'S KITCHEN

We have had some nice June weather this past week. It is so nice to see the sun, even though I know we do need some rain. June is marching on. It is hard to believe we are half way through the first month of summer. This week's recipes continue the summer theme with some appetizers and condiments, a salad for a picnic, a salad for a lunch, a main dish and a dessert. Have a good week cooking!

Blue Cheese Dip

If you love blue cheese, this refreshing dip is an easy summer appetizer. Make it ahead and store it in the refrigerator for a week. Enjoy this easy appetizer that you can add buttermilk to for a salad dressing.

- 1 1/2 C. sour cream
- 1/2 C. salad dressing
- 1/2 lb. crumbled blue cheese
- 1 T. chopped fresh chives
- 1 t. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 t. celery seed
- 1/2 t. salt
- 1/2 t. pepper

In a bowl mix the sour cream and salad dressing. Gently fold in blue cheese. Add the chives, Worcestershire, celery seed, salt, and pepper. Combine ingredients. Cover and refrigerate for at least an hour before serving. Serve with pita chips and/or vegetables. It tastes great on whole crackers too.

Vidalia Onion Relish

Vidalia onions come from a specific place in Georgia that has a patent on its name. They are basically a sweet onion. If you want to use any sweet onion for this recipe, it will work. Vidalia onions are plentiful in stores now. This relish is good tossed in salads, served with pork chops, or piled on a burger.

- 4 chopped large Vidalia onions
- 1 T. canola oil
- 3 cloves minced garlic
- 1/3 C. bourbon
- 4 chopped peeled seeded plum tomatoes
- 1/2 C. golden raisins
- 1/4 C. brown sugar
- 1/4 C. sugar
- 1/4 C. cider vinegar
- 1 t. mustard seed

- 1/2 t. salt
- 1/2 t. ground turmeric
- 1/2 t. ground mustard
- 1/2 t. crushed red pepper flakes
- 1/4 t. black pepper

In a saucepan, cook Vidalia onions in canola oil over medium heat 40 to 45 minutes or until onions are golden brown, stirring occasionally. Add garlic and cook for 1 minute longer. Remove from heat. Add bourbon, stirring to loosen browned bits from the pan. Stir in tomatoes, raisins, both sugars, vinegar, mustard seed, salt, turmeric, ground mustard, red pepper flakes, and black pepper. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat; simmer, uncovered for 15 to 20 minutes or until thickened. Store in an airtight container in refrigerator up to one week.

Fried Chicken Salad

- Buttermilk Dill Dressing
- 1 C. buttermilk
- 2/3 C. mayonnaise
- 1/4 C. plus 2 T. freshly chopped dill
- 1/2 t. garlic powder
- 1/2 t. salt
- 1/4 t. pepper
- Chicken
- 1 T. unsalted butter
- 1 1/2 C. panko breadcrumbs
- 1/4 C. flour
- 2 eggs
- 1/4 C. buttermilk
- 1/4 C. Parmesan cheese, grated
- 1/4 C. onion powder
- 1 1/4 lb. chicken breast tenders
- 1/4 t. salt
- 1/4 t. pepper
- Slaw
- 1 pkg. coleslaw mix
- 1 medium green pepper, chopped
- 1 medium red pepper, chopped
- 6 green onions, whites and green parts chopped

Dressing:
In a medium bowl, whisk together the buttermilk, mayo, dill, garlic powder, salt, and pepper. Store in refrigerator until ready to use (at least one hour).

Preheat oven to 425. Place a baking sheet on a wire rack and set aside. In a frying pan, melt butter over medium heat. Add the panko and stir fry for 5 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove breadcrumbs from heat to cool. Place the flour in a shallow dish. In a second shallow dish, beat together the eggs and the buttermilk. In a third shallow dish, combine the cooled breadcrumbs with the parmesan, onion powder, garlic powder, salt and pepper. Dip each chicken tender into the flour; then into the egg mixture and then into the breadcrumb mixture. Place the chicken tenders on the elevated baking sheet, spacing them out to prevent from getting mushy while cooking. Coat tenders with cooking spray.

Bake 25 minutes or until chicken is golden brown and crisp. Remove from oven and place on a cooling rack for a few minutes to allow the steam to escape and chicken to crisp up. Cut tenders into bite size pieces.

Prepare the salad. In a large bowl, combine the coleslaw mix, green and red peppers, and onions. Add dressing and toss salad until well combined. Add the fried chicken pieces to the salad and gently toss to combine. Chill until ready to serve.

Deviled Egg Macaroni Salad

Sullivan's Grocery has deviled egg potato salad which is a popular seller. This salad uses macaroni instead of potatoes. Add red peppers or carrots to the salad for more color and crunch.

- 2 C. uncooked elbow macaroni
- 6 hard-boiled eggs
- 1 C. mayonnaise
- 1/4 C. sweet pickle relish
- 2 T. sugar
- 3 t. white vinegar
- 3 t. yellow mustard
- 1/2 t. salt
- 1/4 t. pepper
- 1 celery rib, chopped
- 1/4 C. chopped red onion
- Paprika

Cook macaroni according to package directions; drain and rinse with cold water. Cool completely. Separate yolks from whites of hard-cooked eggs. Chop egg whites and set aside. Mash egg yolks in a small bowl. Stir in mayo, relish, sugar, vinegar, mustard, salt, and pepper until blended. In a large bowl, combine macaroni, egg whites, celery, and onion. Add dressing and toss gently to coat. Refrigerate at least 2 hours before serving. Sprinkle with paprika.

Slow Cooker Chicken Pasta

This recipe is great for a hot summer day because the slow cooker does all the work in an efficient way. Serve a salad and some bread and you have an easy dinner.

- 1 1/2 lbs boneless skinless chicken breast
- 16 oz. Italian dressing
- 1/4 C. grated Parmesan cheese
- 1/4 t. pepper
- 8 oz. softened cream cheese
- 16 oz. penne pasta cooked according to package directions
- 1/4 C. parmesan cheese

Add the chicken breasts to the slow cooker; pour the dressing over the chicken. Cube the cream cheese and drop it on top of the chicken and dressing. Sprinkle the parmesan and pepper over the mixture. Place the lid on the slow cooker. Cook on HIGH for 4 hours or LOW for 5 to 6 hours. When the cooking time is almost done, start cooking the pasta on the stove top according to package directions. Shred the chicken with 2 forks and place in a large bowl. Add the dressing mixture to the chicken. Drain the pasta and add to the chicken and sauce. Stir. Place mixture on a serving plate; sprinkle remaining Parmesan cheese over pasta.

Rhubarb Strawberry Crunch

There is still one more rhubarb recipe for the season! The rhubarb crunch recipe has been in before, but this one adds strawberries. Strawberries are now in season, and there are some You Pick places in our area. Enjoy this easy dessert.

- 1 C. flour
- 1 C. packed brown sugar
- 3/4 C. quick-cooking oats
- 1 t. cinnamon
- 1/2 C. butter
- 4 C. sliced fresh or frozen rhubarb
- 1-pint fresh strawberries, halved
- 1 C. sugar
- 2 T. cornstarch
- 1 C. water
- 1 t. vanilla
- Ice Cream

Preheat oven to 350. In a bowl, combine the flour, brown sugar, oats, and cinnamon. Cut in butter until crumbly. Press half into an ungreased 9-inch square baking dish. Combine rhubarb and strawberries and spoon over crust. In a saucepan, combine the sugar and cornstarch. Stir in the water and vanilla. Bring the mixture to a boil over medium heat. Cook and stir for 2 minutes. Pour over fruit. Sprinkle with remaining crumb mixture. Bake for 1 hour. Serve with ice cream.

Final Thoughts

The weather has turned cooler, and that makes it easier on the air conditioner. I mentioned earlier that we do need rain, and I hope that the rain they predicted for the weekend does come (I write this column the weekend before publication). The flowers and gardens as well as the fields are still looking good, however, they need a good soak from the heavens.

There were many successful events the past few weekends. The fireman had a great golf outing, and people enjoyed the Taste of Lena. Music in the park entertained us on both Saturday and Sunday evening. The pool has been beautiful, and the baseball and softball fields are humming. I saw my first production at Timberlake. Grease was great. I hadn't seen it in a very long time. The next production is a play based on Alfred Hitchcock's film. We are lucky to have such reasonable and good entertainment in our area.

Since the weather has been cooler, it has been more enjoyable to cook. I am still enjoying asparagus and strawberries. If you have any summer vegetable or fruit recipes, we would like to see them. ## Toothache or sinus infection

There are several reasons that you might suffer a toothache. It can be caused by tooth sensitivity (weak enamel, exposed roots, triggered by hot or cold beverages or food), decay, periodontal disease, cracked tooth, dental abscess, or an impacted tooth. If you have a tooth that is starting to bother you, make an appointment with your dentist. Murphy's Law says that a sudden severe toothache will most likely happen in the middle of the night, on a holiday, or when you are participating in a crucial meeting or major life event.

When it comes to tooth pain, it is important to remember that a toothache is a symptom, not a diagnosis. Pain in your teeth, especially your upper teeth, can also be a symptom of a sinus infection. It is easy to understand why you might confuse a toothache with a sinus infection. Sinuses are cavities in your skull that are located behind the cheekbones, in the middle of the forehead, between the ears, and behind your nose. These four paired cavities are interconnected by channels that lead to your nasal passages. Mucus and tiny hairs in your sinuses warm and humidify the air you breathe. They also help to keep disease-causing microbes away from your body. A sinus infection, or sinusitis, occurs when your sinus drainage channels become blocked. This leads to a buildup of fluids, swelling and inflammation, which is the perfect environment for bacteria to grow. The roots of the upper back teeth are located near, or may even extend into the sinus cavity, so swelling and pressure in your blocked sinuses make your teeth hurt. The pressure may also be felt as referred pain in the bottom teeth. Conversely, with this close anatomical relationship, bacterial infections in your upper teeth may cause a sinus infection. That is why it is important to make an appointment with your dentist to find out what is the actual cause of your toothache. If your dentist does not find a dental issue that is causing your toothache, he/she will refer you to your physician to ascertain if your pain is being caused by a sinus infection or some other medical condition. While many sinus infections are caused by a virus, a bacterial sinus infection may require antibiotics.

By

$75 million for the Department of Children and Family Services. Pritzker's office said this is expected to pay for 192 staff positions, expanded training, facility improvements and scholarships to children in DCFS care.

Services aimed at preventing homelessness are set to receive an increase of $85 million through the Home Illinois program, a multi-agency initiative that will provide housing and services to homeless people.

The more than $350 million in funding includes $118 million for shelter and transitional housing services, $50 million for rapid rehousing services, $40 million in capital funds for permanent supportive housing units and $37 million in funds to build new shelter units.

While Republicans have been critical of the budget, the House's lead budget negotiator, Rep. Jehan Gordon-Booth, D-Peoria, said compromise was an essential part of the process.

"The budget is a reflection of our priorities," she said. "It's a reflection of everybody getting wins, but nobody got everything."

Earlier last week, Pritzker noted the budget would exempt businesses from the first $5,000 in liability under the corporate franchise tax, up from $1,000. He called it a $50 million tax cut that addressed at least one Republican budget priority.

Pritzker and leaders in the General Assembly negotiated a phaseout of that tax in his only bipartisan budget passed in 2019, but Democrats ultimately reversed that action in a future budget year.

Invest in Kids scholarship program allowed to expire

During debate last month, Republicans in both chambers were also sharply critical of the budget because it allowed for the expiration of the $75 million Invest in Kids scholarship program for private school students. The program initially passed as part of a bipartisan agreement in 2017 with support from the school-choice movement and Republican lawmakers.

When asked, Pritzker said the conversation around funding that program is "ongoing," and "there's time still for that program to be considered," potentially in the fall veto session, before its Jan. 1, 2024, expiration.

Democrats on Wednesday also alluded on several occasions to a two-year budget stalemate between Republican then-Gov. Bruce Rauner and Democrats in the legislature that lasted from July 2015 into August 2017. During that time, the state did not approve a full budget, causing havoc in education and the social services industry, both of which rely heavily on state funding.

"It's no longer about how to keep the doors open and scrape by," Lt. Gov. Juliana Stratton said of the budget process.

At the bill signing, Pritzker also addressed a state-funded health care program for noncitizens, which his administration at one time projected would cost over $1 billion in the upcoming fiscal year.

The program offers Medicaid-style benefits to noncitizens age 42 and older who would otherwise be eligible for Medicaid if not for their legal residency status. It was launched in 2021 and expanded twice to its current size. Because the individuals enrolled in the program are not eligible for standard Medicaid, which is jointly funded by the state and federal governments, Illinois covers its entire cost.

A separate Medicaid-related bill, which Pritzker has not yet signed, will give him authority to rein in costs through the creation of administrative rules. His office has said options include limiting future enrollment, requiring copays from program participants, maximizing federal reimbursement and possibly moving participants to the Medicaid managed care system.

Pritzker noted that the program does not apply to asylum seekers, who are eligible for other federally funded benefits. He also said it is ultimately cheaper to provide preventative care to noncitizens rather than making them rely on emergency room visits to treat conditions that have gone undiagnosed and untreated due to a lack of health care benefits.

Pritzker's February budget proposal accounted for about $220 million in costs for the program, and the final budget did not include a measure sought by the Illinois Legislative Latino Caucus that would have expanded it to noncitizens aged 19 and over. Those 18 years and younger are already covered under the Illinois AllKids program.

"We realized that if we could manage it properly, we could manage the program with the number of people that are in it now to about $550 million," Pritzker said. "That's more than we expected, but not nearly as much as it might have cost if we didn't have the tools necessary."

The governor's office did not clarify whether that meant the program would be capped at current levels or if more people would be allowed to enroll in the upcoming fiscal year.

"We'll have more on what steps we'll need to take as we enter the new fiscal year and review costs," a spokesperson said in a statement.

Pritzker's signing included one change to the budget as it was approved by lawmakers last month. Lawmakers, agency directors and others in state government who would have received raises of 5.5 percent under an automatic pay formula will be capped at 5 percent to comply with state law.

"It is evident that the errors in the amounts to compensate all of these officers were inadvertent and that the General Assembly intended for the amounts set forth in Senate Bill 250 simply to implement the salaries provided by law," Pritzker said in his "reduction veto" message.

Under law, lawmakers do not need to accept the reduction, so the budget can take effect without issue.

Panthers, Wolves compete in NUIC All-Star game

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

On Wednesday, June 7 members of the Lena-Winslow Panthers and the Pearl City Wolves competed in the NUIC All-Star game. This year's game was divided up as the West faced off with a North-South team.

The Panthers were on the West squad with Jake Zeal, Rowen Schulz, Drew Streckwald, and Wes Offerman representing Lena-Winslow. Zeal had a big day at the plate, going two for two with two runs scored and two runs batted in. Zeal's biggest hit came in the bottom of the third, when he crushed a two-run homerun over the center field fence. Schulz also had a solid day at the plate, going one for two with one RBI. Streckwald shined on both sides of the ball. In the box, Streckwald went one for two with one run scored. On the mound, Streckwald tossed a scoreless inning with a pair of strikeouts. Wes Offerman went zero for two in his plate appearances.

The Wolves were on the North-South team, as Nathan Brinkmeier and Tanner Perdue threw on the Pearl City uniforms one last time. Brinkmeier went zero for two at the plate while Perdue went zero for one. The North-South team combined for just two hits against the West's excellent pitching. The West went on to win the game by a score of 9-0.

magnificent run, the Panthers soon faced what they knew was coming, a postseason matchup against the Broncos.

At the start, it looked like the Panthers could pull off the upset. Two runs in the top of the first had Le-Win fired up. The Panthers brought their best softball into the matchup, and it showed. It just wasn't enough to beat the Broncos, however.

"We were unfortunate to meet up with Orangeville in the regional," Hahne said, adding, "We gave them a great game, outthit them 14 to 10. Maddy Chiles pitched them very well, and I thought we played one of our best games all year against Orangeville and came up short."

Despite the loss, the Panthers have reason to be excited about the future. One of those reasons is Chiles, who became the team's main pitcher in 2023 and will return as a junior in 2024. In just over 151 innings, Chiles struck out 153 batters and allowed just seven homeruns. Chiles wound up being a Second Team All-Conference selection in 2023.

Another big reason is Rachael Setterstrom who will return for her junior season. Setterstrom was a First Team All-Conference selection after hitting .482 with 24 runs batted in in 2023. Setterstrom led the team in hits with 53 this year.

The Panthers also return some other key contributors in Kaidynce Lynch, Aspen Roberts, Ava Fiedler, Ciera Hatelak, and Faith Offerman. So overall, Le-Win will return a good number of familiar faces next year and they should be a more experienced team on the field.

Le-Win will have some big shoes to fill, however. The Panthers graduated Kieren Madigan who was a First Team All-Conference selection. They also lose Second Team All-Conference selection, Hailee Schiess, and Honorable Mention, Emma Kempel. The Panthers also graduated Ny Davis as they lose four seniors in total.

"We have three spots to fill in our lineup for next year, and we have a lot of girls to choose from," Hahne shared, adding, "We need a few girls to stand out this summer and at the start of next season."

While it may be quite a way down the road, the Panthers have their eyes set on the future. Rightfully so, as their eight-game winning streak and heartbreaking loss to Orangeville was a tough way to end the 2023 season.
