Assault weapon registration period remains open as Illinois State Police seeks further input

Agency agreed to further hearings at request of state rulemaking committee

By Peter Hancock
CAPITOL NEWS ILLINOIS

Those who own certain guns and other items now prohibited under the state's assault weapons ban still need to register them with the Illinois State Police. But ISP says it plans to hold additional public hearings about that process and may refine the rules before they become permanent next year.

"We are happy to address all questions and comments submitted to ISP and will be doing so in the weeks to come," ISP said in a statement last week.

Illinois lawmakers passed an assault weapons ban during a special lame duck session in January. It came in response to a mass shooting at an Independence Day parade last summer in Highland Park.

The law prohibits the purchase, sale, possession or manufacture of a long list of firearms defined as "assault weapons" as well as large-capacity magazines and certain kinds of ammunition.

But the law also says that people who already owned those items before it took effect are allowed to keep them, as long as they register them with the state police before Jan. 1, 2024.

Last month, ISP published temporary rules spelling out how people were to register those items and it began taking online registrations starting Oct. 1.

As of Oct. 18, according to ISP, 1,050 individuals had completed disclosures through that system. Those included disclosures of 2,060 firearms, 1,125 accessories and 17 ammunition supplies.

But many more people have filed questions and comments, saying the rules are vague and hard to understand and that it's not clear which items are covered by the rules, and which are not.

Another source of confusion is the fact that the entire law is under challenge in federal court. Although one judge in the Southern District of Illinois ruled the law is unconstitutional, two other judges in the Northern District ruled that it is not. All of those cases are now pending before the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals, which has not yet issued a ruling.

Those temporary rules came up for review Oct. 17 at the General Assembly's Joint Committee on Administrative Rules, or JCAR, a bipartisan panel that exercises oversight of the administrative rulemaking process.

"As a committee, we've received many, many questions on this topic as members of JCAR, and we could really literally be here all day and night going through each one of these questions, seeking answers from the Illinois State Police," JCAR co-chair Rep. Ryan Spain, R-Peoria, said during the meeting. Republicans on the panel made a motion to file a formal objection to the temporary rules, a move that would not have prevented them from remaining in effect but would have required ISP to file a formal response.

But that motion failed on a 5-5 vote.

But members of JCAR did unanimously agree to another motion calling on ISP to provide answers to all the questions that the committee has received from the public and to hold additional public hearings on the proposed rules—suggestions that ISP accepted.

In a statement, ISP said it has already scheduled one additional hearing, set for 9:30 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 2, in the Stratton state office building in Springfield.

"ISP is committed to transparency with the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules and the public," the agency said. "We appreciate JCAR working with us to allow the emergency rule to remain in effect as ISP works to address the concerns raised within our statutory authority."

An adventure with super glue

Note to readers (and self): super glue does not mix well with granite countertops.

Recently, I had the opportunity to experience this noxious combination in the comfort of my own kitchen.

This was not of my doing. But you already knew that.

Late one night (when all the excitement happens at my house) my teenage son had an unfortunate encounter with ceramic bowl, which resulted in the right half of the bowl separating from the left.

Normally a broken bowl is no big deal at our house, but this happened to be a bowl that was hand-painted—by me. Since my son understood the gravity of his predicament, he decided to mend the break. Or at least try.

I was in bed. Sleeping. It's something I tend to do at night. I do not even attempt to keep up with their late/wee hours anymore. I need sleep more than I need to be the perfect mom. Besides, perfect is an over-rated an unbroken, hand-painted bowl. Sleep is not.

Since I wasn't around to help with the repairs, he was left to his own accord. He grabbed the super glue and went to work right there on the granite. I'm not sure exactly what transpired, but I picture super bonding solution squirting everywhere. The result was a bigger mess than a broken bowl.

I expected this sort of stuff when they were little. When they were too young to know any better or be held accountable for their actions, like the time they spray-painted their toys green—in the bathroom sink.

But the years unfold, they grow up and you expect them to know things they do not yet know. Like you might not want to spill super glue on the countertop because they call it super glue for a reason.

My son was unaware of the super mess he created. When I got up the next morning, I was not. After wiping and washing and spraying and scrubbing with an assortment of kitchen cleaning products, the surface refused to shine. Being the supermom that I am, I quickly recognized the source of the problem. Cyanoacrylate—the chemical name for super glue. (Thanks, Google.)

As I contemplated the super stain I was sure of one thing. They'd broken something; I just didn't know what it was yet.

I didn't have much time to investigate. My son suffered from a guilty conscience and fessed up first thing after getting out of bed. He carried the bowl over to where I was searching the Internet using phrases like, "How to remove super glue" (acetone nail polish remover, by the way). He pointed out the crack. I told him it was no big deal. He breathed a sigh of relief.

Then I told him about the Beautiful sky and a trip to KC

Recently, I set my alarm for 4 a.m. so I could get up early and head to Kansas City to pick up my daughter-in-law and the kids who were coming back from a visit with her parents and family down in Texas. Her parents had driven up for a visit, and they had decided to leave their truck here and take their daughter and the kids back down to Texas to visit for a couple weeks. The plan was for my daughter-in-law's dad to drive them all the way back to Wisconsin to pick up his truck at the end of their visit. I suggested that perhaps I could drive his truck down and meet them somewhere to save him a lot of extra hours on the road.

Sure enough, he took me up on the offer and when the day came, I awoke a half hour before my alarm rang, rolled out of bed about 3:30 a.m., put on some warm clothes, grabbed a flashlight, and went outside in the pitch black to feed my beef cows, sheep, and chickens before I left. I was amazed at how fast the beef cows came running to the feed bunk even though it seemed like it was still in the middle of the night. The pasture is getting a little thin and they are ready to eat whenever I get near them. I'm actually getting ready to move them to a field where they can work the corn stalks throughout the fall and winter. Then when the snow flies, I will

Hamas attack on Israel and killing of 6-year-old Muslim boy

By U.S. Rep. Raja Krishnamoorthi
CONTRIBUTOR

On Oct. 14, the greater Chicago community, the state of Illinois, and our country were shocked and appalled by the alleged murder of Wade Al-Fayoume, a 6-year-old Palestinian boy in Will County who was reportedly targeted for his family's Muslim faith in an attack that also left his mother in serious condition.

This brutal act of Islamophobia and domestic terrorism has no place in our society. I urge law-enforcement authorities to prosecute this crime to the fullest extent of the law and all Americans to come together in rejecting hate in all its forms.

My family and I grieve his loss and are keeping his mother and their family in our prayers.

This tragedy comes at a difficult moment for so many here in the United States and around the world. Over two weeks ago, the Hamas terrorist group launched a horrific attack against the people of Israel that killed more than 1,400, including dozens of Americans, while kidnapping nearly 200 people.

In the subsequent fighting, thousands more civilians have been killed or wounded.

I stand with President Biden in condemning the horrible terrorist attack on Israel by Hamas, calling for the safe return of all hostages, and reaffirming that the Palestinian people are not Hamas.

All innocent civilian lives everywhere must be protected, and we must continue to pursue a negotiated two-state solution that ensures Israel's security. As President Biden said, Israel has the right to maintain its security while adhering to the rules of armed conflict and I will continue to work with my colleagues from both parties to provide Israel with the support it needs along with humanitarian aid to help the civilians impacted by the fighting.

My office is continuing to assist U.S. Citizens and their family members evacuating the region or in need of other assistance. To contact my staff and me, call (847) 413-1959 or email IL08.help@mail.house.gov

El Nino adds wrinkle to winter outlook

By Daniel Grant
FARMWEEK

Now that temperatures in Illinois feel more seasonable for mid-October, at least for the time being, many people probably wonder what lies ahead for winter.

And, as always, there's no shortage of opinions on the subject.

Sources such as the Farmers' Almanac predict a "cold, stormy" winter season ahead. But the arrival of a strong El Nino, such as the one in place, typically tilts the pattern in Illinois toward a warm and mild winter, according to Chris Yates, chief meteorologist with WMBD and WYZZ in Peoria.

Yates discussed the weather outlook for the rest of fall and winter during a recent interview with FarmWeek.

"We're heading into a strong El Nino winter," he said. "An El Nino winter historically has been on the warmer and drier side and we tend to not have a lot of snow in the Midwest."

"There have been exceptions, specifically during weak El Nino events," he said. "But the stronger the El Nino, the warmer, drier and less snowy winters tend to be around here."

That doesn't mean Illinois will avoid run-ins with the Polar Vortex or big snow events this winter. But a typical El Nino winter also contradicts the Farmers' Almanac outlook.

"Even if the forecast says it will be a warmer and less snowy winter, it doesn't mean it won't get cold," Yates said. "It will mostly certainly still get cold and it's still going to snow. There's no stopping that."

"But, at the end of the day, we'll probably be warmer than average and less snowy than average if history repeats itself."

The typical El Nino pattern also contradicts recent observations from those who track the woolly black caterpillar. Folklore suggests the longer the black bands are on the woolly worm, the longer and more severe it will be for the upcoming winter.

"I've heard various things about the woolly worms this year," Yates told the RFD Radio Network. "From what I've heard, there's been a lot of black ones, which supposedly means a bad winter."

So, what's the history or track record of seasonal forecasts produced by the Farmers' Almanac?

Yates analyzed the Farmers' Almanac winter outlooks the past 10 years by comparing the actual precipitation, snowfall and temperature statistics from December through February each year. He reported the findings on his weather blog.

And, while it was spot on in consecutive years last decade, the Almanac's long-range predictions are about as accurate as a coin flip.

"They had some good years and hit the nail on the head in 2013-14 and 2014-15," Yates said of the Almanac winter outlooks. "But the forecasts weren't as good beyond that."

Yates gave six of the past 10 Farmers' Almanac winter outlooks below-average to failing grades and scored four as average or better for accuracy.

Near-term, much of Illinois could be about done with summer-like temperatures, which would be good for fall anhydrous applications. But Yates can't rule out a return of unseasonable warmth.

Looking ahead, one of Yates' top concerns remains a lack of moisture. Topsoil moisture in Illinois ranked 57% short to very short, 42% adequate and just 1% surplus as of Oct. 2.

"The dry weather has been good for harvest. We're not dealing with a lot of delays due to rain," he said. "But I imagine there are some concerns as we're dealing with severe drought in some parts of the state."

Hornets split games with Galena, Warren

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

The Scales Mound Hornets earned their twentieth win of the 2023 volleyball season with a victory over the Warren Warriors last week. They would have to battle with a tough Galena Pirates squad before they got there, however.

On Tuesday, Oct. 17 the Hornets were coming off a long weekend of tournament play where they went 2-1-1. That Tuesday things weren't getting any easier as the Hornets prepared to play host to the Galena Pirates in another NUIC matchup. The Pirates came into the matchup with 27 wins on their record, including a previous victory over Scales Mound.

The Hornets struggled to keep pace with the red-hot Pirates. After Galena took the first set 25-14, the second set played out in similar fashion with the Pirates winning 25-15. Scales Mound senior Ella Heffernan had four kills, two digs, and three total blocks in the loss. Emily Wiederholt added three kills of her own. Both Anna Wentz and Brooklynn McCartney finished the day with 13 digs, which tied to lead the team. It was a special night for McCartney as she surpassed 1,000 career digs as one of the best defenders in Scales Mound history. It was the thirteenth loss of the season for Scales Mound as they fell to 19-13-1. They would have to wait two more days to exceed that 20-win mark.

Two days later, the Hornets were set to square off with a struggling Warren Warriors squad. It was a familiar matchup as these two teams had faced off twice prior in 2023. Back in early September, Scales Mound picked up a 2-0 victory over Warren. Later in the month, the Hornets picked up another blowout victory over the warriors to secure the season series. In the third and final matchup, Scales Mound went for the sweep.

Warren put up a surprising fight, however. Late in the season, the warriors started to garner some momentum. After a victory over North Boone, the Warriors went on to split games with Rockford East. Then, Warren picked up a 2-1 victory over the West Carroll Thunder. It was by far the best three-game stretch of the season for the Warriors, and they brought that confidence into the matchup against Scales Mound.

That confidence was evident early on. At one point, the Warriors had jumped out to a 9-5 advantage over the Hornets. Scales Mound began to chip away, however, and they eventually took a 13-12 advantage. Late in the set the Hornets were up 22-19, when a mishit serve by Emily Wiederholt brought the Warriors back within two. That's as close as the Hornets let it get. Lauren Williams hit a ball outside the right line, giving the Hornets a three-score advantage. An ace by Amanda Withington put the Hornets up to 24 points. Finally, a hit out of bounds by Warren sealed the deal as Scales Mound prevailed for a 25-20 victory.

In the second set, the Hornets had the Warriors doubled up when Withington and Ava Travis combined for a block on their right side. That gave the Hornets an 8-4 advantage in set two. Midway through, the Hornets went on a massive run as they jumped out to a 20-11 lead. Although the Warriors made it close in the end, Scales Mound ultimately picked up a 25-20 victory to earn the 2-0 sweep.

Ava Wiederholt led the team in scoring with four kills. Heffernan, Wentz, and Emily Wiederholt each added two kills of their own. Travis led the way at the net with five total blocks, while Emily finished with four and Heffernan and Abigail Frank each had two. Wentz racked up 23 digs in an all-out defensive effort, and Withington led the team in assists with 10.

The Warriors fell to 5-20-2 overall on the regular season before facing off with the Lena-Winslow Panthers in the first round of the 2023 playoffs. The Hornets also wrapped up their regular season as they finished the year 20-13-1. The Hornets earned the sixth seed in their regional, which had them set to square off with the Stockton Blackhawks in round one earlier this week.

Blackhawks earn back-to-back wins to end regular season

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

The Stockton Blackhawks had a great ending to their 2023 volleyball regular season. Stockton had a pair of tough opponents on the schedule for their final two games, but they found a way to come out on top as they prepared for postseason play.

On Tuesday, Oct. 17 the Blackhawks played host to the East Dubuque Warriors in another NUIC matchup.

East Dubuque finished the regular season with an overall record of 10-17-2. Two of those losses came against Stockton, including their most recent matchup.

Their first matchup featured an exceptional battle, but the Blackhawks came out on top 25-22 and 25-23. If that matchup was any indication, Stockton knew they were in for a tough matchup this time around.

Stockton got off to an excellent start on their home court. Late in the opening set, the Blackhawks ran away with things as they picked up a 25-18 victory. Madalyn Mammoser was locked in offensively as East Dubuque had no answers for her around the net.

The Blackhawks also had an excellent performance on defense. Four different Blackhawks finished in double digits for digs as Mammoser led the way with 19. Both Emily Broshous and Katelyn Winters followed up with 17 digs each. Mammoser, Broshous, and Winters are all juniors, and their defensive hustle has set the tone for the Blackhawks. On top of that, Kaydra Wright, a freshman, had 14 digs of her own.

East Dubuque bought back in the second set as Stockton fell by a score of 23-25. The Blackhawks quickly bounced back with a 25-17 victory to seal the 2-1 win in the third set. Mammoser finished the day with 10 kills and two assists, to go along with her 19 digs. Eve Moore was next up with seven kills, while Kacy Wright and Broshous each had four kills. Kacy also led the team in assists with 14.

Two days later, the Blackhawks were back at home for their final game of the regular season. That evening, they played host to the River Ridge Wildcats. The Wildcats had an excellent regular season as they finished with a 23-9-3 record. Earlier this season, River Ridge beat Stockton 2-1 in a NUIC battle. This time around, the Blackhawks went for some revenge on their home floor.

The Blackhawks needed a comeback effort to get it done. River Ridge took the first set by a score of 25-19. Stockton caught their momentum midway through the second set. A huge run late in the set evened the series as the Blackhawks picked up a 25-15 victory. In the third set, Stockton picked up the win with a 25-19 victory.

The first time these teams met back in late September, River Ridge pulled off a comeback victory after the Blackhawks stole the first game on River Ridge's home court. This time around, the Blackhawks returned the favor as Stockton got a comeback victory of their own.

Addison Albrecht carried the load offensively for River Ridge. Albrecht finished the day with 16 kills as she had it all working around the net. Gwen Miller was next up with eight kills, and Kaylen Bond finished with four. Miller also racked up six total blocks, while Laiken Haas added five blocks of her own. Albrecht led the team in digs with six.

For Stockton, it took an all-around effort. Mammoser led the way with six kills, while Broshous had five. Both Moore and Winters finished with four kills each. Mammoser and Moore combined for 11 total blocks, and Gabbi VenHuizen added another four. Kaydra led the team in assists with 10, and Kacy was right behind her with eight.

Defensively, the Blackhawks had another incredible performance. Broshous led the team with 24 digs, but Winters was right behind her with 20 digs of her own. Mammoser finished the day with 15 digs.

For the Blackhawks, it was a great way to end the regular season. Not only did they enter the postseason on a winning streak, but they finished the year with a winning percentage of five hundred in conference play as they went 6-6 in the NUIC.

Halloween or Jesus?

Ex-Satanist John Ramirez warns Christian parents of the dangers of celebrating Halloween. "It's like having a one night stand with the devil. There's a quote by Anton Lavey, founder of the Church of Satan, where he says in his own words, 'I want to thank every Christian parent for allowing their children to celebrate the devil one night out of the year,' which is Halloween. He's intentionally thanking Christian parents. Thank you for dressing up your kids, changing their identity, sacrificing spiritually."

He likened the practice to having a "one night stand", saying: "We go celebrate Halloween; we're in bed with the devil for one night. To me, it's like, why would you want to cheat on Jesus? Jesus doesn't cheat on you. I don't see the Satanists coming to your church to cheat on the devil. No way!"

John Ramirez was once one of the highest ranking warlocks in the world, until Jesus saved his life. His friends called him "Lucifer's Son" because Satan himself would visit him regularly in his bedroom to talk about strategies for destroying people's lives. One night John had a near-death experience where he found himself in hell, but Jesus showed up himself and gave him one last chance to come to Christ. John took that chance and never looked back.

Ramirez came back from that near-death experience and destroyed $100,000 worth of satanic paraphernalia in his New York home, and was then "tormented for 30 days" by his past demons. But it didn't stop him from living his new life for Christ. Today he is a Pastor, evangelist, and best-selling Christian author, and he warns the church of the dangers and realities of spiritual warfare.

"The only harvest we should celebrate is the harvest of souls," Ramirez said. "Jesus Christ is your answer. It's a relationship with God. Make peace with God...Pray. Prayer works. The power of Satan is limited. It's a hoax. And the power of Jesus is limitless and it brings you to a place of knowing your purpose and destiny of who you really are created to be."

Jo Daviess County Animal Control updates pet registration process

Jo Daviess County Animal Control made a change. In the past, dog owners sent registration applications to PetData in Texas for processing. Pet registrations are now done at Jo Daviess County Animal Control at 9483 US Route 20 W, Galena. Dog owners are able to register through the mail or in person. Located in the Public Health building, Animal Control is open Monday through Friday 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. There is also a drop box available after hours.

Every owner of a dog four months or more of age, who is a resident of the County, is required to have the dog inoculated against rabies as denoted in the Animal Control Act. Every dog owner in the State of Illinois shall pay a rabies tag fee. An unaltered dog is $30 per year or $85 for a 3-year registration. A spayed or neutered (altered) dog is $18 per year or $50 for a 3-year registration. A three-year license will only be issued when a three-year vaccination is given within six months of the purchase of the license. Licenses are not valid beyond the expiration of the rabies vaccination.

The money collected from dog licensing fees stays in Jo Daviess County. These funds are an important part of helping animals and owners in Jo Daviess County. The funding allows Animal Control to be dispatched for rescues and complaints and also provides shelter and care for lost and abandoned pets.

Plesae contact the Jo Daviess County Animal Control Department at 815-776-0326 or email animalcontrol@jodaviesscountylil.gov with any questions.

Around the Northern Hills

We all know how important that agriculture is to our county. But did you know some of the statistics that go to support that? According to the Census of Agriculture, Jo Daviess County has 935 farms with an average farm size of 291 acres. Some of the statistics that stand out that helps make Jo Daviess County unique are listed below.

By ANNETTE EGGERS
Jo Daviess
County Farm Bureau

- Here's a few of the categories that Jo Daviess County ranks high in the state:
- 1st in the state for production of forages
 - 2nd for production of oats
 - 4th in the numbers of acres of corn for silage
 - 2nd in the total number of cattle and calves
 - 11th in the total number of sheep and lambs
 - 1st in duck production
 - 16th in the number of horses and ponies

We all think of the cattle in the county, but did you find some surprising numbers listed? We must remember that there are a lot of things going on that we don't always think about.

Become a member

Did you know that you don't need to be a farmer to be a farm bureau member? Give me a call at the office and I can tell you how to become a member. You will be able to take advantage of the many membership benefits that Illinois Farm Bureau and Jo Daviess County Farm Bureau has to offer!

Combine care packages – there are a few left!

The Young Leaders committee want to give all some of you a treat during harvest this year. At their last meeting they put together “combine care packages” filled with some goodies that you can keep with you in the combine or your truck during harvest. We know that everyone will be putting in some long days during the coming weeks and wanted to make sure you had a few snacks to keep you going. The best part is it all comes in a five-gallon bucket! Who doesn't need another one of those? Thank you to Ace Hardware in Stockton for donating the buckets! There are a limited number of these so if you are interested, stop in at the office and pick yours up before they are gone.

Harvest safety tips

With harvest going full speed ahead, I thought I would share a few tips for motorists when they come across slow-moving farm machinery on the roads.

Above all, slow down and be patient. Reduce speed when encountering farm equipment on public roads.

Flashing amber lights mean “caution.” Slow down when you see the Slow Moving Vehicle Emblem - the orange and red reflective triangle warns you that the tractor or combine travels at a slow rate of speed. Keep a safe distance from the farm equipment so the farmers can see you. If you can't see their mirrors, they can't see you. Pass wide, large farm equipment only if you know conditions are safe and you are sure the farmer will not be making a left-hand turn. Be cautious when pulling back in. It is illegal to pass in a no passing lane or within 100 feet of an intersection, railroad crossing or bridge. Be prepared to yield to wide equipment. Always wear a safety belt and heed the road's speed limit. Watch for the farmer's indication of a turn. Newer equipment has one or more amber lights flashing rapidly to indicate a turn. Older equipment is typically not equipped with turn signals to watch for the farmer's hand signals.

Let's do everything that we can to make it a safe and bountiful harvest for everyone!

Lady Panthers capture NUIC Championship in battle with Aquin

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

The good times keep rolling for the Lena-Winslow Panthers. Prior to their competition in the Stillman Valley Tournament last weekend, the Panthers wrapped up the 2023 volleyball regular season with a sixteen-game win streak and a conference championship to go along with it.

On Tuesday, Oct. 17 the Panthers were prepped for another week of NUIC competition. Le-Win entered the week with an overall record of 26-2 and a perfect conference record of 10-0. That night the Panthers were set to square off with the Aquin Bulldogs in a battle amongst the top NUIC teams. Aquin entered the game with an overall record of 22-6, while being 8-2 in conference play. One of those conference matchups came in an earlier loss to the Panthers, and Le-Win looked to complete the season sweep in their second meeting.

Their first matchup featured a tight race as the Panthers won by scores of 30-28 and 25-23. This time around, with Le-Win riding high, the Panthers took care of business in a much easier fashion. From the very start the Panthers held all the momentum. After getting off to an early lead, a crafty kill by Kaidynce Lynch gave Le-Win a three-point advantage. Shortly after, back-to-back aces by Maddy Chiles put Le-Win up 7-1. That told the story for this one. At one point, the Panthers held a massive 16-4 lead in the opening set. Eventually, they went on to win by a score of 25-15.

Rachael Setterstrom got the second set started with a bang as her opening serve was mishit by the Aquin defense. Later on, with the game tied 11-11, Eden Dietz struck a powerful hit to the back-right corner, giving the Panthers the lead midway through. After a big run by the Panthers, it was Dietz who sealed the deal with a kill to give Le-Win the 25-17 victory.

Molly Amendt led the way offensively with 10 kills and an ace. Lynch finished the day with six kills, and Grace Groezinger added five of her own. Both Dietz and Brianna Fye finished with three kills each. Setterstrom, Lynch, and Daughenbaugh each tied for the team-lead in digs with seven. It was another all-around performance for a very deep Le-Win squad. Sue Amendt, Le-Win volleyball head coach, spoke about the team's magnificent, late season run. "The special thing about this group is that as a whole, they are self-motivated. They enjoy winning, but they hate losing even more," Sue shared.

After securing two straight sets against Aquin, the Panthers not only improved to 7-2, but they captured the 2023 NUIC Championship. Although it was a moment of celebration for the team and its fans, the Panthers had more work to do with another tough matchup on the schedule.

Just two days later, the Panthers were set to square off with another one of the top teams in the NUIC. The Durand Bulldogs entered the late season matchup with an overall record of 28-6. Earlier this season, the Panthers beat the Bulldogs in straight sets. In the second matchup, Le-Win went for the season sweep.

Once again, the Panthers got off to a hot start. A kill by Amendt gave Le-Win an early 2-0 advantage in the opening set. The Bulldogs kept pace early on, but Le-Win eventually ran away with a 25-14 victory. Durand responded in the second set, however. A late run allowed the Bulldogs to even the series as the Panthers fell 23-25. Late in the third and final set, the Panthers found themselves holding a 24-20 lead. Lynch rose up for a powerful kill from the left side of the net, which ultimately secured the victory for the Panthers.

Lynch wound up having one of her best performances of the season with 11 kills, one ace, and eight digs. It was the eleventh time Lynch tallied double-digit kills in 2023. Amendt was next up with eight kills, and Groezinger finished the day with five kills of her own. It was another all-around defensive performance for the Panthers as Setterstrom and Isabelle Paulsen each tallied 13 digs. Daughenbaugh added 10 digs of her own, to go along with a team-leading 24 assists.

With that, the Panthers finished the regular season with an overall record of 28-2. They went on to compete in the Stillman Valley Tournament ahead of their first postseason matchup against Warren on Monday, October 23.

The Le-Win head coach credits the tough 2023 schedule for helping the Panthers get where they are today. "As we competed against some of the top 2A and 3A teams at a high level at tournaments, the momentum began to snowball. That brought us into our local conference play, which could arguably be one of the top volleyball conferences in the state. To finish in the NUIC undefeated is an amazing accomplishment. The girls never doubted it. They just show up every day and put in the work and love a lot on each other! They are the best of friends and support each other on and off the court. It doesn't matter if it's a star or a role player. No one wants to let their teammate down. They are teammates, friends, leaders, supporters, believers, students, and many other things whether on the court or off. This group is a group you want, Volleyball or not," Sue noted following the regular season.

Panthers steamroll their way to another perfect season

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

The Lena-Winslow Panthers won their twentieth consecutive football game with a 36-8 victory over the Forreston Cardinals in week nine. The Forreston vs. Le-Win matchup has become one of the most anticipated matchups in all of the NUIC. Recently, the Panthers kept finding a way to come out on top of the so-called rivalry.

This year, the Panthers have stuck with what is working for them, and that is feeding the ball to Gage Dunker. Last Friday night, Dunker rushed for well over 200 yards and four scores on the ground. Nick Tippett offers a nice counterpart to Dunker's powerful run game. Tippett broke loose a few times against Forreston as the Panthers rushed for nearly 400 yards as a team.

Dunker put the Panthers on the board late in the first quarter. After a physical start, Dunker broke free on a 34-yard touchdown run. He also tallied the two-point conversion, putting the Panthers up 8-0.

Once a team trails the Panthers, it's nearly impossible to come back. If Forreston didn't already know that they learned it in the week nine matchup. The Panthers controlled the clock for most of the first quarter, but Forreston put their own ball control on display in the second. The Cardinals had a long, seven-minute drive late in the quarter. It was a drive that saw the Cardinals push deep into Le-Win territory, but ultimately come up short with no points. After such an extensive drive, the Cardinals were left with an eight-point deficit entering the halftime break.

The Panthers came out strong in quarter three as well. Early in the second half, Dunker turned the gas on as he busted a 62-yard touchdown run, giving Le-Win a two-score advantage. After another defensive stop, Dunker tallied the hat trick when he trucked into the endzone from three yards out. A failed conversion left Le-Win with a 22-0 advantage.

Forreston found some success on their next drive. After working their way down the field, the Cardinals managed to cut into Le-Win's lead with a rushing touchdown of their own. Forreston tacked on the two-point conversion, but the Panthers still led 22-8 late in the third quarter.

That was as close as the game would get, however. Le-Win's dominant rushing attack carried them the rest of the way. Eventually, Tippett scored on a three-yard rushing touchdown of his own. Then, Dunker capped the day off with a 17-yard rushing score.

When it was all said and done, the Panthers came away with a 36-8 victory, an NUIC Conference Championship, and a perfect 9-0 record through the regular season. Dunker finished the day with 273 yards and four scores on the ground. Tippett added another 86 yards and a score of his own. Le-Win quarterback Jake Schumacher got to do something he normally doesn't as well. Le-Win let Schumacher sling one, and it was a beauty as he connected with Quinn Rodebaugh on a 32-yard pass.

All in all, it was another dominant performance for the Panthers. After concluding their second consecutive undefeated regular season, the Panthers waited for their playoff seeding. This year, Lena-Winslow opens the IA playoffs with the one seed, and they will face off with sixteenth seeded Rockford Lutheran in round one.

Stephenson County Farm Bureau news

BY VICTORIA HANSEN

The Illinois Agriculture in the Classroom (IAITC) program continues to thrive as a resource for educating children about connections to agriculture. This week the program received funding to continue classroom lessons thanks to IAA Foundation grants to local county coalitions. Eighty coalitions serving 89 Illinois counties were awarded $647,000 in grant dollars which can be used for materials, training, educational lessons, and activities taking place during the 2023-2024 school year. "Providing these grants ensures teachers have the right resources to integrate accurate agricultural content into their classrooms," said Kevin Daugherty, IAITC education director.

Last school year, 582,594 students and 40,046 teachers engaged in ag literacy lessons through IAITC. County AITC programs presented 28,848 individual programs throughout the state. Classroom presentations, farm field trips, and agriculture expos add a new dimension to existing curricular standards. "IAITC continues to help highlight Illinois' #1 industry," said Daugherty. "Student reach increased 182%, showing a positive trend as we adjust to post-pandemic education." County coalition grants are made possible through funding from the IAA Foundation, the charitable arm of the Illinois Farm Bureau. The IAA Foundation raises funds for the IAITC program each year, and in addition to county grants, provides funding for Ag Mags, teacher grants, Summer Ag Academies, and more. "Consistent and sustainable funding is key for IAITC to have great results," said Susan Moore, IAA Foundation director. "And knowing that so many Illinois students are making stronger connections to agriculture drives our urgency to keep making ag literacy a priority, and we are grateful for that."

Partner organizations of IAITC include Illinois Farm Bureau, Facilitating Coordination in Agricultural Education, University of Illinois Extension, Illinois Beef Association, Illinois Corn Marketing Board, Illinois Pork Producers Association, Illinois Soybean Association, Midwest Dairy Association, Illinois Department of Agriculture and the Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts. In addition, annual donors include agribusiness partners and individuals with an interest in supporting the future of agriculture. Stockton Sewer debt fee timeline

The Village of Stockton continues to progress with its upgrades to the wastewater treatment collection and treatment systems. The overall project has been separated into two phases. The first phase was to construct a flow equalization lagoon north of the existing treatment facility, and sewer piping to directly connect Brewster Cheese to the facility. Other needed collection system upgrades were included in this first phase. The construction of this phase is nearly complete.

The second phase of the project includes the wastewater treatment facility upgrades. These upgrades are required in order to be compliant with IEPA standards. Construction is currently under way and will continue through 2024.

The debt repayment for this project required a $15 monthly debt service fee on water/sewer bills since Jan. 1, 2021. Effective Jan. 1, 2022, another $15 monthly debt fee was added for a total of $30. Effective Jan. 1, 2024, an additional $12.50 will be added for a total monthly debt service fee of $42.50. This debt fee is necessary to pay back the loan used to fund the improvements. The Village secured a low interest loan for 30 years through the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency's Water Pollution Control Loan Program.

In accordance with an agreement between the Village and Brewster Cheese, and as good faith stewards of the community, Brewster Cheese will participate in payment of their portion of the conveyance and facility improvements.

FROM LENA'S KITCHEN

The not so skinny cook

Pumpkins are everywhere. I think it has been a good year for growing them. Did you know that Illinois is the top pumpkin grower in the U.S? It is nice to know we are known for something that is good in our state. So often everyone thinks Illinois is the worst place in America. They haven't driven around Northwest Illinois in the fall to see our beautiful rolling hills and trees. We grow pretty good corn, beans, beef, and pork too. I sort of like the commercials that says we are in the middle of everything! This week we have even more seasonal recipes. Have a good week cooking.

Spinach, Apple and Pecan Salad

This fall salad will be a hit any season of the year. It has the crunch of apples and nuts as well as the sweetness of cranberries.

- 2 pkg. (6 oz. each) baby spinach
- 1 medium apple, chopped
- 1 C. crumbled feta cheese
- 1 C. pecans
- ½ C. chopped red onion
- 1/3 C. dried cranberries
- 5 bacon strips, cooked and crumbled
- Dressing
- 2 T. cider vinegar
- 1 T. sugar
- ½ t. Dijon mustard
- 1/8 t. pepper
- ¼ C. canola oil

In a large bowl, combine all the ingredients. To make dressing: in a small bowl, whisk vinegar, sugar, mustard, and pepper until blended. Gradually whisk in oil. Pour over salad; toss to coat.

Crab Phyllo Cups

You can make these appetizers in very little time. You can also substitute tuna for the crab for a different taste. You can buy the tart shells in most grocery stores in the frozen section. The garden vegetable cream cheese is made by Philadelphia cream cheese.

- ½ C. spreadable garden vegetable cream cheese
 - ½ t. Old Bay seasoning
 - ¾ C. lump crabmeat, drained or imitation crab
 - 2 pkg. (1.9 oz. each) frozen miniature phyllo tart shells
 - 5 T. chili sauce
- In a small bowl, mix cream cheese and seafood seasoning; gently stir in crab. Spoon 2 t. crab mixture into each tart shell; top with chili sauce.

Cheesy Pasta Bake

This easy pasta dish is made with flavored sauces. Prego makes several enhanced pasta sauces. You can pick and choose which one works for your family. Using rotisserie chicken is a great way to make this dish easier.

- 12 oz. ziti pasta
- 1 jar (24 oz.) tomato and basil pasta sauce
- 1 can (14.5 oz.) diced tomatoes with basil, garlic and oregano

- 2 C. shredded cooked chicken, 8 oz.
- ½ C. drained and pitted Kalamata olives
- 2 C. shredded Italian cheese blend
- Fresh basil leaves

Preheat oven to 425. Coat a 9 x 13 baking dish with cooking spray. In large pot of salted boiling water, cook pasta according to package direction for al dente; drain well. In a bowl, combine pasta sauce, tomatoes and their juices, chicken, and pasta. Layer half of pasta mixture in baking dish; top with half of the olives and 1 C. cheese. Repeat layering once. Cover and bake until bubbling, 25 minutes. Uncover. Broil until cheese is golden, 3 to 4 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Top with basil.

Crescent Topped Beef Pot Pie

This easy weeknight meal has several short cuts. The use of the Progresso soup saves making a roux for thickening. The Crescent Roll sheets are available in most grocery stores. You could use regular crescents and seal the crescent rolls into one large sheet yourself. I have done this before. Be sure to flour your surface and use a small rolling pin.

- 1 lb. lean ground beef
- 1 container (8 oz.) sliced mushrooms
- 1 C. chopped carrots
- ½ C. chopped onion
- 2 garlic cloves, chopped
- 1 can Progresso pot roast with country vegetables soup
- 1 can (8 oz.) Crescent Dough Sheet
- 1 T. chopped fresh parsley

Preheat oven to 375. In a large skillet, cook beef, mushrooms, carrots, onion and garlic over medium-high heat 8 to 10 minutes, stirring frequently, until thoroughly cooked; drain. Stir in soup. Cook 2 to 4 minutes or until heated through. Spoon beef mixture into an ungreased 9 x 13 glass baking dish. Unroll dough; place on beef mixture. Cut 3 to 4 vent holes in the center. Bake 15 to 20 minutes or until deep golden brown. Sprinkle with parsley.

Apple Pumpkin Cupcakes

The apple and pumpkin combination makes for a tasty cupcake. Using the cake mix makes for easy preparation. Enjoy these great cupcakes.

- 1 apple, peeled, cored, and chopped
- 1 pkg. (15.25 oz.) Spice cake mix
- 1 can (15 oz.) pumpkin
- 2 eggs
- 1/3 C. oil
- 2 C. butter, softened
- 8 oz. cream cheese, softened
- 4 C. powdered sugar

Preheat oven to 350. Line 24 muffin cups with liners. Toss apple with 2 T. cake mix in a small bowl. On low speed, beat remaining cake mix with pumpkin, eggs and oil for 30 seconds; on medium speed beat for 2 minutes. Stir in apple. Bake until toothpick inserted into centers comes out clean, 18 to 29 minutes. Let cool 10 minutes. Transfer from pans to racks; let cool.

In a mixing bowl, beat butter and cream cheese until smooth. On low, beat in sugar until combined. On medium-high, beat until light and fluffy for 2 minutes. Transfer frosting to a pastry bag fitted with a star tip. Pipe over cupcakes.

Pumpkin Bundt Cake

As many of you know, I love Bundt cakes. They are usually moist and look great on a cake stand.

- 2½ C. sugar
- 1 C. canola oil
- 3 eggs, room temperature
- 3 C. flour

- 2 t. baking soda
- 1 t. cinnamon
- 1 t. ground nutmeg
- ½ t. salt
- ¼ t. ground cloves
- 1 can (15 oz.) pumpkin
- Powdered sugar

Preheat the oven to 350. In a large bowl, combine the sugar and oil until blended. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Combine flour, baking soda, cinnamon, nutmeg, salt and cloves; add to egg mixture alternately with pumpkin, beating well after each addition. Transfer to a greased 10-inch Bundt pan. Bake 60 to 65 minutes or until a toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes before inverting onto a wire rack. Remove pan and cool completely. Place on cake plate or cake stand and dust with powdered sugar.

Final Thoughts

We finally got some nice fall weather after the rain deluge for several weekends. Signs of fall are everywhere. Be careful of farm equipment as harvest is in full swing. My outside plants have gone to the ditch to fertilize somewhere else, but my mums are still blooming. I don't think they will make it until Halloween. It is next week, so it is time to get the candy out.

Volleyball regionals begin as well as football playoffs. Hopefully the Panthers will be playing a few more games. Parent teacher conferences have concluded in most schools, so that means the school year is one fourth finished. It is time for Veteran's Day celebrations and Thanksgiving.

"The Back to Business grants are a bridge for continued economic success as the hospitality and arts sectors recover from the COVID-19 pandemic," said Lt. Gov. Juliana Stratton. "Restaurants, hotels, and the arts enliven our state's economy. I'm thrilled this much-needed relief supports our hospitality businesses and the arts in our communities."

"The Arts Council is thrilled to see over $400,000 return to our community's first-to-close, last-to-reopen agencies and individuals. The prioritization of the arts in the last of the B2B funds is encouraging and although not all agencies/individuals received relief funds, we celebrate with those who did - acknowledging the hard work of our advocacy agencies to secure these funds," Mary McNamara Bernsten, Rockford Area Arts Council-Exec. Director, commented.

"This substantial amount of funds infused into the Arts and Culture sector recognizes the immense value the arts bring to our communities," added Nora Daley, Board Chair of the Illinois Arts Council Agency. "It is a resounding affirmation that the state of Illinois supports the creative economy as we have had significant losses these past couple of year. This support will unleash stability and a wave of innovation and artistic expression that will enrich our lives and propel our society forward. Let us embrace this moment with enthusiasm and gratitude to Governor Pritzker, the Legislature, and our wonderful partners at the Department of Commerce and Economic Opportunity."

"The B2B Art Grant is a significant boost to my career as an artist, and I'm deeply grateful for the award. This grant will not only provide me with the help I need to secure a dedicated art space, but it will also allow me to replenish my art supplies. As a professional artist, I understand the importance of having access to high-quality materials to bring my ideas to life. With the B2B Art Grant, I can continue to create my art in an environment that fosters creativity, growth, and innovation. I'm thankful for the support of this grant and the new possibilities it brings to my artistic career," said Nathan Taylor, a visual artist.

"The past few years have been a challenge for all artists," remarked Betsy Youngquist, another visual artist. "Through the B2B funding opportunity, the State of Illinois is recognizing the importance of the artist as a valued and vital part of the workforce. I would go further and say this grant recognizes and validates the larger role the arts play in society's cultural identity. The B2B Grant gives me funding for the continuance of my work as a professional artist."

"This grant money is huge for us. It allows us to continue producing with confidence as we rebuild our audience. Without it, further cuts to our production budget were on the table," Richard Raether, Producing Artistic Director at Artists' Ensemble Theater, added.

Rockford Area Arts Council Mission: The Rockford Area Arts Council supports, promotes, and develops access to the arts for everyone.

SUDOKU

Fun by the Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test! Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Pi Chapter of DKG visits Valley of Eden Bird Sanctuary

Pi Chapter of DKG enjoyed a beautiful evening at "Valley of Eden Bird Sanctuary" for their September program. The sanctuary is a 409-acre property near Stockton, Illinois. The property was a gift from Nancy Hamill Winter to sustain Illinois native birds giving people who enjoy this preserve a better understanding about bird conservation. It is also a tribute to the Eden families that have farmed it for four generations. They continue the agricultural activity of grazing their black angus cattle in one of the pastures. It is one of eight public preserves owned by the Jo Daviess Conservation Foundation. JDCF is a non-profit land conservatory that works in and around the county to preserve this unique and beautiful part of the Midwest. Among the many species found on the property are Henslow's sparrow, dickcissel, sedge wren, and boblink. We learned that the grassland habitat provides the right cover and food mix to allow these species to breed and successfully rear a family. The bird sanctuary has been recognized by National Audubon for providing a critical breeding habitat for grassland bird species in Greatest Need of Conservation. Ben Steffes, Hillary Holt, and Mary Stayner gave us a wonderful summary of the property and touched upon the Jo Daviess Conservation Foundation Properties that are available to the public and the importance of keeping nature preserved for generations to come. Some of the activities provided for the public include over six miles of trails to explore, school field trips, and educational camps. Everyone was given a JDCF tote bag that contained Mary's book, "Chasin the Bluebird", and other treasures. We continued our evening to the home of Edith Dwinells in Woodbine for our meeting and conversation with a wonderful selection of various foods for a potluck dinner.

throw hay out on the field for them to eat. It's amazing how a beef cow can get fat on grass and hay while dairy cows will shrivel up and starve if they don't get some corn.

The drive down to KC was quite enjoyable. The first couple hours in the dark I sang along to some great worship songs. There is something about the early morning hours and worshipping the God of the universe. The Bible says in Psalm 19:1, "The heavens declare the glory of God."

They sure do! I never saw such a perfectly clear starry sky as I drove down through Iowa on my way toward the Missouri border. I nibbled on an apple I had picked from my apple tree out in the yard and thought about how David, the shepherd boy, must have looked up at the same sky and stars when he wrote those verses.

It's exciting to think that one of these days Jesus Christ is going to return in the skies as He promised in John 14:3 when He said, "I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go to prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto myself that where I am there you may be also." There isn't any clearer verse about the rapture of the church in all of the Bible than this one from Jesus own lips. Now I know the idea that Jesus will come in the sky and Christians who have died along with Christians who are still alive are going to be caught up into the clouds and receive new bodies like Jesus received after He rose from the grave, seems kind of wild. The fact is the Bible tells us that this is indeed what is going to happen. There are many examples of people being raptured throughout scripture. Cain's son Enoch, who was Noah's great-grandfather, was taken by God to heaven without dying. Then there was Elijah, who went up in a fiery chariot. The Apostle Paul was taken up to heaven and returned to earth. He wrote that he saw things too wonderful to express in 2 Corinthians 12. John was caught up to heaven too in Revelation 4:1, and of course Jesus Himself ascended to heaven right in front of the eyes of his disciples. God is very capable of lifting up millions to be escorted to the wedding ceremony of Jesus. The Bible says the church is His bride, and just before God's wrath comes upon this earth, He is going to come and get us. When one's heart understands these truths, it brings an overwhelming joy into one's lives. As the Apostle Paul wrote in Titus 2:13, "Looking for our blessed hope the glorious appearing of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ." In such an evil day in which we live, I get pretty excited about this promise from God's word. If you want to know this blessed hope and the sweet peace and assurance that comes from believing in Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord, just take the step of faith and receive Him today. The Bible says in John chapter 1 that to all who receive Him by believing on His name will become children of God. Until next week, God bless.

HCC Early Childhood Education program to host an Open House

The Early Childhood Education (ECE) program at Highland Community College is thriving with more students, and additional faculty, and is partnering with the YWCA of Northwest Illinois for a joint open house Thursday, Nov. 9, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the Children's Hands-On Museum located at Lincoln Mall in Freeport, 1247 W. Galena Ave.

"The spotlight and resources Illinois brought to the early childhood profession in the last couple of years have provided exciting opportunities for our early childhood community," said Melissa Johnson, ECE instructor at Highland. "The Early Childhood Access Consortium for Equity (ECACE) Scholarship program is for individuals who are working or have worked in the early childhood profession and are interested in pursuing higher education."

The Highland Community College ECE program is committed to shaping the future of the early childhood community in the Highland district by providing education and opportunities for individuals seeking professional growth and investment in the future working with young children.

At the open house, HCC will bring together staff and mentors to speak about the relevance of higher education. Through the ECACE Scholarship program and the addition of the ECE Mentor/Coach at Highland, the college has seen an increase in enrollment of 150%.

The Highland Early Childhood Program is a member of the Early Childhood Access Consortium for Equity (ECACE) and a Gateways to Opportunity Entitled Institution. The ECE program has designed a stackable pathway to help support students' professional growth. With the passage of the Early Childhood Access Consortium for Equity (ECACE) Act in July 2021, students who earn an Early Childhood Education - Associate of Applied Science degree are now able to transfer the entire degree as a package to four-year institutions that are a part of ECACE.

For more on the Early Childhood Educational program, visit highland.edu or email melissa.johnson@highland.edu.

Healthy Halloween smiles

As the calendar approaches the end of October, children's thoughts focus primarily on costumes and candy. Halloween is a big deal in the lives of many children in America. Parents want their children to experience all the Halloween fun they enjoyed as children. However, they do not want their offspring to experience the pain of cavities or cracked teeth that haunt their memories. The following tips can help your child to enjoy their Halloween treats without the tricks that they can play on their oral health.

When it comes to Halloween treats, chocolate represents one of the better candy choices, while sticky treats are the worst. The reason for this is simple. The bacteria in your mouth eat sugar and create acids. These acids eat away the enamel on teeth. The longer sugars stay on the teeth, the more cavity-producing acids are formed. Chocolate is more easily cleaned from the teeth than sticky treats, so the bacteria have less time to do damage. Hard candies are bad because they stay in the mouth for longer periods of time and can crack teeth when a child crunches down on them. Sour candies pack a double punch as they are usually coated in sugar to offset their sour taste and deliver a prominent level of destructive acid.

In past columns I have talked about the negative impact that celiac and other autoimmune diseases can have on your oral health. Children with celiac disease need to avoid gluten in order to keep the disease under control. Halloween candy poses a potential danger for a flare up. While you may be aware that you should avoid giving your child candies with cookies, pretzels or other foods that obviously contain gluten, you may not be aware of the less obvious ways that gluten-containing ingredients like wheat and barley malt are incorporated in the manufacturing process.

For instance, not only is wheat utilized in the process of creating licorice, but it is also a major component. In fact, brands like Twizzlers and Red Vines list wheat as the second main ingredient. While all natural forms of rice are gluten free, candy bars like Nestle Crunch, Hershey's Krackel and Kellogg's Rice Krispy Treats are not, as they contain barley malt.

The celiac.org site warns that candy manufacturers sometimes change recipes for their special holiday candy, so a previously gluten-free candy might become dangerous. One example they gave of this is Reese's peanut butter cups. While the typical Reese's is gluten-free, Hershey's states that its seasonal shaped peanut butter cups are not. To keep your child safe, read the ingredient lists, look for a certified Gluten free logo on wrappers, and/or go to celiac.org to download their list of gluten free candies. These actions will help assure that you know which treats in their plastic pumpkin or treat bag are safe and which need to be swapped out for a less hazardous choice.

It is not only important to make smart choices about the kind of candy that your child ingests, but when your child eats it. Every time you eat any food, bacteria in your mouth create acids. Therefore, it is best if you allow your child to eat their Halloween treats at the end of their meal when an acid attack is already occurring, and saliva production is increased. Do not let them snack on candy repeatedly throughout the day. Keep the candy out of sight until mealtime. Wait for 20 minutes after they finish their meal with a Halloween treat before having them brush their teeth, so your children's saliva can neutralize that acid. Remember, those spooky decay-causing bacteria thrive in between teeth and under the gumline. Make sure your children floss their teeth to remove plaque and food that their toothbrushes cannot reach.

With all that added sugar from the candy, it is more important than ever to avoid sugary drinks like soda and sports drinks during Halloween celebrations. Make sure that your children are drinking plenty of fluoridated tap water throughout the day. When you know that Halloween parties and other activities will delay brushing, pack bottles of fluoridated water and sugarless gum for your children. Chewing sugarless gum for 20 minutes after eating helps to remove food particles and increases the production of saliva to help neutralize acids until they return home and can brush and floss.

Instead of bags of candy, you might choose, and/or ask grandparents to choose an alternative treat such as glow sticks, sidewalk chalk, stickers, a small toy, or a book. You can also limit trick or treating to a few houses and then have a Halloween movie and /or game night at home.

counter. His head drooped and he breathed another sigh. This one contained no relief.

His remorse was enough for me. I stated my mantra, "It's no big deal." And I meant it. If there's one thing I've learned during my time on this planet it's that people are more important than things. (Unless the thing is the last piece of cheesecake.)

I wasn't upset. Not really.

After raising three boys I've learned to take most things with a healthy dose of calm. Or maybe I'm just getting old. Either way, I figured this would make for a fond family memory someday.

Besides, you know what they say: there's no use crying over spilt super glue.

2023 note: This column was written in 2014 and nine years later I can honestly say that I have no recollection of my hand-painted bowl—broken or not, which only serves to prove my theory that people are definitely more important than things—even the last piece of cheesecake.
