Illinois 4-H Green Communities Tree Program

On Saturday, May 4, 4-H members partnered with the Jane Addamsland Park Foundation and the Stephenson County Soil and Water Conservation District to plant native oak seedlings to help rebuild Illinois' native ecosystems. Pictured are Stephenson County 4-H members as they learn about various spring woodland flowers from Richard Benning, Northwest Illinois Bird and Nature Alliance board member and Jane Addamsland Park Foundation board member. Through this experience, youth learned about the ecological benefits of native plants and animals, the importance and role of oak trees as a keystone species, how oak savannas contribute to healthy habitats and climate resilience, and how trees grow, what they need to thrive, and how to properly plant them.

Pearl City softball splits games with Lena-Winslow

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

A couple of excellent softball squads in the Pearl City Wolves and the Lena-Winslow Panthers met up for some late-season matchups last week. Pearl City came into the week with a record of 16-11. Meanwhile, the Panthers held a record of 15-11. With similar overall records, both teams sat near each other in the middle of the NUIC-North standings.

On paper, the Wolves and Panthers couldn't have matched up much better. They wound up delivering two excellent games that only proved these teams are even closer than they appear. Pearl City had the privilege of playing on their home field for the first matchup on Tuesday, May 13. After a slow start, both offenses exploded for some late-inning production.

JEFFREY SMITH

Jeffrey C. Smith, Funeral Director, age 70, went home to be with the Lord on May 14, 2025. Jeff was born on Jan. 3, 1955, in Freeport, IL. He was the son of Curtis and Janice (Stocks) Smith. He grew up on a farm north of Eleroy, IL. Jeff attended the Eleroy Elementary School until the sixth grade when the school closed. He transferred to Lena-Winslow and graduated in 1973. In 1972, Jeff and six other students went with English teacher, Marilyn Brown, on a six-week trip to Europe. They visited seven countries, camping and staying at hostels along the way, learning much from that trip and the experiences they shared.

In 1972, Jeff also met his high school sweetheart, Cindy Wichman, and they married on June 5, 1976, at the Berean Baptist Church in Freeport, IL. Jeffrey attended Highland Community College and then transferred to Worsham College of Mortuary Science in Chicago, IL, graduating in 1979. He served his apprenticeship as a Funeral Director and Embalmer at Schwarz Funeral Home, serving families in Freeport, Pearl City, and Lanark for three years. Following this he took a position at Leamon Funeral Home, where he served families in Lena, Warren, Orangeville, and Winslow. He also worked for Leamon Ambulance Service as an EMT-I from 1980 to 1990, as well as a salesman in the furniture store until 1995. In 2020, he retired to spend more time with his family.

Watching grandchildren's volleyball and softball games, track, concerts, and other activities was a highlight of his days. He loved to travel with his family throughout the United States, with some of his favorite places being Alaska and Hawaii. He also enjoyed traveling to England, Scotland, Ireland, and Israel. Jeff's hobbies included collecting rocks, gems, arrowheads, and antiques. He enjoyed studying and researching family genealogy, compiling many books of family history.

Jeff was a member of the Evangelical Free Church in Lena. He and Cindy, as well as their two daughters, served on several medical missions to Honduras and New Orleans. Jeff was a member of the Kishwaukee Sons' of the American Revolution. His third great grandfather, Peter VanSickle, served in the American Revolutionary War. Jeff was also a member of the Freeport Choral Society, The Gideons Ministry, and was a board member of the Eleroy Cemetery Association.

Jeff is survived by his wife, two daughters, Melissa (Ryan) Goebel and Beth Smith of Lena, and one son, Benjamin Smith of Monroe, Wisconsin. He is also survived by five grandchildren,

Also, special friends Al and Mary Tessoroff and nieces and nephews.

Jeff was preceded in death by his parent, Curtis and Janice Smith, in-laws Clark and Barbara Wichman, his sister, Sue Fangman, and his brother-in-law, Steve Wichman.

He shared the following regarding his life: "I have savored much in this life, and I am thankful to my Heavenly Father who has given me the opportunities to travel throughout this world and witness the handy work of God's creation. And to know God and His son, Jesus Christ, as my personnel Savior. His grace covers all my sins my debt has been paid. I know that I am resting in heavenly places." As Zig Ziegler would say, "see you at the top."

The family would like to thank Dr. McFadden and his staff, Drs Shannon and Boschuetz of UW Health and FHN Hospice for their support and kind care. Visitation was held on Sunday, May 18 at the Evangelical Free Church in Lena, Illinois. Services were held on Monday, May 19 at the church. Cremation rites will be accorded and burial will be held at a later date, at the Eleroy Cemetery, in Eleroy, IL.

In lieu of flowers memorials may be given to FHN Hospice and the Eleroy Cemetery Association. Stephenson County 4-H youth pledge hands to larger service on National Day of Service

On Saturday, April 26, Stephenson County 4-H youth and volunteers came together to celebrate 4-H's National Day of Service by giving back to their environment and community. As part of a larger statewide initiative, 4-H members partnered with the Jane Addamsland Park Foundation and the Stephenson County Soil and Water Conservation District to plant 25 native oak seedlings at the Butterfly Farm just outside Orangeville, Illinois.

The event was a part of the Illinois 4-H Green Communities Tree Program, a statewide collaboration between Illinois 4-H and Soil and Water Conservation Districts to rebuild Illinois' native ecosystems — one tree at a time. Did you know that Illinois once had 14 million acres of trees, but now only has only 5 million due to modern development? This spring, dozens of counties across Illinois, including Stephenson County, are working to reverse that trend by planting fire-resistant, native oak species in public spaces for communities to enjoy.

The 25-tree oak savanna planted by 4-H members and volunteers will help restore a unique and vital ecosystem — rebuilding $\frac{3}{4}$ of an acre at a time. These trees will not only enhance local parks and green spaces, but also provide essential wildlife habitat, stabilize erodible soils, and support the fight against climate change. Volunteers included 4-H member parents as well as representatives from: University of Illinois Extension, Jane Addamsland Park Foundation, Northwest Illinois Forestry, USDA's Natural Resources Conservation Service for Stephenson County, Stephenson County Soil and Water Conservation District, Northwest Illinois Bird and said Stephenson County 4-H and Youth Development Program Coordinator Jen Schultz. "They gained knowledge, made a real environmental impact, and helped create an

Shots fired investigation leads to an arrest

On May 12, at 12:13 a.m., Freeport Police Officers responded to the 1200 block of S. Carroll Avenue in response to a Sound Thinking alert for one gunshot being fired. When Officers arrived, they located one shell casing in the street. Officers also encountered Demetrius Henry, a 41-year-old resident of University Park, Illinois, lying down in the back seat of a Buick that was parked in close proximity to where the gunshot was fired.

During the course of the investigation into the incident, Officers were able to determine that Demetrius Henry fired one shot towards a white SUV that was driving south in the 1200 block of S. Carroll Avenue. It appeared that Henry and an occupant of the white SUV were engaged in a verbal altercation before and after the gunshot was fired. A search warrant was executed on the Buick that was previously occupied by Henry. During the search of the Buick, Officers located a loaded 9mm handgun in the area where Henry was seated.

The Stephenson County State's Attorney approved felony charges for Demetrius Henry; Unlawful Possession of a Weapon by a Felon, Reckless Discharge of a Firearm, and Aggravated Discharge of a Firearm. Henry is currently in custody at the Stephenson County Jail where he will remain until the outcome of a detention hearing.

The public is reminded that the defendant is presumed innocent and is entitled to a fair trial, at which the government has the burden of proving guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

The game remained scoreless after four innings of play. Kendra Kuhlmeier started the game for the Wolves, and she kept the Panthers at bay until the top of the fifth. Kuhlmeier wound up allowing two home runs in the inning, one to Eden Dietz and one to Rachael Setterstrom. That allowed Le-Win to jump out to a 4-0 lead, late in the game.

Maddie Chiles started the game for Le-Win. Chiles had a very similar outing to Kuhlmeier. After four innings of dominant work, Chiles also allowed multiple runs in the fifth. It seemed Le-Win's bats only brought Pearl City's to life, as four hits allowed them to cut the lead down to one. Mackenzie Lotz doubled to center to bring in the Wolves' first run. Isabella Smith drove in two more with a single to left.

Kuhlmeier managed to settle things down with a clean inning in the top of the sixth. The Pearl City bats continued to find success off Chiles in the bottom half. Jorja Johnson and K Campbell hit back-to-back singles to lead off the inning. A passed ball and a fielder's choice would allow both Johnson and Campbell to score, giving the Wolves a 5-4 lead.

That wound up deciding the game as Pearl City held on for the victory. Kuhlmeier got the win from the circle. She pitched a complete game with zero walks, six strikeouts, and four hits allowed. Chiles took the loss for Le-Win. In six innings, Chiles surrendered eight hits, one walk, and five earned runs. She struck out five in the game.

Two days later, the Panthers and Wolves faced off in another nail-biter of a match-up. It was practically a continuation of Tuesday's match-up, only at a different location. Chiles started the game for Le-Win, as did Kuhlmeier for the Wolves.

Seven innings wasn't enough to decide a winner in this one as the Wolves and Panthers went into extras. Chiles and Kuhlmeier both gave it their all from the circle. The batters were clearly more comfortable at the plate in game two. The Wolves combined for 16 hits off Chiles. Kuhlmeier only allowed eight hits, but she walked three as well.

After seven innings of play, the game was tied 5-5. Pearl City scored a run in the top of the seventh, when Kuhlmeier doubled to left. That allowed Kennedy Solt to score, tying the game and forcing extra innings.

The Panthers weren't going to let this one slip away at home. Setterstrom came into pitch in the eighth inning, and she quickly set the Wolves down. In the bottom half, Setterstrom helped set the Panthers up for a win when she singled up the middle, advancing Scarlett Sager to second. Two outs later, Dietz came through with a walk off single to center, securing a 6-5 victory for Le-Win.

Setterstrom led the Panthers at the plate, going three for five with three runs scored. Brianna Fye was next up, going two for four with two runs scored. Chiles led the Panthers with three RBI.

Natalie Lotz and Scarlett Snyder led the way for Pearl City. Lotz went two for three with a walk, one run scored, and one RBI. Snyder had the same line, going two for three with a walk, one run scored, and one RBI.

The Wolves and Panthers finished the 2025 regular season with nearly identical records. The Wolves were 18-12, while the Panthers finished at 17-12. They wound up playing two games against each other, which consisted of fifteen total innings and a combined score of 10-10.

The Wolves and Panthers now meet up with higher stakes. They open up regional play against each other in Stockton on Wednesday, May 21, at 6 p.m.

Lena-Winslow baseball falls to Warren-Stockton

By Trenten Scheidegger
CORRESPONDENT

The Lena-Winslow Panthers and the Warren-Stockton Warhawks faced off in an excellent, late-season baseball game on Tuesday, May 13. Le-Win came into the game with an overall record of 18-6-1, while Warren-Stockton was 13-11.

The Warhawks took the first lead of the day. Will and Brady Stietz hit back-to-back singles in the first inning. Will advanced to third base on Brady's single, and he eventually caught the Panther defense sleeping. An error allowed Will to score the game's first run as the Warhawks went up 1-0.

The Panthers took control of the game in the bottom of the second inning. After Maverick Cass led the inning off with a single to left, Koby Kearns took a one-out walk to put Cass in scoring position. Brody Cox finally put the Panthers on the board when he singled up the middle, bringing two runs into score. A sacrifice fly from Miles Mahon and a run scoring double from Luke Madigan put Le-Win up 4-1.

The Warhawks got a run back in the top of the fourth. Will hit an RBI double to right field, bringing Jordan Kohl into score. That brought them within two, but the Panthers would answer in the bottom half.

After the Warhawks cut into the lead, the Panthers not only got that run back, but extended their lead in the bottom half. Despite registering just one hit in the inning, the Panthers managed to score two runs. An error allowed Cox to reach safely. A single and a stolen base by Cohen Weegens had runners on second and third. Eventually, Aidan Wild hit into a fielder's choice, which allowed both Cox and Ryder Schulz to score.

At the start of the sixth inning, Le-Win held a comfortable 6-2 advantage. With just two innings left to play, the Panthers were nearing their nineteenth victory of the 2025 season. The sixth inning couldn't have gone much worse for Le-Win, however. After giving up a leadoff walk, Weegens allowed three consecutive singles to Kohl, Will, and Brady. Treyton Pafford then drove a run in with a sacrifice fly to center. Bryce VanRaalte followed up with a single to right, driving in another run and bringing the Warhawks within one.

Le-Win tried to stop the bleeding with a pitching change. After A Gerber went to work on the mound, the Warhawk bats remained hot. Bryce Long singled to left, bringing in VanRaalte and giving the Warhawks a late 7-6 lead. Beau Podnar scored on a passed ball before Le-Win could get out of the inning.

The Warhawks maintained the lead for the final two innings. The Panthers got one run back in the seventh, but it wasn't enough as Warren-Stockton held on for a 9-7 victory. Weegens took the loss on the mound for Le-Win. Pafford collected the win after coming in for relief for the Warhawks.

Le-Win combined for eight hits at the plate. Cass was a bright spot in the lineup as he went three for four with one run scored and one run batted in. Cox was one for three with two runs scored and two RBI. Wild went one for four with one run scored and two RBI in the loss.

The Warhawks combined for 14 hits at the plate. Kohl was hot in the leadoff spot, going three for four with three runs scored. Will led the way offensively, going four for five with two runs scored and one RBI. Brady was next up, going three for four with one RBI. Those three alone combined for 10 of Warren-Stockton's 14 hits.

The Warhawks went on to win their next game in a 13-12 extra-inning victory over Sterling Newman. Warren-Stockton found themselves on the opposite side of a late comeback as Sterling Newman put up five runs in the seventh, forcing extra-innings. Not to worry, as Long managed to walk the game off in the bottom of the eighth, securing Warren-Stockton's fifteenth win of the year.

Le-Win bounced back with a pair of big victories. A 15-0 shutout over Argyle [Wisconsin] and an exciting 7-6 victory over Milledgeville allowed the Panthers to reach twenty victories in the 2025 regular season. The Panthers open postseason play against Warren on Wednesday, May 21.

The not so skinny cook

It was summer this past week. We really had some very warm weather; we might have even broken a record. Flowers and gardens are still in need of rain. The crops are coming up, and I know the vegetable plants are coming along. I haven't heard anyone say their green beans, lettuce, or radishes are really doing well. This week we have some good recipes for summer. Have a good week cooking them!

Deviled Egg Dip

This dip uses the standard deviled eggs and puts them in dip form. I heard eggs are supposed to be going down in price, so maybe we can go back to making some egg dishes. This recipe uses either dill or regular relish. Use the dill if you like your eggs to be a little bit on the tart side and use the sweet relish for a sweeter taste.

8 eggs
3 T. mayonnaise

2 T. finely chopped fresh dill
2 T. finely chopped fresh parsley
1 T. Dijon mustard
1 T. dill or regular relish
1 T. sour cream
¼ t. paprika
Dash of salt
Dash of pepper
Crackers or assorted veggies for dipping

Bring eggs to a boil for 8 minutes; remove from heat and cover for 8 minutes. Run cold water over eggs and place ice cubes in cold water for 10 minutes. Peel eggs and rinse. Pat dry. Chop eggs into a large bowl; add mayo, dill, parsley, mustard, relish, sour cream, paprika, salt and pepper. Place in a bowl and refrigerate for an hour. Garnish with dill weed and parsley. Sprinkle with paprika. Serve with assorted crackers and veggies.

Four Berry Spinach Salad

This salad has a rather unique dressing. It has the traditional oil and vinegar but uses a citrus orange juice along with lemon for some tang. It also adds some cinnamon and allspice to the dressing. What can be bad about spinach and berries?

1 T. canola oil

1 T. orange juice
1 T. red wine vinegar
1 T. water
2 t. lemon juice
½ t. sugar
½ t. poppy seeds
1/8 t. ground allspice
Dash of cinnamon
4 C. baby spinach greens
½ C. raspberries
½ C. blueberries
½ C. blackberries
½ C. sliced strawberries
2 t. chopped pecans or walnuts

In a small bowl, whisk the oil, orange juice, vinegar, water, lemon juice, sugar, poppy seeds, allspice and cinnamon. In a glass salad bowl, combine the spinach and berries. Drizzle with dressing and sprinkle with nuts. Toss to coat.

Olive Burgers

One of my friends always orders an olive burger when we go out to eat. She is a lover of olives and can make her own with this recipe. You can leave off the feta cheese if you are not a fan. Enjoy a different kind of burger for your cookout over Memorial Day.

1 lb. ground beef
2 t. soy sauce
2 t. Worcestershire sauce
¼ t. garlic powder
¼ t. onion powder
1 T. butter
½ C. slice green olives with pimientos, drained
¼ C. Miracle Whip
1 T. stone-ground mustard
4 hamburger buns, toasted
¼ C. feta cheese, crumbled
Bibb lettuce leaves

In a bowl, combine beef, soy sauce, Worcestershire sauce, garlic powder, and onion powder, mixing only until combined. Do not over mix. Shape into 4½ inch thick patties; indent the center, slightly. Melt butter in a large nonstick skillet; cook burgers over medium heat until a meat thermometer reads 160, about 4 to 6 minutes on each side.

In a small bowl, combine olives, Miracle Whip, and mustard. Serve burgers with olive dressing and feta on toasted buns with lettuce leaves.

Cheesy Chicken and Broccoli Crescent Bake

I have several recipes that use the Pillsbury crescent rolls, and they are all great. Rotisserie chicken is a great short cut, and pretty economical. If you get to Sullivans or Cub Foods right around noon, you get the best chickens. The jarred Alfredo sauce makes this an easy casserole for a week-night meal.

8 slices bacon, chopped
1 box (9 oz.) frozen broccoli cuts
½ C. fresh mushrooms, sliced

2 C. chopped cooked chicken

1 jar (15 oz.) four cheeses Alfredo pasta sauce

1 C. shredded Italian cheese blend

¼ t. pepper

1 can (8 oz.) refrigerated crescent rolls

Preheat oven to 375. Spray a 2 qt. glass baking dish with cooking spray. In a 12-inch skillet, cook chopped bacon until crisp; drain on paper towels. Reserve 1 T. bacon drippings.

Microwave the broccoli as directed on the box and set aside. In the skillet, heat 1 T. bacon drippings. Add mushrooms; cook over medium-high heat 3 to 5 minutes, stirring frequently until tender. Stir in bacon, broccoli, chicken, Alfredo sauce, cheese and pepper until well blended. Spoon to baking dish. Separate dough into 8 triangles, starting at short side of triangle, roll each triangle up halfway. Arrange over top of hot filling, alternating triangles to fit in baking dish. Bake 22 to 26 minutes until crust is deep golden brown. Cover with foil the last 10 minutes of bake time to prevent over browning.

Rhubarb Cookies

I had a rhubarb cookie recipe in last year, but someone said that you would never make another rhubarb cookie after you tasted this one. It is rich and has just a little taste of chocolate to go along with the rhubarb. You can leave out the nuts if preferred. You do have to plan ahead because the cookies have to be refrigerated. You can make the dough the day before and bake them in the morning. These are great "dunkers"!

1 2/3 C. flour

¾ t salt

½ t. baking powder

½ t. baking soda

1¼ sticks (10 T.) unsalted butter, softened

2/3 C. packed brown sugar

1 egg plus 1 egg yolk

1 t. vanilla

1C. white chocolate chips

1 C. pecan or walnut halves, roughly chopped

1½ stalks rhubarb (about 4 oz.) chopped into ¼ inch pieces

1 T. flaky sea salt

Sift flour, salt, baking powder and baking soda together in a large bowl. Beat the butter and brown sugar in a mixing bowl on medium speed until light and fluffy, about 3 minutes. Beat in the egg and yolk and then beat in vanilla. Reduce the mixer speed to

Careers in dentistry

As the calendar closes on another school year, students may be focusing on their future careers. Those who enjoy working with and helping people may wish to consider one of the variety of positions in the field of oral health.

A registered dental hygienist (RDH) works under a licensed dentist to provide preventive dental care and individualized education on effective daily oral hygiene practices for their patients. They must be able to take, review, and maintain records of their patient's oral and overall health history. In addition, they must understand the bi-directional influence of the patient's oral and overall health.

To this end, working as a dental hygienist requires the completion of a high school diploma, followed by a dental hygiene degree from an accredited university or college. All dental hygienists must take and pass the National Board Dental Hygiene Examination (NBDHE) in order to achieve licensure. In addition, to maintain their license, they must meet their state's individual continuing education requirements.

A dental assistant works alongside a dentist to perform patient care and assist with any needs the dentist has while performing procedures, treatments, and exams. Dental assistants ensure a clean and safe working environment by sterilizing instruments and preparing the dental operatories to meet OSHA standards for safety. They must understand each dental procedure so they can anticipate and set up the proper instruments and materials that will be required. They greet and prepare patients for treatments by taking and/or updating their medical records, answering patient questions, reducing their anxiety, and providing patient education.

Dental assistants may be trained through an internship at the office, but most will complete a dental assisting program through a community college, vocational school, university, dental school, or technical institute. An Expanded Function Dental Assistant is a dental assistant who has received advanced training and additional licenses or certification to perform coronal polishing, take impressions, and apply sealants or topical anesthetics.

A dental receptionist manages clerical tasks in a dental office. These include answering phones, scheduling appointments, greeting, and checking in patients when they arrive, maintaining the dental office's appearance, and keeping patient data private and confidential in accordance with local and national laws. They must have a minimum of a high school diploma, and some dental offices require those in this position to have at least a few years of experience in a healthcare setting.

Dental laboratory technology is both a science and an art. Since each dental patient's needs are different, the duties of a dental laboratory technician are comprehensive and varied. If you enjoy gaming and have developed good manual dexterity and strong computer skills, you may enjoy a career that utilizes technology such as CAD/CAM. Dental laboratory technicians can go through an accredited program or be trained on the job.

A dental office manager is responsible for overseeing the operation of a dental office. Duties include understanding, communicating, and implementing all Occupational Safety and Health Administration compliance standards, hiring and training new employees, financial and marketing management, assuring quality patient care, and keeping patient data private and confidential in accordance with local and national laws. Although the minimal educational requirement is a high school diploma, and at least one year of experience in a dental office, many offices require an associate or bachelor's degree.

The medical biller in a dental office has the responsibility to bill all treatments and procedures performed by the dentist and other staff accurately and quickly. The primary duties include updating patient information, understanding what each different insurance company and individual policy covers, and assuring that the patient understands this information. Medical billers calculate invoices, submit bills to insurance companies, collect payments, investigate disputed insurance claims, and apply insurance payments to patient accounts. Medical billers must have a minimum of a high school diploma, and some dental offices require those in this position to have at least a few years of experience in medical billing. A bachelor's degree in a related field may also be required, such as business, accounting, or health care administration.

Becoming a dentist requires a love of learning. To stay on the leading edge of disease prevention, intervention, wellness promotion, and ever-advancing dental technology, means embracing the challenge of lifetime learning. While challenging, choosing a professional career as an oral physician is also incredibly rewarding.

Ideally, aspiring dentists should begin their career path as early as high school, by taking advanced courses in chemistry, physics, math, and biology. Having a strong foundation in these areas will help prepare you for college, as undergraduate dental students will need to take premedical courses in mathematics, chemistry, and biology. ~ Back Of The Bulletin Commentary ~ By Pastor Kevin Cernek

A lecturer, when explaining stress management to an audience, raised a glass of water and asked, "How heavy is this glass of water?" Answers ranged from a few ounces to several ounces. The lecturer said, "the absolute weight doesn't matter. It depends on how long you try to hold it. If I hold it for a minute, that's not a problem. If I hold it for an hour, I have an ache in my right arm. If I hold it for a day, you'll have to call an ambulance. In each case, it's the same weight, but the longer I hold it, the heavier it becomes." He continued, "If we carry our burdens all the time, sooner or later, as the burden becomes increasingly heavy, we won't be able to carry on. As with the glass of water, you have to put it down or it will consume you and you won't be able to function. When we're refreshed, we can carry on. So, before you return home today, put the burden down. Don't carry it home. Whatever burdens you're carrying now, set them down for a moment if you can, and rest a while."

That is easier said than done. It is not very easy to simply set your burdens down. They always seem to come back on you. But there is a way to get release - and that is to give them to Jesus. In the Bible, it says to "cast all your anxiety upon Him, because He cares for you." In Matthew 11 Jesus says to "come unto me all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy and my burden is light."

I am always preaching about the hope we have in Jesus as contrasted with the emptiness of mere human philosophy. We have all had hopeless moments in our lives and some of us are living in a hopeless season, when we say, "What is the use of going on?"

All of us desperately need hope. Without hope we lose the desire to live. The question is, what do we put our hope in? Some people say,

"I hope I win the lottery," or "I hope the Cubs win tonight." But what kind of hope is that? It is like if there is some kind of cosmic good luck out there that we might be fortunate to have fall on us. But do we really want to go through life putting our hope in something as big as chance? I think not.

The hope of the Bible, by definition is a confidence, knowledge, a peace, knowing that God will come through like His Word tells us He will. The Bible is "the word of truth," (Colossians 1:5). Everyone wants to know the truth. Nobody likes a liar. Someone has said, "The test of any religion is not whether it pleases us or is comfortable, but whether it is true." In other words, does it do what it says it will do? That is the test. The great thing about the good news of Jesus Christ is that it is true. It really works. He delivers people. When you lack hope or feel defeated, or depressed, or under pressure, Jesus stands there, available, waiting for you to cast your anxiety on Him and to take your burden.

People often say they want nothing to do with God or the Bible. They figure they can have a better life without Him. Yet, if they would take a minute and look at their life, they would see that destruction and hopelessness are following them like a bad disease - yet they think it's intellectually unhealthy to make a commitment to the God of the Bible. Instead, they let their lives continue the way they are until all hope eventually disappears. Any path we take other than Jesus, will lead to hopelessness.

God's word of truth has power to change, power to awaken, power to give hope. It is the good news that right now, whatever you are facing, in your moment of weakness, or struggle, or hopelessness, Jesus is available to you. His strength can be given and his wisdom granted to you, to steady you, strengthen you and make you to stand.

Explore Rutherford Refuge at JDCF's upcoming speaker event

The Jo Daviess Conservation Foundation (JDCF) invites you to join us as we explore Rutherford Refuge at Twin Bridges Nature Preserve on Saturday, May 31 from 1-3 p.m. At this JDCF preserve you will view natural plant communities dating back thousands of years, remnants of the Driftless area landscape as it was experienced by Native Americans and our first Euro American ancestors. The preserve is located at 9532 E Twin Bridges Rd, Warren, IL.

Randy Nyboer, botanist, ecologist and supervisor of natural area surveys will tell you about these remnants of the past and lead a trail walk of the preserve. The property is named for its previous owners, the late Barb and John Rutherford. The Rutherfords were leaders in countless conservation projects in the county. They bought the land because they recognized that it provided a rare window into our past, and they wanted it protected. Their children made it available to JDCF to purchase in 2020. In 2022, the site was dedicated as an Illinois Nature Preserve. This is an official status reserved for only the rarest and highest-quality natural areas in Illinois. To retain this status, JDCF's land stewards continue to maintain and enhance the preserve.

Water will be provided. Wear sensible shoes for the walk and bring a walking stick if you use one. There is a short moderate climb, but most of the 1-mile mowed trail is gently elevated or flat. Shaded canopies and chairs for Randy's talk will be provided. The event is free to attend but RSVP to info@jdcf.org are requested.

low. Add the dry ingredients and beat until well combined, about 1 minute. Fold in the white chips and nuts; then fold in the rhubarb. Cover the bowl with a clean towel and refrigerate the dough for at least 1 hour or up to overnight.

Preheat the oven to 375. Line 2 baking sheets with parchment paper. Use a 1-ounce ice cream scoop to scoop the dough onto the baking sheet about 2 inches apart.

Sprinkle with the sea salt on top of the dough balls. Bake, rotating the baking sheets from top to bottom and front to back, halfway through until the cookies are golden around the edges but still soft in the middle, 14 to 16 minutes. Let cookies cool for 10 minutes on the baking sheets, then transfer to a wire rack to cool completely, about 30 minutes. Store cookies in a tightly sealed container at room temperature for up to 5 days.

Strawberry Rhubarb Coffee Cake

This coffee cake is great for a brunch or for a dessert. It makes a large coffee cake with just the right combination of strawberries, rhubarb, and a crunchy topping.

Filling:

3 C. sliced fresh or frozen rhubarb cut in 1-inch pieces
1 qt. fresh strawberries, mashed

2 T. lemon juice
1 C. sugar
1/3 C. cornstarch
Cake:
3 C. flour
1 C. sugar
1 t. baking powder
1 t. baking soda
½ t. salt
1 C. butter, cut into pieces
1½ C. buttermilk
2 eggs, room temperature
1 t. vanilla
Topping:
¼ C. butter
¾ C. flour
¾ C. sugar

In a large saucepan, combine the rhubarb, strawberries and lemon juice. Cover and cook over medium heat for 5 minutes. Combine sugar and cornstarch; stir into saucepan. Bring to a boil; cook and stir 2 minutes or until thickened. Remove from heat and set aside.

Preheat oven to 350. In a large bowl, combine the flour, sugar, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Beat buttermilk, eggs and vanilla in a separate bowl. Stir into crumb mixture.

Spread half of the batter evenly into a greased 9x13 baking dish. Carefully spread the rhubarb filling on top. Drop remaining batter by tablespoonfuls over the filling.

Topping: Melt butter in a saucepan over low heat. Remove from the heat; stir in flour and sugar until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Sprinkle over batter. Lay foil on lower oven rack to catch any juice spillovers. Place the coffee cake on the middle rack; bake 40 to 45 minutes. Cool on a wire rack.

Final Thoughts

This week will be ready getting ready for Memorial Day. Don't forget to check out the parades and programs featured in the community. There will be picnics and graduation parties, so keep safe. I have to get my plants to the cemetery and hope that no one takes them. As you pass the cemetery this Memorial Day, remember the loved ones of the people around you. Stay safe if you are driving especially in our area where there are lots of detours, construction, and one-lane roads. Have a great week and enjoy the festivities and each other.

We are looking for some picnic recipes. We will also be looking for some strawberry recipes because it will be that season. If you find some recipes to share, you can contact us by email at scoopshopper@rvpublishing.com or by mail at From Lena's Kitchens, The Shopper's Guide at Rock Valley Publishing, 1102 Ann St., Delavan, WI 53115. Have a great week.

need to maintain top grades in college in order to obtain letters of recommendation to get into dental school.

The next step is to take the Dental School Admissions Test. Most dentists take the DAT by their junior year in college. Getting into dental school is competitive, so scoring well on the DAT is crucial. Once you have completed dental school you will need to take the Integrated National Board Dental Examination. To practice, dentists are required to pass the exam and obtain state-specific licensure. To maintain their license, Oral physicians must meet their individual state's specific continuing education requirements to keep up with changes in dental medicine practice standards and technology.

After completing dental school, some oral physicians will choose to specialize, in one particular area of dentistry. This requires being accepted into a residency program. While most residency programs last one to two years, becoming an oral and maxillofacial surgeon requires a six-year residency.

High school students who are considering a career in oral health are encouraged to contact their dentist's office to see if they offer a summer job/internship program.
