Panthers hold off Polo in comeback effort

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

The Lena-Winslow Panthers picked up their tenth win of the 2024-2025 Illinois High School girls basketball season when they took on the Polo Marcos on Saturday, Jan. 25. It was the third consecutive road game for the Panthers, who came into the weekend matchup with an overall record of 9-14. They were coming off a heartbreaking 43-41 loss to the Dakota Indians just one day before.

That close game might have prepared the Panthers for their next matchup with the Polo Marcos. Le-Win had just lost to a 12-win Dakota team by only two points. Less than 24 hours later, they were on the road to take on a nine-win Polo team on their home court.

The Panthers got off to a dreadfully slow start. They scored just eight points in the first quarter, all of which came from just two players in Rachael Setterstrom and Aubrey Rodebaugh. They each finished the first quarter with four points. Setterstrom hit an early three-pointer as the Panthers went into the second trailing 13-8.

Le-Win got their offense figured out in the second quarter. Specifically, it was the three-ball that got them going. Ava Vlasin fired off a trio of second quarter three-pointers as she quickly put up nine points. Vlasin helped spark a swing in the momentum as Le-Win went into the break leading 23-21.

The second half featured a bit more of a physical matchup. Both offenses picked up the pace, leading to 10 foul calls in the third quarter alone. Both teams were excellent in their trips to the line, as well. The Panthers were a perfect seven for seven, while the Marcos were nine for 10 on their end.

That was where almost all of Polo's production came from. Le-Win not only found success at the line, but their shots were falling from all over the floor. Vlasin sunk her fourth three-pointer of the night. Rodebaugh exploded for 13 points in the third, six of which came at the charity stripe. Setterstrom added a basket of her own as the Panthers outscored Polo 20-13.

Just when it looked like Le-Win was set to run away with things in the fourth, the Marcos stormed back. Polo pulled out a secret weapon. Laynie Mandrell, who had just two points in the first three quarters combined, broke out for an exceptional fourth quarter. Mandrell scored nine fourth quarter points as she led the way in Polo's comeback efforts.

Le-Win struggled to find shots in the fourth quarter. They scored just two field goals from the floor, and they lost their touch from the line. After going perfect in the third, the Panthers hit just three of their eight fourth quarter free throws. Setterstrom was two for four from the line in the quarter.

Those free throws proved to be crucial. That, along with Le-Win's strong middle quarters, allowed the Panthers to hold on for a 50-49 victory. Le-Win had three players finish in double figures for scoring as Rodebaugh led the way with 19 points. Setterstrom and Vlasin each finished with 13 points. Ayla Brinkmeier added five in the win.

The Panthers return home on Jan. 30 to play host to a struggling Forreton Cardinals squad. Forreton got off to a 2-16 start to their season, and that second win came all the way back on Dec. 7. Thursday's game is set to tipoff at 6 p.m.

Machajewski selected to join YWCA Retirement Fund Board of Trustees

Kris Machajewski

YWCA Northwestern Illinois, the region's leading organization dedicated to empowering women and eliminating racism, is pleased to announce that Kris Machajewski, President and CEO of YWCA Northwestern Illinois, has been selected to join the prestigious Board of Trustees of the YWCA Retirement Fund.

Founded in 1925, the YWCA Retirement Fund was established to provide YWCA employees – 90% of whom are women – with secure, comfortable retirement options for their dedicated careers in service to the YWCA mission. Though the structure of the fund has evolved over the years, its mission remains steadfast in supporting the women who have worked tirelessly to further the YWCA's vision. Today, the YWCA Retirement Fund serves over 11,000 past and present employees from approximately 200 YWCAs across the United States.

Machajewski has led YWCA Northwestern Illinois for over 18 years, addressing the pressing challenges of empowering women and eliminating racism throughout northern Illinois. As the YWCA Retirement Fund celebrates its centennial this year, Machajewski's appointment to the board marks a critical opportunity to deepen the Fund's impact and further integrate the YWCA's values of equity and service into the broader network.

"I am deeply honored to join the YWCA Retirement Fund Board of Trustees during this significant year, marking the 100th anniversary," said Machajewski. "This opportunity allows me to continue advocating for the women who have given so much of themselves to our mission. It's an exciting moment to help strengthen the financial foundation that supports our dedicated staff throughout the United States and ensures we can keep building a more equitable future for generations to come."

About YWCA Northwestern Illinois

YWCA Northwestern Illinois has provided women's empowerment programming and advocacies since 1891. The organization now serves more than 13,500 women, children, and families each month, through child care subsidy, quality child care access and improvement resources, YWCA La Voz Latina's Hispanic and Latino community support and resources, the YWCA Literacy Council literacy instruction and programming for adult learners, and community racial justice work that promotes a clear commitment to equality. YWCA Northwestern Illinois delivers its mission, "eliminating racism, empowering women, and promoting peace, justice, freedom and dignity for all," to women and families in the six-county area of Boone, Jo Daviess, McHenry, Ogle, Stephenson, and Winnebago, Illinois.

Senior Resource Center offers free tax preparation for older adults

Starting Feb. 5, the Senior Resource Center will offer free federal and state 1040 tax counseling, preparation and filing services for low and middle-income senior taxpayers residing in Stephenson and Jo Daviess counties as well as adults with disabilities. This service is provided through the AARP Tax-Aide program by trained and IRS-certified volunteers and will run through April 15, 2025.

"Thanks to the dedication of our trained and certified volunteers, we are able to offer this service at no cost to low and middle income taxpayers who need assistance filing their 2024 taxes," explains Amanda Faivre, executive director of the Senior Resource Center. "Last year, we served 435 residents through this program, resulting in total tax savings of more than $180,000 with an average refund of $538.41," Faivre added.

Call 815-235-9777 starting Jan. 22 to schedule an appointment. Spots are limited and fill quickly. Please bring a photo ID, social security card for each person on the return, proof of all income (including social security benefits), proof of medical insurance coverage for each person on the return, and your previous year's tax return to the appointment. For joint returns, both persons must be present. Appointments will be held at Senior Resource Center, 206 E. Stephenson Street, Freeport, IL.

Unfortunately, not every person or every return qualifies for the Tax-Aide program. Senior Resource Center tax aides are limited to specific types of tax forms which the aides are allowed to prepare by both the IRS and by the AARP Foundation, which sponsors the program. If a person's return falls outside the scope of the aides' training, then they will need to go to a professional tax preparer. Examples of returns aids CANNOT prepare include farm income (unless only land rental), military returns, ministerial income, and cancellation of mortgage debt, business income that involves depreciation, rental income, and K-1 forms with ANY other entries than interest, dividends, or royalties.

For more information about the free tax preparation services or other programs offered by the Senior Resource Center, visit www.srctr.org or call 815-235-9777.

Slices of life

I have a confession: I am a hick

By JILL PERTLER
Columnist

I am a hick. There, I said it out loud. I am a hick from a small, rural town in a northern state that gets a lot of snow in the winter (but has many lovely lakes).

Not everyone wants to live there, but the people who do enjoy it. Embrace it. Love it.

Much like I hope you love the neighborhood, the town, the city, the state where you live.

Our hometown gives us all a place of belonging. An identity. A nest.

A place where you can simply be yourself. As for me, the self I choose to embrace is one of a hick.

And there are a lot of (a ton) of good things to say about that.

I am a hick.

I've never really enjoyed a choice of restaurants, unless you consider fast food, Mexican or bar fare a choice. (Which it is, but just not a lot of choice.)

I meet people who differentiate between a mediocre, good and great Mexican restaurant (or Italian or Chinese or... take your pick.) I've never known choices in restaurants and I've managed to survive. Plus, I believe it's snuffed out my picky-eating gene. I consume what they serve me and I don't know enough to think of doing anything else, much less complaining to the manager.

I am a hick.

For most of my adult life, I didn't have access to real shopping or a mall. So I learned to purchase everything online. When my kids needed tennis shoes, I learned to measure their feet and order the desired logoed brands. The same goes for back-to-school clothes and birthday presents. Think of all the money I saved by not going to the food court.

I am a hick.

I know my neighbors and they know me. If I have a problem, I have their numbers and they have mine. If I call them, they will answer. If I have a problem they will help. If I am hurting or sick or in trouble they will know and vice versa. I like it that way.

I am a hick.

I have never had a pedicure. I can't imagine someone poking at my toes.

My bestie has regularly scheduled pedicures and I'm absolutely certain she'd also describe herself as a hick, so I guess a pedicure (or lack thereof) does nothing to define a hick.

And therein lies the whole point to this column.

I am a hick. But what does that mean, really? If you get a pedicure – or not. If you make reservations at the elite restaurant – or not. If you hold your pinky finger up while drinking tea – or not. If you sit in first class – or not. If you shop at the finest department stores – or not.

None of it matters. Unless it brings you joy. Unless it matters to you.

The niceties in life are nice and if they bring you joy they are wondrous. If they are simply a way for you to compare yourself to others, then they are doing you no good. I think we spend (at least I've spent) too much of our lives comparing ourselves to others and thinking we need what they have versus simply paying attention to ourselves and the things that bring us personal joy.

For me, that's simple things. Small town roads. Neighbors who wave as you drive by. A general lack of shopping, restaurants and the amenities known to people living in urban areas.

I am a hick, and after decades of wondering if that is okay, I've decided it is.

But I'm not ruling out a pedicure at some point. Hicks can have pretty toes. Just ask my bestie.

Wildcats hold off Stockton's comeback effort

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

The River Ridge-Scales Mound Wildcats and the Stockton Blackhawks faced off in an NUIC-West girls basketball battle on Friday, Jan. 24. It was a highly anticipated matchup as Stockton came into the game with a record of 16-6, while the Wildcats were 18-5 themselves. More than 30 combined wins were on the floor when two experienced teams faced off last Friday night.

Despite being on their home court, Stockton suffered from an extremely slow start. The shots weren't falling for the Blackhawks, who put up just seven points in the first quarter. On the other end, RR-SM couldn't have asked for a much better start to the game. While Stockton struggled to find a shot, the Wildcats had no trouble in racking up the points. By the end of the first quarter, RR-SM already held a 21-7 advantage.

The Wildcats have struggled to put a complete game together, especially against some of the better competion. This wasn't the first time the 2024-2025 Wildcats had jumped out to an early lead, just to watch it disappear over the course of the game.

That doesn't take anything away from Stockton and their ability to keep fighting after a slow start, however. The Blackhawks have approached 20 wins for a reason, and they put their dexterity on display on Jan. 24.

Stockton didn't solve their offensive problems in the second quarter, but they needed to slow down the RR-SM offense if they wanted any chance at a comeback. Stockton's defensive changes paid off as they held the Wildcats to just seven points in the second, just one third of the points allowed in the first. Still, the RR-SM defense was hard at work. By the break, the Wildcats held a 31-14 lead.

Coming out of the break, it looked like the momentum had completely flipped sides.

Not only did Stockton score 14 points in the third quarter alone, which tied their entire total from the first half, but they held the Wildcats to just seven points themselves. After an excellent third quarter performance, the comeback was on. Heading into the fourth, Stockton trailed just 38-28.

The hot start from RR-SM proved to be too much in the end. Specifically, Campbell Hereau and her three-point shooting ability helped to secure a Wildcat victory. Hereau sank a trio of three-pointers as she finished with thirteen points on the evening, which led RR-SM. Berkeley Mensendike and Laiken Haas each finished with seven points as the Wildcats picked up a slim 42-40 victory.

Stockton gave it everything they had in the second half. Just like RR-SM has struggled to play four quarters of dominant basketball, Stockton learned that they can't afford the slow starts. The Blackhawks outscored the Wildcats 26-11 in the second half, just to lose by two.

Madie Mammoser led all scorers with 21 points, most of which came in the second half. Stockton's production fell off mightily behind her. Their next leading scorer was Emma Eisfeller with six points. Dylann Broshous, Kaydra Wright, and Ireland Mensendike each finished with three points in the loss.

With the win, RR-SM improved to 19-5, while Stockton fell to 16-7 on the year. The Blackhawks hit the road on Thursday, Jan. 30 to take on the Warren Warriors. That game is set to tipoff at 6 p.m. The Wildcats will also be in action as they play host to the East Dubuque Warriors, starting at 6:30 p.m.

Warriors defeat West Carroll in home matchup

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

The Warren Warriors earned their fifth victory of the 2024-2025 Illinois High School girls basketball season when they played host to the West Carroll Thunder on Friday, Jan. 24. It was a matchup of two teams that were eager for a win. West Carroll came into the Friday night matchup with an overall record of 6-15. They were riding a four-game losing streak and were fresh off a brutal 55-18 loss to Stockton.

Warren was in a similar position. Not only did the Warriors come into the game with an overall record of just 4-11, they were in the midst of a four-game losing streak of their own. The most recent loss was a blowout 61-35 defeat to the East Dubuque Warriors.

All four of Warren's losses in the recent skid came on the road. They had almost 20 days between their last home game and the Jan. 24 home game against West Carroll. When the Warriors finally did return home, they also returned to the win column.

On paper, both teams matched up well with each other. The opening quarter only proved how tight this matchup was as both teams went back and forth. Lizzy Hartzell had the hot hand early, as five first quarter points helped her Warriors keep pace. After eight minutes of play, the game was tied 12-12.

Hartzell continued to fuel Warren's offense in the second quarter. Hartzell scored a couple of field goals and went two-for-two in her lone trip to the line in the quarter. The freshman nearly outscored all of West Carroll as the Thunder put up just seven second quarter points. By the break, Hartzell had 11 points, which helped Warren take a 20-19 lead into halftime.

Hartzell and the Warriors would separate themselves from the Thunder in the second half. The freshman's dominance took over as she doubled up West Carroll's third quarter total all on her own. With four field goals, Hartzell put up eight third quarter points. On the other end, Warren's defense held West Carroll to just four points.

In the second half, Warren combined for 18 points as a team. Fifteen of those points came from Hartzell, who was unstoppable against the Thunder. Hartzell finished the game with 26 points which led all scorers. Warren's next leading scorer was Emily VanRaalte, who finished with five points. The Warriors won by a final score of 38-30.

Warren faces another tough battle on Thursday, Jan. 30 when they play host to the Stockton Blackhawks. These teams recently faced off on Jan. 14, with Stockton winning by a final score of 52-39. This Thursday's matchup is set to tipoff at 6 p.m.

FROM LENA'S KITCHEN

The not so skinny cook

It finally looks like winter. We had some snow to go after our frigid temperatures. The cold last week was the worst I have remembered in a long time. Time literally stood still for three days. I hope that no one had damage from the cold in their homes, businesses, or bodies. I always feel for any animals that have to find a way to weather the cold. Warmer weather is on the way as I write this column. This week we are featuring several recipes for the Super Bowl. Have a good week cooking!

range pecans on a baking sheet. Bake pecans for 8 to 10 minutes. Remove from oven and set aside. Place salad ingredients of Arugula, apples, onion and cranberries in a large bowl. Prepare dressing in a mason jar. Add pecans to salad and top with dressing. Toss to combine and serve immediately store leftover dressing for 2 to 3 days.

Chicken Royal

This elegant chicken dish is rich in flavor. The recipe uses chicken breast halves with the bone in. They have more flavor than boneless skinless chicken breasts. Save this recipe for a special occasion. You can prep the chicken breasts ahead of time for an easy way to get this meal going.

- 2 C. seasoned breadcrumbs
- 1/2 C. hot water
- 10 T. butter, melted, divided
- 2 T. finely chopped onion
- 1 T. minced fresh parsley
- 1/2 t. salt
- 1/4 t. poultry seasoning
- 1/8 t. pepper
- 4 bone-in chicken breast halves
- 1/2 C. flour
- 1/2 t. paprika

Sauce

- 2 T. butter
 - 1/2 lb. sliced fresh mushrooms
 - 1/4 C. chopped onions
 - 2 T. flour
 - 1/2 t. salt
 - 1/2 t. pepper
 - 1/2 C. heavy whipping cream
 - 1/2 C. sour cream
- Preheat oven to 325. For stuffing, combine the breadcrumbs, water, 2 T. butter, onion, parsley, salt, poultry seasoning and pepper; place about 1/3 C. stuffing under the skin of each chicken breast. Secure with toothpicks. In a shallow bowl, combine flour and paprika, coat chicken. Place in a greased 9 x 13 baking dish. Drizzle with remaining butter. Bake, uncovered, until a thermometer reads 170, 1 to 1 1/4 hours.

Meanwhile, for sauce, heat butter in large skillet over medium heat. Add mushrooms and onion; cook and stir until tender, 2 to 3 minutes. Stir in flour, salt and pepper. Whisk in cream until blended; bring to a boil. Cook and stir until thickened, about 1 minute. Reduce heat and add sour cream. Stir just until heated through. Do not boil. Serve with chicken. Be sure to remove toothpicks!

Touchdown Brat Sliders

If you are looking for a good Super Bowl sandwich, this tasty slider is easy to make ahead and serve the day of the big game. It goes great with appetizers and snacks.

- 5 thick sliced bacon strips, chopped
- 1 lb. uncooked bratwurst links, casings, removed
- 1 large onion, finely chopped
- 2 garlic cloves, minced
- 1 pkg. (8 oz.) cream cheese, cubed
- 1. dark beer
- 1 T. Dijon mustard
- 1/4 t. pepper
- 16 dinner rolls, split and toasted
- 2 C. cheddar and sour cream potato chips, crushed

In a large cast iron or heavy skillet, cook bacon over medium heat until crisp. Remove bacon to a paper towel with a slotted spoon; drain and crumble. Reserve the drippings. Cook bratwurst and onion in drippings over medium heat until meat is no longer pink, breaking up crumbles. Add garlic. Cook 1 minute longer. Drain well. Stir in the cream cheese, beer, mustard and pepper. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat; simmer, uncovered, until thickened, 15 to 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in bacon. Spoon 1/4 C. onto bottom of toasted roll; sprinkle with chips. Replace tops.

Earthquake Cake

If you want a decadent and fairly easy dessert, this cake will fill the bill. It has basically three layers of goodness. Enjoy this rich chocolate delight for a special occasion or for a Super Bowl party.

Cream cheese filling:

- 1 pkg. (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened
- 1/2 C. butter, softened
- 1 t. vanilla
- 1/4 t. salt
- 4 C. powdered sugar
- Bottom layer
- 1 C. sweetened coconut
- 1 C. chopped pecans
- 2 C. semisweet chocolate chips

Cake

- 1 German Chocolate cake mix
 - 3 eggs, room temperature
 - 1/2 C. canola oil
 - 1 C. water
 - Vanilla ice cream for serving
- Preheat oven to 350. Cream cheese filling: Place softened cream cheese, softened butter, vanilla, and salt in a large mixing bowl. Using a hand mixer, beat at medium speed until smooth, 3 to 4 minutes. Add powdered sugar, one cup at a time, beating at low speed until blended and smooth.

Bottom layer: Grease a 9 x 13 baking dish. Layer coconut, pecans and chocolate chips in the bottom of the prepared baking dish. Set aside.

Cake: In a large bowl, combine cake mix, eggs, oil and water. Beat at medium speed 2 to 3 minutes or until smooth. Pour batter into the baking dish to cover the chocolate chips, pecans, and coconut. Spoon large dollops of cream cheese filling on top of the cake batter. Bake 35 to 40 minutes or until the cake is slightly wobbly in the center and edges are set. Remove to a wire rack to completely cool. Slice and serve with ice cream.

Salted Caramel Chocolate Chip Cookies

These cookies use store bought cookie dough and make up into great caramel cookies. I love sea salt with caramel and chocolate. You will enjoy making these with your kiddos, and they can unwrap caramels.

- 1 roll refrigerated Pillsbury Chocolate Chip Cookie dough (16.5 oz.)
- 1/3 C. flour

- 1/2 C. finely chopped pecans
- 24 caramels, unwrapped
- 2 T. half-and-half
- 1/3 C. semisweet chocolate chips melted
- 1 t. coarse sea salt

Preheat oven to 350. In a large bowl, break up cookie dough. Stir or knead in flour until well blended. Shape tablespoonfuls of dough into balls; roll in pecans, pressing into dough. Place 1 inch apart on an ungreased cookie sheet (you may need more than one). Bake 12 to 16 minutes or until edges are light golden brown. Using handle of wooden spoon make indentation in center of each cookie. Cool 1 minute; remove from cookie sheet to cooling racks. Cool completely, about 20 minutes.

In microwavable bowl, microwave caramels and half-and-half uncovered on high 1 to 2 minutes, stirring once, until caramels are melted. Spoon about 1 teaspoon of caramel into indentation of each cookie. Cool 15 minutes. Drizzle with melted chocolate; sprinkle with salt. Let stand about 15 minutes or until chocolate is set.

Final Thoughts

By the time this column comes out, we are looking at February; you know February is the shortest month in days, but often the longest month in time. There are a lot of celebrations in February that usually revolve around red.

The first weekend in February is the annual Pie Baking Contest at the Lena American Legion Hall on Saturday, Feb. 1. I know there are some really good pie people in our area, so I hope they will participate. On Sunday the same group will sponsor a Soup Tasting event. It starts at 11 a.m. and features over 15 different soups. It costs $9.00 for adults and under 3 are free. The tasting goes until 2:30 p.m. Dessert is also included. Remember it is a tasting and not lunch. Support this wonderful group who does so many things for our veterans and community.

Remember to check out all our local businesses for your Valentine presents. We have gifts, candies, clothes, jewelry, crafts, antiques, gift certificates, flowers, and of course, food! Have a great week.

We are searching for recipes for February (and February means red), so send me favorites our way. We would love to feature some soup recipes. If you find some recipes to share, you can contact us by email or by mail at From Lena's Kitchens, The Shopper's Guide at Rock Valley Publishing, 1102 Ann St., Delavan, WI 53115. Have a great week.

Apple Pecan Arugula Salad

Before Christmas I had a green salad very much like this one. The reason I like this one is I like Arugula. It has a bite to it. You can substitute baby spinach or spring mix if you are not an Arugula fan. I also like the use of both green and red apples. The dried cranberries add flavor to the sweet and sour dressing.

- 1/2 C. pecans
- 4 oz. Arugula
- 2 small apples (1 Granny Smith and 1 Honey Crisp), peeled, quartered, cored and thinly sliced
- 1/4 red onion, thinly sliced
- 2 T. dried cranberries

Dressing

- 1 large lemon, juiced (3 T.)
 - 1 T. maple syrup
 - 1 pinch salt
 - 1 pinch black pepper
- Preheat oven to 350. Ar-

Cahoon, Doyle make Orangeville history as Broncos improve to 21-4

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

The Orangeville Broncos picked up a couple of victories over the Dakota Indians and the Rockford Christian Royal Lions last week. While the Broncos improved to 21-4 as a team, there were some individual accomplishments that made it an unforgettable week for the Orangeville faithful. Senior Laney Cahoon came into the week with 1,967 career varsity points. With the team Cahoon has been on, many expected her to hit the 2,000-point mark in either of last week's games.

There was another career milestone on the horizon, however. One that was kept a secret, even from Orangeville junior, Nadalee Doyle, who was approaching her own piece of Orangeville history. Doyle came into the week with 963 career varsity points.

After a couple of big scoring nights, Cahoon and Doyle managed to eclipse their recent milestones on the same night.

On Jan. 22, the Broncos went on the road to take on the Dakota Indians. Dakota came into the game with 12 wins on their record, but the Broncos would prove to be too much for them in the end. The duo of Cahoon and Doyle combined for 41 points in what was a 52-39 victory over Dakota. Cahoon led all scorers with 24 points on the evening. Ten of those points came from the free throw line as Cahoon went 10-for-14 from the stripe.

Doyle also had success from the line. The junior sunk five of her eight free throw attempts as she finished with 17 points in the win. Doyle also had a pair of three-pointers on the night. With Cahoon dropping 21 points, that left her well-within reach to surpass 2,000 career points. Her next opportunity to do so came on Jan. 24, when the Broncos hit the road to take on Rockford Christian. Perhaps that was meant to be, as according to NUIC All-Access, Cahoon would end up scoring career point 2000 exactly 39 years to the day after former Orangeville Bronco, Jodi Moyer, did.

While Cahoon was almost guaranteed to reach 2000 points against Rockford Christian, Doyle would need a big night in order to reach 1000 points. Although she didn't know the milestone was approaching, Doyle did just that. A 21-point performance not only put the junior over 1000 career points, but also helped the Broncos pick up a 56-49 victory over Rockford Christian. Doyle joined her father and head coach, Jay Doyle, as a new member of the 1000-point club.

The Broncos got to celebrate some big moments and pick up a couple of wins along the way. Perhaps most importantly, they passed a couple of late-season tests. Dakota and Rockford Christian have combined for over 20 wins this season. Both were double digit win teams before hosting the Broncos.

Despite that, Orangeville managed to go on the road

SUBMITTED PHOTO Rock Valley Publishing

The Orangeville girls basketball team had a lot to celebrate on Jan. 24 when they took on Rockford Christian. In addition to a 56-49 victory in the game, teammates Laney Cahoon and Nadalee Doyle hit personal bests as well. Cahoon hit 2,000 career points in the game, and Doyle scored her 1,000th career point the same night.

and pick up victories both in son. Overall, they improved turn home on Thursday, Jan. and out of the conference. In to 21-4, which has them as 30 to play host to the Durand Bulldogs. That game is set to NUIC-North play, the Broncos one of the top 1A teams in all of Illinois. The Broncos re- tipoff at 5:30 p.m.

Stephenson County Farm Bureau news

By Victoria Hansen
 A memory popped up on my Facebook page from 10 years ago. It was short and simple and read "Good morning, Bloomington, what a beautiful day". I don't remember a lot about the weather that day but what I do remember is it was my first day as an Illinois Farm Bureau Manager Trainee. The past 10 years have been marked by several milestones. During this time, I've had the honor of serving in three different county Farm Bureaus, including Lawrence County Farm Bureau, Stephenson County Farm Bureau and Carroll County Farm Bureau. In the past 10 years I have learned a lot and continue to learn. I wanted to share a few takeaways from the decade.
 Illinois is a long state; I don't think you truly appreciate this until you have driven the length of it. Agriculture differs depending on where you are in the state. Keep learning. In the past 10 years I have become a Farm Bureau Certified Manager and received a certificate in Non-profit management from the University of Illinois Chicago. Learn in every opportunity you have. Farm Bureau members are some of the best most caring people and I am so blessed to work with them. Things change; that's how life works but at the end of the day my goal is to serve our members.

I am so looking forward to the next year, five years and 10 years. Thank you to those who have supported me during these first 10 years.

Farm Bureau members save on facility rentals

It might seem early to think about graduations, but they will be here before we know it. Don't wait to book your event at the Carroll or Stephenson County Farm Bureau buildings. Rooms start as low as $100. Call the Farm Bureau of your choice for availability and to learn more about the rental process. Carroll County Farm Bureau 815-244-3001 or Stephenson County Farm Bureau at 815-232-3186.

IFB Young Leaders Donate 41,527 pounds of Food During Harvest for All Campaign

Recognizing tremendous need in their communities, Illinois Farm Bureau Young Leaders proudly raised more than $94,000 and donated a total of 41,527 lbs. of food and 501 volunteer hours during the annual Illinois Harvest for All campaign.

"The IFB Young Leaders continue to demonstrate remarkable commitment to fighting food insecurity in our communities," said Perry Harlow, IFB Young Leader Program Coordinator. "With these great accomplishments, our Young Leaders are making a tangible difference in the lives of Illinois families who struggle with hunger." He added, "These numbers reflect not just charitable giving, but the deep-rooted values of compassion and community support that are defined by the Young Leader's mission."

"Each year, IFB Young Leaders through their local county Farm Bureaus support food banks with innovative food drives and donation campaigns to alleviate hunger. IFB is recognizing the CFB Young Leaders committees with outstanding programs and donation contributions.

2024 Most Outstanding Harvest for All Programs are

Henry CFB Young Leaders for their Cram the Cab Food Drive, McDonough CFB Young Leaders for their FFA Week Food Drive Challenge, Sangamon CFB Young Leaders for their Fill-a-Ford Food Drive.

Harvest for All Top Contributors awards recognized CFBs with outstanding hunger-relief efforts. Each was selected based on a combination of overall pounds of food donated, volunteer hours and dollars raised. Winners in each category were also selected. Award recipients were given a cash prize to further their Harvest for All efforts.

2024 Harvest for All Top Contributors are First Place Overall, Fayette CFB Young Leaders, Second Place Overall, Carroll CFB Young Leaders, Third Place Overall, Henry CFB Young Leaders

2024 Harvest for All Top Category winners are First Place Pounds of Food Donated, Fayette CFB Young Leaders, First Place Dollars Raised, Carroll CFB Young Leaders, First Place Hours Volunteers, Carroll CFB Young Leaders.

The Illinois Harvest for All program demonstrates the generosity of Illinois agriculture. IFB encourages local involvement and partners with county Young Leader Programs, FFA chapters and Collegiate Farm Bureau chapters to fight food insecurity in Illinois.

Familiar faces rally around Le-Win Stadium Project

Committee seeking donations before Feb. 20

Robert "Bing" Wells has already made his mark in Panther history. A 1963 graduate of Lena-Winslow High School, Wells has been the man behind the microphone at school competitions for over 50 years. The press box at the football field bears his name. So perhaps it's no surprise that Wells was one of first donors to the Lena-Winslow Stadium Project. "I was raised here. I helped raise my family here. I am blessed to be able to contribute to what I consider a worthy cause," said Wells.

Building on the momentum of $625,000 Stadium Sponsorship by Community Bank and a $25,000 donation from Bob and Martha Lyvers last November, local support is pouring in for the Stadium Project. A total of $708,700 has been raised toward the $1.25 million fundraising goal. So far, approximately 30 donors have given to the cause, with more being announced daily on the website, lwstadiumproject.com.

When the project was first announced, the Snyder family didn't hesitate to make a contribution.

"Our family moved to Lena in 1989. My brother Jake, sister Kendra, and myself are proud graduates of Lena-Winslow. Jake and Caitlynn have two little girls, and Holly and I have three boys. All of our kids will have the opportunity to benefit from the stadium project," said Jesse Snyder, a special education teacher and football coach at Lena-Winslow.

The Snyder family feels an investment in school facilities is an investment in area youth.

"It's amazing to think that we will be able to offer our current and future students the best facilities in our area!" said Snyder.

mittee is asking potential donors to reach out by February 20, before the school board votes on how to move the project forward. The closer they are to the $1.25 million fundraising goal, the better the case to tackle the project in its full scope.

By installing the new turf field at the same time as the bleachers and track this summer, the total cost—and disruption to student activities—will be less. Area businesses and organizations are also stepping up to support the cause. Most recently, Stephenson Service Company, FS Fast Stop, and Corp Tire made a $25,000 contribution, which is incredibly timely as each dollar given in the coming weeks could make the difference in a comprehensive summer installation. "How wonderful it would be if we could welcome students back to school this fall with a new stadium and field," said Dr. Tom Chiles, Lena-Winslow

Superintendent.

Last week, Chiles and his wife, Susan, joined the growing list of sponsors with a $5,000 donation. "Our communities have been great to our family and incredibly supportive of the school district. We feel honored to contribute to this project and hope our contribution encourages others make a commitment as well," said Chiles.

The school set aside $2,150,000 in its budget to build new bleachers with increased capacity, provide track resurfacing and expansion from six to eight lanes, make drainage repairs and install hard-surface pathways. The goal is for private donations to cover the cost of the turf field and enhancements to the digital scoreboard.

Last fall, the Stadium Committee launched a website and Facebook group to share their progress, and they recently provided details to recognize donors at the new stadium.

The Stadium Project Committee hopes through robust fundraising, the new field will be installed this summer at the same time as the bleachers and track.
