Warriors notch first win in two years

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

The 2023 volleyball season is young, but the Warren Warriors are already off to a better start than their entire 2022 season. After going 0-30 last year, the Warriors came into 2023 with high hopes of finishing with a better record. It didn't take long for the Warriors to ensure another winless season wouldn't happen as they captured a victory in just their second match of the season.

It wasn't a perfect start, however. The Warriors found themselves in a tough spot in their very first match of the 2023 season. On Monday, Aug. 21 the Warriors hit the road for their season opener as they traveled to faceoff with the Pearl City Wolves.

It was a fairly even matchup for both teams. Warren managed to stay in the mix of things, but eventually dropped the first set by a score of 25-18. A late run in the first set appeared to spark some momentum for the Warriors, however. In set two, Warren did just enough to keep themselves within reach. With Maddie McKee at the serve line, the Warriors managed to force a three-point swing that allowed Warren to go up 24-21. Eventually, Warren delivered the final blow as they evened the series at 1-1 with a 25-22 victory.

Warren wasn't far off from capturing a comeback victory in their season opener. At one point, the Wolves and Warriors were tied 14-14 in the third set. The Wolves went on a massive, eight-point run, however, which made the game 22-14. The Warriors were unable to recoup from the momentum swing as they eventually fell by a score of 25-18.

Lauren Williams shined in the season opener with four kills and six aces. Williams also had 11 digs on the day. Addy Bohnsack was exceptional, leading the team with

Illinois heat wave is the latest of several weather extremes in the state

Dangerously high heat follows drought conditions earlier this summer

By Andrew Adams
CAPITOL NEWS ILLINOIS

Illinois roasted in triple digit temperatures last week, forcing the state and schools to cancel some outdoor activities and modify class schedules. Every county in Illinois was under an excessive heat warning Aug. 24, while some areas were expected to continue to be under advisory until at least into the evening of Aug. 25.

The heat index, a measure that combines air temperature with humidity, reached higher than 128 degrees in Galesburg Aug. 23. Chicago's O'Hare airport recorded an air temperature of 98 degrees, the highest temperature for Aug. 23 since 1947, according to the National Weather Service. The heat index there peaked at 116, just two degrees shy of the record high that came during Chicago's infamous 1995 heat wave. "Exposure to extreme heat can cause serious health complications, including heat exhaustion and heatstroke," IDPH Director Sameer Vohra said in a news release. "With dangerously high temperatures and humidity in the forecast, I urge everyone to take precautions and protect themselves and their families from overheating and heat related illnesses."

Vohra added that very young children, pregnant people, older adults and those with chronic health conditions should be particularly wary.

IDPH issued several guidelines to protect against heatstroke and heat exhaustion, including seeking air-conditioned areas like shopping malls or libraries during the day, wearing lightweight and light-colored fabrics and reducing strenuous and outdoor activities, particularly between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. People experiencing body temperatures above 103 degrees, difficulty breathing, elevated heart rate, skin that is hot to the touch, dizziness, nausea or disorientation should call 911 immediately, IDPH advised.

The state's emergency management agency also updated its website to point to a list of "cooling centers" around the state compiled by an interagency group, although as of Thursday afternoon the webpage does not list any cooling centers south of Urbana. The state also canceled several upcoming outdoor events, including the Du Quoin State Fair parade which was scheduled Aug. 25. "With forecasts projecting a high of 100 degrees and heat indexes between 111 and 117 degrees, we feel canceling the parade is in the best interest of our parade participants," Illinois Department of Agriculture Director Jerry Costello II said in a news release. "This is not to take away from people enjoying the fair safely, but to avoid a clustering of families along the parade route and parade participants in costumes and uniforms from overheating."

The Department of Agriculture, which manages the fair in Du Quoin, also canceled the Illinois Product Farmers Market in Springfield Aug. 24 due to the heat.

Other state agencies also had to adjust to protect workers from the heat, including the Department of Transportation. A department spokesperson said that, in addition to monitoring for pavement buckling, state crews and some contractors have had to adjust their work schedules to avoid the hottest part of the day.

Communities across Illinois were forced to alter school schedules to accommodate the heat.

Schools in Champaign-Urbana canceled class Aug. 24. Champaign's school district reported "major failures" at two of their largest school campuses. In northern Illinois, Maple Park schools closed, citing "extremely challenging" circumstances for drivers and students on buses.

Beyond academics, schools have also canceled and modified plans for athletic events.

While the Illinois High School Association, which sets rules for high school athletics, does not track changes to athletic events during the regular season, IHSA spokesperson Matt Troha told Capitol News Illinois the heat has had a "significant impact" on IHSA sports.

IHSA requires schools to move practices and games indoors or cancel then if the "wet bulb globe" temperature exceeds 89.9 degrees. Wet bulb globe temperature combines air temperature, sun exposure, humidity and wind.

While the IHSA does not require schools to let them know of changes to athletic schedules, Troha noted that the association was anecdotally aware of many games being moved to later times of day or to different days.

Natural disasters bring federal aid

Before last week's record heat, much of Illinois experienced severe drought conditions from May through July, with the peak of the drought coming in June. This led to the federal Department of Agriculture to issue a series of disaster designations. The designations, which are centered on McDonough, McHenry and Mercer counties, are a follow-up to a previous set of disaster designations from earlier this season. The classification allows the USDA to provide emergency loans to farmers recovering from the droughts. "While we are seeing improvement in drought conditions across the state, we know that crops and livestock have been impacted," Illinois Department of Agriculture Director Jerry Costello II, said in a news release Wednesday announcing the designations.

Jeff Kirwan, a farmer in Mercer County and board member of the Illinois Farm Bureau, said the droughts have negatively impacted crops in Illinois. "Especially in June, that's the most stressful time for farmers," Kirwan said. "We had a good crop, but then it didn't rain." Kirwan later added that overall, he expects the corn and soybean crop to be around average, although some farmers in areas hit hardest by drought may struggle more. "The emotion that goes with that was extremely unsettling, very stressful," he said of the recent drought.

In addition to the heat wave and drought, Illinois has seen several damaging storms and the most tornadoes of any state so far this year. A series of severe storms and flooding between June 29 and July 2 also drew the attention of the federal government, with President Joe Biden approving federal assistance through the Federal Emergency Management Agency. This assistance will go to individuals and businesses in Cook County and can include grants for temporary housing and home repairs and low-interest loans to cover property losses.

"Residents and businesses, especially those on the west side of Chicago who were most brutally hit, are now able to access additional resources necessary to rebuild and revitalize, and I know Cook County will build back stronger than ever," Gov. JB Pritzker said in a news release.

Slices of life

For my friend Bobbie (who happens to have a really, really red peony)

By JILL PERTLER
Columnist

What's the difference, red or pink?
My friend has a beautiful flower growing in the garden in front of her house. It's a red peony plant.

I've always loved flowers and peonies are some of my favorites. I've had white ones, light pink and even dark pink, but never red.

I admired my friend's red peony. I told her so, year after year.

And then, last spring, I was at a greenhouse and they had peonies.

Red ones!
The little plastic tag in the pot said so. Karl Rosenfield variety. There was a photo and everything. Unmistakably, deeply red.

Twenty dollars later, the Karl Rosenfield bad boy was mine.

I brought him home to my garden and waited.

The first year he didn't bloom. I wasn't expecting that. He needed to plant his roots and have the chance to acclimate to his surroundings. Nonetheless, I fertilized, weeded and tended to Karl with the love and tenacity deserving of a soon-to-be bright-red blooming peony plant.

This year, Karl emerged from the soil after an extra hard winter. I celebrated his tenacity. Spring came and he grew bigger; his leaves stretched outward. I applauded his development.

Meanwhile my friend's red peony erupted into bloom and I anticipated my own red glory. My young Karl had two buds - promises of flowers in the not-to-distant future.

I waited.

And then, one day the blooms burst forward.

They were pink.

Not redish pink. Not pink with a red under or overtones.

Just pink.

I Googled Karl online; I'd saved his tags from my purchase. He is known as one of the best red peonies on the planet.

Except he wasn't red.

I showed Karl to my friend - the one with the real red peony.

She agreed that Karl was (unfortunately) not red. He was pink

Not that pink is a bad thing. It's just that I was expecting, I was hoping for - red. I thought I'd bought red. The photo next to his fledgling self at the green house showed a red flower.

The peony in my garden was clearly not Karl. It could be a relative of Karl; perhaps his brother, Kyle.

My friend suggested returning the plant to the greenhouse. It was a possibility. Still is.

But what are they going to do with a two-year-old pink peony claiming to be red? They might give me a replacement, but what would happen to Kyle? Who would give him a place in their garden?

It was like he'd be a foster plant - without a home to call his own. And how would he feel about that? His mom giving him up and all?

He wasn't red, but was that his fault?

And who says red is better than pink? Certainly not Kyle.

Kyle may not be Karl, but he has a right to grow and flourish and send his blossoms out to the world, like he was meant to do.

Red, pink, green or blue—it doesn't matter. Kyle just wants to prosper, to live his life out until the sun no longer lingers on his leaves.

There are no right or wrong answers here, but I decided I couldn't live with the thought of tossing Kyle out just because of the color of his petals - giving up a plant because it wasn't exactly what I originally wanted.

Giving up on Kyle simply because I was hoping for a different hue.

Giving up on any number of things in life when they don't turn out quite as expected.

I really wanted a red peony in my garden. My neighbor has one and I love the look of hers. I tried to get one of my own, but mine turned out to be pink. And I guess that's okay. I don't sweat the small stuff anymore.

Well, unless it's the color of flowers. Then, I definitely do. At least I did today. Kyle and I can both attest to that.

Statement from Secretary of State Alexi Giannoulias on the recent rash of bomb threats targeting libraries

As the state's librarian, I strongly condemn these threats of violence and intimidation that are unfortunately becoming all too common at libraries in Illinois and across our nation.

The bomb threats received by Illinois libraries during the past several days represent a troublesome and disturbing trend that has escalated from banning books, to harassing and criminalizing librarians and now to endangering the lives of innocent people.

I wholeheartedly support our libraries, which are committed to serving our communities as safe, welcoming havens to

Jury convicts Madigan's longtime chief of staff on perjury, obstruction of justice charges

Mapes was charged with lying to grand jury investigating Madigan and his inner circle

By Hannah Meisel
CAPITOL NEWS ILLINOIS

A federal jury has convicted the once-top aide to former Illinois House Speaker Michael Madigan, finding Tim Mapes guilty on charges of perjury and attempted obstruction of justice for lying to a grand jury investigating Madigan and his inner circle.

The jury of six men and six women reached its verdict in a little more than five hours. Mapes, who spent more than 25 years as Madigan's chief of staff, sat stone-faced before this attorneys at the defense table while Judge John Kness read the verdict Aug. 24.

As the basis for the perjury charge, prosecutors alleged Mapes lied in response to seven questions in front of the grand jury and cited his answers to 14 questions for the obstruction of justice charge. Though the feds only had to prove Mapes lied in one of his answers for each charge, the jury concluded he'd lied in all of them. The obstruction of justice charge carries a maximum of 20 years in prison.

Judge Kness set Mapes' sentencing date for Jan. 10, 2024. Quickly afterward, Mapes exited the Dirksen Federal Courthouse flanked by his lawyers and his older son, who had been in the courtroom each day of trial. Members of the jury also declined to speak with reporters as they left the courthouse in small groups Aug. 24.

In a statement late in the day on Aug. 24, Acting U.S. Attorney for the Northern District of Illinois Morris Pasqual said Mapes' conviction "should stand as a clear message to witnesses" who are called to appear in front of a grand jury.

"Perjury and obstruction of justice are serious offenses that strike at the heart of the truth-seeking mission of the grand jury," Pasqual said.

In the nearly three weeks of trial, the jury heard the entire two-plus hour recording of Mapes' March 2021 grand jury testimony—proceedings normally kept totally secret. They also listened to hours of wiretapped calls that seemed to contradict what Mapes said in front of the grand jury.

About six weeks before his grand jury testimony, Mapes sat for an FBI interview in February 2021. During the trial, prosecutors hinted at the fact that Mapes ended the interview after agents broached the subject of Madigan and his close confidant Mike McClain. The FBI was interested in whether McClain, a longtime influential lobbyist in Springfield with whom Mapes also shared a friendship, acted as an "agent" of Madigan.

Shortly after Mapes' FBI interview, he was subpoenaed for testimony in front of the grand jury, but roughly 10 days later, asserted his Fifth Amendment right against self-incrimination. In response, prosecutors requested the court put Mapes under an immunity order, meaning that in exchange for his truthful testimony, Mapes couldn't be charged in the investigation.

However, the immunity order also meant that if Mapes lied while under oath, he could be charged. It was under those circumstances that Mapes entered the grand jury room in late March of 2021, where during those two hours of testimony, he was reminded three times of the stakes of lying under oath.

"For whatever reason in his heart and his mind, (Mapes) chose loyalty over the truth," Assistant U.S. Attorney Diane MacArthur said during closing arguments Wednesday.

Prosecutors used evidence and witnesses to establish for the jury an image of Mapes as both extremely meticulous and detail-oriented and extremely loyal to Madigan — both things Mapes was known for during his decades in Springfield.

In addition to serving as Madigan's chief of staff, Mapes also worked for 20 years as executive director of the Democratic Party of Illinois under Madigan's chairmanship, and for the last seven years of his career, he was clerk of the Illinois House, keeping legislative session days moving in the manner the speaker wanted.

But all that came to an end on June 6, 2018, when Mapes was forced to resign from all three of his roles after being publicly accused of sexual harassment and bullying.

Mapes' attorney, Andrew Porter, sought to poke holes in the government's theory of motive during his closing arguments.

"Three years after (his forced resignation), why would Tim Mapes, who's been immunized, why would he fall on the sword for a guy who kicked him to the curb three years before?" Porter asked the jury.

Sherri Garrett, the former Illinois House Clerk's Office employee who accused Mapes of harassment in 2018, issued a post-verdict statement saying she hoped others who experienced the same "toxic work environment" under Mapes "feel some relief today, as I know I do."

"My experience speaking out about the sexual harassment I endured in 2018 was painful—and more painful was knowing that there were countless others like me who were too afraid of Mr. Mapes to come forward and speak their own truths," she said in the statement.

The trial also revealed the ways in which Madigan's inner circle, including Mapes and McClain, strategized around sexual harassment allegations that rocked the speaker's world earlier in 2018, at the height of the #MeToo movement. In February of that year, Alaina Hampton, a campaign operative in Madigan's political organization, publicly accused the speaker of not doing enough in response to her complaints that a married colleague had for months been sending her unwanted text messages and making advances. After a nearly two-year legal battle, Hampton settled with Madigan's political organization in late 2019.

"I have always said that my experience was the symptom of a toxic culture, and that it started at the top," Hampton said in a statement. "Tim Mapes was as close to the top as it gets."

Republicans, who have for years painted Madigan as corrupt and too powerful, used Thursday's verdict to call on Democrats to enact various laws under the umbrella of "ethics reform."

State Senate GOP Leader John Curran, R-Downers Grove, said in a statement he'd like to give local state's attorneys "the same investigative tools that Federal Authorities possess." A spokesperson clarified Curran wants state's attorneys to be able to utilize wiretap authority with judicial oversight for public corruption investigations. Additionally, Curran supports allowing the Illinois Attorney General to convene a statewide grand jury to investigate public corruption. Various states have given those powers to their attorneys general and local prosecutors.

House Minority Leader Tony McCombie, R-Savanna, called on Madigan's successor, House Speaker Emanuel "Chris" Welch, D-Hillside, to act on ethics-related bills proposed by GOP members this spring.

"It would be appalling if Speaker Welch did not move forward legislation House Republicans have filed to address ethics and instill public trust in our government," McCombie said.

Welch's office fired back in its own statement, citing the leadership changes made under his speakership in the last two and a half years, and pointing to ethics-related laws passed by the General Assembly in 2021 and this spring.

"Speaker Welch has always said he believes in due process, and a guilty verdict is a signal the law is working," Welch spokesperson Jaclyn Driscoll said. "However, if the minority leader has any ideas on how to strengthen federal perjury laws, we're all ears."

Assistant U.S. Attorney Julia Schwartz said during her closing arguments that Mapes had the opportunity to be a "star witness" in the government's cases against Madigan and McClain. But Mapes' attorneys balked at that assertion, casting the specific questions and answers for which Mapes was indicted as having to do with benign subjects that were "immaterial" to the grand jury's criminal investigation.

At the time of Mapes' grand jury interview, McClain had already been indicted on bribery charges for his role in a purported yearslong scheme involving his biggest and longest-running client, electric utility Commonwealth Edison. In May, McClain—along with two other ex-ComEd lobbyists and the utility's former CEO—were convicted for their roles in a purported bribery scheme, through which Madigan allies were given jobs and contracts with ComEd in exchange for favorable legislation in Springfield.

And even without Mapes' cooperation, the feds managed to hit Madigan and McClain with bribery and racketeering charges last year. The March 2022 indictment—which was followed up by a smaller superseding indictment in October—alleges the two were instrumental in creating and running a criminal "enterprise" with Madigan in the center, benefitting from his positions of power in politics, state government and even his partnership in a real estate law firm. That trial is scheduled for April 2024.

The Stockton Blackhawks have had an excellent beginning to their 2023 campaign. Through a couple weeks of play the Blackhawks have been led by their experienced seniors, Jared Dvorak and Bennett Graves. The duo of Dvorak and Graves gives the Blackhawks a shot at victory each and every outing.

The Blackhawks began their 2023 play on Aug. 11, when they participated in the Rockford Jefferson Invitational. The tournament features 16 teams and was played at the Atwood Homestead Course in Rockford. It's a best-ball tournament, which combines the scores of three two-person teams for a full team score.

Dvorak and Graves played together, combining for Stockton's best score of 74 which tied for the fifth best score on the day. Arrison Bauer and Blake Zink combined for an 81, while Javier Montalvo and Masyn Cahill posted a score of 112. Altogether, Stockton had a team score of 276, which left them with a tenth-place finish. Contractors, friends, and neighbors join JDCF staff and Board for a ribbon cutting at the new shop last May.

Elizabeth Tax Increment Financing Fund a win-win

The Jo Daviess Conservation Foundation (JDCF) has called the Village of Elizabeth's Main Street home since the organization first opened its office in 2003. Recently, JDCF found itself in need of more space to house its growing stewardship staff and equipment and, wishing to stay in Elizabeth, turned to their Tax Increment Financing (TIF) program for help.

"Elizabeth is a one-stop shop for our 17 staff members," says Steve Barg, JDCF Executive Director. "We can go to the post office and banks, head for a hair-cut, grab a bite to eat, and have our fleet of vehicles serviced all within a few blocks of our front door. We wanted to stay and the cash rebates offered through the TIF program for new construction motivated us to purchase a lot and build a new stewardship shop within the Village's designed economic development zone."

"The Village of Elizabeth is honored to be able to offer a (TIF) financial grant of $50,000.00 to the Jo Daviess Conservation Foundation for their new stewardship building. The Village is committed to help existing and new businesses grow and prosper in Elizabeth. JDCF is a staple business in Elizabeth and to be able to work with them to expand was a great partnership," added Village President, Mike Dittmar.

Home to more than 700 people, Elizabeth is one of Illinois' most unique small towns. Rich in history and Midwestern culture, the village of Elizabeth is home to the Apple River Fort State Historical Site, the Chicago Great Western Railway Depot Museum and Elizabeth Historical Society. Incorporated in 1868, Elizabeth captures all of the benefits of rural America, in addition to having the advantages of being a 21st century Main Street community.

For more information about JDCF, please visit their office at 126 N Main Street, Elizabeth IL, or contact them at www.jdcf.org, or info@jdcf.org.

20 digs, three kills, and two blocks. Maizy Fonseca also had four kills, and Sophie Levertov led the team with four blocks in the loss.

Despite taking the loss in their first match of the year, Warren found some things to build off for their next match. They had to wait a few days, but on Thursday, Aug. 21 the Warriors got a shot at redemption. Even better, they got to do it in front of their own crowd as they played host to South Beloit for the 2023 home opener.

The Warriors once again went on a late run to ensure a victory in the first set. An eight-point run allowed Warren to come back from down four-wins to capture a 25-21 victory. In the second set, Warren held all the momentum. South Beloit had no answer for the Warriors as Warren went on to complete the sweep with a blowout 25-5 victory in the second set.

For Warren and their head coach Brynn Calow, it was a celebratory moment. After going winless in 2022, the Warriors had gone a whopping 716 days without a victory. Their last triumph came back in 2021 on Sept. 8, against none other than South Beloit.

Calow, who is entering her second season as head coach, should be happy to get that zero out of the win column in her career record. More importantly, the Warriors are on pace to accomplish some of their higher goals for the 2023 season. In the preseason, Calow shared that the team's goal was to "have a winning record and make a run in the postseason." A big reason for the high expectations, despite last year's record, was their returning experience. Calow had zero seniors on last year's squad, which allowed for a number of players to get varsity playing time. This year, Calow returns an experienced squad, which gives her hope. "Entering my second year as head coach and returning all of my starters, I am confident that we bring experience, knowledge, trust, and team cohesiveness," Calow shared. It's safe to say the Warriors put each of those attributes on display in their first two matches of 2023.

Excess sugar is harming more than just your teeth

If you have been reading this column for any length of time, you are already aware of the harm that excess sugar consumption can do to your oral health. What you may not be aware of is how excess sugar is harming the rest of your body. Up until the mid-twentieth century added sugars and high-fructose corn syrup was not dominant in the American diet. That does not mean that the American diet lacked sugar. Sugar occurs naturally in all foods that contain carbohydrates. This includes legumes (beans, peas, lentils) dairy products, fruits and grains. The key is that not only do these natural foods contain other healthy components such as proteins, fiber, essential minerals and antioxidants, but these help your body to digest these natural sugars slowly to provide a steady supply of energy. As the sugar industry grew, so did our consumption of added sugar. Studies show that in 2023, depending on age, added sugars make up 13.1% - 17.5% of the diet of American children. Adults in the U.S. consume between 11.2% - 14.5 % of their daily caloric intake as added sugar. Part of the reason for this is that manufacturers add sugar to so many of the products that we consume. While you know what you're getting into when you overindulge in ice cream, cookies, candy and sweetened soft drinks, you may not be aware of the large quantity of sugar that can be found in items like ketchup, cold cuts, bread and soup. Overconsumption of added sugars has contributed to the startling fact that in 2023 almost 42% of American adults and 11.3% of our children are obese. While natural sugars are digested slowly, added sugars cause blood sugar levels to spike, triggering a spike in glucose, which in turn triggers a sharp rise in insulin to drop blood sugar levels. Think of what this does to a child at school. While a sugar laden snack or lunch treat may provide them with a short rise in energy levels, this is followed by fatigue and decreased alertness. Snacks like an apple, accompanied by a dozen almonds can provide them with much more sustained energy levels, with the added benefit of stimulating the jaw and saliva production. Continuous over consumption of added sugars can also lead to a condition called insulin resistance. Insulin resistance is a precursor to type 2 diabetes. Higher blood sugar levels, especially those caused by excess fructose consumption, can also lead to resistance to leptin

(a hormone that regulates hunger and tells your body to stop eating). In fact, studies have shown that people who drink sugar-sweetened beverages, with high fructose levels, gain more weight and develop an increased amount of visceral fat. High amounts of sugar in your blood can affect your heart health. Excess sugar overloads your liver (the organ that metabolizes sugar) which can lead to the development of fatty liver disease and diabetes, chronic inflammation, damage to delicate blood vessels, high levels of LDL (bad) cholesterol, stored triglycerides, and high blood pressure. All these conditions increase your risk for heart disease and stroke. High blood sugar levels also negatively affect your brain health, leading to irritability, anxiety, accelerated cognitive decline, brain fog, depression and an increased risk of Alzheimer's disease. If all of this is not a deterrent, high blood sugar levels can lead to premature skin aging and wrinkles. Excess sugar in the blood can bond to collagen and elastin proteins in the skin, impairing their function and your body's ability to repair damage to the skin. It triggers excess production of advanced glycation end-products (AGEs). These AGEs not only contribute to aging but are a key factor in cardiovascular disease as well.

FROM LENA'S KITCHEN

The not so skinny cook

We survived the beastly hot weather! I don't know about you, but I stayed in because I was lucky enough not to have to go to work. I also had recipes to cook that didn't involve much heat! This week we have some good veggie recipes, some main entrées and some desserts. There is also a little surprise. Have a good week cooking.

Spicy Crab Dip

This easy appetizer is made in the microwave, so it is a great one for hot weather. It uses imitation crab from the get-go, so there is no substitution involved. I always feel a little bit guilty using the imitation, but still think it tastes pretty good. It is also much cheaper.

- 1/3 C. mayonnaise
 - 2 T. dried minced onion
 - 2 T. lemon juice
 - 2 T. white wine
 - 1 T. minced garlic
 - 1/2 t. cayenne pepper, optional
 - 1/2 t. hot pepper sauce, optional
 - 2 pkg. (8 oz. each) cream cheese, cubed
 - 1 lb. imitation crabmeat, chopped
- Assorted crackers or fresh vegetables
- In a food processor, combine the mayo, onion, lemon juice, wine, garlic, optional pepper and cayenne and cream cheese. Cover and process until smooth. Transfer to a large microwave-safe bowl. Stir in crab; mix well. Cover and microwave on high until bubbly, 2 to 3 minutes. Serve warm with crackers and vegetables.

In a large container, combine the zucchini, onions, peppers, and salt (an ice cream bucket works well). Cover and refrigerate overnight. Drain and rinse; drain and rinse again. In a stockpot, combine the sugar, vinegar, cornstarch, and seasonings. Bring to a boil. Add the zucchini mixture; return to a boil. Reduce heat; simmer, uncovered, until slightly thickened, 12 to 15 minutes. Remove from the heat.

Carefully ladle hot mixture into hot pint jars, leaving 1/2 inch headspace. Remove air bubbles; wipe rims and adjust lids. Process for 15 minutes in a boiling water canner. Remove from canner and let cool checking to make sure lids are sealed. Opened relish may be kept in the refrigerator for up to 1 week.

Arugula Pasta Salad

This tasty hot weather salad can be used as a meal or a side. You can substitute rigatoni or bowtie pasta for the cavatappi. You can also use spinach instead of Arugula.

- 8 oz. cavatappi pasta
- 3 T. olive oil
- 2 T. lemon juice
- 2 T. fresh dill
- 1 T. Dijon mustard
- 1 t. grated lemon zest
- 1/4 t. salt
- 1/4 t. pepper
- 2 C. baby Arugula
- 4 radishes, sliced
- 1/3 C. shredded Pecorino Romano cheese

In a large pot of salted boiling water, cook pasta according to package directions for al dente. Drain well. Rinse under cold water for 1 minute until cool.

In a large bowl, whisk together oil, lemon juice, dill, mustard, zest, salt and pepper. Add Arugula, radish slices, and Pecorino. Toss with pasta until evenly coated and combined. Transfer to a salad bowl.

Shredded Beef au Jus

If you need a sandwich for a group and want to stretch your budget, this shredded beef sandwich will help you out. It isn't spicy like Italian beef but has a great flavor.

- 1 boneless beef chuck roast about 3 lbs.
- 2 C. water
- 2 t. beef bouillon granules
- 1 1/2 t. dried oregano
- 1 t. garlic powder
- 1 t. seasoned salt
- 1/4 t. dried rosemary, crushed
- Hamburger buns

Cut roast in half and place in a 5 qt. slow cooker that has been sprayed with cooking spray. In a small bowl, mix water, bouillon granules, and seasonings; pour over meat.

Cook, covered, on low for 6 to 8 hours. Remove from cooker; cool slightly. Skim fat from cooking liquid. Shred meat with two forks; return to slow cooker and heat on Low until ready to serve. Using a slotted spoon, place meat on toasted buns. Serve with cooking liquid on the side.

Winning Taco Casserole

If you are looking for a weeknight casserole that you can make ahead, this taco dish will work and become a favorite.

- 3 C. uncooked bow tie pasta
- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1/4 C. chopped onion
- 2 C. shredded cheddar cheese
- 1 jar (16 oz.) salsa
- 1 can (14 1/2 oz.) diced tomatoes, undrained

- 1 packet taco seasoning
- 2 C. nacho tortilla chips, crushed

Preheat oven to 350. Cook pasta according to package directions. Meanwhile, in a large skillet cook beef and onion over medium heat, until meat is no longer pink; drain. Add cheese, salsa, tomatoes, and taco seasoning. Drain pasta; stir into beef mixture. Transfer to a greased 11 x 7 baking dish. Cover and bake 20 minutes. Uncover, sprinkle with tortilla chips. Bake until heated through, about 10 minutes longer.

Zucchini Chocolate Chip Cookies

Do you still have zucchini? Guess what, I still have recipes. These cookies are great because they get better the next day. They also have oats, chocolate chips, and nuts!

- 1/2 C. unsalted butter, softened
- 1/2 C. sugar
- 1/3 C. packed brown sugar
- 1 egg, room temperature
- 1 1/2 t. vanilla
- 1 C. flour
- 1/2 C. whole wheat flour
- 1 t. cinnamon
- 1/2 t. baking soda
- 1/4 t. salt
- 1 1/2 C. shredded zucchini
- 1 C. quick cooking oats
- 1 C. semisweet chocolate chips
- 3/4 C. chopped pecans, toasted

Preheat oven to 350. In a large mixing bowl, cream butter and sugars until light and fluffy, 5 to 7 minutes. Beat in egg and vanilla. In a separate bowl, whisk the flours, cinnamon, soda, and salt together. Gradually beat dry ingredients into butter mixture. Stir in zucchini, oats, chocolate chips, and nuts.

Drop dough by tablespoons 2 inches apart onto a greased baking sheet. Bake until edges are starting to brown, 12 to 14 minutes. Cool on pans for 2 minutes before removing to a wire rack to cool. Store between pieces of waxed paper in an airtight container.

Pear Crisp

Some people have a bumper crop of pears this year and wonder what to make. This easy dessert will help you get rid of some of them. The hint of orange helps develop the pear flavor. Enjoy a nice dessert with pears.

- 8 medium ripe pears, peeled and thinly sliced
- 1/4 C. orange juice
- 1/2 C. sugar
- 1 t. cinnamon
- 1/4 t. allspice
- 1/4 t. ground ginger

Final Thoughts
 Some of the games this past week had to be rescheduled or moved around. If a gym in the area had air conditioning during those beastly days, it made sense to move the games. I know that many schools moved practice to the morning. We have lots of dedicated kids who get up early for practice and then concentrate on school. I know that several schools installed air, and that makes learning a whole lot better. I can't believe that Labor Day is a week away. That is the unofficial start of fall. I know we will see leaves beginning to come down. So far, I have been able to keep flowers and herbs alive with the help of my faithful water buddy!

We continue to see fruits and vegetables of the season are coming in as bumper crops. Zucchini and summer squash are still producing by the bushel baskets. Fall squash and apples are beginning to appear. There are good eats out there, and we better enjoy them while we can. Send any recipes for the great fruits and vegetables of the season. If you have some recipes you would like to share, you can contact us in person, by mail at From Lena's Kitchens, The Shopper's Guide at 240 W. Main St. or email us at scoopshopper@rvpublishing.com.

NOTICE TO JO DAVIESS COUNTY TAXPAYERS: ASSESSED VALUES FOR 2023

Valuation date (35 ILCS 200/9-95):

January 1, 2023

Required level of assessment
(35 ILCS 200/9-145): 33.33%

Valuation based on sales from
(35 ILCS 200/1-155): 2020, 2021, 2022

Equalization 3 year median level of assessments
(35 ILCS 200/9-21) 33.33%

Publication is hereby made for equalized assessed valuations for real property in the following townships in accordance with 35 ILCS 200/12-10. As required by 35 ILCS 200/9-210 and 35 ILCS 200/10-115, the following equalization factors have been applied to bring the assessments to the statutorily required three-year median level of 33.33%:

Questions about these valuations should be directed to:
Sandy Davis (Apple River and Thompson Townships)
PO Box 172
Mt. Carroll IL 61063
815.821.1540 – By Appointment Only

Sandy Davis (Berreman, Derinda, Pleasant Valley, Stockton and Wards Grove Townships)
PO Box 172
Mt. Carroll IL 61063
815.821.1540 – By Appointment Only

All townships and classes of real property listed above which are located within Jo Daviess County will receive a factor of 1.0000 unless otherwise specified above.

Farmland:

Pursuant to 35 ILCS 200/10-115, the farmland assessments for the 2023 assessment year will increase by 10% of the preceding year's median cropped soil productivity index as certified by the Illinois Department of Revenue with data provided by the Farmland Assessment Technical Advisory Board resulting in a $42.61 per acre increase for each soil productivity index.

All other Property:

Property in these Townships, other than farmland and coal, is to be assessed at a 33.33% median level of assessment, based on the fair cash value of the property. You may check the accuracy of your assessment by dividing your assessment by the median level of assessment. The resulting value should equal the estimated fair cash value of your property. If the resulting value is greater than the estimated fair cash value of your property, you may be over-assessed. If the resulting value is less than the fair cash value of your property, you may be under-assessed. You may appeal your assessment to the Board of Review.

If you believe your property's fair cash value is incorrect or that the equalized assessed valuation is not uniform with other comparable properties in the same neighborhood, the following steps should be taken:

1. Contact your township assessor to review the assessment.
2. If not satisfied with the assessor review, taxpayers may file a complaint with the Jo Daviess County Board of Review. For complaint forms, instructions, and the Rules and Procedures of the Board of Review, call (815) 777-1016 or visit www.jodaviesscountyil.gov for more information.
3. The final filing deadline for your township is 30 days from this publication date. After this date, the Board of Review is prohibited by law from accepting assessment complaints for properties in these townships. The filing deadline is September 29, 2023.

Your property may be eligible for homestead exemptions, which can reduce your property's taxable assessment. For more information on homestead exemptions, call (815) 777-1016 or visit www.jodaviess-countyil.gov.

Your property tax bill will be calculated as follows:
Final Equalized Assessed Value – Exemptions = Taxable Assessment;
Taxable Assessment x Current Tax Rate = Total Tax Bill.
All equalized assessed valuations are subject to further equalization and revision by the Jo Daviess County Board of Review as well as equalization by the Illinois Department of Revenue.

A complete list of assessments for these townships for the current assessment year, except for those assessments that were changed solely by equalization is as follows:
